Health Unit Notes

There are a few children who are not ready or mature enough to enter school at the usual age. We are listing here a few points which these children should learn at home before entering school. If children cannot do most of them, they will fail in school, will be unhappy and will not get along with the rest of the class.

1. Putting on Clothes. Able to put on coats, outer clothing, and overshoes. Can button, use zippers, or other fasteners. Uses handerchiefs himself, and does not drool. Is able to wash face and hands. Knows his own clothing. Can get a drink alone.
2. Toilet Habits: Cares for self at toilet. Is able to fasten and unfasten clothes. Does not wet or soil clothes.
3. Habits about play: Is able to roll a ball in play on floor back and forth to another person. Walks up and down stairs unassisted.
4. Speech and Talking: Is able to talk in short, easy sentences. Speech is better than baby talk that only parents understand. Puts three or more words together in a sentence.
5. Paying Attention: Is able to give fairly constant attention to a play project, to listen quietly to a short story, and to sit reasonably quiet for periods of ten minutes or longer.
6. Adjusting Away from Parents. Does not cry easily or quickly when parents are not present. Goes about home, yard, and immediate neighborhood successfully alone.
7. Playing with Children. Plays reasonably well with other children of same age. Adjusts himself to new playmates, in addition to familiar ones and to his brothers and sisters. Does not injure them.
8. Using Crayon or Blackboard: Likes to draw and use crayon or chalk. Fills in outline figures. Uses sheets of paper, slate or small blackboard.
9. Coloring and Cutting. Able to match simple colors quickly and name some correctly. Notices color of clothes and flowers. Can cut with blunt scissors, and use other simple tools successfully.
10. Number and Form. Knows the difference between big and small and between one and two things. Is able to fit blocks and toys together.

If a child is not mature enough, school work is a mental strain and he becomes nervous. He becomes unhappy and dislikes school, which is very unfortunate.

Trying to force children with these tasks before they are mature enough is as useless as to expect a baby to walk or talk too early. Parents should avoid either extreme of forcing children in any task too rapidly or of not expecting them to do anything for themselves. A moderately firm but friendly treatment of children is the safest policy.

When children are mature enough, they will begin mastering many of these tasks. Only then are they ready for school.

4-H Club Weeks

During the next month over 500 4-H members representing as many clubs scattered across the Province will enjoy an expense paid educational week at one of the three Schools of Agriculture. This award is given to the member in each club who has had the most outstanding record for the past year, says C. L. Usher Supervisor of 4-H Clubs in Alberta.

The Club Week program is a balance of work, recreational and social activities designed to promote leadership training and to acquaint club members with life at a School of Agriculture. During the week the young people themselves direct many of the activities and thus gain new ideas and information to take back to their clubs.

Of special interest this year is a visiting group of 4-H'ers from the State of Montana who will be guests of this Province at Vermilion Club Week July 15-20. Another out of the province delegation will be coming from Manitoba to attend the Olds Club Week July 29—August 3, while a third group from British Columbia will be at the Olds Fairview Club Week July 22-27. Vermilion's Three-Day Fair Just Around The Corner

Vermilion's 32nd annual exhibition will swing into action on Thursday, July 25th with a monster parade in which all are invited to take part. Awards will be made in the following sections: Commercial, Retail stores and Services; Organizations, Town and Rural; Juniors, Individuals and Groups. Judges from outside of Vermilion will be on hand to place the awards and it is hoped that the entire district will participate. Entries for the parade need not be made but all taking part are requested to assemble at the Ackerman Construction building (formerly the Wiebe flour mill) soon after 10 a.m. on Thursday. The parade will move off promptly at 11:00 o'clock and parade marshall Robert Allan will be on hand to direct proceedings.

SUMMER CAMP

The Boys' and Girls' Summer camp, held under the splendid auspices of the Provincial School of Agriculture, is filled to capacity and 125 young farm people will be guests of the Fair Board for the three days of the exhibition. They are drawn from points as distant as Lloydminster, Chauvin, Provost, Viking, Vegreville, Smoky Lake and Bonnyville and always seem to enjoy the five day-short course and sports program.

Entries for the School fair are exceedingly numerous and some splendid work will go before the judges for the placing of awards. Children of all school ages are urged to see the display and to bring their parents and teachers to estimate just what can be done with some effort.

MACHINERY DISPLAYS

The farm machinery companies and others will have fine displays and the fire fighting unit of the Alberta Safety Council will hold fire extinguishing demonstrations each day at 4:00 o'clock. Special attention will be given to farm fires and methods of overcoming them.

GRANDSTAND ATTRACTIONS

The grandstand attractions are said to be the finest ever to appear on the Western Canada Fairs circuit and the afternoon and evening programs will be very considerably different this year, so that families coming long distances may see the entire fine show in a single day. As is well known the Friday grandstand accommodation is limited and patrons are urged to attend Thursday and Saturday to avoid the terrific Friday rush.

To delight grandstand audiences this year there will be outstanding musical numbers, acrobatic feats of prowess, animal acts, comedy and everything that goes to make up a fantastically wonderful show. Patrons of Vermilion Fair have the advantage of getting the identical show that performs at such larger centres as Prince Albert and Yorkton at just half the price charged by any other fair in Western Canada for the reason that Vermilion Fair directors want everyone to see the show and make advance tickets available prior to the opening of the gates. An adult pays 20 cents to enter the main gate and 60 cents for grandstand admission through use of advance tickets whereas at other fairs the gate admission is 30 cents and the grandstand admission from $1.25 to $1.50 — so, bring all the family to Vermilion Fair and enjoy a thrilling show at greatly reduced prices.

Magnificent exhibits of fine livestock, of handiwork, cooking, sewing, etc., will be open for examination and altogether Vermilion's Fair program for 1957 will contain treats for all, young and older alike.

Plan to include Vermilion Fair in your summer holiday — and be sure to buy advance tickets and SAVE! The sale of tickets will definitely cease Wednesday, July 24th. Any tickets offered for sale on Thursday or later will be offered illegally and will be subject to confiscation.

Alberta Dividend Set At $20.00

An order-in-council Wednesday set the Alberta government "oil dividend" for an estimated 560,000 provincial residents at $20 each.

The order says $11,496,496 to be paid citizens is one-third of the royalties from oil and gas received for one year.

The "dividend" will be paid between Sept. 1 and Dec. 31 this year. The order does not say when registration will commence. — Edmonton Journal.

Edgerton Scout To Attend World Jamboree

Life is particularly tense for First Class Scout Bill Skrene of Edgerton these days for about the 24th of July he will depart for the World Jamboree in England. He will be making the journey by air and the Edgerton folks are to be commended on their untiring efforts to finance this trip for Bill. They have really done a wonderful job. Incidentally, Bill will represent not only Edgerton Scout Troop but the entire Battle River District Council and our good wishes go with him.

Rotary Club Hears Committee Report

Ashley Cooper was chairman of the Rotary Club meeting on Friday for President Tom McPherson who is away on holidays.

Visitors were Frank Kisko, United Grain Growers fieldman for this area, and Ed Ness, Fieldman for the Alberta Wheat Pool. They were introduced by Alex Palin.

Aldous Kent introduced his guest, Larry Forsyth of Winnipeg and Montreal.

The only visiting Rotarian was Dr. Jim Hemstock of Lloydminster.

Ross Boake, chairman of the birthday committee presented the usual carnation to Ed Herzog. Ed admitted that he was 31 years old.

It was agreed unanimously that in the future all members of Vermilion club who get married over 50 be given a carnation. The recent wedding of Rotarian Israel Miller brought this matter before the meeting.

It was proposed and agreed that the next meeting be held at Vermilion Park on Thursday evening when Rotaryannes will accompany their husbands.

The club bulletin edited by Mitch Taylor was distributed and greatly appreciated by the members.

The chairman asked Bill Sutherland to report on Vocational Service. He said that Gerry Stephens would conduct the courtesy contest this year which actually amounts to good relations between merchant and consumer.

Ken Rowe is to head the committee on competitor relations. This committee will foster a mutual understanding among business men in Vermilion.

Aldous Kent chairs a committee to promote better relations between employers and employees. Jim Smith, M.P. will conduct a programme concerning career information and business ethics for young people.

Rev. Chauncey MacKay is in charge of the application of the 4-way test for Rotarians and for everybody in the community.

Jack Kneale spoke on behalf of Chairman Simon Simonson of the Community Service committee. Mr Kneale said that Nick Kowalchuk will be in charge of the boys' and girls' program.

Mr Webb will look after community Safety. Walter Duncan heads the committee on Rural Urban relationship.

Carl Berkhert will direct the Rotary fund for loans to students while attending colleges or universities. Jack Kneale and Cliff McCormick were delegated to handle the annual calendar fund raising campaign.

It was reported that $175.00 was collected at the North Battleford band concert last Sunday. This amount was handed over to the band after deducting a few small expenses.

The popular phrase applied to the R.C.M.P., "They always get their man," was apparently coined by a visiting American newspaperman shortly after the Mounted Police force came into existence.

Esteemed pioneer, rancher farmer and citizen, Ivar K. Larsen passed away at the Vermilion hospital on Friday July 12 at the age of 79 years. He took an active part in the work of the Vermilion Agricultural Society and was a director from the formation of this organization, later becoming the president in which capacity he served for ten years. He was an active member of the Western Canada Fairs Association and was well known in agricultural circles throughout Western Canada.

SAFETY PRECAUTIONS NECESSARY

The accident at the bridge over the Vermilion River last week end when a small boy was struck by a car but fortunately escaped any serious injury, should emphasize the fact that more precautions must be taken on highway 41 across the river valley at this point. This is now one of the most popular playgrounds and fishing spots in rural Alberta, traffic is heavy along the road which skirts the east end of the Vermilion park, and for the most part through traffic travels too fast for safety and MUST BE SLOWED DOWN!

It behooves everyone, motorist and pedestrian alike, to take every precaution for their own safety and the safety of those around them. However there are some remedies which have yet to be tried, the responsibility for which devolves upon the town council and the provincial authorities. These are simply warning signs.

R.C.M.P. have suggested that as the bridge is within the town limits the speed limit is automatically 25 miles an hour, thus a town limit sign should be placed at the south end of the bridge. We have 25 mile-an-hour zones on highway 16, therefore similar signs could be placed on highway 41 from hilltop to hill top.

Signs on each hill warning of congested conditions around the bridge along with speed limits could well be placed. Repetition is warranted in this case for the sake of emphasis.

So far there have been two people injured at the bridge and no additional precautions to avoid accidents have been taken. DOES IT NEED A FATAL ACCIDENT TO ENGENDER ACTION?

Each day six Canadians lose their lives on Canadian streets and highways.

Canadian production of hops amounts to nearly one and one-half million pounds annually.

In the first four months of 1957 the value of goods imported into Canada exceeded the value of Canada's exports by $471 million, compared to an unfavorable trade balance of $365 million in the same period of 1956.

He plans to continue his studies at the University of Alberta which this year is instituting a new program in highway transportation, expanding its post-graduate activities in the highway engineering field and beginning a series of highway research projects in co-operation with the Alberta Department of Highways, the Alberta Research Council, and highway [illegible].

The Union Tractor Scholarship is one of five scholarships awarded and administered by the Canadian Good Roads Association with funds donated by industry to stimulate scholarship in the highway engineering field.

ADVICE TO THE "WETS"

When I was a young man it was fashionable to poke fun at the Women's Christian Temperance Union and similar crusaders. Now, older and I hope wiser, I'm ashamed of the old jibes, and I have a hearty respect for the WCTU, or for anyone else who points out the dangers involved in the consumption of alcohol.

Perhaps this new respect is due to the fact that we have five children in our home. We'd be happy if each decided to be total abstainers for life.

When the province where we now live decided to offer voters a chance to decide whether or not there would be more liquor outlets, we did a lot of thinking. We eventually decided to vote for more outlets but not because of the propaganda issued by some of the "wets".

Indeed, some of the statements made by the "wets" annoyed us so much we very nearly voted against relaxation of the laws through anger at some of the flippant, caustic and ridiculous arguments of the wet element.

The factors which led us to vote wet were mostly negative: our dissatisfaction with the restrictive laws which didn't work, the abuses that were hidden and festering and known to any man who had his eyes open at all. And we were impressed with the newspaper advertisement of the Committee on Alcohol Education which fully acknowledged the evils of drink but at the same time emphasized the need to get the problem out into the sunshine where it could be seen and solved through more strict punishment of abuse.

If those who class themselves as "wets" used equally well-reasoned arguments they would be wise. Too many of them exhibit the kind of bigotry and rabidness they're so quick to shout about in others.

Surely no man in his right mind wants to foster drunkenness, yet the ranting of some of the [illegible] sounds very much as if that were their heart's desire. If they hope to see reformed liquor laws throughout Canada they had better change their attitude.

We're proud of the more liberal laws in our province [illegible] but we get sore when the [illegible] "wets" claim credit for [illegible]. They came because sober and [illegible] family people, many of them hating liquor for just cause, saw more hope in liberal laws and strict enforcement than in rigid [illegible] they had better change their laws that were being broken on every hand. Let the "wets" put that in their glass and swallow it.

Innisfree Lake A Popular Resort

MANNVILLE. — Sunday saw many Mannvillites at the Innisfree Lake (formerly known as Holvick's Lake) and being a hot day the lake had plenty of water sprites. We understand Jack Coxford and family, Ralph Rudd and family from here have purchased lots and are to build cabins. Casey and Betty Anderson and family of Edmonton have also bought a lot and signify their intention to build as they claim it takes so long in heavy traffic to go to any resort near the city on holidays that they would rather come home and go to Innisfree.

Pretty Wedding At St. Saviour's

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Saviour's Anglican church, Vermilion, when Madaline Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald C. Maughan, became the bride of Richard Clair (Dick) Hollen.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. K. Minchin before an altar decorated with peonies.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked radiant in a bouffant waltz-length dress of white net and lace over taffeta. Her chapel veil was held in place by a coronet of seed pearls and irridescent sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and wore a gold cross, a gift of the groom. The bride was attended by her sister Joan Unger as matron of honor and her friend Barbara Campbell, as bridesmaid. Joan and Barbara chose dresses of pink and turquoise sculptured nylon over satin, with matching bandeaux in their hair. They carried nosegays of yellow carnations.

The groom's attendants were his brother Dale, and Keith Maughan, brother of the bride. Ushers were Hugh Sheppard and Jack Coates.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Alfred Beecroft sang "The Wedding Prayer" accompanied by Mrs. John Hillcox.

The bride's gifts to her matron of honor and the bridesmaid were snow-white earring and necklace sets. The groom's gifts to the best men and ushers were lighters.

The reception was held in the parish hall immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was decorated by a three-tired wedding cake (made by the bride's mother and decorated by by the groom's mother). A lovely lunch was served by the ladies of the Senior W.A. The hall was attractively decorated with bouquets of pink and white peonies.

Mr. E. A. Locke proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Maughan wore a grey and white corded silk dress with white accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Hollen, chose a turquoise and white printed silk dress with white accessories.

For going away the bride selected a green and white silk dress with a jacket, and white accessories. The couple will make their home in Vermilion.

Caroline Dorothy Edwards Becomes Bride Of George Stanley Dimma

The First United Church, Vermilion, was the setting for the recent afternoon wedding of Miss Caroline Dorothy Edwards and Mr. George Stanley Dimma. Baskets of peonies were the background at the altar for the ceremony performed by Rev. C. W. MacKay. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Edwards of Vermilion and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Dimma of Forestburg.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a waltz-length gown of white nylon lace and net with three-quarter-length veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Anne Schurman and Miss Lois Dimma, a sister of the groom. They wore similar gowns of nylon net over taffeta in shades of aqua and cerise, and carried bouquets of white daisies.

The groom was attended by Mr. Merlyn Litke and Mr. Merle McNabb.

Mrs. Albert West played the wedding music and Miss Margaret Goodwin sang "The Wedding Prayer".

A reception followed in the church hall. Mr. Ernest Schurman proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom ably responded.

Following a wedding trip to Banff and Calgary Mr. and Mrs. Dimma will reside at Daysland.

Isley-May Nuptials Held At First United Church, Vermilion

The First United Church, Vermilion, was the scene of a very beautiful summer wedding on June 29th when Hazel Rosamond May, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon May, became the bride of Mr. John Wesley Isley, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Isley of Vermilion.

The Rev. C. W. MacKay performed the double-ring ceremony.

Entering the church on the arm of her father the bride wore a floor-length gown of white net and lace-over satin. Her matching fingertip veil was held in place by a coronet of white orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls with matching earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and fern.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were her two bridesmaids, her sister Miss Laurena May and Miss Lenore McInnis. They wore identical waltz-length gowns of green and blue crystaline in Princess style. Each carried a bouquet of yellow Shasta daisies with matching head bands. Their jewelry were pearl necklaces, gifts of the bride.

Attending the groom were his brothers Mr. Ernest Isley and Mr. James Isley, both of Vermilion.

Ushering the guests were Mr. Harold Crake and Mr. Laurence Habstritt.

Mrs. Dickson of Innisfree played fitting selections for the wedding very beautifully.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. May wore a navy nylon dress with net overlace and white accessories. The groom's mother chose a two-piece blue figured dress with accessories in white.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the bride's home south of Vermilion. Mr. Eddie Rustand proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded in a very fitting manner.

Leaving for a honeymoon at Waterton Lakes the bride changed to a brown dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Rustand of Ross Creek, Alta., and Mr. and Mrs. Wells, Paradise Valley.

Enjoyable Event Marks Anniversary

A beautiful day heralded the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr and Mrs. Lyle Robinson on Wednesday July 10. The lawn at their farm home was thronged with the many friends who came to wish them well on that day.

The lovely spacious lawn was set with tables, seats and flowers to make a gracious setting for the happy event. Centring the [illegible] table on which was a three-tiered anniversary cake baked and decorated by their daughter Betty, the top having a bouquet of roses in the same crystal vase used to decorate the original wedding cake twenty five years ago. A basket of 25 carnations shading from white to deep red centred the main table; while silver and crystal bowls of delphiniums graced the pouring table where the following old friends presided at the tea and coffee urns — Mrs H. Anderson, Mrs. E. Hart, Mrs W Barr, Mrs R. H. Norton, Miss G. Bury, Mrs. E. M. Eidem, Mrs. P. Dixon, Mrs S. H. Carroll. The serviteurs were Betty Robinson, Catherine Barr, Louise Barr, Dorinda Anderson, Mrs Dale Williams, Mrs. Ray Williams, Mrs. Joe Hart, Miss Dorothy Jean Stewart, Mrs Basil Hawley.

Assisting in receiving the guests were Mrs M. Barr, Mrs. C. Barr, Mrs. J. D. Barr, Mrs. E. Brimacombe, Mrs. W. H. Duncan, Mrs G. Reasbeck.

Mrs M. Hill was in charge of the guest book wherein well over one hundred guests signed, some from as far away as Fort Saskatchewan, Chalk River, Victoria, Buffalo, N.Y. and Islay, all paying tribute to the high esteem in which the happy couple are held by the community. This was also expressed in the lovely gifts which will be treasured by the recipients in memory of this joyful event.

Mr and Mrs. Robinson wish to express their deep gratitude to the friends who so kindly made this day one to be forever treasured in their garden of "fragrant memories".

Spend Enjoyable Two Months in Ont.

Mr and Mrs. J. H. Simmons formerly of Islay and who have now purchased a house and moved into Vermilion, recently returned from a very enjoyable two months spent at old home scenes in Ontario, also visiting many interesting spots. Mr and Mrs Simmons sold their farm prior to their trip east, so had nothing to worry about while away and this made the holiday all the more enjoyable. They travelled east by Canadian National to Windsor where they visited the Chrysler plant and took delivery of a new Plymouth car. They were conducted on a tour of the factory and saw the assembly line in action. Another very interesting experience was seeing portions of the area of the St. Lawrence seaway project, also the Welland canal with boats actually going through the locks. Old home scenes were visited at Trout Creek near Drayton, Ont. where Mr Simmons fished as a boy, the last time about 55 years ago. He tried his luck again and caught five speckled trout. By the time Mr. and Mrs. Simmons arrived home their new car had been driven more than 5,000 miles.

Mr and Mrs. Simmons lived on the farm three miles south of Islay since 1926. They sold out this spring and planned to build a house in Vermilion. Instead of building they purchased a home here and have now taken up residence in Vermilion.

Bluenose Special Leaves for East

WINNIPEG. — Nostalgic memories of life in Canada's Maritime Provinces came crowding back for 78 people from all over Western Canada as they boarded the CNR's Continental last week.

All of them are former Maritimers going back on holiday to the province of their birth, to renew old acquaintances and reacquaint themselves with relations and friends. Some have not been back for 30 or 40 years. Others are taking their children to show them the homes where their parents were brought up.

Taking advantage of the "Bluenose" excursion, counterpart to one which brought 120 Easterners to visit Western Canada a few days ago, the provincial groups boarded the train at Vancouver, Edmonton, Saskatoon and Winnipeg.

During the three-week trip, stopovers will be made en route at Toronto, Niagara Falls, and Quebec City.

CNR Starts New Sask. Tri-City Railiner Service Aug. 4th

WINNIPEG—A new C.N.R. Railiner service between Regina, Prince Albert and Saskatoon, will begin operation on August 4.

The new Railiner schedules will provide a faster and more convenient service between the three Saskatchewan cities. The running time between Regina and Saskatoon has been cut two hours and fifteen minutes, and almost one hour between Saskatoon and Prince Albert.

The new equipment —which replaces team-powered trains—will be on public display for brief periods prior to the inauguration of the new service.

Social Credit Group Occupy Powerful Spot At Ottawa

EDMONTON — Look for renewed efforts on the part of the Alberta government to get some of the things it has been trying to induce from Ottawa over the past few years.

Among them are greater federal contributions toward highway construction, a better deal on prairie freight rates and the development of a new system of sharing federal - provincial revenues and responsibilities.

Provincial government officials are hoping the new Progressive Conservative government down east will listen a little more sympathetically to their requests, particularly since many of the Tory election platform promises are in line with what Alberta and other provinces have sought.

Coupled with this is the influence the Social Credit group will wield in the House of Commons.

Solon Low, national Socred leader and other party officials have tentatively agreed to go along with the Diefenbaker government, which needs all the support it can get to maintain its shaky position.

The Social Crediters probably will co-operate a lot more than the CCFers who hold the balance of power in the federal house, but all parties seem to feel another election right away would be bad for the country. Premier Manning and other leaders of the Social Credit party endorse this view.

A provincial official said Alberta will renew the battle for lower freight rates "with more vigor than ever." Whether the new Dominion government can do anything about them is another question, but Alberta's submissions shouldn't lack influential support in the House.

Little can be done in the immediate future about federal-provincial revenues, because a new tax rental agreement has recently been signed and remains in force for five years.

But steps should be taken to survey the whole revenue-responsibility field with a view to revamping it when the present agreement expires. It was with reluctance that Alberta signed the new agreement this spring, and Premier Manning has said repeatedly that the existing tax-sharing system is all wet.

For one thing, Premier Manning would like the federal government to get out of the social welfare field. He feels old age security, pensions, health and hospital matters are a provincial responsibility.

What he seeks is a new formula for sharing revenues which would enable the province to look after this responsibility adequately.

He also takes a dim view of federal schemes under which Ottawa will pay so much if the province will contribute a like amount. Alberta is able to take advantage of such schemes, as it is doing with the old age pension increases, but as Premier Manning points out, other provinces don't have the money.

Mr. Manning would prefer to see a "system under which the available money is distributed among the provinces. Then each province could establish a program which suits its needs.

The premier has dealt with this idea a number of times and chances are he'll be taking it up with the new government at Ottawa.

National Farm Safety Week Opens Sunday, July 21st

The green cross safety emblem should have special significance in Alberta from Sunday, July 21 to Saturday, July 27, when this province joins in the observance of National Farm Safety Week.

The Alberta Government has officially proclaimed this period as Farm Safety Week and various organizations are co-operating with the Alberta Safety Council in making it another outstanding success.

Paul Lawrence, Safety Director for the Alberta Safety Council and W. J. Perkins, Farm Safety Director, have completed plans for an intensive campaign on a Province-wide front. Large quantities of posters, leaflets and other material have been distributed.

The imperative need of the Farm Safety Week is widely realized and practical support is assured.

The dreadful toll of farm accidents and fatalities already this year should provide further emphasis on the dire need of this safety drive.

11 TRACTOR DEATHS

In the six months ended June 30, there were 11 deaths in tractor accidents in this province. The majority of these accidents were due to side-tipping in fields or on roads, and one was caused by back-tipping.

In these accidents, eight of the victims ranged in age from 42 to 79 years. One was a 12 year old boy who was operating a tractor and two were children who were run over and fatally hurt by tractors. The youngsters were two and three and a half years old.

Operating of farm trucks or vehicles also took a toll of five lives up to the end of June. In one case, a girl tipped the truck while driving it in rough pasture. In another instance, a man was fatally injured when crushed against a granary. A child also was killed by a motor vehicle being operated on a farm yard.

Already this year more than 10 deaths have been reported in rural fires, though some were in villages. These again demonstrated the urgent need of farm safety if lives are to be saved.

This shocking over-all record of farm fatalities should spur various groups to action and stress the importance of Farm Safety Week as a time set aside to recognize the problem and take personal steps to eliminate hazards and faulty work habits.

The Safety Council has suggested a complete planning program for Farm Safety Week. Here it is:

Sunday, July 21—Have reverence for life. Take time to take care. Realize that haste makes waste. Plan to avoid an over crowded schedule.

Monday—Home Safety. Keep your farm in order. Keep everything in place. Eliminate hazards as you find them.

Tuesday—Livestock: be open minded to safety suggestions. Keep children away from animals and check and repair livestock equipment regularly.

Wednesday—Falls: good planning reduces the temptation to hurry, means better production and fewer accidents. Repair or discard broken unsafe ladders. Place guards at hazardous places.

Thursday—Highway traffic, be courteous on the highway. A courteous driver believes in living and let live. Know and obey all traffic laws. Remove trees and shrubs near farm driveway entrance.

Friday—Machinery make sure your equipment is in safe operating condition. Make sure all guards and safety devices are in place. Stop machines before unclogging, oiling or adjusting.

Saturday—Review day, check up on any farm and farm home hazards that might have been overlooked. Find and eliminate at least two additional unsafe conditions around your farm.

WILDMERE WINKS

Everyone was deeply saddened when word was received that Mr I. Larsen had passed away on Friday evening. He was one of our earlier pioneers, coming when the prairie was just prairie—no settlers, only ranchers squatted here and there. He himself ranched for a time at what is known to many as the Petersen Lake, just south of where Ray Osterberg lives now; he also ranched on the Battle River down towards Vanesti way. His cheery smile and pleasant greeting will be greatly missed by everyone. The words spoken at his funeral by Rev. A. Dawe, "His work is over; he fought a good fight and kept the faith," so truly fits the life Mr. Larsen lived while he was amongst us all these many years. The large attendance at his funeral on Monday bespoke the esteem he, and his family hold in the surrounding communities and in Vermilion where he retired a few years ago after a busy life on his farm. The community along with the writer extends heartfelt sympathy to his loving wife, son, daughters, sisters and brothers in their hour of sorrow. Always remember his book of life contains many pages of happy memories.

Another old timer has passed on to his well-earned rest in the person of Mr. William Steele. He too leaves many pleasant memories that will be remembered for years to come. May his sorrowing family find comfort in knowing he is now at rest . . . another faithful servant God has called home.

Wildmere W. A. met at Preston Central school with a fair attendance. Our President Mrs. Holte sketched over the Presbytery meeting for the benefit of those not there or at the last meeting. The W.A. wishes to heartily thank all the men who helped paint the inside of the church. It was truly appreciated. Mrs. Wallington is to order hymn books and two pictures. Rev. Powell will be here at Auburndale the last week in August. Mrs. Albert Smith had the Devotional called "Bible Education" which was very interesting.

Remember, folks, to bring something of warm clothing and a stuffed toy to send to Miss Horning, a missionary in Japan, at our Aug 6th meeting. Many thanks to Sunday school children who freely gave their own money to help send the parcel.

At the August meeting Mrs. W. T. Garnett has the Devotional. Lunch by Mrs. Cruthers and Mrs. Gibson. Mr. Breighaupt attended near the close of the meeting. Mrs. Holte and members closed the meeting with the Mizpah. A tasty lunch followed, served by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. R. Dibben and Mrs. Westman.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilson of Wildmere accompanied Mr. and Mrs. A. Morrison of Bowtell on a trip to the State of Indiana to visit Sandy Morrison and family. They are going by car.

A nice attendance at church Sunday evening. Mr Breighaupt gave a good sermon on Gospel. We were pleased to see Mr and Mrs. Alex Stone, Alayne and Donald accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. Dawe. Rev. Dawe sang a solo "Higher Up". He also spoke on how pleased he was to see the little school house as it was when he was a student here turned into such a nice little church now. Rev. Dawe will take the service at Wildmere on Sunday July 28th so plan to attend.

This Sunday will be Vacation School service as Mr Breighaupt and helpers are holding a vacation school this week at Basswood.

Re-union of Welsh People at Ponoka Sunday, Aug. 4th

A wonderful gathering of all Welsh people from all parts of Alberta will be held at the annual singing festival or Gymanfa Ganu at Ponoka on Sunday 4th August. This corresponds with the National Eisteddfod of Wales in the old land.

DEUWCH CANWN I'R ARGLWYDD

Cheap week end rates by bus are available to Edmonton Friday and Saturday to Monday at 7:00 p.m. with special rates for 10 to 15 persons from any one point. On Sunday the St. David's Welsh Society, Edmonton, will charter a special bus which goes to Ponoka for both the 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. evening services.

To many Welsh people this has become their annual celebration of remembrance of their own language and the Land of their Birth.

East-West Goodwill Crop Tour

WINNIPEG. Travelling from East to West aboard the C.N.R.'s Super Continental, 110 people are on this year's Ontario Goodwill Crop Tour to the Pacific Coast.

Many of those on the three-week tour have been on four previous Crop Tours.

Three Of World's Four Oceans Bound Canada

Canada, bounded by three of the world's four oceans and crossed by seven of the world's twenty four time zones, is second in size only to Soviet Russia. Brazil is the world's third largest country, and continental United States fourth. To date, less than one-third of Canada's total area has been brought under development: less than eight percent of the country is classed as occupied farmland, and an equal area considered suitable for farming is still unoccupied.

Such are some of the items of information contained in the 13th annual edition of Quick Canadian Facts, the pocket annual of facts about Canada released this week by the publishers.

Among thousands of other facts about Canada and Canadians noted in the new book are:

There are fewer than four persons per square mile of land area in Canada, compared to more than 50 in the United States and more than 500 in the United Kingdom.

The most significant change in Canada's population pattern is the trend to urbanization which has accompanied the country's great industrial expansion; manufacturing now employs about 2,300,000 Canadians compared to about 800,000 employed in agriculture;

In the current year full-time university enrolment in Canada is estimated at 78,100, more than double the pre-war figure;

In 1956 as compared to 1955 the value of foreign goods sold in Canada increased to $5.7 billion from $4.7 billion, the value of Canada's exports increased to $4.8 billion from $4.3 billion;

There are 97 daily newspapers published in Canada with a combined circulation of about 3,500,000 and about 1,000 weekly newspapers with a combined circulation of about 4,000,000;

The highest earners in Canada are consulting engineers and architects who, by most recent figures, for year 1954, had an average annual income of $12,000; largest single group of income taxpayers are employees, averaged $3,204 for the year; next largest group, business proprietors, averaged $4,071 for the year.

The new edition of Quick Canadian Facts, containing up-to-date information on all aspects of Canadian life, is available to the public through newsstands and book stores across Canada, or from the publishers at 610 Lumsden Bldg., Toronto.

Full-time federal government employees numbered 172,798 in July, 1956 and payroll for the month was $46,550,000.

The Latest In Fine Mirrors

A new concept of mirror design and mountings will be introduced in Canada in the fall collection of mirrors being prepared by Pilkington's glass designer. The new mirrors are the result of extensive study of the trends in home decoration in the United States and Canada and are more stylized than the designer's fashion show of mirrors which was shown from coast to coast last year. Some complement traditional or period-furnished homes by highlighting the etched designs with gold leaf and black. Others blend mirrors with such materials as plastic, wrought iron and wood. Here Betty Reid is smilingly reflected by a highly styled mirror for the homemaker who prefers contemporary furniture. It is kidney-shaped and mounted on a "fish-net" webbing set in a wood frame and may be hung either vertically as shown, or horizontally. Its simplicity makes it suitable for hanging in any room and its individuality will mark it as a "conversation piece."

Canada's Old Age Security fund is running in the red to the tune of about $80,000,000 a year. —Quick Canadian Facts

For many years the leading metal recovered in the Yukon was gold. But today it is exceeded in value by silver and base metals.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

"Remember the Litter - Basket" is a slogan we should keep in mind around the picnic and camp sites, as well as on city streets. While litter may be a sign that we've had a good time, it is a nuisance for those who follow.

Ants and other insects can be expected at picnics and there's not much we can do about them. There's no excuse for the other fellow's left-behind scraps. They can ruin a picnic site. If you've ever [illegible] you know what I mean.

Litter is unnecessary because it's so easy to be neat. Take a look around any well-run picnic grounds and you will find an ample supply of trash receptacles. However, if no bin is handy, take along your litter and dispose of it later. After a weiner roast or other outdoor cooking, bury the remains of your fire.

Campaign against litter 100 per cent not just halfway. Leave the campsite neat, and don't neglect the inside of your car. When you travel, your car is your home on wheels. Keep it as clean as you do your living room. If your passengers want to picnic as you drive, suggest that they put wax paper and napkins and leftovers back into a paper bag and throw it all into a litter basket at the next stop.

But don't try to keep the inside of your car clean by throwing trash out the window. It spoils the highway for others and in many places — it may cost you a fine.

Scout and Cub News Of Battle River Scout District

All trails lead to camping these days, wood smoke will curl upwards and hungry scouts will devour much food as they follow B-P's example and succumb to the call of the outdoors. Nowhere will they find such companionship as they will around their campfires and the memories will live as long as they do.

Chauvin Scout troop are camping shortly at Salt Lake and this being their first year of formation they have had quite a struggle to get their equipment together. We wish them good camping and valuable experience to benefit them in camps to come.

Edgerton Scouts are planning a camp, of which we will write of later, at Arm Lake Scout camp.

A contingent of Camp Wainwright Scouts left last Saturday for their first camp at Camp Woods, near Sylvan Lake and next week we should be able to relate some real adventures. Camp Woods is a prov. council supervised Scout camp and will offer expert camping to the Camp Wainwright boys. Asst. Scoutmaster Groves accompanied the boys.

Camp Wainwright Wolf Cubs commenced a garden this year, but, due to lack of rain, the little fellows are not too pleased with the results. Better luck next time, Cubs.

Weather is dry again with high winds playing havoc with the flowers. Perhaps the rains are waiting until fair time.

The summer seems to be fairly flying by and many are on holidays. Hope that you are enjoying yourself Lila and Ken. It was interesting to hear that you saw Mrs. Clara Millward in person - quite a coincidence.

Mrs. Tillie Gould is spending some holidays with her father Mr. Van Patten and her brothers.

Mrs. Fisher spent a few days with the writer last week.

We hope that Mr. and Mrs. Simmons like their new home in Vermilion. They were going to build but found a house to their liking so bought it instead.

The writer enjoyed a nice chat with Mrs. Bothwell on Saturday.

Quite a large number went on fishing trips Sunday. The day was really a perfect one.

Mr. and Mrs. Christie Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hobbis and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gould all went to see the stock car races at Lloydminster on Sunday. The races were much enjoyed with some skillful driving being demonstrated. The ladies showed [illegible] It was called the powder puff race, but the girls forgot all about their powder and put on a good show.

Boy Scout Council, District of Battle River, Progressive Meeting

The Battle River District Council, the Boy Scouts Association held a progressive meeting on Thursday night last, July 11th, with Edgerton Scout Group committee being the wonderful hosts. Dr D. S. White of Wainwright, vice-president, took the chair in the absence of President Dr Don Hauck. Representatives were in attendance from Chauvin, Wainwright, Camp Wainwright, Buffalo Coulee and Edgerton. Mr Harold Harvey, the Assistant District Commissioner, gave an interesting report on his work especially on the ninth Prairie Gilwell course which he attended a few weeks ago at LeBret, Sask. He stated that Cubmaster Salmon (Camp Wainwright) and Cubmaster Bob Groves, Edgerton, attended and they all found the course of great benefit.

NEW SITE AT ARM LAKE

Secretary Mrs. Grant Salmon, reported a miscellaneous permit had now been received from the Director of Lands and Forests giving the Battle River District Council authority to use a two-acre camping site on the shores of Arm Lake. Extensive discussion took place in regard to this camping site which will be developed into a permanent camp site for Scouts and Cubs in the district. Major Cohen Chairman of the Camp Wainwright group, stated they had voted $100 to be ear-marked for such development.

It is hoped that further donations will be forthcoming from anyone interested in the Scout movement. Much work is to be done and next spring it would be desirable to erect some structure or shelter in keeping with the camping requirements which would enable Cubs to go to camp also. Money will therefore be needed for this purpose. The District Council has been operating on meagre funds since its formation and to get the financial ball rolling Dr Don Hauck has generously agreed to donate a battery operated radio-record player which will be raffled by members of the various group committees in order to raise funds for the efficient operation of a deserving cause, the training of Scouts and Cubs being of prime importance to everyone. The Scouts and Cubs of today are the citizens of tomorrow and there is no better movement devised for the development and training of good citizens for the future. The District Council and the various group committees of Vermilion, Wainwright, Edgerton, Camp Wainwright, Chauvin and Buffalo Coulee will be looking to the public for wholehearted support.

The secretary reported that three camping permits had been applied for and granted in the district, Chauvin, Edgerton and Camp Wainwright.

APPOINT SECRETARIES

The appointment of Badge secretaries for the district was carefully considered and Mr. Skene postmaster at Edgerton, was elected to serve the Wainwright-Chauvin-Edgerton section. Nomination of a Vermilion district Badge secretary will be made at the next meeting. Appointment of these secretaries will expedite the issue of badges and at the same time, create the facilities for keeping stricter records in regard to badges.

APPOINT SUPERVISORS

Mr R. Harkness, assistant S.M. at Edgerton, was appointed camp supervisor for the Arm Lake camp and stated he would be calling on other other troops and scouters to assist him in the development work at the camp site.

WEEKLY NEWS BULLETINS

Groups were also asked to relay news items in connection with Scout and Cub activities to Mrs. Grant Salmon, the secretary, by Friday of each week so that a weekly news bulletin could be issued. It was generally felt that the Scout Movement must have more publicity and the secretary was instructed to take steps to see that such publicity was given in every way possible.

TRAINING COURSE

A preliminary training course was requested in early fall for the training of all new Scouters in the district, this to include persons interested and willing to take up this useful work.

Scoutmasters will be needed in the town of Wainwright this fall in order that a Scout troop may be formed and anyone interested should contact Dr White, chairman of Wainwright Scout group. The preliminary training course will fit even those who have never scouted before to commence work in the Scouting field. There is a definite need for this movement in any town as boys of 11 to 14 years need to be absorbed in some worthwhile activity. There can be no better character building organization than the Boy Scouts as there he can learn to be a true citizen and share in a world-wide brotherhood. He will learn to be useful, occupied and helpful and he will have that thrill, which is all too brief, of camping under good conditions, properly supervised.

At the close of the meeting, Mr J. R. Doherty, representative of the Wainwright Scout Group committee, proposed a vote of thanks to the Edgerton ladies who so kindly provided such succulent refreshments, especially the iced fruit juice during the heat of the long and busy meeting.

Feature of the weather this week was the very acceptable rain which fell all day Wednesday amounting to .46 of an inch. To offset the nice rain were reports of hail damage in several areas including Northern Valley south of Islay, Kitscoty, Tolland and west, and a narrow belt about 12 miles south of Vermilion and running west to south of Claysmore. In addition to the Wednesday rain, showers fell on Saturday and Monday.

Sunday was the warmest day of the week and the park lake attracted a huge crowd seeking a likely spot to cool off.

NEWS from CLANDONALD

During the past week work by the municipal road grading outfit commenced on the highway from town to the intersection with 45. Designed originally about 30 years ago, the road was totally inadequate to handle present day requirements. Several accidents have occurred during recent months and no doubt scores of near misses. It is to be hoped that work will continue on north as soon as funds are available.

We are very pleased to report that Jimmy Gratton is now home and making satisfactory progress toward recovery following his serious accident at Coronation recently. The community is sponsoring a benefit dance in the Orange hall on Friday, July 19 and a large turnout is hoped for.

Fritz Brockman, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brake, underwent another serious heart operation in the University hospital, Edmonton during the past week. His condition as last reported is as good as could be expected. This is the second operation Fritz has undergone within four years. Friends and relatives are hopeful that this time the results will be permanently beneficial.

Alf Stockwell who has been spending his holidays at the home of his brother for the past two weeks or more, returned to his job in the city on Sunday.

Don Goad, another former resident, also on holiday here since the Stockwell-Nelson wedding, headed back to his home and job in Edmonton the same day.

Resident here for the past 7 years where he has been in charge of the Pool elevator, Bob Peck and family will soon be leaving for Marwayne. During their stay here the Pecks have made many friends both through Bob's connection with the elevator and with their activities along community lines, particularly the square dance club. Every happiness and success is wished them in their new home. Congratulations to Bob on his appointment to the Marwayne point as it really amounts to a promotion.

Hail damage was reported in a narrow strip in the Northern Valley district one day last week. Hail stones or chunks of ice as big as hens' eggs were picked up and losses in a few cases to crops, windows and chickens are reported.

Crops in this area have benefited greatly following the soaking rains during the first week of July. We too, like Dewberry, can be thankful as at last all the carrots have come through!

Active and Helpful Year Reviewed By Marwayne H & S

Nine meetings were held during 1956-57 season on the second Tuesday of each month. There were 66 paid-up members and the meetings were fairly well attended. Starting in November reading books were presented to the school rooms having the most parents present at the meetings. Miss Baldwin's room won four of the books while Mr. Petryshen, Mr. Gudzowaty and Mr. Gardiner one each.

There was a great variety of programs. In October the Gr. 9 honor students were presented with a small gift of money. Mr. Simonson was guest speaker.

For November, Mr Gardiner gave a list of scholarships available for Grade 9 and 12. Mr. Gudzowaty explained the High School program and credit system.

A panel discussion was held in December with Mr. Petryshen as chairman on Parent-Teacher Interviews. Two short films were shown.

At the January meeting the film "All of God's Children" was shown which showed the great need for more and better teachers. A discussion followed on how more students could be encouraged to go into the teaching profession.

In February we had Home and Schoolers present from Islay, Tulliby Lake and Dewberry and were greatly disappointed when the guest speaker Mrs. Hunter was unable to attend owing to sudden sickness. The gathering did however have a discussion on "Housing Conditions for Teachers in the Vermilion Division". Three films and a bountiful lunch filled in the gap.

For March there was an impromptu play which depicted the changes from one generation to another and an interesting discussion followed.

At the April meeting there was a most interesting demonstration on the film strip by a teacher of each division. Money was voted to help set up a film library for Marwayne school. The Division Board thought this an excellent thing and paid an equal amount toward this.

The Home and School sponsored the Graduation dance in May and arranged the lunch.

In June a report of the Home and School convention was given by Mrs. Hutchinson. Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President — Mrs. Culford; Vice-Pres. Mr R. Golightly; Sec.-Treas. — Mr. Jim Hale; Program Committee — Mrs. J. Murray, Mrs. Harrington, Mrs. Spence, Mrs. G. Midgley.

Starting in January a series of card parties was held which were well attended and raised a considerable sum.

This has been a very successful year for Marwayne Home and School and all would like to see even more parents out to the first meeting of the new season, Tuesday, Sept. 10th.

"HELLO, HOMEMAKERS"

Here is the fruit salad dressing I promised you a week or two ago. This recipe makes one quart of dressing.

Fruit Salad Dressing
½ cup lemon juice
½ cup pineapple juice
½ cup orange juice
4 eggs beaten
1 cup sugar
1 cup whipping cream

METHOD: Heat juice in the top of a double boiler. Combine eggs and sugar. Add hot liquid to eggs slowly: while stirring. Cook until spoon is coated as for custard sauce. Cool; then fold in the whipped cream.

NOTE: Dressing may separate on standing; but beaten will restore it.

USES: This dressing is very tasty for fruit combinations. It can be used as a sauce for jellied desserts and for jellied fruit dressings.

SUMMER DESSERTS

If you're looking for light desserts to appeal to family appetites in hot weather, here's a hint. Try the recipes for fruit salads, but serve them for dessert with plain cookies. Here are some combinations you might try.

FRUIT COMBINATIONS

Apples with celery, dates or nuts.

Apples with cherries, peaches, pears and grapes.

Melon chunks with grapes, pears, peaches and apples.

Peaches, pears, plums and berries.

These fruits can be obtained and served or they can be added to partially set jello.

Here's a combination which sounds delicious - melon rings, pink grapefruit sections, strawberries, and cream cheese balls rolled in nuts. This can be served with or without dressing.

Sounds good doesn't it!

3,000 To Gather At Bible Convention

Three thousand Albertans will crowd the campus of Canadian Union College at Lacombe this week end for the beginning of the Seventh-day Adventist annual summer Bible convention which will get underway on Friday July 19th at 7:30 p.m. The religious gathering is slated to run nine days.

The opening feature of the session will be the Voice of Prophecy radio group with H. M. S. Richards, speaker and the internationally known King's Heralds male quartet. The weekly Voice of Prophecy broadcasts originate in Los Angeles and are heard over 5?? stations in Canada and the U.S., as well as 285 stations in other countries in fifteen languages.

Leading the convention Saturday July 20th, will be R. R. Figuhr of Washington, D.C., the world president of the Adventist Church. This is Mr Figuhr's first visit to Alberta and the first time a world president has attended the Alberta convocation, which is one of more than fifty such conferences held yearly in North America by the denomination.

During the 9-day conference, church leaders from the world headquarters will stress the theme of religion in community life by re-affirming their support of the denomination's educational, welfare, medical, and youth programs.

New Booklet Is Guide To Tourists

The new 80-page pocket-sized Accommodation Booklet issued by the Alberta Travel Bureau has recently come off the press and is being distributed to major tourist centres.

The booklet lists, with a star rating, all motels in the province, outlining their accommodation facilities and rates. The new star rating is common to Saskatoon, Alberta and British Columbia, so travellers may have a constant judgment on quality of accommodation.

The booklet also lists hotels, resorts, trailer parks and camp grounds in Alberta, with their rates and condensed information from the Alberta Travel Bureau, Legislative Buildings, Edmonton.

There are in Canada 164 non-government radio broadcasting stations; in addition the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation owns and operates 22 radio stations and 8 television station.

Before a physician receives his license to practice medicine he must learn how to do everything necessary to diagnose and treat disease.

Before we pharmacists receive our license to practice pharmacy we must compound prescriptions under the watchful eyes of our instructors, and prove that we know how to properly compound and protect the potency of medicines.

Therefore your future health is always better served when you go to your physician for advice on what to do and what to take and get any needed medicine from your pharmacist.

A great many people entrust us with the responsibility of filling their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Alberta Display At Chicagoland Fair

Publicity accruing to Alberta as result of displays and exhibits held outside the dominion may be judged by public response to the exhibit sponsored by the government of the Province of Alberta at the Chicagoland Fair in July. Arranged by the Department of Economic Affairs, the display drew the attention of thousands to the industrial potential, natural resources and vacation possibilities of the province. Star attraction at the booth and at a round of public appearances was Alberta's Princess Crowfoot. She is shown in top picture en route to a television appearance with three American youths dressed to represent U.S. soldiery at the time of 1776, 1861 and 1898. CENTRE, The Hon. A. R. Patrick, Minister of Economic Affairs, is shown with Princess Crowfoot, in the Alberta booth, during a television presentation of the exhibit, seen by thousands. Bottom picture is a snap of a portion of the crowd filing past the booth where promotional material was distributed.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Federal, Provincial and Municipal Conference Proposed To Deal With Tax Revenues

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Could the Progressive-Conservative party be taking a leaf from the book of the Social Credit government in Alberta?

Maybe not, but a talk given last week by Marcel Lambert, M.P.-elect for Edmonton West and one of the three PC candidates elected in Alberta, sounded as if it could have been taken from one of Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinman's brochures on the proposed 'new deal' for municipalities.

Mr Lambert said the responsibilities of the three levels of government — federal, provincial and municipal — are seriously out of adjustment in relation to the revenues each has been granted.

He called for a 'down-to-earth' conference between the three levels to reallocate responsibilities and provide each level with sufficient resources to fulfil these responsibilities.

Similar ideas were expressed by Tory candidates and leaders during the federal election campaign, but in Alberta it is nothing new. For well over a year studies have been in progress toward revamping of provincial municipal revenues and responsibilities. In addition, the Alberta government has repeatedly called for precisely what Mr Lambert advocates. If the new federal government calls the 'down-to-earth' conference suggested by the Edmonton MP Alberta will be only too glad to attend.

The similarity of views is further support for speculation that Socreds in the House of Commons will go along with the PC government to a great extent.

Dry weather already has caused damage to crops in some areas and more rain is badly needed in other parts of the province according to the provincial department of agriculture.

The department says drought damage has been "considerable although variable" in most of the region between the Red Deer and Athabasca rivers. Wheat is advancing too rapidly with short straw and small heads and as a result yields will be low.

More moisture is needed in parts of the south, and the dry weather has reduced prospects in parts of the Peace River country. A good, old-fashioned soaker would be more than welcome about now.

The Alberta public is maintaining its position as among the most motorized in the world. Provincial motor vehicles branch officials say car and truck registrations in the province should hit a record high this year.

From April until the end of June Albertans registered 308,364 vehicles, an increase of 22,000 over the same period of last year. Of the total, passenger cars accounted for 268,931 registrations.

While Alberta may have more cars and motorists than many other places, its drivers aren't necessarily the best. Out of 6,775 persons who took driving tests in June, 2,412 — or nearly one-third — failed to qualify. Only four of these were classed as complete failures however, and the remainder will be allowed to try again.

A LOT OF BULL!

The story of a bull which wandered and cost the government a few bucks came out last week when the province authorized payment of $101 in damages. The bull, owned by the government under the horned cattle trust account, was being unloaded at the Edmonton Exhibition grounds in May. It bolted, escaped from its handlers and before being rounded up had damaged fences, a sidewalk and a car. Three separate damage payments were authorized, for $40, $39 and $22.

Rising costs hit the government last week. The Cabinet had to authorize price increases totalling $148,000 in three contracts covering the new bridge at Lea Park and roadwork on highway 2 between Airdrie and Crossfield.

DEWBERRY NEWS

The community was shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Norman Elliott of Edmonton as the last heard was that she was keeping better. She had been suffering from a rare blood disease. Our sympathy and that of the community is extended to those left to mourn her loss, her husband and small son, her parents, sisters and brother also her husband's parents, brothers and sister. She was the former Charlotte Tulloch and both she and her husband were native to Dewberry. She was in her 24th year.

Visitors were many in Dewberry lately, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Joe Montgomery and family of Innisfail at the home of Mrs. Montgomery's parents Mr and Mrs. John McKnight.

Gladys Boyce and Jimmy Hillary of Edmonton at the homes of their aunts Miss Gladys and Verna Boyce and Uncle Gerald and at Mr. and Mrs. Stone's (Aunt Blanche).

Mr and Mrs. J. Anderson and son Alf of Fusilier, Sask., at Mr John Anderson's.

Miss Sharon Braithwaite of Edmonton has joined her parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Braithwaite for the rest of their stay in Dewberry.

Mr and Mrs. John Danderfer and family of Drayton Valley visitors at the Jack Kiss home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Algeo and family of Buckthorn Rd., Calgary at the Ernest Garnier home for two days on their way to Waskesiu. Islay and Dewberry people knew Mrs. Algeo as Miss Maureen McGeough of Trimbleville district.

Mr and Mrs Neil Jones and family and Mrs Geo. Ewan have left on a motor trip to Wisconson. While in the States they intend seeing a big league ball game at Detroit.

Mr and Mrs. Dave Findlay have also gone on a motor trip to Yellowstone Park and district.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Craige were visitors in Calgary taking in the Stampede.

Mr and Mrs. Merle Craige and family have returned from B.C. where they spent the last eleven months. They have a new Plymouth. Hope to see you folks soon.

Mr. Erven Garnier is also seen driving a new Plymouth.

On a farm north of Dewberry recently one could have seen quite a show during the round-up of cattle for vaccination — even a calf of a few months old sent the "cowboys" scattering in all directions. Would have been worth seeing eh boys?

STRIPPING . . . SLIPPING

Ladies' hosiery firms are worried about sagging sales, reports The Financial Post, which points out: Once the average grown-up female bought over 16 pairs a year. Now she is down to a little better than a dozen.

Longer wearing stockings have something to do with declining demand, but bare legs are a major factor. It is against this practice that the hosiery people are preparing to battle.

"At one time, if a woman did not wear hosiery she was apt to be judged unrefined, in poor taste or even a little immoral", says a Du Pont consumer researcher. He and his fellow researchers aim to restore that social code.

Farm cash income in Canada in 1956 totalled $2,682,100,000, about 13 per cent higher than the 1955 total of $2,357,100,000.

Future . . . 4-H Club Member

The two-year-old in his play-pen is fascinated by life around him. He longs to pull the tail feathers out of every chicken on his father's farm. He has no idea at all how a farmer's son should behave, but he'll find out, later, when his brothers initiate him into the local 4-H club.

Here he'll learn by doing, pledged to use his head, heart, hands and health in the best possible way.

4-H Clubs were started with one simple idea in mind: to have rural young people do a worthwhile piece of work at home, voluntarily, and do it better than ever before. Plant a garden plot, perhaps, or raise a calf, make a dress, beautify a room.

The idea was so good that the young people swept their parents along with them, and farm life improved amazingly.

4-H Clubs have done many useful things. They have kept the right boys and girls on the farm, trained young men and women for leadership, improved life in rural communities by introducing better agricultural and home practices, and implanted the ideal of good citizenship in young minds.

There are about 75,000 4-H members in Canada. Many will graduate into farm organizations in which are the progressive young farmers who—by using modern machinery and farm techniques—help to keep all Canadians well fed.

Health Unit Notes

THE IMPORTANCE OF SLEEP

The human body is an engine, it generates power using food as a fuel. Like any other engine the body is constantly wearing out, but sleep replaces the worn parts night by night. An auto engine if supplied with fuel will run until it is ruined beyond repair; the human body, however, has a warning device which prevents this tiredness and fatigue. It has been proved that the body can go on longer without food than without sleep.

There are four types of fatigue: 1. Physical fatigue; 2. Mental fatigue; 3. Emotional fatigue; 4. Fatigue due to disease.

Growing children need ten hours of sleep and teenagers eight hours. During sleep all conscious activity ceases, subconscious functions slow down, the mind relaxes, muscles relax, the heart beats slower and breathing becomes slower. Insomnia is caused by overtiredness and emotional or mental disturbances late at night. For this reason children should relax and should have no food for at least one hour before going to bed. They should also not be allowed to read blood-curdling detective stories before retiring. Drinking stimulants such as tea or coffee late at night also causes insomnia. Drugs to induce sleep should never be needed when in good health and should only be taken on the advice of a doctor. The bed should be at least 39ins wide and the mattress not too hard or too soft. The sheets and blankets should be wide enough to hang over the bed and should not be tucked in too tightly. Always have the bedroom as well ventilated as possible. The position in which a person sleeps is unimportant—they should be comfortable. Also people in the house should remember that a noise which may not be loud enough to wake a sleeper may make the sleep less restful.

Lack of sleep reduces speed, accuracy, alertness and hearing capacity and also increases the amount of energy used up in performing any simple act. If the lack of sleep goes on for a long time these changes may be permanent. It is quite wrong to think that anyone gets used to having a small amount of sleep, though some people do need more than others. Lack of sleep also impairs growth and reduces resistance to infections. This means that children suffering from lack of sleep are more likely to contract T.B. or poliomyelitis.

THE STORY SO FAR

Sullen, aloof, taciturn, Jess Cully comes into the north a stranger. His past remains a mystery to all for he makes no friends. Cully buys for a wife young pretty Rosa Ringbuk who loves Manuel Vitalenny. Cully took his bride to his lonely but well built and equipped cabin in the wilds, but Rosa's heart remained with Manuel.

A year passes before Cully and Rosa return to the settlement where Rosa gives birth to a baby [illegible]. She remains very weak and her [illegible] took over the feeding and care of the infant. Cully is forced to leave them with Rosa's [illegible] and it is winter before she regains her health. Meanwhile the baby dies. On his return to the settlement Cully [illegible] that the foster mother is a T.B. victim which is the cause of the baby's death. He flies in [illegible] rage, beats Rosa and takes her back to his camp. Three years pass with no return trip for Rosa [illegible] Cully has given her a wolf pup which she raises and tames. And then one day while Cully is away on his trap-line Manuel Vitalenny appears. He tells Rosa he has his own camp and asks her to come to him if she ever needs help. Winter passes [illegible] day Manuel [illegible]. Rosa urges [illegible] as Cully is due to arrive back any minute. Manuel leaves but is still in sight on the river ice when Cully returns and sees him. Flying into a rage he [illegible] Rosa who is standing beside her wolf now fully grown [illegible]. Cully strikes Rosa and as she falls she screams with all her strength. The wolf attacks Cully slashing [illegible] face ripping [illegible]. Manuel now far out on the river ice [illegible] hears the cry. [illegible] the wolf gets his dog team and [illegible] Rosa. He starts to [illegible].

Now go on with the story

As though for added menace [illegible] heaved and with a loud [illegible] a large crack appeared very close to the spot where Cully crouched over Rosa, his hands slowly pressing the life from her body. Gradually Cully became aware of a stinging pain across his back. He relaxed his grip from his wife's throat in the realization that deed the was done. No longer would Rosa use him as a fool, deceive him and flaunt her unfaithfulness in his face.

The pain lashing his back and shoulders was now too persistent to be ignored and just as he was slowly drawing his wits about him to discover the cause, he was knocked over into the snow.

Manuel had finally reached the scene and had at first hung back, calling to Cully to stop but on seeing that the latter did not even hear him, he had grasped his only weapon, his dog whip, and proceeded to whip Cully in a vain endeavor to draw him away from Rosa. Seeing that it availed him nothing, he had thrown himself upon Cully, but he was weak from both grief and fear. Cully flung Manuel from him and got to his feet. He stood watching as Manuel rocked himself to and fro in an agony of sorrow. Then his lips curled in a sneer of contempt as he saw Manuel crawl to where Rosa lay upon the ice. Gathering her body tenderly in his arms and sobbing aloud, he walked slowly past Cully and prepared to place her in his sleigh.

Cully stood in dawning realization of what he had done. That he had murdered did not bother him, but that he had committed this murder in the presence of a witness was a foolish thing. He had lost his head in the fury of the moment. Silently, his mukluks making no sound on the packed snow of the trail, he stepped to his own sleigh and lifted out his woods-axe. Feeling the sharp edge with his thumb, he crept forward once more.

Manuel, intent on the burden in his arms and the grief in his heart, was aware of nothing. The axe bit into the base of his skull and he fell forward with a little sound like a sigh, red blood quickly staining the snow and ice where he fell. And now there were two who lay so still.

Both dog teams were almost unrestrainedly excited but Cully did not heed their barking and howling. With some difficulty he managed to get Manuel's team turned about and with a crack of the whip sent them back in the direction from which they had come, driverless.

He now had an important task to do. His pain dulled his mind once more calm and collected he was recalling the large rocks with which he had banked his cabin last fall. He must dig beneath the little-remaining snow for a supply of these and use them to weight the bodies. They could then be dropped into the river through the fissure that had so conveniently appeared in the ice near the trail. He could widen this with his axe if necessary. But he must hurry — he was working against time. The ice was unsafe now for travel, even perilous, and he was risking his own life by venturing upon it. Nevertheless, all evidence of his grisly act must be erased and the river was his surest bet. He headed his own dog team rapidly homeward.

The sun was low upon the horizon. Cully stood moodily in the cabin doorway. His mission was accomplished and he mentally congratulated himself as he recalled the finesse with which he had removed all traces of any crime. The rocks had served their purpose well — they would prevent the bodies from drifting ashore and possible discovery. Suddenly Cully started as his remaining eye, bloodshot and swollen, caught sight of a faint movement.

The wolf! How could he have forgotten it? There it sat, still chained to its post, glaring in his direction with baleful greenish eyes. Even as he looked at the animal, its lips curled up in a snarl and Cully's hatred of Rosa and Manuel now transferred itself to this living animal, this creature that had dared try to defend the perfidious Rosa and thus wounded him. Rage once more suffused his mind and he trembled. Retrieving his axe from behind the cabin, he walked slowly towards the animal which now tensed challengingly. But the mania in the man now matched the wildness in the beast — and Cully knew the length of the chain.

His first axe-blow caught the animal across the snout in mid-lunge, stunning it. Cully screamed hoarsely as, lusting for the kill, he rained blow after blow upon the wolf's head and body. Long after the last quiver of life had ceased he continued to vent his fury upon the lifeless body until he stumbled from fatigue. His muscles aching and trembling, his breath whistling and sobbing from his open mouth, he returned to the cabin, fell upon his bunk and slept.

Two days later the actual ice-breakup occurred and only then did Cully feel free to travel into Fort Good Hope to have his injuries attended to and to report the "accidental" deaths of Rosa and Manuel. He went on foot leading his dogs, for he could not leave them alone and untied. It took him four days to reach his destination. He went directly to the R.C.M.P. headquarters where the constable in charge gave him what first-aid treatment he could for his wounds.

"As you know doubt know, the eye is completely gone," the constable told him. "You're lucky infection didn't set in. I've cleaned and cauterized it to the best of my ability but you should go to Aklavik where there is a doctor, if you can make the trip."

Cully never replied, disregarding this advice, and several minutes passed in silence. Then he blurted, "There's another matter. I have two deaths to report — my wife and Manuel Vitalenny."

"Great Scott! What happened, man?" The constable looked shocked and suspicious.

CHEAPER AIR TRAVEL

Changes are coming in air travel, reports The Financial Post. Next April some airliners will be running 'T-34' flights across the North Atlantic. 'T' stands for thrift (much cheaper than tourist). The '34' refers to the distance in inches between seats. (In present tourist air craft it's 38 inches). Another change may be a cut in family fare discounts.

Vermilion's Annual Fair Gets Off To Good Start

Vermilion's big annual fair opened with a bang on Thursday and prospects are for an excellent run for the remainder of the week. The grounds are in fine shape and every single stall on the gronds is filled, there being a magnificent display of some of the finest livestock in all of Western Canada. Competition is keen and it is too early in proceedings to designate championships. More than 125 light horses are drawing attention from large crowds at the rings and the now famous Bryden and Burns Clydesdales are a centre of attraction.

Judges for the various classes are: Heavy Horses — J. G. Stothart, Superintendent of the Lacombe Experimental Station; Light Horses — Ian S. Brown, of Calgary; Beef Cattle — Stan Gould of Rosalind and Walter Melnyk, well known Shorthorn breeder of Chipman; Dairy Classes — J. L. Bailey of Clover Bar; Sheep and Swine — A. J. Charnetski.

Ladies' work judges are Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Usher and Mrs. Ewasiuk of Edmonton. They have had quite a task placing ribbons in the hall exhibits and have been ably assisted by a staff from the V.S.A. Mrs. Bexfield and Mrs. Mohr of Lloydminster placed awards in the school work sections and the showing in these classes, as well as the hall exhibits, is a credit to all concerned.

The midway under the direction of Jas. P. Sullivan is growing bigger and better each year and is attracting plenty of interest on the part of the youngsters and the oldsters as well.

The grandstand attractions provided by the Irving S. Grossman booking office of Des Moines, Iowa, have had an immediate appeal to the people and all are loud in their praise of what is termed "the best show in years". The 'Royalaires', a group of five splendid singers are very popular with the crowds as are all the other acts which will be described in some detail in next week's issue of the Standard.

The fine machinery and other displays are attracting a lot of attention and the fire safety demonstrations staged under the direction of the Alberta Safety Council have proven popular, especially with the farm people.

Vermilion's Fair summer camp has an attendance of 130 young farm folks and they are having a grand time at the V.S.A. It is a rightful claim for us to be able to say that Vermilion Fair operates the largest such camp in all of Canada and we are fortunate indeed to have the splendid facilities of the College and the wholehearted co-operation of the provincial Department of Agriculture and the school staff. On Saturday the prizes donated by Line Elevators Farm Service will be distributed to the winners and watches given by the T. Eaton Co. will be awarded the boy and girl standing highest in the tests given the boys and girls. The Alberta Wheat Pool has kindly made it possible for the youngsters to have a banquet and the thanks of the entire Fair board as well as those attending the camp go to all who have so generously contributed.

The 1957 fair will go down as an entirely successful event and already plans are underway to make next year's fair even more outstanding.

Major General Chris Vokes, Officer Commanding the Western Army Divisions was loud in his praise of the accomplishments of the Vermilion Agricultural Society over a period of more than 50 years and stressed the fine spirit which exists between the Society and the whole Vermilion district.

Air Cadets Leave For Summer Camp

Agriculturist From Montana Speaker At Vermilion Rotary

Bill Thomas of Missoula, Montana was guest speaker at last Friday's meeting of the Rotary Club.

Mr. Thomas is county agent in Ravalli County of Montana. In Alberta we call them District Agriculturist.

Newcombe Bentley in introducing Mr. Thomas said that he was here in Vermilion as coach of four 4-H [illegible] boys and girls from the State of Montana who are attending the animal club week at the Vermilion School of Agriculture.

In his address Mr. Thomas stated that low farm income is the greatest problem in his district. Another serious community problem is in finding a profitable market for the products raised on the farms. In these respects we are not much different here in Alberta.

The chairman of the meeting Gil Rampling thanked the speaker for his very excellent address.

Ross Brake introduced Dr. Evans as his guest. The only visiting Rotarian was Ed Clarke of Lloydminster.

The birthday carnations were presented by Ross Brake to Aldous Kent (age 29) and to Gil Rampling.

The pipe band of "A" Coy The Loyal Edmonton Regt. really put on a good concert at the lake on Sunday. There was a big crowd who came in many cases long distances. There was a very excellent collection received from an appreciative audience.

The Rotary Club arranges these Sunday band concerts at the lake. The club is very grateful to Capt. Bill Beales, Officer Commanding "A" Coy and to Sgt. Major Bob Allen for the appearance of the pipe band at Vermilion Park.

The next band concert will be held on Sunday, August 11th. The club of Edmonton will bring down a band and a patrol to put on the famous Shriner's precision drill. The Rotary Club urges that everyone try to come out to see and hear the Shriners put on a show.

Handicrafts Display Is Feature Of Programme At The V. S. A.

The general public are invited to attend the display and demonstration of handicrafts at the School of Agriculture next Monday evening, July 29th.

Arrangements for the display are being made in connection with Farm Women's Week which opens on Monday afternoon and carries through to Thursday evening, August 1st.

The current interest in Handicrafts as indicated by the number of clubs and guilds organized at numerous points throughout Alberta including Vermilion is producing a wealth of interesting and creditably artistic articles in a wide variety of crafts.

Contributions to the display at the School of Agriculture are expected from groups in several neighboring towns as well as from the Cultural Activities Branch in Edmonton. Of special interest will be an exhibit of drawings and paintings by Mr. Lindsay Evans and his art class at Lloydminster. Several local ladies will demonstrate and explain techniques involved in the crafts with which they have been working this past season.

Pipe Band Better Than Ever Sunday

The "A" Coy. Loyal Edmonton Regiment pipe band was better than ever when it gave the concert at the band shell in the park on Sunday. The numbers on the program were skillfully handled and the applause testified to the appreciation of the large crowd present.

The bandsmen, thirteen in number, along with Bob Allen as M.C., gave a very good account of themselves. The program was arranged by Rotary. The collection amounted to $57.00.

Vermilion's First Auto Club Is Organized – Better Driving Is Aim

(By Gerry Marshall)

On Monday evening a group of young men from Vermilion formed north eastern Alberta's, possibly Alberta's first auto club, the "Road Knights". The club was formed with a mutual belief that improvement of driving is a must in this age of fast and powerful cars and crowded, narrow highways. To achieve a limited amount of improvement the club has set-up a driving grounds at the airport.

The course to date consists of the Serpentine, the parallel park, the emergency stop and the tenth mile drag. The first two tests have been seen at the Vermilion Rotary Roadeo, except that the club does them against the stop clock, and the last two are productions of the "Knights".

Stopping in the shortest possible distance without use of brakes is of course the emergency stop and starting without spinning your wheels, proceeding through the tenth mile stage and stopping without skidding completes the drag race. Again this is done against the stop clock.

An executive was elected at the meeting and after the ballots were counted the Knights of the Head Table were: President, two time Roadeo Champion, Earl Pollard; Vice-Pres. Gordon Allen; Sec-Treas. Philip Capatos; Grds. Manager Wayne Edwards; Social Convener Clayton Harrower and Publicity Manager Gerry Marshall.

It was decided that anyone with a drivers license would be eligible to join. To be convicted of a driving charge is 'taboo' and after receiving a black mark on your license the member will be asked to leave the club, unless the Road Knights' court finds him worthy of another chance.

With encouragement and time this club can become a credit to traffic safety and a real asset in improving driving habits of this community. So remember the Road Knights motto: 'Let's Improve Our Driving'.

Annual Open Golf Tournament Of Vermilion Golf Club Aug. 4-5

The attention of all golfers in the area served by the Standard is drawn to the fact that Vermilion Golf Club's annual tournament is just around the corner.

The Civic holiday week end will see a record number of golfers spread out on Vermilion's beautiful golf course. With an entry list of just short of one hundred last year it is expected that well over that mark will take part this year.

Vermilion Golf course has a well established record of being the sportiest and best laid out nine-hole course in northern Alberta and the continued rise in popularity of the annual two-day event is good proof of this fact.

Berrypicker Is Attacked By An Unknown, Unseen Assailant

Everyone supposed that the days when people were attacked by wild animals in this civilized area of the country were long since over. Such is not the case however and anyone not believing this to be so should ask Stan Waldenberger. Stan had walked down into the woods in the river valley not far from his home on Wednesday evening to pick a few raspberries. He was going about the business of picking [illegible] from a patch where the grass and undergrowth was particularly thick, when suddenly there was a swish, he was bumped just about the knees from behind, felt something pierce his leg, then another swish and the attacker was off through the dense undergrowth without Stan even getting a glimpse of his assailant.

Stan thought for a moment that he was just dreaming then rolled up his pant leg and sure enough on each side of his knee were claw marks. A cat, reverting to the wild was the only solution [illegible] so better watch that pussy cat curled up on the chesterfield [illegible] he might be nursing a grievance against you — and he has wild ancestors.

He will address the [illegible] club and confer with President Tom McPherson, Secretary Jim Robson and committee [illegible] on Rotary administration and service activities.

Mr. Balfour is Managing Director of Radio Station CFGP in Grande Prairie and is a member and Past President of the Rotary Club of Grande Prairie. He was elected as a District Governor of Rotary International for the 1957-58 fiscal year at Rotary's 48th Annual Convention in Lucerne, Switzerland, last May. He is one of the 249 District Governors supervising the activities of more than 9,500 Rotary Clubs which have a membership of 446,000 business and professional executives in 102 countries throughout the free world.

Wherever Rotary Clubs are located Governor Balfour asserted in discussing his visit, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club of Vermilion because they are based on the same general objectives — developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the peoples of the world.

To Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Members of the Morrison Community Association held their annual meeting at the Morrison school on July 18th. Lawrence Gould was re-elected president, and Jim Miller was re-elected as secretary.

One of the topics of discussion was the holding of an anniversary dance to mark the 50th anniversary of the building and opening of Morrison school in 1907.

A special invitation is being extended to all ex-students and teachers of the Morrison school. The school's first teacher, Mrs. Ernie Moore is living in Edmonton and a number of the first students to attend are still resident in the district.

The Morrison school operated continuously from 1907 until it was closed in the 1940's following the trend to centralization.

It has since been used as a hall by the people of the community.

ATTEND THE FAIR -

Vermilion and district's 52nd annual fair is now in full swing. The program arranged is an outstanding one and has so many and so varied attractions that everyone is bound to be pleased whatever their tastes in entertainment may be. Mixed in with the fair is a very large quantity of education in the exhibits and commercial displays. The fair is the big event of the year for this area — in it go many months of planning by the manager and directors, weeks of work in actual preparation of grounds, buildings and all the hundred and one necessary jobs. Attend the fair yourself — take the whole family — it's a farmers' project — and the help of everyone is needed to put it over in the manner which it so justly deserves. Great objectives are achieved by town and district wide co-operation.

Advice to summer motorists — 'Slow Down and Live!' Traffic is Canada's third worst killer, surpassed only by heart disease and cancer.

Exhibiting At The Fair?

At local fairs a clean, well-pressed handicraft article draws admiring glances from the public and judges are no exception. Still many articles are entered improperly pressed or have stains or smudges on them, observed Miss Helen Mossman, Clothing Specialist with the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

By carefully washing, blocking and pressing woolens additional points can be easily made, she says. A light touch administered to woolens during pressing will prevent a squashed effect or flattening of the weave. Quite a bit of work is often needed to finish an embroidered article and consequently handling may have soiled it. In that case all it needs is careful laundering and a neat press job from the reverse side which makes the design stand out better.

Practical, neat and clean handicrafts are worth entering. They make attractive exhibits of which the owner can feel justly proud.

SAFETY MAKES SENSE

Safety becomes second nature to farm children when parents constantly set the example. It pays to think and practise safety at all times.

Stiff Upper Lip

(Manchester Guardian)

A striking lesson in keeping the upper lip stiff is given in a recent number of the weekly bulletin of the Federation of Civil Engineering Contractors, which prints the following letter from a bricklayer in Barbados to the firm for which he worked. Respected Sir

When I got to the building I found that the hurricane had knocked some bricks off the top. So I rigged up a beam with a pulley at the top of the building and hoisted up a couple of barrels full of bricks. When I had fixed the building there was a lot of bricks left over. I hoisted the barrel back again and secured the line at the bottom and then went up and filled the barrel with extra bricks.

Then I went to the bottom and cast off the line. Unfortunately, the barrel of bricks was heavier than I was, and before I knew what was happening the barrel started down jerking me off the ground. I decided to hang on and halfway up I met the barrel coming down and received a severe blow on the shoulder. I then continued to the top, banging my head against the beam and getting my fingers jammed in the pulley. When the barrel hit the ground it bursted its bottom, allowing all the bricks to spill out.

I was now heavier than the barrel and so started down again at high speed. Half-way down, I met the barrel coming up and received severe injuries to my shins. When I hit the ground I landed on the bricks, getting several painful cuts from the sharp edges.

At this point I must have lost my presence of mind, because I let go the line. The barrel then came down giving me another heavy blow on the head and putting me in hospital. I respectfully request sick leave.

Still More Crowded Universities

If we think our colleges are crowded now, just wait a few years.

Demands for university facilities in the next ten years, reports The Financial Post, will be much greater than the worst fears of educators had pictured them.

This was a major conclusion, it says, to emerge from the Conference of Learned Societies meeting in Ottawa this month.

More Tourists

Many more tourists are likely to visit Canada this summer, reports The Financial Post. Maybe it's due to the $500,000 boost in tourist advertising in the U.S. by the Federal government. Enquiries at the Canadian Government Travel Bureau from would-be tourists are nearly a third up on last year's 5,000 a day.

Board Considers Traffic Problem On The Hospital Grounds

The regular monthly meeting of the Vermilion Municipal Hospital Board was held in the hospital on July 13th at 2 p.m. with Chairman B. A. Macnab, Vice-Chairman P. J. Noster, F. Scott, E. Welsh, Chas. Stewart, Jas. Wallington and the Secretary present.

Minutes of the preceding meeting and financial statement were adopted as read.

A solenoid control was ordered for the gas operated tumbler dryer in the laundry. A portable electric autoclave was ordered for standby and emergency use. A wall cleaning machine, left on approval, was purchased.

The Board considered the traffic problem created by traffic taking the short cut to the park through hospital property, and by others using hospital grounds for joy-riding, parking and picnicking. Suggestions involving signs and rearrangement of entrance roadways to the hospital are to be investigated. The co-operation of the town and M.D. No. 71 is being sought in completing the rearrangement.

Matron's report was as follows: In-patients admitted 148, out-patients 50; births 16; operations major 1, minor 39; X-rays 108; miniature chest X-rays 85; hospital days 834.

Salaries and accounts were ordered paid as approved.

Next meeting to be held Aug. 10th in the hospital.

Many Interesting Features Involved

Canadian Women Go Back To Work At Fastest Rate In History

The number of Canadian women who go to work has increased over the past three years at the fastest rate in history — except possibly during World War II — and it is the married women not the single girls who are chiefly responsible for the change.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce in a survey of the role of women in Canada's current labor force contained in its current Commercial Letter, says that of these working women, more than 40 per cent were married.

Of a total labor force of 5,741,000 in Canada at the end of the year, 1,380,000 or 24 per cent were women.

The rapid increase in the number of married women who work outside the home, the Letter states, "has been proportionately far greater than the increase in the total female labor force, and illustrates the tendency apparent in the recent years for older married women to go back to work."

Smaller more easily-managed housing units and the greater number of jobs available in Canada's rapidly growing cities are cited as major factors in the increase in the number of working housewives.

"The last 50 or 60 years have been years of almost revolutionary changes in the status of women, especially the part they play in the labor force. Their share in Canada's economic life has risen to the point where serious dislocation of the entire pattern of industry, income and production would occur if the direction of change should be reversed."

By occupation the two most notable changes in women's employment over the past half-century have been the decrease in the number of domestic servants, and the increase in clerical workers the Letter notes.

More women are also working in commercial categories including such occupations as advertising agents, saleswomen, bill collectors and window dressers. Women represented some 16 per cent of this group in 1931 and 39 per cent by 1951.

The range of occupations open to women has widened steadily in the last 30 years.

In the 1931 census, 1.8 per cent of real estate agents were women; by 1951, over 6 per cent were women. Less than one per cent of the authors, editors and journalists in 1911 were women. In 1931 the proportion was 15 per cent and in 1951 it was 22 per cent.

Women college professors and principals rose from one per cent in 1911 to 13 per cent in 1951. Women physicians and surgeons numbered 2.7 per cent in 1911, but represented 4.9 per cent by 1951. Close to 40 per cent of today's laboratory technicians are women.

Today there are women lawyers, accountants, architects, dentists, veterinarians, chemists and metallurgists, although the bank Letter notes, "the actual proportion of women in these professions still remains very small."

The Letter also indicates that women have not yet got very far in bringing their pay cheques in line with the men's.

In October of 1955, the last date at which figures were available, the average weekly earnings of women wage earners in Canada were 56 per cent of the wages earned by men; hourly earnings however, were at the rate of 61 per cent. Women salaried employees earned 51 per cent of the average earned by men.

Regionally, women were comparatively worse off in Newfoundland, where in 1953 their average earnings were 33 per cent of the average earned by men. The proportion, at 64 per cent, was highest in Saskatchewan.

Noting that there are still many restrictions for women in both occupation and promotion, the Letter predicts that "acceptance of the part now taken by women in the labor force may lead to increased opportunity" in both categories.

The outlook is not hopeful as regards equal pay. "On the whole" the Letter concludes, "no substantial overall improvement relative to men seems likely in the average income of working women in the foreseeable future."

A total of 2,304 births were attended by Canadian Red Cross nurses at Outpost Hospitals and Nursing stations in 1956.

A Lot of Wheat

Ignore official figures on visible wheat supplies, advises The Financial Post. These don't include wheat now on the farm. Unofficial estimates suggest total carryover is [illegible] 700 million bu., equivalent of more than two years normal exports. Main farm headache for the government will be trying to get cash to farmers who can't get Wheat Board payments until there is space in commercial elevators.

Brighter Housing

Take a second look at the garish automobile colors. They may soon be decorating the outside walls of houses, says The Financial Post. One U. Ruberoid's bets for tomorrow's houses include turquoise, myrtle green and harvest yellow.

YOU CAN BE RICH

Within the past two weeks I have met four very rich persons — rich in the joy they get from life, and also in hard, cold cash. All began life in very ordinary circumstances so I was sure there must be a common reason for what they have made of themselves. There is.

Each one is generous — almost to a fault. Each is big in heart and unafraid. Each has a twinkling sense of fun tempered with gentleness. Each has been fooled more than once by a sob-story and has risked big sums of money in a manner we more cautious souls would look on as sheer gullibility.

I mentioned this to one of these men, and he said, with a grin, "If I'd been really smart or clever or cautious I would never have gotten in to the business which made most of my money for me." He also told me that some of the best investments he ever made were made just to help some lad who seemed to have a good idea and the ambition to make it work.

I compared these men with some others who have been only moderately successful. I am convinced that they, too, could have been rich if they had been less small in spirit, more ready to give the other fellow a break, more trusting, more generous.

In fact — though this may be heresy — I grow more convinced each day that if a fellow is truly good at heart and fond of his fellow man and free of hatreds and small suspicions he will find it difficult not to make pretty big money. Or failing that an army of friends that will bring him satisfactions of equal worth.

At any rate there is a challenge for you. Cast out envy and malice and pettiness and cultivate an open heart, a sense of gentleness, a willingness to give more than you receive. If these men are right, you will begin to feel a glow of genuine happiness and self-confidence, and many a tide will turn your way. In your home life and in the world of business, frictions will gradually disappear and the stream of your life will flow much more [illegible]. Men in [illegible] cut down [illegible] things. Isn't it worth a try? What can you possibly lose?

OBITUARY

WILLIAM MOSTYN STEELE

Funeral services for the late William Mostyn Steele who died on Sunday, July 14th, were held at the First United Church, Vermilion, on Wednesday, July 17th at 2 00 o'clock in the afternoon. Interment followed in the Vermilion cemetery. The Rev. A. Dawe officiated. The organist was Wm. B. Elford and two favorite hymns of the deceased, "Unto the Hills Around" and "Rock of Ages", were sung during the service.

Pallbearers were Messrs. E. [illegible] Hart, J. C. Tucker, M. Barr, M. Hill, E. M. Stewart and S. C. Heckbert.

Born in Almonte, Ont., on Aug. 19th, 1867, Mr. Steele would have reached the advanced age of 90 years next month. He came to the Vermilion district with the very earliest of the settlers in 1903, and had resided on his farm at Claysmore and in Vermilion since that time. He retired from active farming in 1945, moving into town that year.

Besides making a success of his farming operations, he took an active part in community activities and served on the municipal council for 24 years. He was also president of the Vermilion Agricultural Society for ten years with many more years of service as a director. He was prominent in the Old Timers' Association.

Mr. Steele was twice married and leaves to mourn a daughter by his first marriage, Mrs. Kathleen Chappell of Edmonton; his wife, three step-daughters Mrs. Ruth Steele, Mrs. Edna Barr, Mrs. Doris Cairns, and one step-son, Edwin Daley. There are two grandchildren.

The very large attendance at the funeral services was a silent tribute to the life which the late Mr Steele had lived, and to the affection and esteem in which he and his family are held.

McDonell Family Hold Reunion

MANNVILLE. — Not even the elements, wind and rain, daunted the spirits of the McDonell Clan, when the seven sisters and brothers with their children and grand-children gathered at the old farm home Lot 24, Con. 7, Twp of Oso, Ontario for a reunion on Sunday, June 30. Those who were close enough, attended morning service at Zealand Anglican church. When all were gathered for lunch the count was 67, with five unable to attend.

From Mannville Alberta, Mrs. A. M. Rutherford, with her daughter, son-in-law and granddaughter (Mr. and Mrs. Jim Johnstone and Doris) came the longer distance. Mr and Mrs. Byrns McDonell and Johnny from Pickle Crow, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Joe McDonell, Mr and Mrs. Jack Crawford and boys, Toronto, Mr and Mrs. Wilf Sneddon and boys from Almonte, Mr. and Mrs. H. McDonell of Clarendon and Mr and Mrs. John McDonell of Maberly with their children and grandchildren who came from Toronto, Oshawa, Kingston, Sydenham and other surrounding districts.

Music was one feature of the day, and as Wilf Sneddon had brought along a tape recorder, there was merriment when the different members of the group sang and played and then had the recording played back. Guitars, saxophones, violins and mouth organs were all heard. The afternoon was fair enough for the children to play outside and games were organized by Mrs. Harry McDonell. The afternoon was spent by the older members in talking over old times and looking over pictures. Mrs. Rutherford was home in 1936 but this was the first time the family have all been together since the death of their mother in 1925.

Higher Car Insurance

Car owners can count on paying higher, in some cases substantially higher, insurance premiums says [illegible] Robertson in The Financial Post.

Rate hikes will hit drivers when they buy new auto policies or renew existing ones. An exceptional mid-year increase is now underway.

It's spreading from one province to another through the network of insurance company associations.

And chances are that today's increases are just a preliminary to another round of boosts within six months.

Causing the increases are rapidly rising repair costs coupled with a growing accident rate.

It's a trend that has been increasingly evident for the past 18 months and one that shows no signs of changing, say insurance spokesmen.

Some of the holidayers are returning to home and to work — Miss Ann Snaychuk is back after a trip by boat up the west coast to Alaska where she viewed the scenes of 'Gold Rush' days, and rode on the narrow gauge railway and says it was a wonderful trip. Mr and Mrs. John Maxwell and Mrs Gerry Willmer and children are home from their travels to the coast and into the States; Mr and Mrs. T.E. McPherson and the family have returned from Vancouver camping en route being hugely enjoyed.

Guests at the home of Mrs. Melvin Hill on Tuesday were Mr and Mrs. Clifford Donnelly of Toronto. Clifford is teaching piano in the Ontario Capital. Mrs. Donnelly will be well remembered here also, being the former Mabel Gould.

A picnic in the Vermilion park was enjoyed on Sunday, July 21 by relatives honoring Mr. and Mrs George Brown who arrived in Vermilion July 12th from Saanichton, B.C. They are well known in the King Edward district having farmed there for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Bauer, Karen and Leslie of the Claysmore district, spent a week holidaying at Jasper recently.

Mr and Mrs. Gerry Brass of Edmonton were recent week end visitors at the home of the former's parents, Mr and Mrs. Sid Brass. They also attended the Hodgson-Dickson wedding at Innisfree. Gerry and his wife were on their return trip from holidaying in the Dakota's where they visited Mrs. Brass' parents.

Miss Alice Keith attended the Calgary stampede and was much impressed by the real show staged in the southern city.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

by
W. O. MALAHER,
Director,
Research Department,
[illegible]

Because of bountiful crops in recent years, farmers generally have been largely free from concern with respect to feed supplies for an expanded livestock population which has become about partly because of restricted grain marketings and the desire to find an outlet for coarse grains. This year however with hay and pasture crops adversely affected by drouth in some areas of both Saskatchewan and Alberta and with some districts showing yields of not more than half a ton of hay per acre, fears are already being expressed that there may be local shortages of feed.

To what extent the livestock industry may be affected it is hard to say, but the situation does point up very clearly how vulnerable this important phase of farming in Western Canada can become when less than average hay and other feed crops are harvested and when reserves become low.

In the past, grain that could not be marketed in the crop year in which it was grown has shown some tendency to disappear, in one way or another. In face of the situation described above there may be even more of a disappearance this coming season. If this does happen, some of the present fairly large carry-overs may assume less burdensome proportions, particularly in the face of possible lower coarse grain yields in northern districts, where much of the coarse grain acreage is sown.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cocks and three boys of Kamloops spent the past week in Vermilion visiting at the home of Mrs Cocks' parents, Mr and Mrs. Wes Waldenberger and other relatives here. The trip from Kamloops was made over the Yellowhead Pass route which saves some 400 miles over other routes, although the going at present is a bit primitive in spots.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Currie and family have just returned from a motor trip to Vancouver to visit relatives there. They made the journey to the coast over the Big Bend highway and the return was by the Cascades.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Bell of Spirit River in the Peace River country are spending a few days in Vermilion and will then holiday with Mr. and Mrs. John Webb and family at Loon Lake, Sask.

Visitors at the home of Tommy and Ethel Thompson for the past two weeks have been their daughter Florence and husband, Mr and Mrs. Joe Vert of Three Hills; Minnie and Fred Hildebrand of Escondido, Calif.; Laura and Roland Vesey and two children Donnie and Janice also from California. The Hildebrand and Vesey families formerly lived in Vermilion, leaving here about twelve years ago.

Mr and Mrs. Ted Herbert and family and Mr. and Mrs. E. D Coulburn and family left the first of the week on a holiday trip to Penticton, B.C.

Mr and Mrs. R. S. Cooper and Mr and Mrs Don Hanning left Sunday for Dawson Creek to spend a few days holidaying and visiting with Don's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Hanning.

Reg Spencer of Barrhead is spending a week here on holidays, a guest at the home of his mother and of his sister and husband, Mr and Mrs Tom Watts.

Fred Stewart and Frank Welsh who are attending the University summer school sessions spent the week end at their homes in town.

Rev. and Mrs. K. A. Minchin and two sons are holidaying for a month at High River visiting with the Rev. and Mrs. Burton.

Mr and Mrs. Freeman French and son Dwight recently spent a week visiting Mrs. French's mother Mrs. Huffman at Kelowna, B.C. They also stopped at Cranbrook to visit an uncle residing there.

Mr and Mrs. Jim Thompson, daughter Pat and son Ken are holidaying at Nanaimo, B.C., where they are visiting the former's uncle J. K. Thompson and other relatives. While they are away Mr and Mrs. Bill Fooks and Lynn are living out on the farm.

Miss Betty Bentley completed her work in Edmonton this week and will be home until the date of her wedding on Aug. 24th.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs Carl Johnson were their nieces Marlene Hardstaff of Lloydminster and Norma Hardstaff of Streamstown. Other guests at the Johnson home were Mr and Mrs. A. J Amman of South Gate, Calif. Mrs. Amman and Mrs. Johnson are old school pals of 1908 back in the little rural school of Stretton near Marwayne. This was only the second visit of Mrs. Amman to old home scenes since she moved away in 1918. The first return trip was eleven years ago.

Dick and Lynn Upshall are holidaying in Regina this week with their grandmother making the trip with them. The journey from Lloydminster was made by plane greatly to the delight of Dick and Lynn.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Adams and two children returned last week end from a holiday trip to Jasper and Banff with visits to relatives in Hinton, Rocky Mountain House and Calgary.

Mr and Mrs. J. C. Adam and family of Edmonton were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. West.

Don Taylor and daughter Dianne returned on Sunday from a trip to Naramata, B.C., where they visited Mr and Mrs. Miles Dixon.

Mrs. Blanche Henry and son Donald of Vancouver are visiting the former's mother Mrs. Snelgrove and other members of the family here for two weeks. The journey from the coast was made by TCA.

Visitors at the home of Mrs. Percy Long are daughter Mrs. Morgan and the two boys from Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hobbis have the latter's brother visiting with them from Toronto, Mr Sam Lee, who plans to stop with them for a few days. The trip was made via TCA to Edmonton, and bus to Vermilion. Mr. Lee plans on stopping over at Saskatoon and other points on his way home. While here he also called on old 50th Battalion associate Tom Watts, and talked over interesting experiences of 1918. Both were in the same Company "D". It was at Mont Houy, Valenciennes that Mr. Lee was wounded, and Tom Watts administered first aid in his official capacity as stretcher-bearer. This was the battle where the Canadians took over from the world-famous 51st Division the "Argyles and Sutherlands" and with the help of an intensified barrage from artillery, wiped out and eliminated the opposition. This attack liberated Valenciennes and hastened the Armistice of the first world war.

Reg, Mary and Joanne Mitchell plan to leave Aug. 1 with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kneale, Averill and Miles, and Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes of London, England, for a camping trip to the coast and return. Places expected to be visited are Jasper, Banff, Nelson, Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle. The return journey will be via Spokane, Coeur D'Alene, over the Logan Pass in Glacier Park to Waterton. They will be away for three weeks.

Ian B. Farquharson returned to Vermilion last week end after holidaying in Vancouver.

Mrs. Fred Stewart and the two girls Elizabeth and Patricia who have been holidaying at Seba Beach returned to Vermilion last week end.

WILDMERE WINKS

We will start with some news we had to leave out last week when the mail man came too quickly.

Mr and Mrs. Carl Heite of Wetaskiwin visited Mr. and Mrs. A. Heite of Wildmere. Carl and Albert are brothers. They also visited a son Don who works at Wainwright. They attended church on Sunday at Wildmere.

Mr and Mrs. Frank Gibson and family of Basswood travelled to Elk Island Park on Sunday July 14th to picnic with Mrs. Gibson's brother Dan Ford who had been visiting at the Gibsons returned home with his parents.

Mr and Mrs. Berton Seale and family of Battleview returned home on July 14th from a very pleasant holiday. They travelled to the Mexican border but did not cross as they were told the Mexicans don't care too much for Canadians, so it did not sound very enticing to them.

The July meeting of the W.W.I. was held along with the Vermilion and other W.I. groups from around Vermilion at the Park where a pleasant afternoon was enjoyed. Each W. I. held their own meeting in little groups. Afterwards a joint lunch was enjoyed together. Some of the mothers had to go with their children to the swimming lessons just at lunch time, but they had their lunch later. It really is a good place to picnic and the kiddies have such a wonderful time in the water and playing on the different amusements for them. Thanks, Vermilion W. I. for inviting the Wildmere group to meet with you. We did enjoy it very much.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Nichols of Triangle district on the birth of a daughter July 8.

On Tuesday, July 16 the writer enjoyed a very pleasant and happy birthday when some ladies called and sang "Happy Birthday" and had tea. Later the writer enjoyed attending the show in town. We want to thank everyone for all the lovely cards received.

On Sunday evening the children who attended Church Vacation school held at the Basswood community hall all last week—under the capable direction of Mr. Breighaupt—took the church service at Wildmere. It was well organized and the children did very well. Each one knew just what to do and did it well. All spoke out very plainly. Rev. Mr. Dawe attended and had the children carry on a sing-song, he accompanying them with his guitar. Mr. Breighaupt and his helpers, Clara Green, Maureen Cruthers, Mary Gibson, Betty Smith, Rose Sweeney, Diane Smith and Jean Dibben are to be congratulated on their splendid work. After the service everyone had a look at the work they had done all week. As the theme this year was "The Church", a small model of a church made by Clara Green was placed at the front of the church. Very nicely done, Clara. Some lovely flowers in the church on Sunday too.

On Wednesday last Mr and Mrs. D Dibben had a trying time when their little son took very ill. They rushed him to the Vermilion hospital. We are very pleased to say he is now better and out of hospital.

We wish to congratulate Mr. and Mrs Dibben on the birth of a baby daughter on July 18th. We all hope everyone will be well from now on.

Sunday, July 28th Rev. Dawe will hold church service in the Wildmere United church. Plan to attend, folks.

Saturday last the writer enjoyed a chat over a cup of coffee with Mrs Mayers and Mrs Armstrong. In the evening we visited with Mrs. Cruthers, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Seuffert and Mrs. R. Smith in the Rio cafe.

Remember. This is Farm Safety Week. Don't forget to attend the Vermilion Fair.

Mr and Mrs Harry Phillips who were Wildmere residents at one time but now of Worsley, Alberta, visited a brief spell with relatives Mr and Mrs. C Cruthers and Mr and Mrs. A Smith. They went to Holden to attend their son Otis' wedding on July 20th and returned to Wildmere on Monday this week. Accompanying them are three of their daughter, Eunice, Opal and Myrtle. Mr. and Mrs Phillips have eleven children living and they lost one boy several years ago.

Mr and Mrs Lloyd Howard and family and Mr and Mrs H Coburn returned home from the coast on Tuesday. Mrs. Coburn Sr returned with them and is staying with her daughter Mrs [illegible]

We saw a replica of the Mayflower sailing on the Bill Gilman slough on Saturday when we went to town. Were you the captain, Ronnie?

Wonder who it was that didn't know the car they came in at the last W. A. meeting eh? And folks we only had coffee to drink!

Jim Wallington spent from Wednesday till Friday last week visiting his sister Ruth and family at Stony Plain and his brother Tom at Tofield.

Wax Decorative Fruits

Trays and bowls of summer fruits and vegetables make decorative arrangements for summer cottages instead of flowers and will last much longer. The vegetables such as squash, eggplant and cucumbers and fruits like apples, pears and pomegranates, will be much prettier if given a coat of self polishing wax. They also will last longer.

CLEAN FLOOR FIRST

When using a self-polishing wax such as Stride be sure that the floor is thoroughly clean and that there is no residue of soap before applying the wax. Use hot water and a mild soap or detergent, then rinse floor thoroughly with clean hot water.

ON MEMORIZING POETRY

Sunday I like to take grandma and the kids for a car ride and this last Sunday grandma got me started on a wonderful new hobby.

Something in the country scene made her remember a verse from an old Grade 4 text book and she recited it verse for verse, all the way through. When she'd completed her recitation, I began. "I read the phrase or heard it said, the stalwart phrase with meaning rife" and I found myself able to recite the entire poem by Ella Wheeler Wilcox although I'm sure I haven't seen it since I was a lad.

We batted it back and forth, lines of poetry and remembered prose, as we drove through the Manitoba landscape. We enjoyed it, and so did the youngsters.

At home that evening we started again. We both have pretty good memories, and we spun out quite a few ancient poems.

My son Bill said "Gee, we get enough memorizing at school. What's the use of learning all that stuff by heart when you can read it any time you like?"

Grandma and I both had a go at explaining why it is worth while to learn a lot of poetry and prose by rote. We both admitted that we fought against it while at school but that we're both glad now that teachers in those days persisted in grinding this stuff into us.

"Oh, yeah?" said Bill with the sharpness of youth. "How many poems have you memorized since you left school?"

[illegible]

[illegible]

Grandma was interested in my effort and now she's busy putting a few more items in her jewel box of memory.

Maybe you ought to try it, too. Might start a new hobby around your home, a better hobby I'm inclined to think, than staring at TV every night.

In recent years investment in new plants and equipment in the Canadian Manufacturing industry has averaged nearly three quarters of a billion dollars annually. Quick Canadian Facts

You will find it easy to keep your youngster's saddle shoes looking clean and neat if you use a cleanup wax (Jubilee) for both the white and the brown leather. It may also be used for black patent leather or plastic shoes and articles.

To Remove Heel Marks

Rubber heel marks can be removed from a floor that has been finished with a self-polishing wax such as Stride by dipping a clean cloth in the wax and rubbing the spot gently. Blend the wax over the cleaned area and then buff lightly.

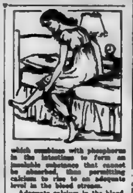
Calcium For The Unborn

Leg cramps in pregnancy are so common that they have been regarded as an affliction to be borne with as little complaint as possible, and a small price to pay for the joy and privilege of bearing a child.

Recent discoveries have established that this is not at all the case. Leg cramps of pregnancy, it is now known, are symptoms of a calcium deficiency.

Futhermore, the calcium deficiency that produces leg cramp can be corrected readily by medication, relieving the expectant mother of the painful seizures and, at the same time, improving the health of the unborn infant.



The newly developed medical treatment consists of daily consumption of tablets known as Calcinalin, which raise the calcium level in the mother's blood and thereby improve the calcium supply for the unborn infant. The tablets contain calcium in a combination quite different from that in which it normally occurs in protein foods, such as milk, eggs, meat, dried peas, beans, and others.

In such foods, calcium is combined with phosphorous. In most of them, the proportion of phosphorus greatly exceeds that of calcium. Moreover, phosphorus competes with calcium for absorption into the blood stream. No matter how well-balanced a woman's diet may be, she may be calcium-deficient if her blood is too high in phosphorus.

To correct this situation, Calcinalin tablets contain a second mineral, aluminum hydroxide, which combines with phosphorus in the intestines to form an insoluble substance that cannot be absorbed, thus permitting calcium to rise to an adequate level in the blood stream.

Adequate calcium in the blood, in turn, frees the expectant mother from the painful symptom of leg cramps, and helps her to give birth to a normal baby without having her own body depleted of calcium.

Wax Your Paintings

Cherished oil paintings in your home can be protected from soot and dust by a simple precautionary measure. A thin application of paste wax over the painted surface suggests Johnson's Consumer Service, will keep an oil painting bright and easy to dust without damage to the art work. And while you're at it, don't forget to give the picture frame a waxing. It will take on new life, too.

TO BRIGHTEN TILE

You will find it easy to keep the ceramic tile in your kitchen brightly clean with a clean-up wax (Jubilee) which has detergents blended with the wax.

YOUR AGRICULTURAL REPRESENTATIVE

Canada's most useful citizen! The farmer's best "hired hand"! Even these statements do not emphasize sufficiently the important position the Agricultural Representative or District Agriculturist holds in the life of the rural communities of Western Canada. Today, more than 180 of these front-line agricultural specialists are serving and helping the farm people of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Who Are These Men? Most Agricultural Representatives are country-born and raised, and all of them are University men — graduates of Colleges of Agriculture. They are men dedicated to agriculture and devoted to helping farm people. The Agricultural Representative did not enter his profession because it pays high salaries. No, he entered this strenuous and demanding occupation because he loves agriculture and derives satisfaction from being able to share his practical and technical knowledge with farm people.

What Do They Do? Agricultural Representatives are employed by Provincial Departments of Agriculture to assist farmers to deal more effectively with their never-ending problems. On their shoulders falls the responsibility of carrying out most of the regulatory, advisory and organizational activities associated with provincial farm improvement programs. Above all, they have the responsibility of seeing to it that the findings of research as well as new and improved agricultural methods are made available to farmers in a practical and useful form.

A Salute. Farmers in every district of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta owe special gratitude to their Agricultural Representative for the unlimited time and energy he devotes in helping to make their rural community a better place in which to live. It is therefore a great privilege for this Department, and its sponsoring Line Elevator Companies, to salute our Agricultural Representatives. We value very highly the opportunity of working through and with them in serving the farm people of Western Canada.

Farm Fires Take Heavy Toll Of Young Children's Lives

Unless prompt and effective measures are taken Alberta will have another black year, possibly its worst, for farm fire deaths, according to the Alberta Safety Council

This fact is being stressed in view of the second annual Farm Safety Campaign, proclaimed by the provincial government to be in effect from Sunday, July 21, to Saturday July 27.

In the six months from Jan 1st to June 30 unofficial reports show a total of 11 farm fire deaths in Alberta compared with fourteen for the whole of last year

In 1956, Alberta had a total of 35 deaths in rural and urban fires as against 21 so far this year

The tabulation for this year shows eight of the victims were children and in every case but one the blaze was caused by using kerosene to light fires. A child also died from fire caused by an overheated stove. A woman died when lard upset on the stove causing a fire which caught her clothing. One man died in a house fire while another was killed when trapped by burning stubble

Safety and fire protection officials emphasize the danger when gasoline is not stored in metal containers safely out of children's hands. Fire fatalities have resulted when children poured gasoline out of jars believing it was water and it became ignited

An analysis of last year's farm fire deaths shows that two of the victims were below the age of nine, three were between 10 to 19 years, one was between 20 and 29, four were between 30 and 50, and four were over 70

In six instances last year the farm deaths were due to over heated stoves and two deaths were due to using kerosene. One death was ascribed to the careless use of cigarettes. A baby's death was reported to have been caused by the careless handling of gasoline

During Farm Safety Week rural residents are urged to take special care to remove fire and other hazards. The urgent need of devoting each day to a specified aspect of farm safety is emphasized

A careful check probably will reveal hazards or some possible dangers not previously noted or realized on the farms

Alberta's heavy toll of farm accidents which took so many lives in 1956 must be licked this year and a concerted drive fully and vigorously maintained can do it, says the ASC.

Make It Rent Free

The Prime Minister of Canada should not have to pay rent declares The Financial Post. It says

When an Ottawa house was supplied for the Prime Minister at national expense a few years ago, Louis St. Laurent insisted he should pay $5,000 a year for the use of it.

"There was no public wish or demand that he pay rent, but Mr. St. Laurent evidently did not wish to profit personally from an expenditure his Government had to endorse if Parliament was to vote the money. No rent is paid by the occupant of either 10 Downing Street or the White House. There should be no rent on 24 Sussex Street Ottawa.

Why Planes Crash

Be encouraged to know that if airplanes crash in the future there's every chance that the inquest will find why. A gadget, reports The Financial Post, is being made that automatically records the occurrence of such mishaps as metal fatigue, fire, engine failure, fuel shortage, pressure breakdown and radio faults. The gadget, unlike the passengers, is shockproof, fireproof and unsinkable.

Little Cars Catch On

What some American car manufacturers ten years ago termed merely a passing fad seems to have caught on, says The Financial Post. In both Canada and the U.S. sales of European cars have been zooming. Almost twice as many were sold in Canada and the United States last year as in 1955. Motor cars are now Britain's biggest single export to the United States and a major export of both Britain and West Germany to Canada

Whether or not U.S. and Canadian car makers were wise to stay out of the pint-size field, their decision to do so has permitted European countries, especially Britain and West Germany, to earn some sorely needed credit to finance purchases from North America.

the Snapshot Guild

A visit to a highway construction project prompted this sandbox activity which mother recorded for the family album.

Family Album—Modern Style

In recent years we've heard much about documentaries—dramatic stories based on actual events, people and places. But we wonder how many of you snapshooters realize that you're producing documentaries. Every time you add a new batch of snapshots to your album you're actually "documenting" a chapter in your own family history.

With regular additions to keep it complete and up to date, your snapshot record can really be a true documentary of life as it's lived at your house—a living history told in pictures that cannot suffer the all-too-human failings of memory.

A case in point is a family we recently heard about which has kept a photographic record of their twelve years of marriage. Their "documentary" opens with a snapshot of the newlyweds and a "homey" shot of their first meal together in their new house. On their second anniversary, Baby Christopher made his appearance and thirteen days later he debuts in the family album — obviously unconcerned that he would be playing a leading role in the story ever after.

New chapters of "history" unfold when Scotty and Mark arrive on the scene. And from then on, the brothers are a sturdy triumvirate sharing high jinks on the front lawn, birthdays, Christmases, visits to Grandfather's Quebec farm, model planes bought with lawn-mowing allowances.

Pictured for the record, too, is Christopher's friend — Barbara, with whom he has shared everything from sandboxes to clarinets. And, of course, there's a shot of the whole neighborhood "gang" enjoying the hospitality of the family's ice-cream freezer on the front steps. But even more "historic" is the wonderful sequence showing them moving into their very own house, hanging out the family shingle, and beginning the arduous labors of landscaping over-grown evergreens.

Mother, the family historian, has taken pictures of all this in the best tradition—catching everyone in the midst of activities they enjoy or special projects they're interested in. From her twelve-year record, it's clear she always has her camera loaded and ready for action.

C.N.R. Official Is Guest At Fair

NEW SCHOOL IS TAKING SHAPE

Work on the new half million dollar school is proceeding rapidly and some idea of the general layout and extent of the building can now be obtained from the construction that has been done. Quite a number of the classrooms are completely walled in, while the sub-flooring has been laid on the gymnasium-auditorium, giving a birds-eye view of the size of that portion of the new building.

Like Monday Closing Stores, Customers

(Sedgewick Press)

Several motions were passed at a dinner meeting of businessmen representing Lougheed, Killam, Sedgewick, Viking and Daysland. C. Bearisto acted as chairman of the meeting.

After an enjoyable dinner, a few words of welcome were given by H. W. Smith, Mayor Sedgewick.

The main item of business was the general discussion of the Monday store closing, and open all day Wednesday and Saturday nights until 10 p.m. To the surprise of a number of the representatives, Lougheed, Sedgewick and Killam spoke in glowing terms of the Monday closing venture. All were very pleased at the co-operation of the public and the shoppers.

Sitting in as guests were representatives of Daysland and Viking, who also voiced their surprise at the success of the Monday closing. These towns have similar plans under way.

The following motions were passed at the meeting by Lougheed, Killam and Sedgewick:

1. That Monday closing all day and Wednesday open all day be continued on a permanent basis;
2. That Saturday night opening until 10 p.m. be continued each year as of May 1 to Oct. 31, with the other months closed at 6 p.m. except for the special Christmas shopping hours.
3. That the post offices in Killam, Lougheed and Sedgewick be asked to open all day Wednesday to conform to shopping hours;
4. That Killam liquor store be asked to change to Monday closing with two extra hours on Saturdays.

It was suggested that all towns contact the bank with the view of Monday instead of Saturday closing, as all felt public would be better served.

It was agreed that much was accomplished by mutual viewpoints, and that all help possible should be given to other towns contemplating a similar move.

We are informed that Wainwright is interested and has asked for a delegation to meet with the business men there to discuss the matter.

"HELLO, HOMEMAKERS"

4-H CLUB WEEK

Last week I had the opportunity to assist at a 4-H Club week held at the Vermilion School of Agriculture. In attendance at this week were 137 club members from many points in Central Alberta. These boys and girls were all top members of their club in the project year just ended. Besides the members from Alberta there were two boys and two girls from Montana, accompanied by a County Agent and his wife.

BUSY PROGRAMME

The girls and boys had a week jammed with interesting and worthwhile activities. The members attended lectures and workshops designed to develop skills in club work and in everyday living.

The lecture periods were divided for boys and girls. The workshops were joint sessions, dealing with several phases of club work. Besides the work periods there were many chances for the girls and boys to play together. Organized sports and swimming periods were popular items on the days program. The evening entertainments were a wonderful opportunity for making new friends.

The girls put on a dress review one evening. One afternoon they entertained the boys at a formal tea. Boys and girls joined together to partake in the amateur hour and the public speaking contest.

The week concluded with a banquet and a dance. All those club members who attended felt that it was a most enjoyable week. These boys and girls return to their home communities better equipped to meet problems in their homes and their clubs.

HAS YOUR COMMUNITY A 4-H CLUB?

If there are 8 girls over the age of twelve in your community perhaps they would benefit from 4-H experience. There are only 12 clubs in a district covering over 4000 square miles. Surely there are more young girls than this!

4-H Clubs are reorganized for the winter projects in September. If you are a potential leader, offer your services to the girls in your community. The rewards gained in helping young girls to grow in wisdom is well worth the hours of extra work. There are three projects available for study during the winter months and these are Foods, Home Decorating and Clothing. Further information is available from my office in Wainwright.

Kathleen Devine Becomes Bride Of George Melvin Challman

On June 18th a very attractive morning wedding took place at St. Bride's Roman Catholic church, when Miss Kathleen Elizabeth Devine, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Devine, became the bride of Mr. George Melvin Challman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Challman of Vermilion.

White baskets of roses and mixed summer flowers decorated the altar.

Rev. Father Young performed the double-ring ceremony in which the High School Choir sang very charming hymns.

Given in marriage by her father the bride chose a waltz-length gown of embroidered nylon tulle over rayon satin modified with matching jacket, the collar was of lustrous rayon satin with lace covering encrusted with beads and simulated pearls. The jacket was fashioned with lily-point sleeves. She wore a finger-tip veil, adorned with mother of pearl sequins and sparkling rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of sweetheart roses. The bride wore a double strand of pearls with matching earrings, a gift from the groom.

Miss Rose Ellen Devine and Sara Jane Devine were bridesmaids, both sisters of the bride.

The bridesmaids wore matching frocks of blue and yellow waltz-length gowns with matching headdresses encrusted in [illegible].

The wedding breakfast for 65 guests was held later at the home of the bride. Supper also was served at the bride's home for about 200 guests. A dance was held in the Cork Hall.

Mr. Charlie Challman proposed the toast to the bride.

For a honeymoon trip to Jasper and Banff the bride changed to a torso style dress of yellow taffeta. She wore a beige pill box hat with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses at her shoulder.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. George Challman made their home in Vermilion.

Out of town guests included Mr. James Rimmer of B. C., grandmother of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Challman of Vermilion, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kenzie of Vermilion, Mr. Francis Doyle, Mr. Alex McMillan, both of Vermilion, Mrs. Maggie Mic[illegible] of Vermilion, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crawford of Mannville, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Watling and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Alberta Oil and Gas Royalty Dividend Available Sept. 1st

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — The Alberta government's controversial oil and gas royalty dividend scheme undergoes its first real test of public [illegible] starting Sept. 1 when citizens begin applying for payments.

Last week the government declared the dividend at $20 and estimated that 300,000 Albertans will be eligible for their share from the $11,000,000 fund set up by the legislature this year.

The big question is, will the public react favorably to the biggest give-away ever undertaken by a Canadian province?

Government officials are confident the public will go for the idea, while 'opposition' parties are hoping citizens will agree with their view that it's a colossal waste of money.

If the majority of those eligible apply for their dividends, it can be assumed that the public is in favor, and the dividends will be here to stay. After all, who doesn't like money?

The government's ace-in-the-hole is the claim that the dividends will increase as oil and gas production is stepped up. Under the plan, the province each year will set aside one-third of oil and gas royalties for the dividend fund, and the bigger the royalty earnings the bigger the dividend.

Distribution of the dividends will start Sept. 1 and continue until Dec. 31. Anyone eligible who does not apply before the end of December will miss the deadline and be out of luck.

Applications will be accepted and payments made at all chartered banks and the provincial treasury branches. In addition, there will be a few special agencies set up where other facilities are not available.

Applicants will sign declarations saying they are Canadian citizens or British subjects who have lived in the province for the two-year period immediately preceding application, and for a total of ten years. They also must be 21 years of age.

If there is any money left over in the fund it will be thrown back into the pot for next year's distribution. If the fund runs short, it will be replenished from the province's general revenue fund and the deficit will be made up next year from the royalty fund.

Both the government and opposition groups are anxious to know just how the public will react. Premier Manning has said the people will favor the idea of sharing directly in profits from the development of the oil and gas industry. After all, he says, teh bwucinoip eenrd ndthe ofid the public owns the oil and gas.

Opposition spokesmen, who threw three non-confidence motions at the government over the scheme in the legislature, still claim it is frittering away money which could be used for welfare, education or public works.

They haven't admitted it publicly, but the opposition parties also fear Social Credit may permanently entrench itself in power with the dividend scheme.

While the payment of $20 is fairly insignificant this year, it could well grow into a respectable sum. Don't be surprised if a substantial increase is made before the next provincial election.

It may be coincidence or not, but the dividend plan was introduced during a federal election year, and in Alberta Social Credit increased its House of Commons strength to 13 seats from 11 in the last House.

If the dividend plan does become popular the opposition will find themselves in the embarrassing position of having to promise to maintain it.

There is a fear that the opposition may lose ground it gained in the 1955 election when their strength rose from 10 to 24 in the 61 seat House.

CONSERVATIVES TO BID FOR PROVINCIAL POWER

Don't be surprised if the Conservative party in Alberta they knock off the 'Progressive') makes its strongest bid for power in years in the next provincial election.

Buoyed up by the results of the federal election, Alberta Conservatives are talking optimistically about increasing their strength in the Alberta legislature. They have three members in the present house.

However, one of the first things the party will have to do is find a strong provincial leader and streamline its organization. At present there is no provincial leader as such, although J. Percy Page, MLA for Edmonton, acts as House leader, and the party's organization in the province has been next to non-existent. It might do better next time if some sweeping changes are made.

WOODVALE NOTES

Writing these notes on a sweltering hot Sunday we still felt thankful for the heavy downpour of Saturday the 7th of July and shudder to think what crops and gardens would look like now without that beneficial rain. However, with part of the crops looking as good and better than almost anywhere in the larger Vermilion district and some very poor also, we are once again hoping for a good heavy shower or a steady all day rain as showers do not always spread the water equally over the country side.

The Tolland picnic has once again come and gone with seven teams playing for the prizes and Paradise Valley the winner with Tolland in second place. The Woodvale girls played the Preston girls and the former were the winners there. It seems pretty hard now-a-days to get youngsters interested in races, but the dozen or so that took part seemed to enjoy themselves and be good sports. The tobacco can race was a favorite, being run twice and even later some children were doing it just for fun. The booths did a thriving business and there seemed to be a large crowd. It was unfortunate that Howard Coburn had to break a bone in his ankle while playing ball and now we hear that only a few days afterwards he heard about the death of his father at the coast. Sincere sympathy is hereby extended to the family. Margaret Steele got a large sliver in her foot at the dance and though she did go to the doctor the next day no after effects were suffered luckily.

With the summer, there is always an increase in visitors and holiday trips. Mr. and Mrs. W. Proctor went to see their daughter and family in Trochu. Mr. and Mrs. Art Lysons and children paid a visit to Mabel and Johnny Crooks at Airways; Susan Wolters spent a week with Margaret Watt in Edmonton who is taking in summer school there. Mrs. O. Wolters went to the city to be tested for new glasses and spent the day with Mrs. Naomi Foster. Mr. and Mrs. Colin McLean and children have gone to a family reunion in Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Lysons came down from Edmonton for a few days to visit parents north and south of Vermilion, after a trip to Jasper and Banff, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lysons. Their two boys Arthur and Jimmy are staying another two weeks with their grandmother Mrs. Lysons.

Mr. and Mrs. Bissonette with their little boy also from the city were weekend guests at the home of Mrs. M. Watson. Mrs. E. Oldenburg of Vermilion and her granddaughter Mrs. Lee Ramsay [illegible] months stayed for the Tolland picnic and weekend with Mrs. Knare Salte.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brown with two children of Cherry Grove visited with the Arnot Brown's, the Loveparts and the McGrath family. Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith of Banff with their two children, Henry and Florent spent a short week with the writer and took Miss Lise Lauzhuck back with them.

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Camille Gautier on the birth of a son and Mr. and Mrs. F. Nicholls with a [illegible]. Best wishes go to a [illegible] vale and Tolland girl, Kay [illegible] son who became Mrs. Bill [illegible] recently.

Art Lysons, Raymond McGrath, Clarence Lewis, Bill McGrath and Ethridge Webber all went to Edmonton to get lumber for a new curling rink to be built on here near Preston School.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Thomas moved in June to the Triangle district on the Tom Wilson place, not too far away from their many friends on the other side of the Grizzly Bear coulee.

The girls of the Tolland 4-H garden club and their leaders, Mrs. R. McGrath and Mrs. O. Walters thoroughly enjoyed a 4-H rally at the V. S. A. and a picnic at the park on July 4.

Mrs. Anderson of Chauvin is conducting a summer Bible school for two weeks at Watson Community Centre with four of the local girls, Susan and Irene Wolters and Margaret and Eleanor McGrath as her helpers. Church will be held at 11 o'clock for the rest of the summer.

T. B. testing of cattle has been going on in the district for the past few weeks by Mr. Victor Dermmetryk.

A Red Cross meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Emma Lysons on July 11 with nine members and two visitors, Mrs. Thelma Sweeney and Mrs. Della Lysons, working on a large, many colored patch quilt. Despite the heat the quilt was finished in record time. Mrs. Betty Lysons reported $41.80 profit made at the Tolland picnic booth and bazaar and these earnings must have increased another $5 by the sale of other articles and books that afternoon. Lunch is always greatly enjoyed after such a busy session and the cool tasting cherries and grapes specially in that hot day. The next meeting is scheduled for August 8 at the home of Mrs. F. Van Wageningen.

Mrs. W. Isley stayed with her mother for a few days during the time her father—who is home again now and feeling better—underwent an eye operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Isley returned after a two weeks trip and left again for Wetaskiwin, where Johnny found work with a construction outfit.

While the McLean family is away, Mrs. A. Robinson will look after the Kokanee Store.

The thunderstorm that hovered over the district for some time and brought some light showers and hail this Saturday did more extensive damage over west. Keith Lysons had some real big stones hit his car when driving home that day and Art Lysons still has some as big as golf balls in his freezer at Tolland Store.

Sorry we are unable to get these notes off in time for July 19 Standard. More showers fell on Wednesday the 17.

"A Stranger In The Arctic"

A Story of the Far North

by
NAREEN COOPER WAITE
(Fort Good Hope, N.W.T. 1952)

THE STORY SO FAR

Sullen, aloof, taciturn, "Jess" Cully comes into the north — a stranger. His [illegible] remains a mystery to all for he makes no friends. Cully "buys" for a wife young, pretty Rosa Ringbuk, who loves Manuel Vitalenny . . Cully took his bride to his lonely but well built and equipped cabin in the wilds, but Rosa's heart remained with Manuel.

A year passes. A baby [illegible] is born to Cully and Rosa [illegible] dies, a victim of TB. They return to their cabin, Cully more surly than ever. Manuel visits Rosa while Cully is away and tells her to come to him whenever she needs help. Again he visits her, but Cully sees him leaving over the river ice, which is begining to break up. Flying into a rage he strikes Rosa who is standing beside her pet wolf, now fully grown and chained to a post. The wolf attacks Cully, slashing his arm and face, ripping out an eye. Rosa runs toward Manuel, now far out on the river ice, but Cully gets away from the wolf, gets his dog team and overtakes her. He chokes her to death, with Manuel vainly trying to stop him. Then when Manuel's back is turned, Cully slays him with an axe. Weighting down the bodies, he drops them into a fissure in the river ice. Then returning to the cabin he kills the wolf. A few days later he goes to Fort Good Hope and reports the deaths to the R.C.M.P.

Now go on with the story.

Cully began telling him the story he had previously mulled over in his mind. If he seemed suddenly garrulous after his long reputation of reticence, the policeman attributed it to shock from the tragedy and pain from his injuries.

Cully told him that Manuel had been to their cabin a few times previously but neither he nor Rosa had expected him on the day in question owing to the condition of the ice. There had been no particular reason for that visit, was Cully's statement, but he suspected Manuel had hoped for some of Rosa's baking.

"She was a good cook," said Cully, as though reminiscing, "and each time Manuel visited she gave him bread, pies or cake to take away with him. On that day — six days ago — she baked bread and had offered Manuel two loaves."

"He didn't stay long. I remember I mentioned the dangerous condition of the ice two or three times and remarked that the break-up would probably be earlier this year."

Cully informed the constable that Manuel had gone away without the bread and Rosa, upon discovering [illegible] to take it to him.

"I called to her not to venture upon the ice," stated Cully, embellishing his story as he went on. "If Manuel wanted to risk it that was his business. She didn't seem to hear, though, and kept on going. She'd almost reached Manuel who had stopped and was waiting, when suddenly the ice heaved. There was a 'boom' and a huge crack opened up just in front of her. She tried to stop and scramble backwards but it was too late. I stood paralyzed as Manuel ran forward and threw himself flat on the ice to attempt to reach under the water for her. There was another heave, followed by two more in rapid succession, and Manuel too slid into the water. The current must have [illegible] immediately. By the time I reached the spot there wasn't a hope."

Here Cully stopped, breathing harshly as though to control his emotions. The constable sat watching him a moment, then said, "Alright, that seems complete enough. Just a few questions and you can go."

After several questions pertaining to the deaths the constable was apparently satisfied, as Cully never once deviated from his original story.

After all, mused the policeman, one can't entirely distrust the man only for the fact that he [illegible]. His story sounds [illegible] will certainly [illegible]. Aloud he said, "Now, about the wounds to your arm [illegible]. Tell me how they oc[illegible], and was it before the drownings or later?"

"It was later," Cully replied. "That night after the accident it dawned on me that I hadn't fed my dogs. Had just finished doing so when I remembered Rosa's pet wolf. He was a big fellow, just over a year old. Thought the world of Rosa too but he wouldn't have much to do with me." Cully paused, and a tremor [illegible] as his hatred once [illegible].

"Yes, go on," urged the constable.

Cully's head jerked up and he made an effort to control himself. "Can't give myself away at this point," he thought.

"Well," he continued, after [illegible] a deep breath. "I thought I'd better feed the critter too, as Rosa always fed him in the evenings when I fed my dogs. But he seemed to sense that something was amiss. Maybe he missed Rosa and her petting, I don't know. Anyway, when I put the food in front of him, he leaped at me and his claw caught in my eye. I grabbed at my face and he slashed my arm with his teeth. I managed to get back out of his reach but he seemed to be going crazy — foaming at the mouth and struggling to break away from the chain. I was afraid he'd gone mad and had to shoot him."

Soon Cully was once more en route to the solitude of his cabin, first stopping at the trading store where he had bought several large, strong steel traps. Later, as he mulled over his talk with the constable, he chuckled when he thought of his own cleverness. "Should have been an actor," he mused.

In the two years that followed, little was seen of Cully. His trips to the Fort were even more rare than they had been previously and occurred only when necessity compelled him to procure supplies. Gradually the tales of his prowess as a hunter and trapper became displaced by stories of his relentless pursuit and trapping of wolves.

One young half-breed had arrived in the settlement in a state of breathless fear. He had been returning from 'Little Chicago' to Ft. Good Hope and his curiosity had compelled him to take a route through the woods in vicinity of Cully's traplines. Unexpectedly, he had come within a hundred yards of the man Cully and what the latter was doing had caused the half-breed to stop and watch in silent awe. For Cully, with a leaded, thonged whip, was belaboring a wolf which was obviously caught in trap. That this beating had been going on for some time was apparent from the fact that the wolf was now stretched upon the ground, its attempts to defend itself becoming more and more feeble. This sight terrified the half-breed and he hurriedly continued on his way while the man was still engrossed in his horrible act and did not notice him.

On recounting the tale to his people, he added that such was his feeling that he was sure an evil spirit had possessed the white man. Others came to believe so too when the mutilated bodies of wolves were discovered by them in their travels, some of them many miles from Cully's trapping area, indicating that he travelled far to wreak his revenge.

"Perhaps he has a special reason for hating them, maybe a fixation," offered the factor of the trading post. "Some people do."

But the Indians continued to shake their heads in wonderment and soon they began to travel many miles out of their way to skirt Cully's area when it became necessary for them to pass his camp.

After a time fewer and fewer wolves were caught in Cully's traps and he found that he had to go farther afield to hunt them. One day during this time he was investigating his traps when he found that one had been uprooted from its strong moorings and dragged away. He followed the trail the dragged trap had left in the snow and soon came upon the wolf. The trap and chain had become tangled in some trees and shrubs and held the wolf fast. Caught only by one foot this huge timber wolf was in the process of gnawing off its leg to free itself when Cully appeared. As he advanced, whip ready, Cully recalled with sadistic pleasure the numerous wolves he had beaten and killed. How he had made them cower and cringe as the cruel whip bit into their flesh. Saliva flowed into his mouth and a thrill coursed his blood . . .

3 Whooper Chicks Spotted In North

By Jack Van Dusen

Three young couples are raising their young in the wilds of Wood Buffalo Park, unaware that the world is watching.

The couples are whooping cranes — one of the rarest birds in existence — and they have hatched three chicks.

The births, announced gleefully at the weekend by the Canadian Wildlife Service, bring the population of the whoopers to 31, the highest it's been since 1951.

The rust-brown chicks were first spotted by federal biologist Nick Novakowski of Ft. Smith, N.W.T., from a government airplane flying 500 feet above the inaccessible nesting grounds.

SEVEN ADULTS SEEN

Novakowski said he spotted seven adult birds with the chicks. The odd bird seemed to be alone.

Officials said one chick probably came from each of the 3 couples because whoopers rarely have twins.

The nesting area in the park is in a 17,300-square-mile sanctuary straddling the boundary of northern Alberta and the Northwest Territories. It was first discovered in 1954. Ornithologists continue to search for other nesting grounds they are certain ex[illegible].

TWO MORE IN U.S.

Meanwhile, in an attempt to increase the population of the rare bird — in danger of extinction — two other chicks are being reared in captivity in New Orleans Audubon Park.

Zoo superintendent George Douglass recently reported them in top health and felt sure they would grow to maturity. Full-grown cranes reach about five feet in height.

The wild chicks will be left to grow under natural conditions but their progress will be watched closely.

There were 28 whoopers in 1956, 21 in 1955, 24 in 1954, 21 in 1953, 25 in 1952, 31 in 1951, 34 in 1950 and 30 in 1949.

"Dad, did you pick up my dress?"

That young voice hits Dad where it hurts. He was so sure he'd remembered everything. And here is Amelia, with a heavy date, demanding her dress which he forgot to pick up at the cleaners. Why, grumbles Dad, don't women do their own shopping?

The answer is that farm women usually do. In fact, their shopping, in person and by mail, adds up to a lot of money. How much? Well, last year, farm families put about 2½ billion dollars into circulation. That's over twice the amount spent for all the new housing in Canada. About 1,000 million dollars went for household requirements—the things you buy regularly. And the rest of the money was spent for equipment, wages, feed, seed, fertilizers—everything that farmers need to produce food in abundance.

All this farm spending for consumer goods and services helps to keep a great many Canadians employed in a wide variety of businesses and is a powerful stimulant to progress and prosperity. This is made possible by good farm management, efficient practices which include the use of modern farm machinery.

Lloydminster Church Setting For Howe - Swayne Wedding July 18

A lovely summer afternoon wedding was solemnized at Grace United Church, Lloydminster, when Emma Louise Swayne became the bride of Mr Leroy Percival Howe. Rev R. R. Smith performed the ceremony which united in marriage the youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs. H. E. Swayne of Paradise Valley, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Howe of Rivercourse, Alberta. The bride chose as her wedding day July 18th, the 34th wedding anniversary of her parents who were also married in Lloydminster.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was beautiful in a waltz-length princess styled gown of white lace and floating net over bridal satin, fashioned with lily-point sleeves and Queen Anne collar. Her chapel length veil of embroidered net was caught in a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Evelyn Howe, sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid. She wore a buttercup yellow waltz-length gown of nylon lace and net over taffeta. Her matching bandeau was trimmed with a yellow rose and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr Arthur Swayne was best man, and the ushers were Mr. William Howe and Mr. James Swayne.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Swayne chose an afternoon dress of flowered sheer in lilac and white shades, with white accessories and yellow carnations en corsage. Mrs. Howe, mother of the groom, chose an afternoon dress of printed taffeta of white and blue, with white accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations.

At a reception following, held in the banquet room of the Prince Charles Hotel, Lloydminster, the bride's table was centred with a four-tiered wedding cake. Miss Marion Holgate of Paradise Valley was in charge of the guest book. Mr. Alex Henderson of Mannville acted as master of ceremonies and proposed the toast to the bride, and to Mrs. Swayne, the bride of 34 years ago. A telegram was read from Mr and Mrs. D. L. Clarke in Edmonton, and one from Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Jorgensen of Dawson Creek, B.C. extending best wishes to the happy couples.

Open house for friends and relatives was held in the evening at the home of Mr and Mrs Percy Howe of Rivercourse. A wedding dance followed at the Rivercourse hall.

For a honeymoon trip to points in Southern Alberta, the bride wore a dress of sculptured navy blue and white nylon taffeta with white accessories. The young couple will make their home on a farm at Rivercourse.

Out-of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Andy Wylie, and Mr. and Mrs Steve Drozdowich of Vegreville, Mr and Mrs Wm. Howe of Fort Saskatchewan, and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Henderson and boys of Mannville.

PREPARING YOUR CHILD FOR SCHOOL

Is He Ready For School?

Your child is facing an exciting adventure— his first days at school. He has heard a lot about this strange new world and he's looking forward to it with eagerness, curiosity and a mixture of many other emotions. To leave the cosy protection of his home for the uncertainties of a new kind of life is a tremendously big event. For some time now, he has perhaps been feeling left out of things as he watched other children going off happily to that somewhere where one learns to read and write like grownups. He very likely has listened, wide-eyed, to tales of what you can or can't do in this place called school. Yet above any shivers of doubt or anxiety concerning the unknown he has probably become quite sure in his own mind that it is a good place because after all other children, his friends go there. It's natural for your child to want to do what his playmates do just as he wants to like and be liked by them.

But will your child be ready for this adventurous journey into a new life? Naturally the better equipped the more successfully will he fare. There are certain things he needs in order to face his new experiences with confidence and a good chance of getting along throughout his school career.

Good Health Is Important

Your child should start his school life in good sound health. Have your family physician or the local public health clinic give him a complete physical examination. Teeth should be checked too by a dentist. If these examinations show that there are ailments or defects that can and should be looked after, then follow the doctor's and dentist's advice and have them corrected, if possible, before you enrol him at school.

It's likely that your child has already been immunized against certain of the childhood diseases such as diptheria, smallpox and whooping cough. If not, have it done immediately either by your doctor or at the nearest public health clinic. If all immunizations have been done previously, make sure your child gets the necessary booster done.

Insist on him getting regular and sufficient hours of sleep to help him enjoy school. He needs from ten to twelve hours of sleep in a quiet, darkened room with an open window, to build up his energy and offset tiredness.

Looking After Himself

Good appearance will go a long way in helping your child get along well with his schoolmates. He should know how to wash his face and hands, comb his hair, carry and use a handerchief or tissue not only for blowing nose but to cover a cough or a sneeze. His clothing should be simple and practical and at the same time attractive.

When a child has learned to do things for himself he gains poise and respect. He will be better able to look after his outer garments by himself at school if his clothes are roomy and all fastenings are simple.

If he is used to sharing duties at home he'll have confidence in doing things at school. He should be able to keep his own toys and belongings in order and help with simple household tasks.

Your child's ability to talk so that he can be understood is obviously a basic necessity. It's most unfair to him to send him along to school handicapped in this way. He learns speech habits in his home so let him hear good English: encourage him to say what he means in sentences, not merely in single words or phrases which are understood in the family. It is well to set an example of soft, pleasant voices, avoiding harsh loud tones. Teach him correct terms and names of things. He should be able to say clearly his whole name, address and telephone number. Baby talk sounds cute at home, perhaps but he'll be embarrassed, maybe laughed at, if he carries this habit to school with him.

Learning to give and take, to get along with others, is necessary for your child's happiness at school, in fact throughout his entire life. Encourage his friendliness towards other people. Give him the place and the opportunity to play with other children.

Jehovah Witnesses Convene, Edmonton

Jehovah's Witnesses by the thousands have converged this week on Edmonton, particularly upon the Exhibition grandstand, where, from July 24 to 28 they are assembling in Christian convention. These Bible enthusiasts, well-known for their public gospel preaching, have just five full days, this week, in which to present their case for, to them, "the only true religion".

"Life-Giving Wisdom" is the well-chosen theme which describes in a nut-shell their purpose in assembling from all over Western Canada and from many parts of the U.S. A scanning of the convention program being presented from the grandstand platform indicates the Witnesses to be a Bible-loving group.

Before leaving for Edmonton, Mr M. Warren, presiding minister of the local congregation here in Vermilion said that this would be "the largest religious convention ever held on the Canadian Prairies". "Our purpose in assembling there is to gain spiritual strength, to increase faith in God, to brighten hope in the new world of righteousness under God's kingdom. In a world where materialism is running in [illegible] flood for leading people of all walks of life to see and share the happiness of Jehovah's Witnesses, the New World Society."

Mr Warren also stated that "for many weeks, convention administrators have been carefully following through on well-laid plans to install equipment to feed 10,000 or more who will be in attendance". Much of this equipment is not available locally and had to be trucked in from as far away as Vancouver Island, he said. Such things as knives forks and spoons for the biggest eating establishment in the province specially built washing machines for the thousands of 'fibre' eating trays, 200 feet of powerful stoves are all set up and working. A special prefabricated 'walk in' refrigerator has been set up for the week that, when dismantled and the plyboard fibre glass and cooling unit are returned to the loaners, it will cost exactly $0 worth of saw dust."

After its last week's round of horse racing and evening shows, the grandstand required a volunteer staff of 275 workers all Jehovah's Witnesses, armed to the teeth with brooms, mops, pails and plenty of zeal and elbow grease to begin the transformation into a beautiful Kingdom hall. It took the hardy cleaning department exactly 300 man hours to ready the premises for this mammoth Ministry School the Watch Tower Convention.

Mr Percy Chapman, chief representative of Jehovah's Witnesses in Canada arrived in Edmonton on Tuesday, July 23 to take up his duties as Chairman of the convention. He will be the featured speaker during all five days. The highlight of his visit will be his Sunday message at 3:00 o'clock, "Healing of All the Nations Has Drawn Near".

Men Who Make Alberta

THE INDUSTRIAL WORKER

The skill of the Craftsmen is the most important commodity in industry. Without trained personnel, all the machinery in the world is useless. Raw materials are of no value unless the hands and the brains are available to turn out the food, the tools, the machines and the materials ready for human use.

The greatest inventions of mankind would remain on paper without the machinist, the welder, the foundryman and the other craftsmen required to turn ideas into practical products. And, without a high degree of skill on the part of the craftsmen, the best designed product cannot give satisfactory service. The best food is hardly fit for the table unless processed by men with "know-how".

Today, industry is growing in Alberta . . . more and more products bear the stamp "Made in Alberta", and, Albertans have every reason to be proud of the goods that bear this label, thanks to the quality of our workmen. On their shoulders rests the responsibility for our reputation as an industrial province . . . they are not letting us down. And the man who takes a pride in his workmanship, who is trained to work with precision and care forms the basis of a good solid citizenship. The industrial worker of today is helping shape the pattern of modern Alberta, just as the blacksmith of the pioneer days helped to carve this province from a virgin wilderness.

Two Soldiers Killed In Crash On Highway 41 Tuesday Evening

Dead as a result of an accident on highway 41 shortly before 10 o'clock Tuesday night are two soldiers from the Wainwright camp, two more are in the Vermilion hospital, one of whom is in critical condition.

The accident happened near the top of the south hill of the Grizzly Bear Coulee, eight miles south of Vermilion.

The dead are: Thomas Sylvanus Courtney who had been at Camp Walwright for 2 months. He was 23 years of age and his home was in Toronto; Albert Sidney Huntrods, aged 25 years, also at Camp Wainwright for two months. He was thought to be the driver of the ill-fated car. His home was in Port Arthur.

Moyers Funeral Home is forwarding the remains to their home for burial.

Critically injured is Weins who is being moved to an Edmonton hospital this Friday, while less seriously injured is Hall who is in hospital here.

The soldiers had borrowed a 1957 model car from one of their brothers at the camp to drive into Wainwright. They had apparently decided to come on to Vermilion. At the curve in the road on the coulee hill they ran into the side of a 2½ ton truck loaded with furniture. The entire top was sheared off the car by the truck box and the two men killed instantly. The driver of the truck had pulled well over in an effort to avoid the collision and two of his wheels were actually over the edge of the road in the ditch.

Driver of the truck was Albert Pollom who had with him his mother. They were moving from St. Paul to live in Wainwright, and had all of their household effects loaded into the truck. The Polloms escaped injury and their truck was not badly damaged.

Blood for transfusions were rushed by the Army Command from Edmonton for Weins.

Flowers are placed on every grave in the soldiers' plot before the service starts so please have flowers at the Legion hall by 4 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 24th.

Those wishing to place flowers in memory of a relative who died in the service may bring them along and place them at the cenotaph at the proper time in the service.

From this point the Legion members, ex-service personnel, the Ladies' Auxiliary and other groups will march to the cenotaph for the service at 2:30 p.m.

Find Valuable Diamond Rings

Russell Kuoin and Bobby Christianson were lucky boys recently when they found a diamond solitaire and a diamond wedding ring in the sand at the park beach. The rings were lost indirectly by Mrs. Herb Bobroske.

It appears that Mrs. Bobroske handed her husband the rings when she went into the water to take a swimming lesson. Herb put them into his pocket but apparently they fell out when he was sitting on the beach. No one thought about the rings until they reached home. A reward was offered and as a result of their diligence in finding the valued rings, Russell and Bobby each received a $10 reward.

Rats Creep Closer To Town

Despite all the precautions that are being taken to stem the invasion of rats, one of the undesirables was killed by Bob Mullen on his farm just a bare two miles east of town, a few days ago. The rat was found underneath the last piece of plank flooring on the farm as Bob is replacing every floor on all his farm barns and outbuildings with solid cement. He has had the experience of combatting the little monsters in the old country and states that everything possible should be done to keep them from increasing in this province.

Air Cadets Return From Sea Island

Seven Vermilion Air Cadets and F/L. Stanley Manyluk, OC returned home this week from a nine day camp at the R.C.A.F. station at Sea Island near Vancouver, B.C. Previously they had gone to Abbotsford, B.C.

The Cadets enjoyed many tours to points of interest, as well as the regular training periods and organized recreational and athletic periods. All were highly enthusiastic about the camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Charlwood and three daughters, Jan, Sue, Doreen, from Melbourne Australia are visiting at the home of Mrs. Charlwood's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. East. The Charlwood family left Australia in February by boat and have since visited England and several parts of Europe. Mrs. Charlwood and the girls will remain in Canada until after Christmas, staying mostly in Winnipeg, while Mr Charlwood will return to Melbourne at the end of this month.

Oil Dividend Of $20 Available Sept 1st — Notices In Mail

The first "Oil and Gas Citizens' Royalty Dividend", of $20 will become available to approximately 550,000 eligible Albertans starting Sept. 1st, the Hon. E.W. Hinman, Provincial Treasurer, announced this week. Notices to every householder in Alberta are now being mailed informing them of the procedures necessary to obtain their dividend.

Dividends are payable from an $11,000,000 fund set up under the Oil and Gas Royalties Dividend Act, representing one-third of the net royalties from oil and gas produced from provincial lands in the previous fiscal year. The act was designed to enable citizens to participate directly in benefits accruing from the oil and gas development of the province.

The dividends are payable at any Treasury Branch or branch of any chartered bank in Alberta to those with the following qualifications:

—are Canadian citizens or British subjects
—will be of the full age of 21 years on or before the 31st day of December 1957
—are residents of Alberta
—have resided in Alberta for the immediate preceding two years and a total of not less than ten years.

Residence in Alberta is defined as "maintaining in Alberta a place of abode to which a person returns daily except for casual absences not in excess of 90 consecutive days".

Signing of a declaration form at the place of payment is all the requirement necessary to obtain the dividend. It is pointed out it is a criminal offense to make a false declaration.

Treasury officials said there would be no payment of the 1957 dividend after Dec 31 1957.

Vermilion's Annual Golf Tourney Featured By Record Entry — New Course Record of 33 Set

The annual two-day open golf tournament held over the Civic holiday week end, sponsored by the Vermilion Golf club proved to be a record breaker in many ways. An all time record entry of 123 golfers commenced play Sunday at 8 a.m. The tournament was run off without a hitch and by early Monday evening play was completed the winners declared in all fifteen flights. The high wind which prevailed all day Sunday gave way to a nearly perfect day Monday and matches were run off with clockwork precision throughout an ideal golfing day.

The widespread popularity of Vermilion's fine golf course was further proved this year by a record entry of 23 Edmonton golfers. Other entries came from nearly every town in northeastern Alberta with Vegreville club heading the list with 20 entries.

The Vermilion club would like to thank all the golfers from out of town for their entries in the tournament and for the very sportsmanlike way in which all agreed with plans and tournament conditions.

A special vote of thanks goes to the Vermilion Ladies Golf club for the very capable manner in which the wants of the inner man were looked after. Delicious meals and lunches help a great deal to make a tournament a real success.

Grade 12 Students Pass 97.19 Per Cent. of Subjects Written

Vermilion grade 12 students achieved a remarkable record in the departmental examinations of June, passing no less than 97.19% of the subjects written, only three papers were failed. Failures on a province-wide basis usually amount to 15%.

Twenty-four Vermilion high school students wrote a total of 107 grade 12 exam papers. Of the 107 only three papers were failed. Of the remaining 104 papers matriculation standing of above 50% was obtained on 93 and high school diploma standing (above 40%) was made on the balance of eleven subjects.

Thirteen students wrote a full grade 12 of from 5 to 7 subjects. All of the thirteen made clear passes, twelve with matriculation standing, while one student was below 50 but above 40 on one exam paper only.

Eight more students who wrote less than five subjects secured high school diploma standing and three of these with matriculation marks in all subjects.

The overall percentage failure on subjects written in grade 12 is usually around 15%, yet at the V.H.S. this year only three of 107 subjects, less than 3% were failed.

Principal John David and his staff of Lorne Dowling, Mrs. W. A. Kibblewhite, Mr. L. R. Metcalfe, Miss M. Knapp and Miss K. Sigurjonsson, are to be highly complimented on the achievement of their grade 12 students. It is quite possible that this will rank as the highest percentage pass in the province.

Hundreds Pay Tribute At Funeral Services For Harry Sweeney

Funeral services for Harry Sweeney, aged 53 years, who was drowned in the Battle River on Wednesday July 31st after valiantly saving two of his children, were held on Monday, Aug. 5th at the United Church, Vermilion.

The large church failed to accommodate the many who wished to attend and pay tribute to one they had known as a good friend and neighbor, an industrious farmer, and who had died in an exemplary and noble manner with no thought of self. Rev C. W. MacKay very fittingly chose as his text the words, "Greater love has no man than this that he lay down his life for others."

On the afternoon of Wednesday July 31st, Mr. and Mrs Harry Sweeney, their eight children, and Mr and Mrs Charlie Sweeney and family, had gone berry picking at a spot close to the bridge over the Battle River, on the east road to Wainwright. Shortly before 5 p.m. Harry was gathering up the children for the return home. He discovered that Rosy aged 13 years and John aged 12 were in the river and were evidently struggling to regain the shore. Although not able to swim a stroke Harry unhesitatingly went into the river and managed to help each of his children gain a foothold within their depth. In some way however he himself got into a deep spot and sank. His brother Charlie was also unable to swim but a traveller on the nearby road came and dove repeatedly but was unable to locate the missing man in the murky water. Help was obtained from a nearby farm and Alfred Nichols managed to recover the body of Mr Sweeney. It was estimated that he had been in the water from 30 to 35 minutes. Artificial respiration was applied for 45 minutes to no avail. Constable Kelly of the R. C. M. P. and Syd Moore swimming instructor at the Vermilion Park, arrived from town to aid in this endeavor.

The deceased had been a farmer in the Thorncliffe district 3 miles east and 8 miles south of Vermilion for many years.

He leaves to mourn his loss his sorrowing wife and eight children, the eldest of whom is 15 years and the youngest four months, besides brothers and sisters.

Interment was made in the Vermilion cemetery. Moyers were in charge of arrangements.

Rotary Works For International Understanding

Rotary Clubs in 102 countries throughout the free world are united in an endeavour to promote international understanding, good will and peace. That was the message of A. J. Balfour of Grande Prairie, Governor of District 536 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary Club of Vermilion last Friday evening following a conference with local Rotary officers and committee chairmen.

In addition to the activities of Rotary's 9,500 clubs within their own communities to promote this objective Mr Balfour explained, Rotary International has spent more than $2,250,000 in recent years through its program of student fellowships which enables outstanding college graduates to study for one year in countries other than their own as Rotary ambassadors of good will. Since 1947, when this program was established 907 Rotary Fellowships have been awarded to students in 61 countries for study in 42 countries with grants averaging $2,500.

"With fellowship and service to others as its keynote Rotary provides a common ground for 446,000 business and professional executives throughout the free world, regardless of differing nationalities or political or religious beliefs," the Rotary District Governor emphasized.

"In addition to the promotion of international understanding" Mr Balfour continued "special emphasis is being placed by Rotary Clubs on this District, which includes 32 Rotary Clubs."

Mr Balfour urged the local Rotarians to attend the Rotary District Conference to be held in Grande Prairie in April, 1958, and to make plans for the Rotary Club to be represented at the 49th annual convention of Rotary International, which will be held in Dallas, Texas, next June.

Celebrate 50th Anniversary Of Morrison School

An unusual event occurred at the Morrison anniversary dance on Aug 9th when ex-students now living in Victoria, B.C. recited, sang and reminisced by means of tape recorder.

Harry Young, formerly of Islay sent the tape to Jim Miller, secretary of the Morrison Community Association. Through the kindness of Frank Young who supplied the tape recorder and David Giles, who supplied the electrical power, the tape was played to those at the dance.

The recorded program was well put together featuring the songs 'School Days', 'Memories' and 'Happy Birthdays', the old Morrison basketball yell, recitations by Rachel Barnes (nee Taggart) Annie Young (nee Taggart) Lila Waterfield (nee Bowser) Dorothy Ambrose (nee Gould), and Bill Barnes. Harry Young was M.C. and Kenny Gunn acted as chief engineer.

Quite a number of those at the dance strolled over to Giles' yard to hear the recorded program.

Pioneer Couple Celebrate Their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary

Mr and Mrs John Fluney of Victoria, B.C. celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary at the home of their son George Fluney of Dewberry, Alta. The bride and groom of fifty years sat down with forty-six friends and relatives including all members of their family comprising five daughters and three sons, to a delicious turkey supper on the evening of July 28th. The table, spread with white linen was very attractively decorated with flowers and a three-tiered wedding cake. The toast to the honored couple was proposed by William Gonie of Pierceland, Sask. an old friend of the family.

Mr and Mrs Fluney were married in Winnipeg on May 29, 1907. Previous to their marriage Mr Fluney worked on the C.N.R. line through Vermilion, helping to erect the round house also the Brunswick hotel in the year 1905. He was well known by some of the pioneer residents of Vermilion having originally come from Dundalk, Ont.

In the spring of 1909 they moved to their homestead west of Tramping Lake Sask., where they resided until 1947. Since that time they have lived at Victoria.

To this union were born ten children eight of whom survived. Relatives present for this occasion were their two sons Ralph and Bob of Tramping Lake and their five daughters, Mrs. B. C. Thompson (Edna) of Dewberry, Mrs John Schiele (Grace) of Blue Bell, Sask.; Mrs. Jack Henderson (Gladys) of New Westminster B.C.; Mrs. Ross McKinney (Marjorie) of Phippen Sask. Seventeen of their grandchildren were present and one great grandchild Danny Fisk of Vermilion.

A gift from the family of a TV set to the honored couple was announced with a wish for many more years of wedded happiness.

LIFETIME TRAINING

Where else in the Dominion of Canada can girls get the home-[redacted] and business and social [redacted] that the Alberta Schools of Agriculture and Home Economics offer? Where can they enter at more reasonable cost and without holding a High School Diploma? What other province has 3 Schools of Agriculture and Home Economics at widely scattered points to lessen transportation charges to a minimum for the largest number? The answer is no course for girls in Canada comparable to that offered at Olds, Vermilion and Fairview.

The homemaking subjects taught there include Sewing, Clothing Selection, Textiles, Nutrition, Cooking, Handicrafts, Laundering, Home Nursing, and Home Management. Horticulture, dairying and poultry with special emphasis on their relation to the homemaker's interests are also included in the course.

Considerable class time is devoted to English, Public Speaking, Community Organization and Social Relations. Mingling with fellow students of the same age helps the girls to gain social experience and confidence. Under the supervision of a carefully selected staff of instructors, girls are able to participate in a wide range of student activities.

Typewriting and record keeping make up another part of the girls' course with specific lectures given in Employment training which deals with job possibilities, opportunities and requirements in the business world. In this connection direct contact is often made between students and prospective employers.

The course lasts about five months — the end of October to the beginning of April and costs approximately $300.00. The opportunity to earn some money in return for part-time work in the [redacted] Dining Room, is open to a [redacted] number of girls. Pros-[redacted] students should write to [redacted] the Schools of Agriculture at Olds, Vermilion or Fairview, Alberta for further details and an application form.

Check that date on your label.

VALUE OF CAMPAIGNS –

The value of learning to swim lessons and highway safety driving campaigns have been brought forcibly and sadly home to Vermilion and district during the past few weeks. Such activities and efforts are not just passing fads there is a real and ever growing necessity for them. There is a tremendous growth in the number of people holidaying at lakes and rivers, of those boating and fishing which means that everyone should be able to swim. On the same basis the motorcar and use of the highways is a part of the life of this mechanical age therefore the realization that precautions must be taken all the time a person is using public thoroughfares, be they number one highways or market roads, must be continually brought home and impressed on each and every one of us.

It is no feather in your cap if your car will go 90 or 100 miles an hour, you had nothing to do with the engineering of the machine — you are only the nut on the steering wheel.

TRYING TO CATCH UP!!! –

The Standard staff has found that it is impossible to adequately cover the activities of Vermilion and district for the past three weeks all in one issue. In this respect there remain many news items to be written, much type to be set. Chief sufferers this week have been the country news bulletins, none of which appear in full but which will be continued next week. The other section to suffer is the local news column, and there seem to be hundreds of these interesting little items to be checked upon and written up, all of which takes more spare time than was available this week.

Vermilion's Fifty-second Fair Favored By Fine Weather

Vermilion's fifty-second annual fair continued the string of successes which have attended the event for many years past. Favoured by good weather, except for Saturday evening, attendance was on a par with the previous high figure and the show from start to finish appeared to go over extremely well. Patrons have expressed themselves as pleased with the 1957 Fair in all its aspects. Visitors from Edmonton and Calgary were particularly well pleased with the grandstand attractions which were clean, well presented and entertaining.

The 1957 livestock show drew unusual interest and the rings were crowded with interested onlookers during the entire judging periods. Starting with the splendid parade on the first morning of the fair, there seemed to be an enthusiasm which is essential to really put over an event of this kind.

PARADE WINNERS

The parade had representation from many local business and other organizations and for some time after the head of the parade entered the fair grounds, with the R.C.M.P. detachment in the lead, units of the parade were still crossing the railway at the west end of town. Prizes awarded by judges for the parade were as follows:

Commercial Section - 1st, Ireland Equipment Co., Walnoro Products, 2nd, Buston Cafe; 3rd, Heckbert's Insurance Service.

Retail Section—1st, Craig Bros. Ltd.; 2nd, Crown Lumber Co.; 3rd, Champion's Shoe Store.

Organizations, Town—1st, Vermilion Board of Trade; 2nd, Canadian Legion; 3rd, Knights of Columbus.

Organizations, Rural—1st, Palomino Ranch Boys, Dewberry; 2nd, Wildmere Girls' Club;

Youth, Individual -1st, Janice Walsh; 2nd, Laureen Ross; 3rd, Dean Jacula.

Groups—1st, C.G.I.T.; 2nd, Little League Baseball Club.

It is to be hoped that all business and organizational groups will make it a point to take part in the parade another year, as this feature draws large numbers of district friends to Vermilion, boosts the Fair and generally creates the proper atmosphere for the three-day event.

FARM BOYS & GIRLS CAMP

Teh 1957 Farm Boys and Girls Camp held at [redacted] School of Agriculture is report[redacted] elsewhere in the Standard and was a marked success. the Agricultural Society is deeply indebted to Mr. Bentley, Principal of the School and all associated with him for the fine manner in which this annual short course series is conducted. The boys and girls were guests of the Fair Board for the entire three days of the exhibition.

DISPLAYS

Displays of farm machinery and other equipment on the grounds and in the Display building drew marked attention from thousands of fair patrons and did their share to make the fair a success.

SPECIAL PRIZE WINNERS

Hall exhibits were unusually large in both the adult and junior sections. The ladies vied with one another in competing for the prizes and especially for the large number of "Specials" available for competition. Results in the "Specials" were as follows:

JUNIOR PRIZE AWARDS

Competition in the Junior Section drew entries from many district points and the exhibit of work drew much favorable comment. Miss Behnke's room of the Vermilion public schools won the Shield for the highest number of points accumulated by the pupils of one room, and Arlie Stephenson of Mannville won the free week's short course for 1958, being the winner of the highest number of individual points for any pupil.

HORSE CLASSES ATTRACT

In the livestock classes, which were well contested, Bryden Bros. of Mannville won out in Clydesdales, taking the John Bryden Memorial Cup over all comers. J. C. Tucker of Vermilion showed outstanding Percherons.

The light horse classes as usual drew considerable attention, the rings being crowded thoughout all judging sessions which were presided over by Ian S. Brown of Calgary. Local exhibitors did extremely well in competition with Edmonton and Calgary horses; Walter Fulkerth of Minburn, Dorothy Jean Stewart of Vermilion, G. A. M. Bell, Thos. Smith, the Strome family and other locals were winners in numerous events, while Tony Ziegler, Cliff Ross, J. Wieweger and other out-of-the-district exhibitors showed to marked advantage in some of the classes.

CATTLE SECTION

In cattle, Shorthorn sections, W. L. Robinson, Bert Duncan, J. Waring & Sons exhibited [redacted] fine animals, Mr Robinson [redacted] ing the champions. In Herefords, where exhibits were not as heavy as usual, H. Zeigler of V[redacted] ville and Homer Campbell of Clandonald divided honours. A notable exhibit of Aberdeen Angus was shown by Willis [redacted] of Vermilion in competition [redacted] the fine Warrilow herd from Minburn. Both of these exhibit[redacted] have reason to be [redacted] of the showing they made.

Unfortunately there was only one herd of Holsteins, that of Wm Lemiski of Vegreville; this is a fine herd and it is regrettable that they did not have competition. Jersey herds were shown by Dale Cole of Vegreville and Exman Bros. of Wetaskiwin and presented a splendid dairy section.

Major winners in sheep classes were Jos. Stewart of Vermilion and J. R. Stephenson of Mannville, while large hog classes were filled by herds from such well known breeders as MacMillan Bros., Ernest Prill, Knute Berg, Peter Wyllie, Jos. Stewart and others.

All stalls on the grounds were filled to capacity and not the least of the interest was manifested in the showing of the Vermilion, Mannville and Derwent Calf Clubs who featured the first day of the fair by a fine show and an admirable sale, reports of which will appear elsewhere.

This brief resume of Vermilion's annual exhibition will serve to indicate keen interest and already plans for the coming year are under the advisement of the directors who have every reason to be well satisfied with the results of this year's effort.

The Directors wish to extend their thanks to all who assisted in making the fair a decided success.

APPRECIATION

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the electors of Vermilion for the support accorded me at the polls on August 7th. I will endeavor to serve to the best of my ability for the advancement of the community.

THE BEST VOYAGE

A friend and I had been to Selkirk watching workmen make ready the S. S. Keenora for the coming trips to Norway House, and we had been so enthralled we very nearly booked passage.

That evening, I told another old friend about the day, and how we had enjoyed it, fancying ourselves going to Norway House, then further along to [redacted] where so much of [redacted] history began.

He listened, smiling. Then, perhaps because my face was flushed with pleasure at the prospects of such a journey, [redacted] "Well, don't feel [redacted] not making the actual voyage. Sometimes the very best adventures are only pure imagination."

Sounded very wise to me, that observation, so I nodded in agreement. "Guess you're right," I said.

"Bosh!" exclaimed my [redacted] "I'm not right and you know it. I'm surprised at you, agreeing with such poppycock. The adventures that are worthwhile are the real adventures, the trips you actually take, the things you get done. Never accept a dream in substitution for the real thing."

So this summer, when the ship is made ready, I propose to be aboard her, and travel to Norway House. Perhaps the voyage will have less adventure than the one I'm dreaming of, but it will be real.

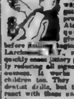
The best things, always are the real things. to build a good, sound garage is better than merely to dream of building castles. To write a few good sentences is better than merely to dream of turning out the great Canadian novel. To earn food, shelter and some leisure for your family is better than merely to dream of being a billionaire.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Facing The Chair

Y[redacted] a Boston court ruled that a tooth was worth $1,000. On that basis, your teeth are valued at $32,000 – if you still have them all.

Yet many people let these valuable assets fall into a dangerous state of decay because they can't bear the thought of dentist drills and extractions. In a few extreme cases, patients have actually become sick when they entered their dentist's office. Children are perhaps the worst offenders, often turning into unruly monsters [redacted] open [redacted]



One effective way dentists can get around the problem is to use Atarax, a tranquiliser syrup given 15 minutes before [redacted] begins. A dentist in Larch[redacted] N.Y., reports [redacted] quickly eases jittery patient[redacted] ly reducing all signs of [redacted] outbursts. It works wonders with children too. They still don't like dentist drills, but they no longer react with these uncontrolled tantrums.

However, the best way to avoid dental jitters is to prevent tooth decay. The American Dental Association recommends a complete dental examination at least twice a year – and more often if you get cavities easily. During these check ups, be sure to have your teeth cleaned thoroughly.

Don't forget the brushing-after-each meal routine. It is still one of the most effective ways to guard against dental trouble.

Betty Joan Hawley Guest of Honor At Bridal Shower

Mrs. Elias Dickson (nee Miss Betty Hawley) was guest of honor at several parties arranged for her, prior to her marriage to Mr. Elias Dickson at Vermilion on Aug. 3rd.

Mrs. Hugh Stewart held a delightful shower at her home south of town. Donald and Stanley assisted their mother in serving a dainty lunch, also in bringing in a large, well-filled hamper of beautiful gifts for Betty.

On another afternoon Mrs. W. Rorbuck, Mrs. Lyle Robinson and Mrs. Lloyd McFadden were cohostesses at a shower-tea at the home of Mrs. [redacted] Mrs. Robinson fittingly expressed good wishes to the young couple from the many friends present. Lovely gifts were then presented to the guest of honor.

An "office party" was also held in Edmonton for Betty by her co-workers.

Several Parties Honor Vermilion Bride-to-be

Miss Betty Bentley whose marriage to Mr. Rex Boake will take place in First United Church, Vermilion on Saturday, August 24, has been feted on several occasions. Miss Denise Birkness was hostess at a surprise shower in Edmonton when kitchen gifts were presented to the bride-elect. Assisting was Mrs. Keith McKenzie.

In Vermilion Mrs. D. R. Mitchell and Mrs. G. W. Sutherland entertained in honor of Miss Betty Bentley at the former's home. The bride-to-be was presented with a corsage, and then, later in the evening, with tea towels which the guests had embroidered during the course of the evening.

Saturday evening, August 3, the campus families of the School of Agriculture gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Palin to honor the bride-elect.

On behalf of the gathering Mr. D. C. Folk presented a gift to Miss Bentley and expressed their best wishes for a long and happy married life.

Farewell Held For Theatre Employee

Miss Maggie Tunney, formerly of Edgerton, who has been on the staff of the local theatre selling popcorn and confections, has resigned her position to return home. A surprise farewell party was tendered her by her many friends recently, and a good time was reported by all present. She was presented with a bed lamp.

Mannville Couple 40 Years Wed

MANNVILLE. — Approximately eighty friends and relations held a surprise party at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Boe on August 1st in the evening, the occasion being the Boe's 40th wedding anniversary. Mr. Oscar Younge presented them with a tri-light lamp and an electric kettle from the district friends, also a purse of money; from the family a coffee table and from the grandchildren a flower vase and copper bon bon dish. In well-chosen words Mr. Younge congratulated Mr. and Mrs. Boe and recalled being present at the wedding forty years ago, when a wooden platform was used to dance that night out in the open air. Upon taking a standing count it was apparent that twelve people were there who had been at the wedding forty years ago. The honored couple expressed thanks and extreme happiness at the wonderful surprise party. After partaking of a sumptuous lunch provided by the guests, in part, and many happy reminiscences, the party left for home. A point to be noted was the big crowd, despite one of the heaviest rains of the season Aug. 1st.

APPRECIATION

We wish to express our appreciation to the Dewberry community for the many kindnesses shown us when we moved from the district in June. Suitable [redacted] to relay our feelings are [redacted] to find. Suffice it to say that we enjoyed our associations with you people during the four years we spent among you. Our hope is that we may have opportunities in future years to share in further pleasures together. If at any time you have occasion to be in or near Mannville drop in to say hello. You will be most welcome company.

Irene, Angus and family.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to sincerely thank all our friends and neighbors who so kindly helped us in our recent bereavement in the loss of our father Mr Jacob Kaziak. All the expressions of sympathy and thoughtfulness shown was greatly appreciated as well as floral and memorial blessings.

Special thanks to Rev. Cherkowsky and the pallbearers, Dr. Cholod and the attending nurses, and staff of Myrnam hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Kaziak and family.

WILDMERE WINKS

Since last writing the Winks, our district and surrounding ones have received some tragic shocks. When one of our friends and neighbor, Mr. Harry Sweeney passed away so heroically saving his two children from drowning in the Battle River. He, himself giving his life. As Rev McKay said at his funeral, "Greater love hath no man who lays down his life for the ones he loves." Harry as he was known to everyone, was a prosperous farmer of the Thorncliffe district and he and his family were highly respected. The large funeral bespoke that as the church could not nearly hold the people and the long lines of cars that followed to the cemetery was testimony to the sympathy the whole countryside holds for the sorrowing wife and family and his sisters and brothers left to mourn his sudden tragic passing. May they all find comfort from God who is always near if we but seek Him.

News of another sad death was received on Saturday when word came that another young man in the person of Fred Johnson of Wainwright had passed away after a car accident near Daysland last Tuesday evening. We are very sorry to hear Mr. and Mrs. Glen Beckman were also injured in the same accident and are in the Daysland hospital. May they fully recover from their injuries. Fred grew up in the Vanesti district and has spent all his life in this part of Alberta. He married a Triangle girl, Irene Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Wilson, now of Vermilion. Five daughters were born to this union, all of whom survive him. Our community joins with the writer in extending deepest sympathy to the sorrowing wife and children left to mourn his passing, and to his sisters and brothers. May they all find comfort in the Great Redeemer.

Mr and Mrs John M Wilson of Wildmere and Mr and Mrs A. Morrison of Bowtell who had spent a short vacation, by car to Evansberg Indiana, to visit Sandy Morrison and family and Christina Morrison also came so a nice chat was had. They also had a short trip into Kentucky State. Mrs Wilson reports the flowers don't have the lovely perfume like they do in Alberta. She said the roses and sweet peas have a very faint odor. All really enjoyed their trip. They passed through the tornado torn strip in North Dakota. It must have been terrible to be in its path, roofs torn off and stairways with the carpets still on [redacted] broken, and trees uprooted.

Mrs Chas. Morand of Calgary spent a week visiting her brothers, William, Adam and Albert Smith, and her sister, Mrs. C. Cruthers. She called on Mrs. Ruud of Triangle district. While here she got a few berries to make jam and jelly to take home. You were warm anyway, while you picked berries June. We won't tell what you wore.

We hope our Standard staff all feel relaxed after their holidays. We won't say how much we missed our paper. Everyone needs a break from the steady grind.

Mrs. Colburn Sr has returned to her home at the Coast after visiting a short while with her daughter, Mrs. Howard, and son Howard here.

Lindy Fadden and family enjoyed a short visit from Mr Reid, an uncle of Lindy's, from Quebec. Mr Reid also visited with his son at Lloydminster. He really liked this part of Alberta.

On Sunday Mr and Mrs. Wallington and Wm. Smith went to Lloydminster to see the C.N.R.'s museum train that spent two days there. It was most interesting to see all the old time things, coaches and engines, and to see how much wood was used in their manufacture. It's well worth travelling a distance to see.

On Saturday the Wildmere W. I. held a bake sale at Billy McLaughlin's store in Vermilion. There was no paper to advertise it. We wish to thank everyone who bought and made it a success despite the very wet afternoon, and especially thank Mr and Mrs McLaughlin for all the kindness shown to us. Nothing was too much trouble. Thanks again folks.

Mr and Mrs George Cruthers and sons Murray and Robert and Warren Marfleet of town, also Mr and Mrs. Charlie Sweeney and family of Basswood all visited at the C. Cruthers home on [redacted]

Mr and Mrs Geo Grimble and two daughters of Kansas, U.S.A. are visiting this week at their cousins Mr and Mrs F. Gibson of Basswood. Last week Mr and Mrs Dan Ford and family of Edmonton visited at the same home.

Take a second look . . . get the true picture

There's nothing new about a schoolboy dashing out at the last minute. But that big yellow bus is something new . . . something important to you even though you'll never use it. For this is a district high school bus picking up its morning load of farm children.

Not so long ago, the "little red school house" was the end of education for the majority of these children. Now they ride the yellow bus to high school—and may go on to an agricultural college afterwards.

Parents are encouraging their children to get more education so that when they have taken over the farm they'll have a thorough knowledge of agricultural sciences and business management, both so necessary to the production of good and plentiful crops, on a profitable basis.

The prosperity we all enjoy would be impossible if today's farmers weren't doing such a fine job. But those bright, eager children on the yellow bus, tomorrow's farmers, will make an even greater contribution to this country's progress. They'll be able to do this because they will be trained in newer and better farm practices, including the use of farm machinery which will be "revolutionary" even by today's high standards.

Things You'll Want To Know About Chest X-rays

Tuberculosis in the lungs can be found long before you feel sick. An X-ray picture of the chest and examination by a doctor will tell whether or not you have tuberculosis. When TB is found early and treated promptly, patients almost always recover. The earlier a diagnosis is made and treatment started the shorter will be the course of the illness.

When TB germs get into the body they usually enter the lungs. Then one of three things can happen:

1. A healthy body may fight and defeat the germs. This is likely to happen if the germs are few in number. Many people do not know that their bodies have fought a round with tuberculosis and won. Why X-ray in this case — because the scars will show on the lungs letting the doctor know TB has already been beaten once.

2. The second thing that may happen is that the body resistance may fail to defeat the germs, either because there are too many germs or because body resistance has been lowered. However, although the body may not defeat the germs it may be able to stop them from spreading. Neither side is winning. It's a draw. Why X-ray in this case? Because this could develop into a dangerous state of affairs. Everything should be done to tip the balance in favor of the body. The sooner this state of affairs is known the better so that everything can be done to give body resistance a chance.

3. Sometimes the TB germs have attacked in such numbers and with such power that they are too much for the body's defences. They gain the upper hand and spread. Though the person losing the battle may not feel sick immediately he is in for a bad time. Soon he will begin to lose his pep and feel tired, lose weight, develop a cough and perhaps spit blood. Why X-ray in this case? Because the exact extent of the danger should be known and proper treatment begun at once. There is no time to lose. Early discovery helps recovery.

The mobile X-ray unit will be in Vermilion in September and every person over four years of age will be eligible for a chest X-ray. The X-ray is free of charge, completely painless and will be done quickly. Everyone is urged to take advantage of this opportunity as the unit only comes once in every 5 or 6 years. Every year the mobile X-ray unit discovers tuberculosis or other diseases in a number of people who thought they were completely healthy. The longer these unknown cases remain undiagnosed the longer will be the course of treatment they will eventually need. They are also spreading infection to their family and to anyone else they come in contact with.

At the moment volunteer helpers are taking advance registration cards to every home and business establishment in Vermilion and surrounding district. When these cards have been filled in a definite appointment will be mailed to each person so as to avoid any undue waiting when the X-ray is being taken. School children will be X-rayed in groups from school and their names need not be entered on the advance registration card.

If any family does not receive an advance registration card they can get one by phoning the Health Unit at Vermilion 302.

About two or three weeks after the X-ray has been taken you and your doctor will be notified if anything is found out. If you are not notified it means that the X-ray was normal.

Once again, everyone is urged to have a chest X-ray in September as it may save much sickness and unhappiness in future years.

District Governor Visits Vermilion Rotary Club

A. J. "Art" Balfour of Grande Prairie, governor for Rotary district No. 536 visited the Vermilion club on Friday. Mrs. Balfour accompanied the governor on his trip around the clubs of the district.

Rotarians and Rotary Anns gathered at St. Saviour's parish hall where a banquet was held in honor of the governor and his wife.

Mr Balfour gave the meeting a very inspiring address on the principles of Rotary and how the Four-Way Test and the Rotary motto "Service above Self" is promoting friendly relations in communities in this country and all over the world.

A full report on Mr. Balfour's address will be found elsewhere in the Standard.

Along with the President Tom McPherson and Mrs. McPherson at the head table were the guests Art and Mrs Balfour and Mr and Mrs J R Robson, Mr and Mrs Gil Rampling, Mr and Mrs Ken Greenwood and Mr and Mrs Marshall Tindall of Lloydminster.

Ken Greenwood introduced the speaker. They were old friends at Grande Prairie. Mr Greenwood said that Mr Balfour for the past ten years had been the manager of the Grande Prairie radio station. He has been prominent for many years in community projects in his home town and throughout Northern Alberta.

The speaker was thanked by Jim Robson who presented a key of the town to indicate emblematically the good fellowship felt in this club for the governor and his wife.

Mr and Mrs Corley brought as their guest Mrs Corley's sister Mrs Grace Adam of Edmonton.

The Rotarians adjourned to the Ritz banquet room at 9 p.m. for a club assembly with governor Balfour while the ladies remained at the parish hall to play bridge. After the assembly there was a further gathering and social hour at the hall.

During the afternoon the Rotary Anns held a tea at Mrs McPherson's in honor of Mrs Balfour.

Band Concert, Ball Tourney Rained Out

The band concert to have been given by the Edmonton Shrine band last Sunday Aug 11th, as well as the provincial ladies' fast ball play-offs, were rained out. Just when the events will take place is not known by the Standard at press time.

CLAYSMORE CLIPPINGS

John Stewart and crew have been putting up hay for Mrs. L. Van Nest and Mr N. McHardy.

The elevators agents and families are all away on holidays. The Van Nest boys are doing the chores in their absence.

The A. Olstad family motored to Fort St John, B.C. to visit Mrs Olstad's parents, Mr and Mrs M Karlstrom and other relatives.

Mr and Mrs E. Latcombe and family are spending two weeks with relatives at the West coast.

Mr and Mrs J. Horne and family spent a few days in Edmonton, Red Deer and Sylvan Lake.

Junior Williamson had his house moved on to the foundation last week and they are busy getting it ready to move in to.

The Rev. I. Holter of Mannville called on friends in and around Claysmore Thursday afternoon.

The late rains are holding up the haying and will make the crops late as there is quite a bit of second growth.

Raspberries are good in the [illegible] gardens, also late vegetables. Some vegetables will be too late to mature before early frost, however.

We note the crows, starlings and blackbirds are gathering in flocks and it reminds us our summer is nearing the end, and it won't be long now until fall.

Bill Horne of Red Deer visited at the home of his brother, Mr and Mrs. J. Horne and family last week end and accompanied them on their holiday.

Volunteer workers of the Canadian Red Cross Women's Work Committee made 264,201 knitted and sewn articles for distribution overseas in 1956.

WILL YOUR HOME ALWAYS BELONG TO YOUR FAMILY?

Here's how you can be sure:

For only a small amount in addition to your normal mortgage repayments you can have the comforting knowledge that should anything happen to you, your family will have a home they can call their own.

The Mutual Life of Canada mortgage policy insures your life for the entire time you are repaying your mortgage. Should you die during that period, the outstanding amount can be paid off immediately, thus giving your family debt-free ownership of their home.

Should you live and pay off the mortgage yourself the policy will continue to provide protection and savings. It will still share in Mutual Life of Canada dividends, thus constantly increasing in value.

There is a skilled, experienced Mutual Life of Canada representative in your area. He will be glad to call on you — without obligation — and discuss mortgage insurance or any of your other insurance problems with you. Give him a call soon.

NEWS from ISLAY

Mr. and Mrs. R. Tealey were week end visitors to Fort Saskatchewan and Edmonton. Jack stayed at the Jimmie Barnetts at the Fort for a week.

The Belton and Swan families went to Meadow Lake area to gather blueberries and found the picking good.

The W. M. S. Rally which was planned for September 5 has to be set for the following Thursday—September 12—on account of the W. M. S. St. Paul Presbyterial being held at Vilna that date.

The Sunday School Picnic will be held on the school grounds Tuesday 27 of August. Everyone is to bring their own cup, buns and cookies.

Mrs. W. McCaughan, Rod and Randy have returned from Chilliwack, B. C.

Mr and Mrs. Eglauer, Anne, Tom and Wayne of Blackfoot were Sunday visitors at the Dave Martin home.

Today Tuesday we hear exceptionally good results of our Grade IX students. Final results will be given when all have been contacted.

Today I was sorry to have missed a caller from Ontario. The boy said he was Alex Gilchrist's grandson. He had inquired at the P. O. for what had been the Gilchrist house. He would be Hunter Gilchrist's son. Some of our older settlers will remember.

We are needing work tables for some of our Sunday School classes. Maybe there are card tables or other tables in the area not needed that could be used, the S. S. would be glad to have them.

There is to be a T. B. Clinic here early in September, possibly in the second week. Watch for your card. Today Mrs. McLennan and the writer called on some and at Mrs. Landels we found her in the garden transplanting strawberries for the birds for next year. There we had a good cup of tea made on a special maker that was brought from Holland, very lovely.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Animals and birds delightful as scenery on a motor trip can present worries for the driver.

Sometimes a startled deer charges in front of a car, or a bird will fly into a windshield.

No driver likes to hit an animal. It's unpleasant, it can be dangerous and it's often wasteful. For example, skunks, frequent highway visitors, are important to our food supply since they feed off mice and beetles which destroy crops. And birds help keep the insect population under control.

You can protect yourself and our animal friends by following these simple rules:

1. Blink your lights at night to warn animals on the road. A steady beam will hypnotize them into immobility. Warn them of your approach in the daytime by honking the horn; they may literally become scared stiff if startled.

2. Warn birds along a fence by honking your horn. When you are too near they become startled and are liable to head into the car.

3. Slow down when you see a herd-type animal such as a deer. One such animal crossing the road will usually be followed by others.

4. Be on the lookout when driving through recently harvested farm land. Animals are likely to be on the move in search of new food sources.

REMEMBER WHEN?

Historic days of wood-burning locomotives and gas-lit passenger cars are brought to life on the Canadian National Railways museum train which will be on public exhibit in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta during June, July and August. Seen with the train, above, is locomotive No. 40, built in 1872 and a saddle-tank switcher built in 1894. In the inset is the ornate interior of the museum train's sleeping car, typical of those in service near the turn of the century. Other items in the museum train's consist include a Mogul-type switcher made in 1900; a passenger coach of the 1880's, and three baggage cars, converted to museum halls, containing a wealth of historic railway material.

Short Course and Fair Camp Proves Popular With Juniors

Some 125 boys and girls from Vermilion and surrounding districts attended the Short Course and Fair Camp sponsored by the Agricultural Society in connection with the Fair.

This popular summer event provides young people from the rural homes with a wonderful holiday where they have an active program of instruction and recreation at the School of Agriculture. Because it is associated with the Fair they have the opportunity to learn a great deal about exhibiting and judging all the different kinds of entries typically shown at agricultural fairs.

A feature of their program is the project work done in shops, classrooms and laboratories at the school. The boys had woodwork, field crops and livestock classes while the girls prepared exhibits of cooking, sewing and handicrafts. All their work in these classes was judged and scored along with a general quiz on other topics in the program. Prizes for aggregate scores were awarded to girls as follows.

A gold watch donated by the T. Eaton Company to Dorothy Tovell of Vermilion. Other prizes donated by the Line Elevators' Farm Service: Jean Forbes, Vermilion, Marilynne Blasetti, Mannville, Audrey Aarbo, Vermilion, Phyllis Lynkowski, Marnam.

Awards for highest aggregate standing of boys were to Douglas Livingstone, Mannville, Tom Kibblewhite, Vermilion, Leo Scott, Edgerton, Eldon Giles, Marwayne and Fred Meyer of Irma.

At the closing dinner sponsored by the Alberta Wheat Pool, Mr. Art Christensen, travelling superintendent for the Pool, congratulated the young people for their interest and enthusiasm in attending the short course and assured them of the support they would receive for efforts to improve their knowledge and skill in activities relating to farming and homemaking.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Tony Ziegler, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lyle Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McFadden.

Cadets, Leaders Attend Camp

MANNVILLE — Cadets of this district are attending summer camp at Vernon, B.C. Those boys taking a two weeks course include Ian Van Dusen, Robert Panter and Victor Pedersen. Cadets remaining for the seven weeks course are Harry Rathje, Tom Laidler and Iner Christenson. Leader Don Upton accompanied them as instructor at the camp.

Medical Milestones

Medical Science Helps Diabetic Women

Development of a pill capable of lowering blood sugar in many diabetics has refocused world attention on the still mysterious disease of diabetes.

We know that this disease in its most common form is due to insufficient secretion of a hormone called insulin by the pancreas, a gland located behind the stomach. We have also learned to control the disease by insulin injections, a fact for which we are indebted to the Canadian doctors F. G. Banting and C. H. Best.

However, we still do not know the ultimate cause of diabetes, nor do we know why it affects more women than men. Of some 200,000 diabetics in Canada today, about 13[illegible],000 are women.

Strangely enough, before the age of 45, both sexes are equally susceptible to the disease. After 45, however, twice as many women as men become diabetics. Statistical studies have also shown that married women run twice as prone to the disease as single women, and that the susceptibility to diabetes increases with the number of children borne by a mother.

Medical men are not quite sure why this is so, but they all agree that, in addition to being more prone to diabetes, women have more difficulty than men in controlling their condition. This is due to physiological reasons as well as to the fact that women's manifold duties as housewives and mothers make it very difficult for them to be as careful about their diet and their regular insulin injections as they should.

Consequently the new oral anti-diabetic drug called Orinase, which was originally developed in Germany, and is now produced in Canada by Hoechst Pharmaceuticals of Montreal, may be even more of a boon to women than to men. In clinical trials involving 20,000 diabetics, Orinase proved to be effective and safe in four out of five patients over 40 years of age. Since 75% of all diabetics are over 40, the drug is thus expected to enable the majority of diabetic men — and, even more so, women — to enjoy a new freedom — the freedom from insulin injections.

In the year ending June 1 1957, the consumer price index increased by 3.2 per cent to a new record high. Of the indexes several components, since 1949 shelter has shown the greatest increase, clothing the smallest increase.

Booher Murder Case Featured In 'Liberty'

Memories of many in this area were carried back to the terrible Booher murder case north of Mannville by the August issue of Liberty, the story being fully retold in that magazine. By a strange coincidence both the RCMP officers who worked on and solved the case were Vermilion men, the late Const. Fred Olsen and Inspector W. F. Hancock. The latter was probably the first provincial police officer to be stationed in Vermilion and will still be recalled by old timers hereabouts, while Constable Olsen was here at the time of the quadruple killing.

ARTISTRY IN THE KITCHEN

Everyone's getting "in the act" today, turning into an artist—from [illegible] grandmothers and junior [illegible]. The cook gets her chance when she dreams up gorgeous new ways to bedeck plain everyday "vittles".

Oh, yes indeed, foods in cans and frozen packages are fine to [illegible] but how easy it is to [illegible] with her own glamour [illegible] "puts the [illegible] the more colourful garnishes [illegible] special attention to the Spring [illegible] appetites.

[illegible] the artistic cook loves with cans of macaroni in cheese sauce [illegible] and she's beautified them with strips of cheese, golden fish sticks and [illegible] of peas. Or take the case of [illegible]. Milady tops them with [illegible] with tomato sauce, and [illegible] the whole with a sprinkling of grated cheese and maybe chopped ripe olives. No wonder menfolk rave about her way with a supper when she offers them such "artistic" suppers as these.

MACARONI 'N FISH STICK [illegible]

2 cans (15 ounce size) macaroni with cheese sauce
2 cups cooked peas
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 package frozen fish sticks
8-10 strips sharp process cheese

Mix macaroni, peas and mustard in a shallow baking dish. Arrange fish sticks and cheese strips alternately on top. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 25 minutes. 4 or 5 servings.

DECORATE SOUP FOR SPRING

Decorate your soup with Spring trimmings appropriate to the season, either cream of asparagus or green pea soup lend bright colours. For decoration, float blossom-like slices of orange carrot (notched as daisies) on top. Thin slices of raw radish or cucumber are fetching too. Happily these also fit the lenten need for meatless meals.

MAIN OYSTER AND POTATO SOUP

Perfect partners in the soup bottle are frozen oyster stew and potato soup. So suitable for Lent. Slide a can of each soup into a pan, pour in 1½ cans milk. Add 2 cups peas or whole kernel corn (or other vegetable). Heat and stir to blend. Oh, what a beauty of a chowder! Ladle into bowls and [illegible] cheese. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

"HELLO, HOMEMAKERS"

In two weeks or less Jim and Jane go back to school: or perhaps to for the first time. With shining faces, in crisp new clothes and polished shoes, the children start out proudly for school. Mother's problem at the moment is the purchase or manufacture of those new crisp clothes and polished shoes.

Buying Children's Clothes

Children's clothes take a lot of wear and tear so buy garments that will take it. There are several points which should apply to all childrens' clothes: styled for growth, but not too large for ease of movement; well constructed to withstand hard wear; washable whenever possible; easy for little ones to get into by themselves; becoming and satisfying to child in color and style; comfortably and correctly fitted.

To Check Fit, Check these Points

Does the neckline or collar fit comfortably without gapping, binding or causing irritation?

Is there plenty of ease through body and shoulders? Look for features that give comfort, such as ample gathers, tucks.

Do sleeves have roomy armholes that won't bind or pull out with strain? Short sleeves with a loose cuff, long sleeves bloused with a knitted band, or slightly loose cuffs are most comfortable.

Is the waistline a little loose and longer than normal to allow for growth and more months of wear? Partially elasticized waists allow fullness to adjust to the growing body.

Are blouses and shirt-tails long enough to tuck in securely?

Are there deep hems in dresses and trouser cuffs to allow for the lengthening? (At least 2 in. is preferable.)

Are slacks or skirts short enough to prevent tripping?

Is there room in jackets, coats and snowsuits to fit over other clothing?

Is the garment big enough to allow for growth, but not too big for comfort? If too big, garments sometimes wear out before they're grown into.

Tip For the Week

Before a new garment is worn touch the centre of each new button with colorless nail polish. It seals the thread and the button stays on.

At canning time you'll want to keep these tips in mind for an excellent product.

Pickles: Hollow pickles are development of the cucumber or by allowing too long a time to elapse between gathering and pickling.

Pickles become soft due to too weak a brine or inferior grades of vinegar or diluting the vinegar too much. Pickles will also soften if they are boiled too long in recipes that call for simmering.

Pure cider vinegar is the best vinegar to use in brining or pickling.

Jellies: Jelly is tough or stringy because too small of a quantity of sugar was used or because jelly was boiled too long.

Crystals appear in jelly because too much sugar was used or boiling too long before sugar was added to juice, so that the two were not boiled together long enough. If sugar syrup spatters on the side of the pan, the crystals which form may be carried into the jelly glasses while pouring causing the jelly to become seeded with crystals.

Cloudy jelly may be caused by cooking the fruit too long before straining off the juice, or by not using sufficient care in straining the juice. Apple and crabapple jellies often become cloudy sometime after they are made. This is due to the use of partly green fruit, the starch in the fruit probably causing the cloudy appearance.

Wild Fruits

Have you a supply of wild fruits you don't know how to use? There are recipes for wild fruits available from my office in Wainwright.

Successful Farm Women's Week Held At V.S.A.

The Farm Women's Week at the School of Agriculture again attracted a good attendance of ladies who enjoyed this annual event planned for their particular benefit and enjoyment.

A beautiful display of a wide variety of handicrafts was a feature of the opening day's program. Members of the Lloydminster Art Club contributed a collection of paintings which attracted widespread interest and inaugurated discussions on the possibilities of organizing a similar club in Vermilion. Mr. Lindsay Evans, Mr. Howard Sturgis and others whose paintings were included in the display works.

A considerable variety of crafts done by members of the Vermilion Handicraft Guild were shown. Explanations and demonstrations to interested observers were given by Mrs. Wm. Baranyk, Mrs. K. M. Stone and Mrs. Wm. Dixon.

Mrs. W. N. Pidruchney gave an interesting commentary on techniques employed and principles observed in the preparation of many beautiful samples of crafts done by ladies at Vegreville.

The second day of the program featured topics relating to sewing and clothing selection. The third day was devoted largely to a study of home furnishings. On both days ladies attending the course participated in study projects conducted on a work shop basis and were most enthusiastic in their appreciation of the information and ideas obtained.

Other topics included in the four-day program were: "Life in the Netherlands", a beautifully illustrated lecture by Mrs. Van Houton; "Fire Protection in the Home" by Mr. J. A. R. Palin, "Where the Wool Comes From" by Mr. J. F. Harcus and "Work Table and Counter Surfaces" by Mr. D. C. Folk.

Miss Margaret Wright of the V.S.A. staff dealt with "When Doing the Family Shopping" and Miss Bernice Murray, District Home Economist, had numerous suggestions on "Small Kitchen Equipment".

A demonstration and lecture on "Electronic Cooking" by Miss Gwen McLean, Canadian Utilities, aroused widespread interest and gave the ladies an insight to something new that the future holds for them.

Mr. Ross Boake of Vermilion described some of the new drugs and drug products for home and farm use. The valuable information given to them in Mr. Boake's address as well as that brought out in answer to their questions was much appreciated by the ladies.

Guest speaker at the closing banquet was the Rev. Dr. Kenneth Prior, a former V.S.A. student who has spent some thirty years as an agricultural missionary in Africa. In 1955 when the University of Alberta marked the opening of the new Agriculture building by conferring Doctor of Law degrees in recognition of meritorious service in the field of Agriculture, Kenneth Prior was one of the two men so honored. His interesting and inspiring address with frequent reference to his overseas experience was keenly enjoyed by all.

Arrangements for the Farm Women's Week program were made jointly by members of the School of Agriculture staff and the Women's Extension Service branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture under the direction of Mrs. V. G. Macdonald assisted by Miss Helen Moorson, Clothing Specialist, and Miss Carol Sanderson, Home Designing Specialist.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

by KEN MASON

Discussions Continue On Proposed New Deal in Municipal Financing

EDMONTON — In case you were wondering, the proposed "new deal" in municipal financing is not dead.

Provincial government and municipal officials are still embroiled in detailed discussions, kicking back and forth various suggestions aimed at revamping and streamlining the existing alignment of revenues and responsibilities.

Following a meeting last week Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinman said a "considerable degree of agreement" has been reached in discussions although from an observer's standpoint it would appear the main point of agreement is that problems exist and must be tackled.

The meeting was attended by five cabinet ministers along with representatives of rural and urban municipalities, school boards and hospital boards.

Similar meetings have been going on now for about two years, as a result of the government's expressed desire to establish a new system of distributing and sharing the total amount of money available in the province to finance municipal and provincial operations.

It all started with the provincial treasurer's call for a "new deal" aimed at giving municipal authorities enough money to be self sufficient without having to call on the province for help and at reducing the load carried by the property owner.

Whether a definite plan will evolve in time for discussion and possible implementation during the next session of the legislature is anyone's guess. The problem is a big and difficult one and there's a lot of talking still to be done before a final pattern emerges.

One interesting suggestion discussed at last week's meeting was a possible "legislative maximum" on municipal tax rates.

Under this proposal a ceiling would be placed on municipal mill rates by provincial law. Any local council wanting to go above the ceiling would have to call a vote and obtain approval from its ratepayers.

This could go a long way toward promoting public awareness of what is being done with the taxpayers money, and at the same time give the taxpayers greater control over municipal spending.

Mr. Hinman has said repeatedly that one of the major problems is public apathy toward municipal government with the result that the people don't appreciate that their money is being spent when civic projects are launched.

With a maximum mill rate the taxpayers would exercise the final word on municipal spending above a certain level.

Although many angles are being discussed the provincial and municipal lawmakers have one major fact before them. There is only a certain amount of money [illegible] in the province and [illegible] must come [illegible] to finance [illegible] government.

If the municipalities are to have more money the province will [illegible] spend less. If the public demands more services it must be prepared to pay more.

More Roads Built This Year

Highways Minister Taylor announced last week that this year's road grading program is 40 per cent completed compared with 23 per cent finished at the same time last year. More than 122 miles of new grade have been [illegible].

Base course work, on the other hand, is lagging behind with 25 per cent completed as against 40 per cent at the same time last year.

The asphalt surfacing program is 42 per cent completed compared with 35 per cent last year, while seal coating is 34 per cent completed far ahead of last year's 8 per cent.

In terms of distance contractors have applied more than 70 miles of base course, more than 130 miles of asphalt surfacing and more than 30 miles of final seal coating.

Drier weather is responsible for the overall speed-up in work. The department lost 774 shifts through rain and bad weather last year compared with 880 this year. For some reason, however, rain has had a more serious effect this year on base course work.

First Canadian Girl Guides In St. Catharine's

The Girl Guide movement in Canada began with the organization of a company at St. Catharines in 1910, one year after the movement began in England according to the new Encyclopedia Canadiana.

Today more than 100,000 Canadian girls are learning self reliance, observation and thoughtfulness for others through the movement.

Its major aim is to offer a program of training in citizenship. Girls are encouraged to accept responsibility, and to learn for themselves many useful crafts and services.

The Brownie branch of Guiding admits girls of eight to 11 years, the Guide branch is for girls from 11 to 16 and Ranger branch, for older girls, provides a means of training leaders.

Outdoor meetings, camping, hiking, woodcraft and nature lore offer healthy adventure and improve physical fitness. The Girl Guide pledges herself to do her duty to God and the reigning monarch, to help other people at all times, and to obey the Guide law.

NEWS from DEWBERRY

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ryan (nee Marion Mathison) who were married recently.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery to Mrs. Elsie Curtis who is a patient in the University hospital, Mrs. Monica Garnier who is in the Islay hospital and Mr Gus Garnier who is also in the Islay hospital.

We are pleased to see Mrs. John Romanchuk and Mrs Keith Brett home and looking well after their appendectomies.

Mr and Mrs. Hornigold have their nieces Bernice and Beverly Simpson of Edmonton staying with them while their parents are on a trip through Eastern Canada.

Miss Bonny Isert of Port Coquitlam, B.C. has been spending a month's vacation with relatives north of Dewberry. Bonny and her cousins Faye and Patsy Haskell spent a few days in Edmonton.

Mrs Chris Haskell spent some time in Quebec with her mother who had not been well.

Mr and Mrs. Sol Lemp and family report having spent a wonderful holiday. They went to the States via Vancouver. The children too must have enjoyed it as when they got to Edmonton they wanted to go on another trip right away.

Mr and Mrs. Neal Jones and family and Mrs. Ewan had a very pleasant trip through Eastern Canada and the States via Winnipeg, London, Windsor, Detroit and Minneapolis. While at Detroit they took in a big league ball game, Yankees vs the Detroit Tigers.

After one day at home Mrs. Jones and Cheryl left for the C G I T camp at Lake Wabamun where Mrs. Jones was one of the leaders.

Visiting at the Neal Jones' home are Shari and Susan Barr of Edmonton. They came with Isabelle who had stayed with them while her mother was at the camp.

Visiting at the Neal Jones' are Mr and Mrs. Don Charlwood and daughters Jan, Sue and Doreen. They have just been travelling through Europe, now Canada. Mr Charlwood is an author of no mean repute. He is gathering material for his new book. Mrs. Charlwood would be known to many Dewberry people as Nellie East.

Congratulations to Miss Donna Young whose horse Sindar took second prize in the light horse show at Vermilion fair also a third prize winner Banner. The latter horse would have taken higher honors but was marked on the legs in scrimmages with some of the older horses.

It was rather disappointing that there were no entries from Dewberry in the school and other exhibits at the fair.

The writer attended the Vermilion fair on Saturday and while walking round met a Dewberry lady who said she had been at the picture show. On being asked how she liked it she said, "Good, it was real good, I really enjoyed it. I cried nearly all the time." Now we know what is meant by the expression "An Englishman takes his pleasures sadly." Ah me!

Several teen-agers attended the short course at the V.S.A. and report a good time.

Mr. Lawrence Witzaney has accepted a post in the Dewberry Co-op. He is at the meat counter.

The Dewberry C.W.L. will hold their monthly meeting on the 22nd at the home of Mrs. Philbin.

The Eastern All Stars played the Crystal Glass of Edmonton two games at Edmonton and two at Heinsburg. Results were -- Edmonton 9, All Stars 0; Edmonton 10, A.S. 2; Edmonton 7, A.S. 2; Edmonton 7, A.S. 3.

The Juvenile games will be starting soon. Watch posters for further announcements.

Some one remarked to me that I had missed some news. Well folks, I can only put in what I am told. Now it's up to you if you want the Dewberry news to continue to either tell me or drop a note in the post office.

Mr Bill Wilkinson motored to Lloydminster and spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Pierce and son.

"A Stranger In The Arctic"
A Story of the Far North

by
NADEEN COOPER WAITE
(Fort Good Hope, N.W.T. 1952)

THE STORY SO FAR

Sullen, aloof, taciturn, "Jess" Cully comes into the north — a stranger. His past remains a mystery to all for he makes no friends. Cully "buys" for a wife young pretty Rosa Ringbuk, who loves Manuel Vitaleeny. Cully took his bride to his lonely but well built and equipped cabin in the wilds, but Rosa's heart remained with Manuel.

A year passes. A baby boy is born to Cully and Rosa but dies, a victim of TB. They return to their cabin, Cully more surly than ever. Manuel visits Rosa while Cully is away and tells her to come to him whenever she needs help. Again he visits her, but Cully sees him leaving over the river ice which is beginning to break up. Flying into a rage he strikes Rosa who is standing beside her pet wolf, now fully grown and chained to a post. The wolf attacks Cully, slashing his arm and face, ripping out an eye. Rosa runs toward Manuel, now far out on the river ice, but Cully gets away from the wolf, gets his dog team and overtakes her. He chokes her to death, with Manuel vainly trying to stop him. Then when Manuel's back is turned, Cully slays him with an axe. Weighting down the bodies, he drops them into a fissure in the river ice. Then returning to the cabin he kills the wolf. A few days later he goes to Fort Good Hope and reports the deaths to the R.C.M.P. who apparently accepts his explanation of the tragedy. Two years pass in which weird stories of Cully's relentless hunting of wolves and his extreme cruelty to trapped animals are spread by natives. They believe he is possessed of an evil spirit. Finally Cully traps a huge timber wolf.

Now go on with the story

As he advanced toward the animal, whip ready, Cully recalled with sadistic pleasure the numerous wolves he had beaten and killed. How he had made them cower and cringe as the cruel whip bit into their flesh! Saliva flowed into his mouth and a thrill coursed his blood.

The animal, crouched and snarling, tensed as Cully grew nearer. Suddenly, with a whistling swish the heavy thongs of the whip came down across its back. It flinched at the bite of this strange weapon then, green sparks shooting from its glaring eyes, it made a desperate endeavor to free itself from the thing which held it captive. Unexpectedly, Cully halted the next blow on the upswing. He had become inspired with a new idea of humiliation for this ugly beast. For his eye had noted familiar markings and he recognized that this animal greatly resembled the one which had been Rosa's pet. He resolved to spare this one's hide from whip stripes; to skin and tan it for a rug. It would lie upon the floor of his cabin helplessly trodden underfoot and Cully would be constantly reminded of his supremacy over it and all its kind. Picking up his rifle he quickly despatched the wolf and skinned it on the spot.

It had been a marvelous idea, thought Cully, some months later as he looked with satisfaction at the wolf. There it lay, ignominiously stripped of all its wild and ferocious living glory, — a rug upon the floor. Stretched flat but for the head, it was complete even to the nails on the feet. Cully had mounted the head and the mouth stretched open showing the wicked teeth and the glass eyes mounted in eye sockets were all it needed for just the right touch. Cully felt a glow of inner satisfaction as he regarded his handiwork.

One stormy November night Cully sat in his cabin reading when the wind, which had been growing in force, suddenly caused the door to blow open. Hurriedly Cully closed and locked it and as he resettled himself to his reading, he thought he saw the wolf's eyes move! He realized of course that this was a trick of the light. But the incident gave him a new trend of thought. He deliberated over the tricks imagination can play on one, and, ever proud of his own vivid imagination, began to contemplate what would occur if he could exert enough influence over an inanimate object to make it appear to come to life.

He was gazing at the wolf-rug while pondering thusly and again the flickering lamplight caused the eyes to gleam animatedly. "Of course," he thought, "it is the very thing to experiment upon. With my will-power and ability for intense concentration, it should be possible to make it actually seem to live again!" Cully felt an exhilaration at the thought and as he considered it he became obsessed with it. To humiliate the creature — to give it seeming life then, at the cessation of his life-giving thoughts to mentally thrust it back to its humble servitude — a rug upon the floor. It was just what he needed, more fuel to feed the cooling fires of his revenge. For he had not been able to trap any wolves of late nor had he seen signs of any in the large area he hunted. They had either gravitated to better hunting grounds or they were instinctively avoiding the area where so many of their brethren had been destroyed.

Wheat Pool Appoint Lamont Man To Seed Division

A prominent farm official, Gordon L. Harrold, of Lamont, has been appointed managing director of the Alberta Wheat Pool's newly formed Seed Division. This announcement was made in Calgary by A. T. Baker, general manager of the Alberta Wheat Pool.

The Seed Division was set up following the purchase of the properties of the Alberta Seed Growers' Co-operative Limited, and commencing Aug. 1st has handled forage and cereal seed crops for Alberta farmers.

Mr Harrold, an operating farmer in the Lamont district, has been active in farm organizations for many years. He is vice-chairman of Alberta Wheat Pool's Board of Directors, a director of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, and last January was elected president of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture. Mr Harrold has represented farm people on a number of occasions at enquiries and hearings across Canada and earlier this year was one of Canada's delegates at the International Federation of Agricultural Producers' annual meeting held at Purdue, Indiana. He will assume his new duties immediately.

Mannville Firemen Compete in Provincial Contests

Hose laying competitions held at Calgary July 27 attracted 20 teams of professional and volunteer firemen from points throughout Alberta. Shown examining hydrant and hose connections on the contest grounds is the four man team from the Mannville Fire Department: Eddie Schneider, Bud Stevenson, Bic Humphries and Elgar Hauck. In afternoon eliminations each team was allowed two "runs" with hose truck, connecting a hydrant along the route and coupling a nozzle at far end of run to hit a two-foot target. Cold Lake RCAF team topped eight others in the single-run evening finals with a time of 25 seconds. The meet was sponsored by the Calgary Fire Department with co-operation of the Provincial Fire Commissioner's Office. Similar competitions in hose coupling have been held this summer at five Alberta regional points.

Congregration From Vermilion Attends Edmonton Assembly

The Vermilion congregation of Jehovah's witnesses moved "en masse" to Edmonton recently to attend the five-day district assembly at the Grandstand in Edmonton Exhibition grounds. On Sunday, July 28th, the assembly attendance rose to 9,824 to make this the largest religious convention ever held in the Province of Alberta. Principal speaker was Mr Percy Chapman of Toronto, Superintendent of Ministers and Evangelists for Jehovah's witnesses in Canada. For his main discourse Mr Chapman spoke on the subject "Healing of the Nations Has Drawn Near."

Mr M Warren, presiding minister of the Vermilion Congregation reported "We had a most interesting and stimulating time. Altogether 35 different speakers discussed 58 Bible subjects. At a time when faithlessness and delinquency is so widespread, we feel it important to turn people back to respect for the Bible."

At a mass Baptismal ceremony held Friday morning 222 new ministers were baptized. An item of interest too, was the release by Mr Chapman of Volume III of the New World Translation in modern English.

In his main discourse, "Healing of the Nations Has Drawn Near," Mr Chapman said "Recognize the curative power of the great heavenly Physician, Jehovah, and avail yourself now of the healing that has drawn near to all people of all the nations, through his Kingdom by Jesus Christ.

"This divided world and its nations and man-made systems are incurable." He also indicated, "No one of any nationality is barred from this Kingdom of God and his Christ."

A 38-piece orchestra provided music for the assembly, offering a half hour program of musical selections before Mr. Chapman's featured talk.

A cafeteria, constructed on the mezzanine floor of the Grandstand and covering 26,662.5 feet of floor space served delegates the five-day event.

The Canadian Red Cross reports 163,896 Canadians of all ages participated in Water Safety courses in 1956.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

The weather is grand with the recent rains. The first part of August and latter part of July was very dry in these parts.

July 13th Mr and Mrs. Rufus Omness from New Serepta and sister Mrs. Lee from town were visiting relatives in the district. Daughters Janice and Irene were with their sister Luriene (the Hobbis family) in town. They expected to leave shortly to meet son Gerald and two oldest granddaughters at Provost at the Robertson home (niece Myrtle's). The girls will be holidaying at New Serepta with their grandparents.

On July 10th we saw the Cessna 140 cruising around in the sky above Allandale and were aware that Theodore Throndson was home on holidays. Mrs. Throndson and family, Beverly, Steven and Jeanne came on the noon bus visiting at the home of Theo's parents in town.

The next Sunday the plane landed in brother Alvin's hay meadow and relatives in the district were visited.

On the evening of July 24th the writer experienced her first plane ride through the kindness of her nephew. The evening was calm, ideal for smooth sailing. One only is aware of the speed on taking off and landing. We were cruising around 1500 feet and travelling at between 90 and 100 miles an hour. The country and homes looked beautiful. It is amazing the amount of water there is, the landscape being just dotted with sloughs and small lakes.

On July 27th at 6 a.m. two planes were cruising and landed on the meadow. The evening before the high wind caused Mr Howard Bowman from Anchorage to land in Vermilion, and Theodore being in town met Howard and invited him to spend the night with his parents and family. Early the next morning the boys were away in their planes, Howard on his way to Edmonton and thence to Alaska, his brother is a salesman for planes at Anchorage and Howard goes east for them as the planes are sold, and Theodore to Ft McMurray.

Mrs. Georgina Broadfoot from Saskatoon and mother Mrs. Jacklin from Hamilton arrived at the Baldock home on July 18th. The next morning Georgina received a long distance phone call from her son-in-law in the east advising her that a plane ticket awaited her in Saskatoon to go east to see her new grandson. Granny Jacklin and grandson Billy will be holidaying at the Baldock home.

July 22nd Reg Spencer accompanied Gus Throndson on a visit to this district.

Mr and Mrs. George Crosby from Edmonton were visitors at the Omness home on July 24 and 25. They were on their way home from visiting relatives and friends in points in Saskatchewan, and Marwayne, Dewberry, Rusylvia and Vermilion. Son Russell and daughter Joan were at home in the city.

July 20th Mr. and Mrs. Steve Gordey and son Barry attended Steve's sister's wedding at Innisfree.

Mr. George Leighton, north of Islay recently purchased a boar and sow from Ontario. These are Landrace hogs, originally imported from Scotland.

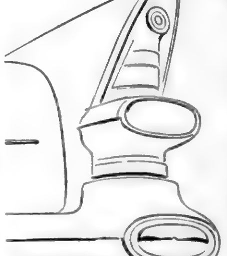
Mrs. Gertie Swanson of Elk Point was a recent visitor with her sister Mrs. Mabel Lee in town; also visiting her sister Stella Mayers, friends and relatives in the district.

WAX VINYL FLOORS

Tests made by Johnson's research department on the care of vinyl floors showed that the vinyls retain their bright new appearance and resist wear and tear of hard traffic much better if they are waxed periodically.

Local Elevator Man Leaves Mannville

MANNVILLE. — Harry Harmala, well known agent for the Alberta Pool elevators No 2 has been moved to Lavoy and Leonard McLaughlin of the Brace district has replaced Mr. Harmala. Mr McLaughlin is well known to all Mannville and district folks.



We knew
we had a "honey" of a car
BUT...

. . . this year's Pontiac has even us running out of praise for the good looks that have put it at the top as Canada's most wanted car. Could be good styling always comes out on top.

Remember when all the male fashion magazines were full of pink shirts? Store windows blushed pink on every side and, for a little while at least, shirt dealers were very happy. Then the clearance sales began and dealers tried everything they could to dispose of the pink shirts that people weren't buying any more. One more fancy fad had come and gone.

We think there's a moral in this that applies to the car business, too. And when we take a look at Pontiac's sales record this year, we're sure of it. Canadians everywhere appreciate Pontiac's quiet, graceful beauty . . . the absence of flash and gaudiness. They recognize and appreciate the sort of workmanship in every detail that only General Motors can put into a car. They like the friendly treatment and the efficient service they find wherever they deal with a Pontiac dealer.

But see for yourself as you drive. Just count the Pontiacs . . . and you'll agree the rising tide of Pontiac popularity is turning into a veritable torrent.

WORKING TOGETHER FOR QUALITY

There is some promise that the 1957 wheat crop may be of better protein quality than it has been for several years. This, if it occurs, will have come about largely because of the weather.

Quite apart from the weather, however, the farmer can use his best efforts and skill to ensure that he will harvest the best possible grade. A combination of these two qualities, high grade and relatively high protein, will help to improve Canada's position in the now highly competitive wheat markets of the world.

WOODVALE NOTES

It is hard to find adequate words to describe the feelings of our community and ourselves, when [illegible] was received of the tragic [illegible] by drowning of Harry Sweeney. Deep sympathy is felt for his wife, children and relatives and deep regret that there is so little we can do to soften their sorrow. That Mrs. E. Lysons could come right away and stay with her daughter and grandchildren, that the brothers and sisters all were there to lighten the load of grief as much as possible, that friends and neighbors offered help and sympathy and that the whole countryside flocked to church to pay their last respects shows the depth of everyone's feelings for the bereaved family. We hope that in the weeks and the months to come we will be able to make Thelma and her children aware that they are still surrounded by sympathetic and helpful friends. Her brother Walter Lysons accompanied by his wife and little daughter will take over the operation of the farm and a haying bee is planned as soon as weather conditions are [illegible].

Recent visitors at the McGrath home during the Vermilion fair were Mr. and Mrs. Doug Hinchey and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Cunningham and children of Edson. This week end Mr and Mrs. W Hinchey Sr of Edson and Mr [illegible] W Hinchey Jr of Winnipeg are expected. Recently Mrs H Keeley of Edmonton visited with her sister Mrs. B. McGrath, also Mr and Mrs. Dick White of Edmonton and Mrs. Walter Smith of Coombs, B.C.

Another B.C visitor was Mrs. Laura Green who stayed with Mr and Mrs Wes Isley and spent a day with everyone of her old neighbors and saw many of her other friends on Friday July 26th at the Vermilion fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Green and Joan of Edmonton spent the long week end with Mr. and Mrs. T. Preston.

Father Maurice Goutier of Cardston and Cecile Goutier of Camrose were visitors at their parents' home recently. Father Goutier left several films of the Indian reserve. They were later shown at the home of Mr and Mrs Wes Isley and poved to be very interesting.

Mr and Mrs. Bernard Portsmith of Ottawa are spending the month of August with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry Portsmith.

Mrs Belle McGrath stayed for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Ford in Vermilion and received from Mrs. Ford a package of quilt pieces from which she made a lovely quilt top which everyone admired at the Red Cross meeting on Aug. 8th held at the home of Mrs. F. Van Wageningen. A very lovely quilt was worked at that meeting by ten members. Mrs. B. Portsmith was a visitor and later Mrs. A King accompanied by Rev and Mrs. T Teape and Robbie of Edmonton, also Mrs. King's grandson Cecil, came to visit the hostess so the ladies of the party were promptly put to work too. This all made for a pleasant afternoon of visiting, but it took a lot more time to finish the quilt than usual. Was it really the heavy material or just a wee bit too much talking that caused that? However after a late lunch a few ladies still took time for a look at the flowers and garden and we hope to all meet again at another meeting and quilting bee Sept. 4 at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Selte. Mrs. Margaret Watson brought a sunflower to the meeting with five blooms n the top of the stem. She has several of these freak plants in her garden, possibly caused by the dry weather in July.

Mrs. Anderson of Chauvin will show movies on mission work in Africa in Ganton community hall on Aug. 28th.

Mrs. A. McQuid returned from a visit with her daughter in Calgary and now Mr McQuid is spending a few days in Edmonton.

Harry Turner is making a nice job of a road from the main road to his house.

Did anyone notice the peculiar mauve-pink color of the sky during the heavy rain Sunday evening when the sun broke through in the west?

Mr and Mrs. Johnny Isley returned from Wetaskiwin and are at present staying with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan of Victoria, B.C., who lived at Koknee store a few years ago, came back with Mr. and Mrs. Colin McLean for a short visit after the family reunion in the States.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Watt and Marilyn went to Edmonton for the week end and brought Margaret back with them. She has been attending summer school there.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs. Harry Turner on the birth of twin boys on Friday — the second set of twins in their family!

Greenlawn Good-Will Club

The July meeting of the Greenlawn Goodwill club was held at the home of Mrs. Ray Goad with thirteen members and two visitors present. Final arrangements were made for the catering to the wedding reception and dance.

It was decided not to send a member to the Farm Women's week but the members were to try to attend for at least one afternoon if possible. Gladys Boyce won the door prize.

A lovely lunch was served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

The junior members of a household can make the best travellers if the senior members give a little forethought to their [illegible].

Children's natural curiosity makes them want to see 'all', so a pillow will prove useful as a booster as well as being handy for naps later. A blanket will be welcome too, when the young passengers get drowsy enough to take a nap.

Save yourself from nagging about keeping their good clothes clean by dressing them in comfortable garb while riding. It will take only a few minutes when you reach your destination to put on their 'dress-up' clothes and you'll both feel better for it. Scolding for climbing over the upholstery can be avoided if you cover children's shoes with an old pair of socks. If it's warm enough just remove shoes and let them frolic.

A succession of swift turns can make any child car-sick. It's wise to drive especially slow along twisting highways to avoid illness.

Don't forget the favorite toys, and bring a few new ones to give out as surprises — one at a time. With proper timing, you can make the novelty last throughout the trip.

Sudden hunger pangs can be eased if you take a small basket filled with fruit, crackers, fruit juice, raisins or other snacks and keep it within easy reach.

By the way, a well-known cure for bedtime crankiness away from home is an extra dose of affection at the day's end. Let the junior members know how much you enjoy having them with you on your family outings.

C. N. I. B. Warns Re: Collections

"The next time somebody asks you for money to help the blind, find out who they are and where the money is really going". This action was urged by the Alberta Division of the Canadian Council of the Blind—a nation wide association of clubs of the blind—at a special meeting held in Edmonton recently to consider reports of fund raising activities throughout Alberta, alleged to be in aid of the blind. "Unless the money is going to The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, our national service agency for the blind in Canada, the public should think twice about donating". Allan DeCoursey, the Chairman of the Alberta Division told the meeting. He went on to point out that in Community Chest centres in Alberta, the C. N. I. B. makes no independent public appeal—it gets its money from these community funds. In centres with no Community Chest, the C. N. I. B. campaigns only in the fall of each year. All canvassers are local volunteers and always identify themselves clearly with the C. N. I. B.

Blind delegates present at the meeting and representing the organized blind in Alberta, passed resolutions expressing strong opposition to independent appeals in aid of the blind and to unnecessary duplication of services already being provided by the C. N. I. B. "The public should be made aware that our Council does not endorse the collections now being made in the name of the blind and that these funds do not go to the C N I. B., declared W. H. Phillips of Calgary, Vice-Chairman. The Council obtains its own funds through budget arrangements with the C N I. B. and refrains from independent fund raising in order to avoid confusion and duplication.

For Smooth Surface Flooring

Smooth-surface floorings, such as the vinyl, rubber and asphalt tiles and linoleum, will resist wear much longer and retain their bright new look if given periodic application s of wax. Liquid polishing paste or self-polishing wax may be used on the vinyls and linoleum floors but only self-polishing wax should be used on asphalt and rubber tiles.

DO NOT MOLEST

Black Bear And Two Cubs Observed North of Vermilion

Visitors that can be classed as out-of-the-ordinary for Vermilion [illegible] observed six miles north of town several times early this week.

Mr and Mrs. Ray Hutchinson reported seeing a black bear on Monday in the pasture of Mrs. Cyril Davis. This caused quite a stir. Wednesday morning the bear was seen again, but this time with two small roly-poly cubs.

Mrs. Davis called the Standard and two members of the staff contacted Game Officer George Senz and proceeded north. However by this time Mrs. Bruin and her twins had taken shelter in the bushland and were not observed.

Residents of the district are advised by Mr. Senz not to molest the three bears. They are not meat eaters, feed strictly on vegetation and insects and will not bother cattle, chickens or other livestock and will not come near any buildings especially if a dog is in evidence. If left alone they will no doubt return further north across the Saskatchewan River from where, in all probability, they originally came.

PROTECTED BY LAW

Female bears and cubs are protected by law. In other words, anyone shooting them is subject to a heavy penalty.

Sleek and shiny, the bruins have evidently had a good summer of foraging and have given a few people at least the opportunity of observing something of nature's animal life not usually seen in this region.

Any further reports on the bear and her two cubs by residents of the district would be appreciated by Mr. Senz and the Standard.

Vermilion Cards Lose In Provincial Fastball Play-Offs

The Vermilion Cardinals were ousted from further participation in the provincial fastball play downs last Sunday. Four teams met here in a double knockout tourney for the privilege of representing the area in further play-offs.

In the first draw Vermilion ladies defeated Paradise Valley, Innisfree defeated Kitscoty.

In the second round Vermilion lost to Innisfree with Kitscoty eliminating Paradise Valley.

This left Innisfree in the driver's seat with two victories. Vermilion then met Kitscoty and lost a good game 17 runs to 12. This gave Kitscoty the right to meet Innisfree.

Kitscoty and Innisfree will thus meet this Sunday in a best two of three game series, with the winner continuing on to meet Barrhead.

Coots Hit Jackpot — Three Albinos In One Brood

Nature has played one of her most unusual pranks on a Coot family (mud-hens to you 'Nature Boys'). An Albino is a rare specimen at anytime but to find three in one family is really stretching the odds.

Bob Harris, of the National Wildlife crew working in the Vermilion area, did just that. Mr Harris spotted the rarities some time ago and just recently shipped one to the Calgary zoo and this week another to Ottawa. The third was not in evidence at the time the second was livetrapped but the three had been observed together beforehand.

Ordinarily the Coot is a dark slate-grey color with a white bill so the contrast of the handsome Albino members was quite striking and in the opinion of viewers, a decided improvement over their swarthy brethren.

Retail Merchants' Association Holds Policy Meeting In Vermilion

Mr Treverton Self, special representative of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada (Alberta Division) was in Vermilion Tuesday of this week to hold a meeting of local independent retail merchants to discuss policy and to strengthen the position of the organization.

The main purpose of the gathering was to co-ordinate the efforts of the retailers in this zone.

These meetings, said Mr Self, are being held in every sizeable town throughout Alberta in an effort to establish full representation for independent retail merchants on matters of policy and legislative representation to local, provincial and dominion governments.

Among some of the more important presentations of the Association on behalf of the members is a suggested revision of the code on fair competition and business pr[illegible] made last November to the Hon. Ray Reierson, Minister of Industries and Labor.

The Association realizes that certain sections of the code are no longer necessary and almost impossible to enforce. Therefore, to bring the code up-to-date and take care of the immediate and existing conditions of the day without curtailing free enterprise, but still to maintain protection offered to the consumer the Association is trying to bring about changes that are the most practical and in favor of all con[illegible].

A point of major importance to retailers is the question of Retailers' Capital Loans which is presently under discussion in Ot[illegible] whereby independent merchants could secure benefits or improvements of existing conditions, much in the same way contained in the Home Improvement and Farm Assistance Acts.

E. CLENDENNING CHOSEN

The meeting also elected Mr. E. Clendenning on a pro-tem basis for further confirmation at a local meeting which will be called in the very near future. Mr Tom Watts was elected secretary pro tem.

Other interested [illegible] retailers present at the meeting included E. Clendenning, T Watts, M. Hill, Paul Hareuther, [illegible] Moren, Gordon Park, Oliver Tollton, Stan Kazirskin, W. McLaughlin, R. E. Rowe, [illegible] Adams, Mrs M. P. Dimm, G. F. Stelspena, E. Schurman, [illegible] Martin.

Rotary To Publish Birthday Calendar; Canvass Starts Tuesday

At Friday's meeting of the Vermilion Rotary Club Cliff McCormick, Chairman of the Calendar Committee explained the plans for handling the Community Birthday calendars this year.

A special effort will be made to make the calendar bigger and better than ever. This actually means no more and no less than a bigger listing of names on the calendar. It is hoped this year to double the listing.

Canvassers will visit town people in their homes. Country people will mostly be contacted in town. A special rural canvass committee headed by Walter Duncan is already at work. Others on the committee are President Tom McPherson and Bill Cross.

It is felt that many rural people would have listed their names had they been asked. Now don't be bashful, just see any one on the committee or any Rotarian and he will write up your birthday for the small charge of 25 cents.

The Rotary Club wishes to assure everyone that all funds collected are used for some purpose that will benefit the people in this district.

One of the first projects of this club was to provide [illegible] portable radios for the [illegible] at a cost of $70. Then a cheque for $150 was given to the Vermilion Boy Scouts' building fund.

A revolving fund of $800 has been set up for loans to students who wish to further their education. These loans are interest free and are payable at the convenience of the students.

The club sponsored and equipped a Little League base ball team at a cost of $100.

A rink of local high school boys competing in [illegible] Taylor Pearson play off were given $40 to help in their expenses.

Books costing $80 were donated to the Vermilion Public Library.

A girl from this district was assisted to the amount of $80 while attending the United Nations Sessions Conference at Banff School of Fine Arts.

A public address system valued at $250 was donated to Vermilion park for use in the band shell. Then recently a transhaller costing $119.50 was made available to the swimming instructors at the lake.

[illegible] listed on the calendar with all the others you can have the satisfaction of knowing that your contribution will be used for some community project.

There were three visiting Rotarians at Friday's meeting, all from Lloydminster. [illegible] Lavold, Dr Dichaut and Bruce Anstey were introduced by President McPherson. Another visitor was Dr. Ben King, a former member of this club.

Frank Schmidt Has Lloydminster Position

TRACTOR DEATH RECORD

Unless a halt is called immediately and rigorous care exercised, Alberta will have a worse tractor death record this year than two years ago. This note of warning has been sounded by W. J. Perkins, Farm Safety Director for the Alberta Safety Council.

Already this year, from January 1 to August 13, there have been 16 reported tractor deaths in Alberta, which is equal to the total for the whole of 1955. With harvesting coming on and four and a half months still to go, there is a strong possibility of more tractor fatalities this year.

The safety director stresses the need of being on guard to ensure safe tractor operations if the death toll is to be checked.

"With a busy harvest season still to come there is a possibility that we will exceed the number of tractor fatalities two years ago," said the safety director.

An analysis of the tractor deaths shows that nine of the drivers were more than 40 years old. Another was an immigrant, 33, and three were in the 12 to 14 age group. In the latter group was a 12 year old who was killed while operating at excessive speed in a field, the tractor having tipped sideways. The two others in this group were fatally injured when the machine ran off the highway into a ditch and was overturned. One of these youths, 13, had been driving a tractor since he was 10 while the 14-year-old was not entirely familiar with the mechanism of the machine.

In another fatal accident, an eight year old child who was a passenger fell of the tractor and suffered fatal injuries when the wheels ran over him. A 14-year-old boy was operating the tractor.

Two small youngsters were the other victims of tractor mishaps. Of these, one was 3½ years old and was killed by a tractor operated by the grandfather. In the other case a two year old child was killed when run over by a tractor operated by a 16-year-old brother.

Safety officials stress again and again the vital need of exercising the utmost precaution around farm machinery especially tractors. This fall a 30-year old farmer had his clothes torn off by the moving shaft on a combine. He was repairing the machine and had left the motor running with the result his clothes were caught in the shaft. Heed this warning. Shut the power off before adjusting, oiling or cleaning out the harvesting machines. What are a few seconds gained when the loss of life or limb is at stake? Your family won't appreciate your costly sacrifice.

For some years the Safety Council has placed special emphasis on the dangers of tractor back flipping. Due in all probability in part to this program only two of the deaths so far this year were blamed to back flipping.

LOVE AND ROMANCE

I'm not going to have you prowling around with boys at all hours," said the voice, high and a little desperate. It came floating through the night air to the screened-in porch of our summer cottage. Like the nosey old snooper I am, I listened.

A young voice, filled with the stern impatience of youth, replied, "Oh, Mom, you make it sound so awful."

"I didn't mean to," the mother answered, almost contritely. "But you're just thirteen. And it's already midnight you should have started a campfire sooner."

"Oh, Mom, if I can't go, Sue Martin will be there and Johnny."

It was quiet for a few seconds. Then the young girl said," Mom, you're always prating about how wonderful love is and now you make me stay home while Sue and Johnny —"

The rest of the sentence was too inarticulate to record. The Mom, at last, said," All right, honey just this once, but after this ..."

Because I too have teenagers to worry about, I felt sorry for our neighbor Mom. I know how hopeless it is to get teenagers to understand the vast difference between love and romance.

Romance was the word this girl should have used. Campfires and weiner roasts and midnight swims at summer lakes- this is the stuff of romance. love is something much bigger. While no one ought to belittle romance, it should be kept in its place.

Love, on the other hand, is something else again. It is big enough to take in romance with much to spare, such as concern for the worry caused Mother when late hours are kept, concern for one's self as a person, and yet big enough even to spare some sympathy for Sue Martin in spite of her designs on your Johnny. How though, do you give teenage youngsters even a smidgeon of an idea of the bigness and importance of love.

I don't know. I've pondered the question often. I can come up with only one answer.

Try to see to it that your children attend with you the church of your faith as often as possible and then some. For love is a religious idea, not a boy-meets-girl affair. Our slick paper magazines and some of our newspapers have perhaps innocently, confused this fact. A religious trainingalone seems able to clear up such confusion.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Any amateur can take amateurish photographs on his vacation trip but with a few of those professional touches photographs become a record anyone can be proud of. The little "extras" that make fair pictures good are easy to learn and well worth remembering.

Photographic experts tell me that the most common fault in vacation pictures is lack of good composition. A little camera angling makes the difference between an ordinary snapshot and one with mood, motion and meaning. Here are some pointers which should prove helpful to you in getting the most out of your vacation photography.

1. In composing your shots, remember that the horizon line should not cut across the middle of the picture. More sky than terrain is usually best, unless there are people or significant objects in the foreground.
3. "Frame" the picture with arches, trees, buildings or natural phenomena. They lend depth in the foreground. A road, path or stream leading from one corner of the picture toward the centre of interest will add another professional touch.
4. Use slide and back lighting occasionally to lend shadow effect and dramatic tone.
5. Use a filter for most black and white pictures, especially where a great deal of sky is exposed. Filters bring out clouds, darken skies and soften glare.

Conference of School Principals Ends At University of Alberta

Sixty-four school principals from Alberta, British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Manitoba are now home after meeting for three weeks at Concordia College in Edmonton to study problems concerned with the administration and supervision of education. The principals of this area were represented at this conference by W. Novak, of the Vermilion Junior High.

The conference which was designed to encourage principals to become leaders in the improvement of the educational programs in their schools, dealt with such matters as curriculum adjustment, pupil guidance and supervision, teacher improvement, school-community relations and evaluation. In appraising its success the principals emphasized the degree to which it had helped them further their understanding of how to work more effectively with pupils, teachers and parents.

It was arranged by the University of Alberta as part of its summer session program in co-operation with the Alberta School Trustees' Assoc., the Alberta Teachers' Assoc., the Alberta School Inspectors' Assoc., the Alberta Department of Education and the Canadian Education Assoc.

Much of each day was devoted to individual and the group study of practical school problems. Guiding this phase of the work were A. W. Reeves, Chairman of the Division of Educational Administration at the University of Alberta, M. J. V. Downey, the Director of Personnel and Research for the Edmonton Public Schools, C. P. Collins, Superintendent of Schools with the Saskatchewan Department of Education and three Alberta School Superintendents, O. Massing of Killam, H. A. Pike from Holden and N. M. Purvis from Taber.

Several prominent educationists were featured speakers during the three weeks from Ontario, Alberta, B.C., Saskatchewan and from Seattle Wash.

NEWS from DEWBERRY

On the evening of Aug. 12th cars and trucks of all descriptions were to be seen making their way into Dewberry sports grounds for the Caseorama Starlight Review. Large spotlights lit up the arena roped off for the occasion. Working demonstrations were given of the Case plow, also of the Case tractors, 300, 400 and 600 models, showing the six different speeds of some of these machines. Also on review were the Case combines 120, 110 and 75, the 133 baler, 200 rake, No. 10 mower, Case wagon and portable hammermill. To demonstrate the hammermill pieces of wood were thrown in and the faithful machine chewed it up like straw. When we arrived for the show we thought our eyes were deceiving us when we saw a tractor going round and round in small circles without a driver—but no, it was right! This demonstration really pleased the youngsters and methinks the oldsters too.

Prizes were given at the show and were won by Ernest Garnier and Alex Sikora for the men and Mrs. Tom Applegate and Mrs. Wowk for the ladies. The grand prize of a gold wrist watch was won by Charlie Kinsheila. After a very interesting review a delicious lunch was served. Mr. A. Redman sponsored the show.

Don't forget the Ladies' Aid tea in the hall on the afternoon of Aug. 28th starting at 2 p.m. A speaker will be in attendance. Topic will be "Articles suitable for bazaars. Everyone welcome.

Something New in Sports Wear

Short pleated skirts with matching panties attached are the latest in play wear. Called "skorts" they are a flattering compromise between shorts and a skirt and come in stripes, polka dot or just plain white. Made of 16 per cent 'Terylene' or a blend of 65 per cent "Terylene" and 35 per cent cotton, the skorts can be washed and worn without ironing and the pleats keep their sharpness.

There is now one passenger automobile registered in Canada for every five members of the total population.

CROPS SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Crops in this area are showing remarkable improvement following the heavy rains of the past few weeks. The feed prospects are much better now than was the case early in July, although the rains came too late to benefit the hay crop to any extent. Severe losses were suffered by a number of farms from the hail storm which roared through at about 8:30 p.m. on Sunday, July 21st. Heaviest losses were suffered by Shaws, Brakes, Ernie Lawrence, Art Lawrence, Mick Maguire and Art Gratton in this immediate area, while many others were hit in varying degrees. The hail only lasted a few minutes and was very fine but driven by a violent wind.

LIGHTNING STRIKES

Reports of lightning striking on two occasions has been reported following the numerous electrical storms of the past few weeks. At the Ballard Good farm no damage was done other then it being a terrifying experience when lightning struck an arrester. At the Lorne and Norman McPhee farm last Monday night also no extensive damage was done when a telephone pole was shattered quite close to the house but some damage was done to the interior according to the report.

BENEFIT DANCES HELD

The two benefit dances held in the Orange hall during recent weeks both turned out to be successful affairs. At the dance for Jimmy Gratton almost $200 was handed over, part of which was donated previously. Jimmy is home and making very satisfactory progress following his serious accident when thrown from a horse at Coronation early in the summer.

At the dance held for Roddy MacDonald another quite sizable sum of money was raised. Last reports were that Roddy is still in the University hospital recoving from serious burns but is making progress.

FAREWELL TO THE PECK FAMILY

Quite a large crowd of square dancers and others gathered in the Columbus hall recently to bid farewell to the Peck family. During the course of an evening of entertainment devoted mainly to square dancing the Pecks were presented with an electric toaster as a token of esteem. They will be making their new home in Marwayne. His successor here, Mr Huxley and family have already arrived and taken up residence in the Wheat Pool house.

REUNION OF THE HAGEN FAMILIES

The Hagen farm home was the scene of a happy re-union of relatives and old friends last Wednesday afternoon. The hosts, Mr and Mrs. Hugh Hagen and Ann had as their guests former old time residents Mr. and Mrs R J Hagen from Blackfalds. Also present were the Hagen's two daughters Marion and Eileen and their families. Marion with her husband Dr John Booth and their three children are on a holiday here from Niagara Falls. Eileen and her husband Ray Broberge and three children make their home at Calmar. This Sunday a family re-union of the four Hagen daughters and families is planned at the family home at Blackfalds. Old friends who called in during the afternoon [illegible] Mr and Mrs H Brake and Marilyn also their married daughter Mavis (Mrs Fritz Brockman) and her three children, Mr and Mrs Clarence Free, Eileen and Clifford Good and Rita, Mrs Rhodes from Elk Point, and Ed Stockwell.

Congratulations and very best wishes for future happiness to Kathleen, second daughter of Mr Donald MacIntyre, whose marriage took place recently. A large crowd attended the dance held in the Orange hall in the evening following the wedding.

Sympathy goes out to Mr Zlomek and family in the loss of wife and mother recently. Mrs Zlomek, a highly respected resident of the Rusylvia district for many years, had made her home in town for some time following their retirement from the farm.

Former residents here, Mr and Jim MacMorrow and family who now reside in B.C. spent several days here not long ago visiting relatives and renewing acquaintances.

Mr and Mrs Arthur Rowntree had as their guest during the past week Margaret Phillips from the city. Margaret is a sister of Ron Phillips who it may be recalled played hockey with Vermilion a couple of winters back.

Fred Goddard and family are back home once again following a two weeks vacation. The points of interest visited include Calgary, Banff and Jasper.

Mr Jim Kirwin returned home last week from a trip to his old home in Ireland. While Mr and Mrs Bill Seal were overseas they visited with Mrs George Brake, a former resident here, now living near Castle Carey in Somerset.

It is certainly nice to have our paper once again following a two weeks' lapse. We are wondering where the news editor took his holiday or did he just spend his time relaxing?

MR. AND MRS. BLISS DAVID DICKSON

The fitted bodice featured a portrait neckline outlined with seed pearls and rhinestones. Her matching chapel veil of nylon illusion was held in place by a halo cap of irridescent sequins. Gauntlet mittens complemented her gown.

They chose similarly styled bouffant waltz-length gowns of nylon over taffeta in soft shades of yellow and aqua. Each wore a matching Juliet cap and bracelet-length gloves, and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and white Shasta daisies.

The groom was attended by his brother Mr Campbell Dickson of Innisfree and Mr Harold Roebuck of Vermilion.

Out of town guests included Mr and Mrs. H. Dickson, Miss Marion Dickson, Mr. Campbell Dickson all of Innisfree, Mr and Mrs. A. But comely Ronnie McLennan is sure her high-powered car needs the same gasoline as the planes at Malton. Her rather exaggerated demands are not so far from the truth as they were in the past, for the public's demand for powerful cars is forcing gasoline makers to produce higher and higher quality gasoline, at enormous expense for new refining equipment. Islay News

Most of the folks have returned from holidays. The Moncrieff family and the Van den Dolder family from Loon Lake in Saskatchewan; Mrs. Bell and Sandra from Edmonton.

Marion Teskey accompanied the Dick Bootsmans of Edmonton on a motor trip to Vancouver, Victoria and some points in the U.S. They have not yet returned.

Due to an error in dates our W.M.S. rally has been set for Sept. 12th instead of the first Thursday as is usually the case.

Our W.A. has set the date for the chicken supper, it is Wednesday, Oct. 23rd.

Mrs. Torrance's house is nearing completion. A room is being added to the corner. A well has also been dug close to it and will be under the roof. The municipal house is also having the basement and foundation made ready to move a house onto so there is quite a lot of activity over on main street. A crew is busy digging the gas mains to the houses.

The Islay Islanders held a square dance Wednesday, Aug. 14th, the caller was Mr Henry Lien. There were 14 sets on the floor — and best of all there was no racket on the streets. The dance on Friday night wakened the whole village!

We certainly miss seeing Mrs Nora Carey in Islay since she has gone to Vermilion.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Allan went into the hospital last Wednesday.

Noticed little Eddie Simmons standing on the tractor, his dad on the binder, cutting down the crop. And it is stooked, must have been Grace and her mother who did it.

Zig Budzilka's new house has taken form, sides up and roof [illegible].

The grade nine results in the Islay school were very good. Out of the eleven Gr. 9 students writing all passed. There are a high number of H passes while one student obtained all H's. Mr Moncrieff is the teacher.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

W. G. MALAHER,
Director,

Because stored grain insects have become quite a problem in Western Canada in recent years, as a result of farmers having to store quantities of grain for a fairly long period of time, officials concerned with controlling these insects, strongly recommend the careful cleaning out, spraying and weather-proofing of all bins before they are filled with 1957 grain.

Caked grain remaining in empty bins is very likely to contain insect pests and should be burned during the cleaning out process. At the same time, grain spilled on the ground around granary doors should be destroyed or fed. When it has been thoroughly cleaned out, the inside of the bin may be sprayed with some suitable insecticide, usually applied at the rate of about 1 gallon per 1,000 square feet of surface and left for about 10 days so that the insecticide will take full effect. A final check to make sure that the bin is absolutely weather-proof will mean that all the necessary precautions have been taken to reduce possible insect damage to an absolute minimum.

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Evans and family are away to Kamloops for a holiday. The trip is being made by Canadian National.

WILDMERE WINKS

A good number from Triangle and Wildmere attended the funeral of Fred Johnson held at Wainwright last Thursday afternoon. It was a large funeral, the church being unable to hold those who came to pay their last respects to a friend and to a sorrowing wife and young family. Rev MacKay of Vermilion gave a comforting sermon, a lesson to the living on how quickly life can be cut short and of our duty to God "as we know not the day or the hour He cometh". The community joins with the writer in sorrow for the family. May they seek God in their trouble and all through life.

Mrs. Johnny Laporte of Vancouver came for her brother-in-law's funeral and visited with her sister Mrs. Johnson and her parents Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson and brother Tommy for a few days.

We are getting lots of moisture these days just when dry weather is what most farmers want for haying and harvesting. Some have swathed barley in our district.

Here is an item intended for last week's Winks: Miss G. Craig of Vermilion spent a week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Holte of Wildmere when Rev. Dawe was here. After church Mr. and Mrs. Dawe, Mr and Mrs. C. Cruthers, William and Adam Smith gathered at the Holte home for a sing-song. Mr Breighaupt recorded some of the [illegible]. It was a very pleasant evening enjoyed by all.

Peggy Graham of the Elk Point hospital is on her vacation and is spending a week at her home in Wildmere.

Not a very large attendance at church Sunday. Mr. Breighaupt took as his text 'Prayer'. Remember folks our student minister has only three Sunday left. Rev MacKay is coming out Sept. 1st for Communion and Baptismal service. Our last service for the season is Sept. 15th.

We wish to heartily thank Mrs. A. Cosh of Bexhill-on-Sea, Sussex, England, for her nice letter of appreciation of the 'Winks'. She says she looks forward to getting the Standard and the 'Winks' and they pass it on to their neighbor. Many thanks too for the picture folder of your home town Mrs. Cosh. We are sure the Standard Editor and staff join with the writer in wishing you many more years of reading the paper and enjoying its news.

Mrs. David Hughes of Basswood is the proud owner of a new electric stove. Just turn a button and presto, your stove is ready to cook and bake.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Batke and family of Lloydminster, Mrs. Hazel Batke and Scott Webb of Vermilion visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Westman of Basswood on Sunday.

Little Glenys Hughes had a birthday on Sunday and had several little friends in to help her celebrate her third birthday. We hope you enjoy many more such happy days Glenys.

On Friday last Mrs. Roy Dibben, supervisor of the Wildmere Beavers Girls' club, and three girls, Betty Sweeney, Joanie Hughes and Linda Smith returned from attending the convention of Girls' clubs held at Olds. They all reported having a good time as well as learning a lot too. Congratulations to Joanie on her singing and fancy work.

Sunday afternoon Bobby and Kenny Graham and the writer accompanied Peggy Graham to Lloydminster to see the stock car racing. It was the first time for us and it was much enjoyed. Earl Pollard of town has what seems to be quite a fast car. The 'troopers' old time car caused much amusement, a 1928 Ford model. Have you had to re-wallpaper it again Trooper Dowson of CKSA?

Another of our old time neighbors are moving to Vermilion in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson who will be leaving the district in September as they have bought a house in the east end of town. Mrs. Wilson will teach at Islay again and by living in Vermilion will be able to drive back and forth to school. They will be greatly missed in our district but they are not too far away and still have their farm in Wildmere. We wish them every happiness in their new home. John has not been too well to do farm work this past year and may the easier life agree with him.

We chatted with Mr. and Mrs. A. Carlson on Saturday and are pleased Mrs. Carlson is able to be out to meet her friends once more. Thanks Mrs. A. Frissell for your treat of ice cream on Saturday.

OATS DRY FAST

Steve Krushinsky swathed some oats on Saturday and by Monday the grain was in prime condition for combining. Never saw grain dry so fast says Steve. However, the nightly showers being experienced aren't going to help matters any.

Bowtell Bulletin

Everyone is pleased that Mr. Hardie came home from an Edmonton hospital on Wednesday. A complete recovery is wished him.

A nice new piggery is being built on the Williams' farm.

The writer was pleased to have Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Margaret and Brian, Jim, Isabell and Frances Repp, Mr. and Mrs. McFarland, Bobby and Tommy guests for dinner Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Caro, Mr. and Mrs. Pulk and the latter's mother who recently [illegible] Holland were guests for supper.

The Loafers' Lodge enjoyed their meeting at the home of Mrs. B. Gould amidst her lovely flowers. The angel food cake was won by Mrs. Sherwood. We were pleased to have Mrs. Gillies as a visitor. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Repp.

Miss Margaret Robinson left by bus Wednesday morning for Edmonton where she will holiday with her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. H. Gerrard.

Miss Donaray Harrison spent the week end at home.

We are pleased to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Carey and family to our midst as they have moved to their farm the former Daddy Woodruff place.

MR. AND MRS. PETER MICHAEL FALYK

June Bride Wed In Double-Ring Ceremony At Holy Name Church

Holy Name Catholic church in Vermilion was beautifully decorated with pink and white peonies and daisies framed in fern for the wedding of Sheilah Marie Gannon, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Gannon of Vermilion to Peter Michael Falyk, son of Mr and Mrs. Michael Falyk of Winnipeg, on Saturday, June 29th at 10 a.m. Rev Father Landrigan of Vermilion officiated at the service.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, was beautifully attired in a white wedding gown of net over bridal satin. The two-tiered skirt of floor length was attractively arranged by hoops. The bodice and Peplum was of dotted Swiss lace with lily-point short sleeves and a scalloped neckline. She wore matching gloves. Her chapel length veil of sheer illusion net was held by a fitted crown trimmed with irridescent sequins, seed pearls, rhinestones and pleated net. The bride wore a gold locket decorated with Mother of Pearl under a gold cross, a gift from the groom. An extra gift from the groom was a three-stand pearl necklace by Heller Tara Inc. Her bouquet was of red sweetheart roses and fern.

The groom wore a white top tuxedo with dark trousers.

The bridesmaid, Miss Gloria Gannon, sister of the bride, wore a navy blue nylon chiffon [illegible] gown of ballerina length with matching headdress and mittens. Her jewelry was a gold cross necklace, a gift of the bride. She carried a bouquet of split pink carnations.

Bill Gannon, brother of the bride was best man and Leo Gannon also brother of the bride ushered the guests to the pews. Gifts to the best man and usher were Tux gold tie pins and cuff links.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of wedding music played by Miss Ileen Shattuck, cousin of the bride.

As the bride and groom left the church they were showered with good wishes for a long and happily married life. Mr. Bob Carmichael snapped numerous pictures during and after the service.

A wedding reception was held in the banquet room of the Brunswick Hotel at 1:00 p.m. at which the guests gathered for a delicious turkey dinner with all the trimmings. The mother of the bride chose for the occasion a sea foam blue sheath ensemble of street length with white accessories. Her corsage was of shasta daisies.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen table cloth centered with a triple-tiered wedding cake flanked by red and white roses. It was topped with a miniature bride and groom standing under an archway of yellow mums. The table was decorated with white mums. Rev. Father Landrigan proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom ably responded in a few well-chosen words. During the reception a telegram was received at the bride's table from Fr. Irwin of St. Joseph's Parish, Edmonton wishing the young couple spiritual happiness. Father Landrigan then called on Mrs. A. Callaway of Edmonton, a dear friend of the newlyweds, Mr. Jack McLean, brother-in-law of the bride, Cecil Gannon and Lorne Wilson, uncles of the bride to say a few words.

Mr. Bob Carmichael kindly took colored pictures of the bride and groom and wedding party. Miss Ileen Shattuck also took many shots of the wedding party and guests with her movie camera. These gestures were greatly appreciated by the bride and groom.

The bride's going-away ensemble was a pale blue sheath dress of linen with rose-petal pink purse and pumps, a white pillbox style hat and gloves. Her corsage was pink mums.

The young couple left for a honeymoon to Calgary and Banff. On their return they will reside in Edmonton where the groom is a member of the staff of the city police and the bride will continue her bookkeeping position at MacCosham's where [illegible] has been employed for the past two years.

The bride was very happy to have present her brother Frank, who flew up from Winnipeg for the wedding. Other out-of-town guests were Mrs. A. Callaway, Edmonton; John Falyk, Mike Kozak, Winnipeg; Bill and Leo Gannon, Drayton Valley; Mr. and Mrs. A. Gannon, Wildwood; Mr. and Mrs. Doug Sparrow, Edmonton; Ileen Shattuck, Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Jack McLean, [illegible]; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Londie, Wainwright; Mrs. D. Bowman and girls, Dewberry; Mr. and Mrs. L. Wilson and Patsy, Islay; Mrs. C. Shattuck, of Kitscoty.

Trailer Licensing Act Will Be Strictly Enforced After Aug. 26

Requirements of the Mobile Homes Licensing Act will be strictly enforced on and after Monday, August 26. This was announced today by Angus W. Morrison, Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs for the Government of Alberta whose department is responsible for the administration of the Act.

Mr. Morrison pointed out that the number of trailers used as places of domicile (exclusive of skid shacks) in Alberta has been estimated in the neighborhood of fifteen thousand. "In view of the small number of licenses issued since April 1," he continued, "it becomes immediately obvious that not too much attention is being paid to the requirements of the Mobile Homes Licensing Act."

Mr. Morrison said the terms of the Act are quite clear and stated that "on and after August 26, any person or persons violating the provisions of the Act will be subject to prosecution." Inspectors, municipal officials and police officers are being instructed to this effect. They will be in a position "to proceed accordingly with the full knowledge that the Government intends to carry out at policy of strict enforcement," he declared.

He said the purpose of the Act is to assist the municipalities of the Province to secure revenue by way of license which had previously been obtained by assessment and taxation and emphasized the fact that the facilities of the Department are directed to this end. It is anticipated that municipalities, therefore will take whatever steps may be necessary to implement fully the licensing plan and so take advantage of the revenue thus afforded them.

Anyone hearing of this announcement is asked to pass along the information to those directly concerned who may not have otherwise been made aware of it.

The total of private insurance policies covering hospital, surgical and medical expenses in Canada was 17,277,000 in 1955. Figures for 1956 are not yet available.

Pleasant Valley News

(Held over from last week)

The writer journeyed out to Allandale and attended a large gathering to meet Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nelson and family who are visiting from Vancouver. The rain forced all to stay indoors as the visitors apparently brought rainy Vancouver weather with them.

The Standard has been very much missed these last two weeks but we hope the staff enjoyed their holidays.

We read and hear of places to travel to but why not stay home and discover what beauty there is in our province, right in our own backyards. Lakes and bluffs are really lovely, wild fruit especially cherries are plentiful and fish are biting good too.

Keith and Jean Inman and the two boys went to Moose Lake for a week. From all reports they certainly enjoyed it on the lake every day boating and fishing.

Albert Van den Dolder and family camped at Loon Lake for ten days. Hope you enjoyed it folks. Are the fish bigger and better there?

Sylvia Gould is spending her holidays in Washington State. Lila Waterfield returned from her trip on Sunday. Some of the rest of us stayed home and pulled weeds which seemed to grow fast even during the dry spell in July.

The glads and dahlias are slow in blooming here this summer, not too many out even as yet. Let's hope the frost keeps away for a few weeks yet.

Hello Mrs. Moore, are you away at some beach taking on a tan? Haven't seen you for a long time.

Congratulations Gladys. I heard you over the radio this morning. You won yourself a floor polisher.

Betty Bentley Honored at Parties

Mrs. G. F. Stephens and Miss Margaret Stephens were co-hostesses at a miscellaneous shower for an August bride-elect, Miss Betty Bentley at the home of Mrs. Stephens. The guests were busy throughout the evening concocting hats from bits of oddments distributed [illegible] the hostesses. The fantastic pieces of headgear were modelled to the accompaniment of much laughter and Misses Joan Stephens and Judy Long, as official judges of the millinery, unwittingly chose Judy's mother's hat as the prize-winner.

After lunch was served Betty opened the many lovely gifts presented to her and thanked her friends for their good wishes and the beautiful presents.

In Edmonton Mrs. W. Eadie and her daughter Mrs. John Lewis entertained a gathering of friends of the Boakes and Bentleys at a luncheon in the former's home. The bride-to-be was presented with a Hummel ornament.

Also in Edmonton Mrs. A. C. Bradford was hostess at a Sunday afternoon tea party held at the Hillcrest club in honor of Betty. Mrs. Bradford was assisted by her daughter Miss Dolores Bradford. Little Trudy McKill niece of the hostess presented a gift to the bride-to-be on behalf of the gathering.

MANNVILLE. — Mannville-ites were intrigued by the cottage at Lake Wapasu, Innisfree, that is owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. Coxford of Mannville. The spacious cottage faces the lake, and two large picture windows leave nothing to be desired, as far as scenery is concerned. A coat of paint has been given the building as a protective measure, and further painting is planned. What most interested many was the clear view at all times of the children playing in the water or on the beach, which is so important at this time of the year for safety's sake.

Ex-Vermilion Lady Dies in Winnipeg

There passed away at her home in Winnipeg on August 8th Mrs. Isabella Rutherford, aged 82 years, widow of the late William James Rutherford. They will be recalled as one of the pioneer families of this area. Mr. Rutherford ranched west of town back in 1903, at a time when the only permanent settlers were the Boe family north of Mannville, James Common, the Powells and Evans and Playne. After the town started Mr. Rutherford operated a butcher shop and the family lived in town quite a number of years.

Observe Fortieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Davis held open house on Monday, August 5th, the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary. Seventy five friends called during the afternoon and evening to wish the esteemed couple many more years of happily married life. Their daughter Louise was home from Calgary for the occasion and assisted her parents in receiving the guests.

Pouring tea in the afternoon were Mrs. Will Muir and Mrs. Tom Bothwell, cousins of Mr. Davis, Mrs. Mary Keys and Miss Beth Witherbe. In the evening Mrs. Basil Hawley, Mrs. Anne Cameron, Mrs. Addie Mead and Mrs. Wm. Waldnberger presided over the tea and coffee cups. Serviteurs were Mrs. Russell Carroll, Mrs. Cecil Sinden, Mrs. Margaret Clarke, and the Misses Sharon Martin, Louise Shalka, Phyllis Brown, Helen Highberg and Sheila Holt.

Daughter Marea attended to the guest book.

Many beautiful and useful gifts were received, as well as cards and flowers in abundance.

Forty years ago Miss Marion Hadley and Mr. Tom Davis, young teachers in the Angle Lake district north of Vermilion, were married by the Rev. A. B. Argue, well remembered pioneer Methodist minister. The ceremony took place in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hadley, the house now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ken Greenwood.

Following their marriage the young couple lived in a tent and taught their respective schools, Mrs. Davis at Angle Lake and Mr. Davis at Briarfield. In those days the rural schools closed for the winter months and at that time the young couple moved into Vermilion and lived here until the following spring of 1918 when Tom enlisted in the R. A. F.

In 1919 after the war Mr. and Mrs. Davis moved to Vancouver where they [illegible] for six [illegible] and then returned to dwell in the Lethbridge district for 12 years. Following that period they returned to farm the land homesteaded by Mrs. Davis' father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hadley, which is located in the Turkey Hill district.

Farming was carried on there until seven years ago when the move into Vermilion was made.

To the union there were born three children, son George who was born in Vermilion and who gave his life for his country in the second world war in the year 1944 while fighting in Italy; daughter Louise who resides in Calgary; and son Donald now with the R.C.A.F., stationed at North Bay, Ontario. As Donald's leave is due in September he was unable to attend the anniversary celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis have an adopted daughter, Marea. Marea is the daughter of their son George who lost his life in Italy. George married in England, and Marea was brought to Vermilion when a little child of two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis are active in many organizations and take a keen interest in their town and community. To them is [illegible] happiness and prosperity for the future.

EVERYONE COULD RIDE

There are enough cars in Canada now to take everyone for a ride all at once, if the roads would hold them. Latest figures show one passenger vehicle for every 3.1 people, reports The Financial Post. This compares with one for every 10 a decade ago.

Beautiful Wedding Solemnized At United Church, Kitscoty

SEAL—SEWARD

Baskets of pink and white gladioli accented with blue delphiniums and bowls of sweet peas and baby's breath graced the altar of the Kitscoty United church on Wednesday, August 7th at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon when Miss Maureen Margaret Seward and Mr. Andrew Robert Seal pledged vows and exchanged rings.

Rev. Oliver C. Seward, brother of the bride, assisted by Rev. G. Hutchison performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Oliver Seward of Kitscoty and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy J. Seal of Breton, Alberta. Mrs. Elsie Batty softly played the organ while the guests were ushered in by Mr. John Davidson.

To the strains of Wagner's Wedding March the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage on behalf of her mother and himself.

For her wedding, the bride chose a waltz-length gown of white nylon net over [illegible] topped with an embroidered net redingote. The slim bodice of the gown, which buttoned to the waist, was fashioned with lily-point sleeves. Nylon net alternated with embroidered net tiered each side of the bouffant skirt which was poised over hooped crinolines. The bride's fingertip illusion veil misted softly from a dainty coronet. She carried a Cascade bouquet of yellow roses and lily of the valley. Her only jewelry was a necklace and earrings, a gift of the groom.

Miss Marion Inglis attended the bride wearing a bouffant waltz-length gown of yellow nylon net over taffeta with matching mittens and a coronet styled similarly to that of the bride's. Her Colonial bouquet was of blue carnations.

Preceding the bride to the altar was her niece, little Miss Amy-Irene Seward as flower girl. She wore a dainty frock of blue nylon with a matching bandeau and mittens. She carried a basket of white Esther Reid daisies centred with a yellow carnation.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. James Seal.

Following the entrance of the bridal party and preceding the wedding ceremony, Mrs. Patsy Bootsman accompanied by Mrs. Elsie Batty at the organ sang "The Wedding Prayer". During the signing of the register she also gave a beautiful rendition of "The Lord's Prayer".

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Tracy Memorial hall. For receiving Mrs. Seward, mother of the bride, wore a floral chiffon afternoon dress in tones of pink, white accessories and pink roses en [illegible]. The mother of the groom, Mrs. Seal chose an afternoon dress of aqua nylon with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

The bride's table, laid with white linen and lace was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake embedded in pink tulle. White tapers and bowls of sweet peas and baby's breath flanked the cake on either side.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. James A. Smith M.P. and fittingly responded to by the groom. Several telegrams of best wishes to the newlyweds were read by the best man, Mr. James Seal.

Soloist at the reception was Mr. John Davidson who very capably rendered "I'll Walk With God" and "Through the Years". Upon special request he also sang several Scottish selections.

For their honeymoon trip to Jasper, Banff and Glacier National park the bride changed to a printed rose satin dress topped with a white beige coat. She wore white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

On their return the happy couple will reside on the Ennerdale Mission Field near Olds.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Seal and Mr. Don Hanson of Breton; Mr. Jas. Seal of Edmonton; Rev. and Mrs. [illegible] and family of Bentley; Rev. and Mrs. G. Hutchison of Telfordville, Mr. John Davidson of Onoway, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Seward of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smith of Vermilion; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stewart of Camrose; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pool To Handle Forage Crops

Commencing August 1 the Alberta Wheat Pool will be in a position to handle forage and cereal seed crops on a co-operative basis for Alberta farmers. This announcement was made in Calgary this morning by Ben S. Plumer, chairman of the Pool's board of directors.

Earlier this summer the purchase of the assets and properties of the Alberta Seed Growers' Co-operative was announced but at the time, the actual date of transfer had not been established.

The new Seed Division of the Wheat Pool will be in a position to handle deliveries of seed from this year's harvest, expected to get under way in parts of Alberta within the next week or two.

Mr. Plumer said that few changes in staff, facilities and operating methods from those of the Seed Growers' association are planned at the present time. Producers will have the option of selling on a pooling basis or they may sell their seed outright to the Seed Division.

Initial payments and prices will be established as soon as possible.

Greenlawn Good-Will Club

The monthly meeting of the Greenlawn Goodwill club was held at the home of Mrs. Bob Gray with a good attendance despite all the rain. There were eighteen members present and one visitor.

Mrs. A. Curtis paid the ladies for catering to her daughter's reception and gave a $5 donation extra.

The secretary read two letters one being a 'thank you' from Elaine and Norman Gunderson, the other an invitation from the Dewberry U.C.W.I. ladies to a tea.

Dagmar Holman and Vivian Curtis were appointed to find out about the TB clinic.

Owing to the busy time our September meeting was cancelled. On our regular meeting day in October we are to have as our guest speaker Miss Edna Craige, D.H.E.

The door prize was won by Helen Maddex. The club will take up a collection for one of our girls who is to be a bride in the near future.

The meeting was brought to a close by a lovely lunch served by Mrs. Gray and Joanne.

Health Unit Notes

Things You'll Want To Know About Chest X-rays

Tuberculosis in the lungs can be found long before you feel sick. An X-ray picture of the chest and examination by a doctor will tell whether or not you have tuberculosis. When TB is found early and treated promptly patients almost always recover. The earlier a diagnosis is made and treatment started the shorter will be the course of the illness.

When TB germs get into the body they usually enter the lungs. Then one of three things can happen:

1. A healthy body may fight and defeat the germs. This is likely to happen if the germs are few in number. Many people do not know that their bodies have fought a round with tuberculosis and won. Why X-ray in this case? . . . because the scars will show on the lungs letting the doctor know TB has already been beaten once.

2. The second thing that may happen is that the body resistance may fail to defeat the germs, either because there are too many germs or because body resistance has been lowered. However although the body may not defeat the germs it may be able to stop them from spreading. Neither side is winning. It's a draw. Why X-ray in this case? Because this could develop into a dangerous state of affairs. Everything should be done to tip the balance in favor of the body. The sooner this state of affairs is known the better, so that everything can be done to give body resistance a chance.

3. Sometimes the TB germs have attacked in such numbers and with such power that they are too much for the body's defences. They gain the upper hand and spread. Though the person losing the battle may not feel sick immediately he is in for a bad time. Soon he will begin to lose his pep and feel tired, lose weight, develop a cough and perhaps spit blood. Why X-ray in this case? Because the exact extent of the danger should be known and proper treatment begun at once. There is no time to lose. Early discovery helps recovery.

The mobile X-ray unit will be in Vermilion in September and every person over four years of age will be eligible for a chest X-ray. The X-ray is free of charge, completely painless and will be done quickly. Everyone is urged to take advantage of this opportunity as the unit only comes once in every 5 or 6 years. Every year the mobile X-ray unit discovers tuberculosis or other diseases in a number of people who thought they were completely healthy. The longer these unknown cases remain undiagnosed the longer will be the course of treatment they will eventually need. They are also spreading infection to their family and to anyone else they come in contact with.

At the moment volunteer helpers are taking advance registration cards to every home and business establishment in Vermilion and surrounding district. When these cards have been filled in a definite appointment will be mailed to each person so as to avoid any undue waiting when the X-ray is being taken. School children will be X-rayed in groups from school and their names need not be entered on the advance registration card.

If any family does not receive an advance registration card they can get one by phoning the Health Unit at Vermilion, 502.

About two or three weeks after the X-ray has been taken you and your doctor will be notified if anything is found out. If you are not notified it means that the X-ray was normal.

Once again, everyone is urged to have a chest X-ray in September as it may save much sickness and unhappiness in future years.

What she had meant to two generations of pupils is brought out during her dramatic illness when she shows Spartan courage during a difficult but successful operation performed by Robert Stack, one of her former pupils. This is a must for all the family.

"A Stranger In The Arctic"

by
MADEEN COOPER WAITE
(Fort Good Hope, N.W.T.

THE STORY SO FAR

Sullen, aloof, taciturn, "Jess" Cully comes into the north — a stranger. His past remains a mystery to all for he makes no friends. Cully "buys" for a wife young, pretty Rosa Ringbuk, who loves Manuel Vitalenny . . Cully took his bride to his lonely but well built and equipped cabin in the wilds, but Rosa's heart remained with Manuel.

A year passes. A baby boy is born to Cully and Rosa but dies, a victim of TB. They return to their cabin. Cully more surly than ever. Manuel visits Rosa while Cully is away and tells her to come to him whenever she needs help. Again he visits her, but Cully sees him leaving over the river ice which is beginning to break up. Flying into a rage he strikes Rosa who is standing beside her pet wolf, now fully grown and chained to a post. The wolf attacks Cully, slashing his arm and face, ripping out an eye. Rosa runs toward Manuel, now far out on the river ice, but Cully gets away from the wolf, gets his dog team and overtakes her. He chokes her to death, with Manuel vainly trying to stop him. Then when Manuel's back is turned, Cully slays him with an axe. Weighting down the bodies, he drops them into a fissure in the river ice. Then returning to the cabin he kills the wolf. A few days later he goes to Fort Good Hope and reports the deaths to the R.C.M.P. who apparently accepts his explanation of the tragedy. Two years pass in which weird stories of Cully's relentless hunting of wolves and his extreme cruelty to trapped animals are spread by natives. They believe he is possessed of an evil spirit. Finally Cully traps a huge timber wolf. However, instead of cruelly torturing the animal to death, he shot it, skinned it and made a rug for the floor, with the idea of furthering his revenge on the helpless hide. Gazing at the wolf rug one night, he thought he saw the eyes move! An idea came to him. Confident of his will-power, he played with the thought of mind over matter - to give the animal seeming life and then to mentally thrust it back to is humble servitude -- a rug on the floor.

Now go on with the story.

The following evening Cully began his experiment. Concentrating steadily, his gaze never once leaving the wolf, he willed it to blink its eyes. Two hours passed and still he sat: the only result being achieved was the life-like glitter in the eyes caused by the lamp. Just as Cully moved to stretch his cramped limbs, it happened! The eyelids narrowed and almost closed over the gleaming eyes until they were mere green slits peering balefully at him. Cully sat back and slapped his thigh triumphantly. He could do it! Just took patience, that's all. Well, he'd see what would happen tomorrow night. Standing up, he walked over to the lifeless creature on the floor and aimed a kick at the snout, deriving an incomprehensible satisfaction out of doing so.

Next evening Cully, his daily chores completed, sat as before in his chair by a table, the rug near his feet. This time though, he placed the wolf's head so that it was not facing him directly. Tonight he desired it to move the eyeballs to turn them in his direction to look at him. After willing this for some time, he thought he could see it beginning to happen. Yes, the eyes were moving! Slowly, slowly they turned until now the malevolent gaze was upon him. But wait! What was that? Surely he had not been commanding the thing to snarl as well! It was the lips were curling back, the muzzle wrinkling, the teeth gleaming whitely. Then all motion ceased and the transformation vanished.

Cully was surprised to find himself perspiring. It was cool in the room, yet he rubbed a film of perspiration from his upper lip and forehead. But what an achievement! What power of the mind—HIS mind—over matter!

Each night of the ensuing week Cully continued his experiment and achieved the same results, plus a few added incidents; the twitching of an ear, a stir of the ruff about the neck as though it were about to stand on end. So intent did he become on these performances that he gradually lost all interest in anything else. His traplines were neglected, his chores left undone. He carried on the trials so far into the night that he found his strength and stamina strangely taxed and he slept later and later into the day. Occasionally he forgot to prepare his meals, only eating ravenously when it came time to feed his dogs. Gradually he became so fanatically obsessed with what he was doing that he decided to keep a record of this "immense power" of his and he began a diary. Dating his first entry November 22nd, he reviewed in detail all that his experiments had accomplished since first starting them. For the dates November 23rd, 24th and 25th he noted that nothing had occured other than the abovementioned transformations. Then on November 26th there was a new note in the entry. He wrote:

"Tonight I re-entered the cabin after feeding the dogs and noticed the rug in a new position on the floor. I do not remember moving it nor accidentally kicking it there but that could possibly have happened. Nevertheless, I lifted it to return it to its original position and felt a most curious sensation. It was as though the hide had filled: as though it contained the bones and organs and warm blood was coursing through its body. It was almost with a sense of shock that I found myself listening to its heartbeats which seemed to reverberate throughout the room! Upon replacing the skin on the floor, the sound ceased and it was flat and lifeless as before. Possibly my fatigue caused me to imagine this without realizing that I was doing so. Or perhaps I dozed and dreamed it . . .

"November 27th. I was surely fatigued, both mentally and physically. These mental conjurances must be more of a strain than I had supposed. I awoke just now to find that I had slept nearly twenty-two hours. Oddly, I do not feel rested, but depressed and irritable. However, my brain is alert for I regarded the wolf and willed a snarl to appear together with a movement of the eyes. These took place — and more. A tongue has appeared, lolling from the mouth which is now slavering! Droplets appear upon the floor and glisten there. Now foam becomes apparent on the wrinkled lips of the beast and the ears move to lie flat against the head. Suddenly I feel an aura, a presence—almost as if I am not alone in this room. But how can that be? I did not will it."

"November 28th. I broke off my experiments last evening to ponder the last-mentioned observance. I have concluded that this aura which seemed to emanate from the wolf was Hate'. Hate, unadulterated, vitriolic! Surely, I am omitting nothing in this thing I am doing: to actually bring about an awareness of what the wolf would be feeling were it really alive! Naturally it would have its sensations of hatred, of frustration, and the desire to escape from me or to kill me!"

LUMBER SUBSTITUTE — It looks as if aluminum producers, eager for new markets, may find one in foamed aluminum, reports The Financial Post. It's an ultra-light substitute for wood. It can be nailed, cemented and screwed and has good resistance to fire and corrosion. Alcan, among other producers, has it under development. Expect it mid-1958.

WOODVALE NOTES

People from all over the community gathered at the Woodvale school August 13th to say goodbye to Mr. and Mrs. J. Hohol and family, who after four years are leaving us for Barrhead, where Mr. Hohol has been appointed principal of the Junior High School. Mr. Marklund was the M.C. for the evening and kept the large crowd amused by playing various games, assisted by Margaret Watt and Susan Wolters. Mr and Mrs. Wes Funnell entertained with a couple of their enjoyable duets. Jo-Ann and Elmer Hohol also sang a few songs and then Charlot Wolters and Elaine Thompson, Susan Wolters and Don Galloway played several pieces on the piano. By that time the moment had come for Mr. Marklund to make the presentation of a very comfortable and beautiful arm chair to Mr. and Mrs. Hohol as a going-away present from the community. Mr. Marklund expressed the regret of everyone that they are leaving, and wished them success and happiness in Barrhead. Mr. Hohol in his speech of thanks said how much he and his family had enjoyed their years in the Woodvale community, and hoped to see some of his friends from here for a visit in their new home. Lunch was served and everyone took the opportunity to say a personal good-bye to all the members of this popular family after a hearty singing of "For they are jolly good fellows."

Mr. Hohol had the satisfaction to again see all his Grade IX pupils pass their exams., his daughter Jo-Ann with "H's" on all the subjects.

More Families Sooner for Youth

Getting married and raising a family has become increasingly popular among the younger set, according to a report from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. received at the Health League of Canada.

Since World War II the median age at first marriage has decreased by one and one-third years, the statisticians point out, and now stands at 23 years for men and 20 years for women. As a result, the married population at the younger ages has increased markedly, and there are now more than one and one-half times as many married men under age 25 as there were in 1940.

Equally noteworthy is the increase in the proportion of young couples with children, reflecting largely the baby boom incidental to World War II and its aftermath, the statisticians say. The number of births in the United States has reached a new high in each of the last six years, the 1956 figure being more than 4,200,000 compared to 2,560,000 in 1940.

Most of these babies are born to young parents. Births in families where the husband is under 20 increased since 1940 by more than 140 per cent to about 98,000 in 1955: and even in the 20-34 group, the rise in births exceeded 60 per cent.

In more than half of the families which had a baby during 1955, the husband was under 30 years of age. In 90 per cent of the total, the father was under 40.

"The earlier phase of the baby boom was characterized by a sharp rise in first and second births," the Metropolitan statisticians report. "More recently, the boom has been sustained by unusually large numbers of children born in established families. Last year there was a record total of about 1,300,000 third and fourth children born in our country. These babies comprised almost one-third of the total—a higher proportion than for any year since World War I."

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Dividends Making Headlines; Liquor Plebiscite In Offing

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Dividends and liquor, the two big issues during the last session of the Legislature are still making headlines.

Last week the government announced detailed plans for paying out $11,000,000 in oil and gas royalty dividends, and made public the wording which will appear on ballots in the October liquor plebiscite.

Notices were being mailed to citizens last week explaining how the dividend plan works. Everybody should have one by Sept. 1 which is the date chartered banks and Treasury branches begin paying the $20 dividends.

Elaborate precautions are being taken to make sure no one obtains a dividend payment by fraud. To be eligible you must be a Canadian citizen or British subject 21 years or over. You must have lived in the province continuously for the past two years and for a total of 10 years.

When you apply for your dividend you'll be required to fill out and sign a declaration stating that you meet all the requirements. You'll also have to produce satisfactory identification, and it would be best if someone at the treasury branch or bank knows you.

The application forms will be printed on cards which can be fed into an electronic sorting machine which will quickly check and uncover certain discrepancies if they exist.

Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinman says anyone who falsifies an application will face criminal charges. In addition the offender will be disqualified for life from obtaining further dividend benefits.

Government officials are anxiously awaiting the initial response to the dividends. Some 560,000 Albertans are eligible and if the majority take advantage of the scheme it can be termed a success, at least from a political standpoint.

THE LIQUOR QUESTION

A single broad question will appear on the ballot when Albertans go to the polls to decide on the liquor question. It will read as follows:

"Should additional types of outlets for the sale of beer, wine and spirituous liquor be permitted if such outlets are later approved by a local vote?"

Just what is meant by "additional types of outlets" is not explained. Presumably the government will decide what type to allow if the majority votes 'yes'. Or perhaps it will be a matter for the Legislature to discuss.

It does however clearly carry out the Legislature's stipulation that every community would be permitted to hold a local option vote on liquor, if the majority over the whole province forms additional types of establishments.

It will be interesting to see the results of the vote tentatively scheduled for the end of October. During hearings of the House liquor committee last year, the temperance forces staged a very vigorous campaign for retaining the liquor laws as they are. But at the same time the committee heard evidence that the majority of Albertans held liquor permits and, therefore must take the odd drink.

In Edmonton and Calgary the voters will have to answer an additional question regarding mixed drinking in hotel beer parlors. Residents of the two cities are the only citizens of the province who can't drink beer in mixed company.

Regarding mixed drinking the ballot will carry this information: "Mixed drinking means the purchase and consumption of beer by both men and women in a beer parlor."

LIQUOR BALLOT RESTRICTED TO OVER 21

For awhile there was some confusion over the question of whether minors might be permitted to vote on the liquor question but the government soon cleared it up. Under the Election Act, 19 and 20 year old can vote in provincial elections, but under the Liquor Act persons under 21 can't purchase or consume liquor. Under an amendment to the Election Act passed this year, the liquor vote will be restricted to those over 21.

MORE MONEY

Alberta farmers are making more money this year. Income from grain, livestock, eggs and poultry for the first six months of the year totalled $174,617,000, an increase of more than $6,700,000 over the same period last year, the government reports. Wheat sales dropped $9,700,000, but livestock sales were up $10,200,000.

Last year the CNR paid out $423.6 million in wages to the 128,000 employees.

As well as being driven around the project as much as possible by Mayor Melvin Hill, Mr. Rucker flew over the lake from end to end at a low level in his plane.

Vandals Damage Equipment At Vermilion Park; $50.00 Reward Offered For Information

The Vermilion Parks Board is offering a reward of $50 for information leading to the conviction and arrest of vandals who caused widespread damage and destruction throughout the Vermilion Provincial park late last Sunday night.

This is the first evidence of vandalism breaking out hereabouts. Up until now it appeared that everyone who knew of the park appreciated all the facilities there and the amount of work which had been done to make an ideal picnic spot for everyone. People have flocked there by thousands this summer, children, all sizes, love it, nearly 400, youngsters and adults alike, attended the swim lessons ... yet a gang of moronic hoodlums ravaged the whole set up.

Commencing even up at the ball diamond they overturned and wrecked picnic tables and benches; garbage barrels, naturally full after the Sunday picnickers, were taken and dumped into the camp kitchens and on to the stoves, two doors were torn off the band shell and heaved down onto the benches in front; benches were thrown from the stage of the band shell and smashed; signs were torn off buildings; bathing houses entered and messed up, the floating portion of the swimmers' piers were cut away; two lifebuoys were stolen; toilets in the bushes were rolled down the hill — just to enumerate but a portion of the stupid damage committed.

CAMPERS' TENT WRECKED

One party of tourists, Mr and Mrs Jack Purser and his family from Merritt, B.C., made their headquarters in their tent in the camp and had been visiting old friends and relatives in this area, using the park as their home all week. Arriving back just after midnight Monday they found their camp wrecked, tent thrown into the trees as well as equipment strewn about and some stolen.

Only the night before seven parties of tourists had spent the night in the park but due to the wet week end had left during Sunday.

Police are working on the case and the co-operation of everyone is asked in helping to apprehend the vandals. Some of the articles moved required considerable strength and the crimes were not carried out by small boys by any means. Authorities judge the damage to have been perpetrated by a gang of young adults.

One of the lifebuoys taken was found tied atop a power pole a few miles west of town along highway 16 on Monday.

If you have one single solitary clue let the R.C.M.P. know, it might lead to the apprehension of the gang and make you $50 richer.

Percy McKone Dies In Edmonton

A former well known Vermilion man, Percy Trueman McKone, passed away in Edmonton on August 21. He was 59 years of age. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, seven daughters and one son; his mother Mrs. Joseph McKone, Edmonton, one brother Bert, and one sister, Isabel.

Percy is a graduate of Vermilion schools and was in the garage and car business here for many years with his father, the late Joseph McKone. Percy will be remembered as a defence man with the Firemen team in the old days of Farmer - Firemen hockey games.

Funeral services were held on Monday, Aug. 26th with interment in the Field of Honour at Beechmount cemetery.

Decoration Day Service Held At Cemetery On Sunday

Despite the rain and mud the Legion held a successful service of remembrance at the soldiers' plot in the Vermilion cemetery. There was a good turn-out of ex-service personnel and the ladies' auxiliary. Cadets under F. Lieut. Stan Manyluk, and "A" Coy, The Loyal Edmonton Regiment paraded under Capt. Bill Scales, adding a military touch to the gathering. Sgt Major Bob Allan was parade marshall.

The pipe band from the regiment provided music for the march and Piper Rod McPhee played the lament while the flag was being lowered. At the same time the colour parties of the Legion and the ladies' auxiliary under command of Vic Tillett dipped their flags.

Rev. Mr. MacKay was in charge of the service and the Salvation Army band under Miss Donna Isley provided music for the hymns.

President Tom Thompson read the "In Memoriam". "They shall not grow old as we that are left grow old, age shall not weary them nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun and in the morning we shall remember them."

President Thompson placed a basket of flowers on behalf of the Legion at the cenotaph. Mrs. Ivy Pare, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary placed a basket on behalf of that organization. Mr. Lester Metcalfe a member of Vermilion Branch prepared three crosses made of flowers for the occasion.

Flowers and flags were placed on all of the 35 soldiers graves in the cemetery. The committee wishes to say thanks to everyone who contributed flowers and also wishes to express appreciation to all who in any way contributed to the success of the 1957 Decoration Day Service.

President Tom McPherson introduced to the club Rotarians Art Shortell and Ed Clarke of Lloydminster.

The above story was duplicated here when a wallet with $300 in cash was lost. Everett Fry picked it up and turned it into police headquarters. Everett was rewarded with a $50 reward. The owner of the wallet was Mr. Chanasyk.

Funniest Thing Seen This Week

The funniest thing seen around the streets this week and for a number of weeks was a round-up of Leghorn hens being carried on at the 'Coke' plant about noon on Thursday ... at least the round-up started about noon but wasn't completed until some time later. The cowpokes were Freeman French who kept up a running conversation with the hens, Nick Kowalchuk who appeared to be a little short of wind for the trying situation; and Mrs. Flo Antrim who armed herself with a broom instead of a lariat.

Arriving at work at 7:00 a.m. Thursday Aldous found a crate of hens on the doorstep of his Vermilion Beverages Bottling works. Of the 18 hens originally in the crate 14 had squeezed their way out leaving only four remaining contentedly inside. No one knows where they came from or where they were supposed to be going. Anyway under Aldous' expert direction they were finally all crated. Still no one claimed them and as they were obviously hungry, they were taken next door and turned into a fenced-in chicken yard containing ten roosters being fattened for table purposes by Irvin Gordon who figures on some eggs in exchange for room and board.

Duck Hunting Season Opens Sept. 7; Five Days Earlier Than Last Year

Duck and goose hunting opens in Alberta on September 7th in the southern zone this area, Canadian Wildlife Service, Department of Northern Affairs and Natural Resources announced recently.

With two exceptions this year's migratory bird hunting restrictions in Alberta are the same as in 1956. The restrictions are: A. The use of recorded [illegible] calls is prohibited. [illegible] birds may now be shot from a power boat if the power is [illegible] anchor or fastened within or tied immediately alongside of any type of fixed hunting blind.

The seasons are practically the same length as last year: Sept. 2 to Nov. 30 in the north, and Sept. 7 to Dec. 14th in the south. Wilson's Snipe seasons are Sept. 2nd to Sept. 30th and Sept. 7th to Oct. 12th.

Bag and possession limits are the same as last year. They are: Ducks, 10 and 40 (not more than 20 of species other than [illegible]) [illegible] coots, and gallinules, 10 and 20; Wilson's Snipe 8 and 16.

CANDID SURVEY

Are we better than other people? The Financial Post does not answer that question but it gives its readers some basic facts:

Canada stands topmost among the nations in drug addicts per million of population. (Part of the reason for our eminence here of course is merely that we are pretty good at counting our addicts. Some countries are very casual about it.)

To suicide Canadians are not prone. Our score is 7.1 per 100,000 of population. Only Greece at 3.6 is materially lower. Comparatively the figures for some other parts of the world are astonishing: West Berlin 39.6, Japan 25.2, Denmark 23.3, U.K. 10.6 and U.S. 10.1.

Canada's beer consumption per head of population is 13.3 gallons, about the same as for the U.S. The Britisher puts down 17.9 gallons and the Belgians lead with 30.9 gallons followed by Australia at 23.8.

On spirits, the Swedes lead with 1.09 gallons. America comes next at 0.80 which is twice the Canadian consumption of 0.40 which is about the same as for the Netherlands, New Zealand, Germany and France.

On tobacco consumption, Canada's consumption (in all its forms) leads the world. We use 6.9 lb. a year — just a shade more than the Americans. Australia is 5.1; U.K. 4.8 and Italy 2.1.

SPEED KILLS — Slow Down and Live!

In the final week of the national campaign, which emblazons the slogan, "Speed Kills—Slow Down and Live", vehicle drivers in Alberta have or should have a two-fold objective.

Paul Lawrence, Safety Director for the Alberta Safety Council, points out that not only is there the forthcoming Labor Day week-end, when the highways will be chock full of motorists returning from summer camps or from week end holiday trips, but September 3, thousands of Alberta school children will be back in school. These events sound a double appeal for safe driving.

Last year due undoubtedly in part to an intensive summer safety campaign, Alberta was one Province which did not have a fatal motor accident during the Labor Day holiday.

If drivers were able to provide a Labor Day holiday last year unmarred by traffic deaths, they can do it again. The results last year were achieved by a happy combination of courtesy and safe driving. Most certainly it could not have been described to blind luck.

For the forthcoming Labor Day holiday on September 2, a repetition of last year's fatality-free period should be fervently desired. Make an effort to cut down accidents and fatalities will be correspondingly less or none at all.

Officials stress the need to drive sanely. Take plenty of time by starting early, whether going to a holiday spot or returning home.

In the first seven months of this year, there were 119 deaths on Alberta highways, compared to 113 a year ago. Some of these fatal accidents were due to cars pulling out of the line of traffic and trying to pass. Unfortunately this practice is all too common during holiday weekends, when the volume of traffic is heavy. Don't be in a hurry to flirt with death and spoil a happy holiday.

The Alberta Safety Council also draws attention to the opening of schools for the next term. This means thousands of children will be on the streets and highways, going to and from school. Many of these youngsters will be attending school for the first time.

When driving in the vicinity of schools especially motorists must be on the alert. Children at play cross streets and highways, unmindful of the dire hazards and safety advice given at home. Keep them alive by driving carefully at all times.

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

Summer holidays are almost over and although the reports of B. C.'s activities have been conspicuous by their absence, there has been enough going on to keep everyone busy. Two very successful picnics, one sponsored by the B. C. Curling Club and the other by the F.U.A. featured the early part of the summer and more or less finished the Pony and Little League ball games.

Swimming lessons at the Vermilion Park then took over the centre of interest for a large number of boys and girls of all ages from all over the community. Quite a few were successful in passing their tests and those who failed were to have a second chance, but so far the weather man has not co-operated. Everyone appreciates this opportunity for the children to learn to swim and for the facilities for picnicing at the Park.

During July Rev. and Mrs. Allan Dawe spent a couple of weeks visiting on the Auburndale and Wildmere field where Mr. Dawe was a student in the summer of 1952.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carrington and family of Vancouver visited the Kennedy families and other relatives for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Eyben of Cloverdale, B.C. had a busy time getting around to see members of their families in a short visit. They left on the return trip from Wainwright last Friday.

Miss Laura Allyn who has been visiting her sister Mrs. Edward for the past three weeks left on Sunday to return to her home in Toronto. Mr. and Mrs. Fred [illegible] to and Mr and Mrs. Fred Allyn of Edmonton were also recent visitors to the Edward home. Mrs. Leonard, the former Gertrude Allyn, was a nurse at the Vermilion hospital some years ago.

Bill and Jeannette Bushko made a few calls in the district last Sunday. Sorry we weren't home but we'll get that supper in sometime.

Two showers have been held in the gym.: one for Johnny Kochan and his bride, Agnes Mergle and the other for Mr. and Mrs. John Isley (nee Hazel May). Both were well attended and the young couples received many lovely gifts along with the best wishes of their friends for a long and happy married life.

A very successful Church vacation school was held at the church the second week in August under the direction of Mr. Breighaupt. Misses Clara Grern, Lorene Everett, Marjorie Brooks and Joan Seale were leaders. The children took the service on Sunday with Alayne Stone as the leader. Lyla Eyben, Betty Marfleet, Stanley Bury, Rex Cunningham and Myrna Cunningham also took part. Several members were sung by the children. About forty-five were in attendance during the week. The church was filled on Sunday and everyone had an opportunity to see the children's work which was on display in the Sunday School rooms. A great deal of credit goes to Mr. Breighaupt and the girls for their work with so many little ones for the week.

Mr. Breighaupt will be holding his last service on Sept. 15th. Everyone will be sorry to see him leave. Rev C. MacKay of Vermilion will be taking the service on Sept. 1st when the sacraments of baptism and communion will be observed. This is the only opportunity we have for these, so it is hoped for a good turn-out.

Young Peoples' League 'teenagers have had a very good and successful summer with a good attendance at most meetings. Last Thursday their meeting took the form of a weiner roast and hike in the coulee near Frank Eyben's. Evidently they almost needed cats' eyes to see where you were going in the dark.

When school starts next week there will be one new teacher, as Geo. Spak who has taught grades 6 and 7 for the past two years resigned to accept a position on the staff of the Innisfree school. We are sorry to see this young couple leave us, but wish them every success in their new home. George will be missed, too, in the Boy Scout work.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Burnett (nee Glenna Little) and Mrs. Burnett Sr. of Vancouver, and Mrs. A. Little of Vegreville visited at the Stone and Smith homes. Mrs. Burnett Sr. came from Scotland this summer to visit her son and daughter in Vancouver. The trip to Alberta was by car.

Miss Doreen Stone of Grande Prairie hospital staff spent a few days at her home in B. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Little, who have been spending most of the holidays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eyben, left from Vegreville on Monday for Brownvale in the Peace River country where Stuart will be principal of the Brownvale eight room school.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brooks and family from Saskatchewan have been visiting with his brother, Mr. Wilson Brooks and family.

The central W.A. of Auburndale will hold their meeting on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 18th at the church. Mrs. C. W. MacKay of Vermilion will be guest speaker.

Congratulations to the grade 9 students of B. C. who were all successful in passing their departmental exams., and also to Cliff Cunningham who passed Grade 12 with good marks. Cliff attended high school in Vermilion.

Islay 4-H Club Wins Two First Prizes For Displays

The Islay 4-H Grain club used for their display at the district fairs the theme "Good 4-H Farming Doesn't Cost — It Pays". The display won first prize at both the Lloydminster and Vermilion fairs. Much credit is due the members for their efforts. On some of those hot days members came in to town to work on the display and even in the evenings after their day's work. Mr. Leo Kowalski on one occasion, after bringing his children in, went away back out to his farm to get some material that couldn't be had here as the hardware was closed. No effort was too great, it seemed. Mr. Bill McLean has high praise for his club members for the way they worked along with him.

The Garden Club Achievement Day is Sept. 6th in the evening in the church hall. Come and see the results of the girls' work.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Baxter and children Anita and Denise of Edmonton were renewing acquaintances in and around Islay this past week. Pat was on holidays and they were on their way to Mrs. Baxter's home near Pangman Hill, Sask.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Purser and two boys Donald and Lorne of Merritt, B.C., were calling on relatives and friends here, in Vermilion and Dewberry last week end, brother Gordon and wife in Islay, brother Alf and wife and family, and sister Mrs. Redman in Dewberry, and aunt Mrs. Harry Elliott and cousins Mrs. Doug Cooper and Mrs. Ken Urquhart in Vermilion. Jack is manager of the Bank of Montreal in Merritt. He told of having met Mr Primrose many times in Vancouver in the past few years. Mr. Primrose, who is now retired, was manager in the bank here when Jack began his banking career.

Joe Waterfield, home from Ottawa, leaves Monday for Quebec City, then to England for two years at a university there.

Hello Mr and Mrs. Geo. Connon, just heard your 28th wedding anniversary announced by Aunt Libby. Congratulations too to Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Cooper of Vermilion, your anniversary date too.

Mr. and Mrs. Papworth and family of Edmonton were visitors at the Bill Shaw home on the week end.

Mr. L. Bowser is home after two weeks in Manitoba. He spent a week with his brother and family in Selkirk, also attended Gladstone's 70th celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Knoll had Jack's mother Mrs. Knoll from down East visiting for a few days.

Mrs. Lila Waterfield and Ken Gunn have returned after six weeks at the West coast.

A tasty kipper served for breakfast will help to start your day right. Easy way to prepare kippers is to cover them with boiling water, simmer over low heat for 10 minutes, drain, and serve with a pat of butter.

Board of Trade To Resume Meetings

Israel Miller, President of the Vermilion Board of Trade, announces that the regular weekly luncheon meetings of that organization will be resumed on Wednesday next, Sept. 4th and held every Wednesday thereafter. The gatherings are at 12:10 noon in the banquet room of the Rio cafe.

Mr. Miller also issues an invitation to all businessmen and their employees, professional men, officials of municipal and provincial bodies, and farmers to attend these weekly meetings. The weekly meeting affords an admirable opportunity for everyone interested in the welfare of the whole district, town and country as well, to get together and decide matters of importance to the best advantage to the community as a whole.

Newcomers to town will find this an excellent place to meet their fellow business men and to become acquainted much more quickly than would otherwise be possible.

Rotary To Publish Birthday Calendar; Canvass Starts Tuesday

At Friday's meeting of the Vermilion Rotary Club, Cliff McCormick, Chairman of the Calendar Committee explained the plans for handling the Community Birthday calendars this year.

A special effort will be made to make the calendar bigger and better than ever. This actually means no more and no less than a bigger listing of names on the calendar. It is hoped this year to double the listing.

Canvassers will visit town people in their homes. Country people will mostly be contacted in town. A special rural canvass [illegible] by Walter [illegible] is already at work. [illegible] on the [illegible] are President Tom McPherson and Bill Crum.

It is felt that many rural people would have listed their names had they been asked. Now don't be bashful — just see any one on the committee or any Rotarian and he will write up your birthday for the small charge of 25 cents.

The Rotary Club wishes to assure everyone that all funds collected are used for some purpose that will benefit the people in this district.

One of the first projects of the club was to provide two portable radios for the hospital at a cost of $70. Then a cheque for $100 was given to the Vermilion Boy Scouts' building fund.

A revolving fund of $500 has been set up for loans to students who wish to further their education. These loans are interest free and are payable at the convenience of the students.

The club sponsored and equipped a Little League base ball team at a cost of $150.

A rink of local high school boys competing in the Taylor Pearson play off were given $60 to help in their expenses.

Books costing $50 were donated to the Vermilion Public Library.

A girl from this district was assisted to the amount of $30 while attending the United Nation Sessions Conference at Banff School of Fine Arts.

A public address system valued at $250 was donated to Vermilion park for use in the band shell. Then recently a transhailer costing $119.50 was made available to the swimming instructors at the lake.

Besides having your name listed on the calendar with all the others you can have the satisfaction of knowing that your contribution will be used for some community project.

There were three visiting Rotarians at Friday's meeting, all from Lloydminster. Mel Lovell, Dr. Dickout and Bruce Anstey were introduced by President McPherson. Another visitor was Dr. Ben King, a former member of this club.

The ol' swimmin' hole holds more fascination for this trio of young Manitobans than does the construction of the Trans-Canada Pipe Lines natural gas line from Alberta to Eastern Canada. The pipeliners were crossing the LaSalle river, south of Winnipeg but the young swimmers were more interested in their favorite sport than the huge pipeline construction equipment.

District Wedding of Wide Interest Solemnized At Marwayne

GUNDERSON—CURTIS

The Christian and Missionary Alliance Chapel at Marwayne was the setting for the early afternoon wedding of Miss Elaine Curtis to Mr. Norman Gunderson.

Bouquets of summer flowers decorated the church as Rev. G. Rosch performed the double-ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Curtis of Dewberry and the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Gunderson, of Helmsburg.

Given in marriage by her father the bride looked lovely in a gown of white nylon net with Chantilly lace over satin. The bouffant floor length skirt was appliqued with lace and the slim bodice had a scalloped neckline. The sleeves tapered to lily points. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a sequin-trimmed headcrown and she carried a white Bible with rosebud streamers. Her only jewellery was a two-strand pearl necklace, a gift from the groom.

Attending the bride was her sister, Miss Lila Curtis, who wore a cocktail length gown of pink nylon with a matching [illegible] hat. She carried a bouquet of yellow mums.

As flower girl, Sharon Gunderson, neice of the groom, wore a frock of yellow embossed nylon and had a band of yellow flowers in her hair. She carried a basket of yellow mums and rose petals.

Mr. Mason Curtis, brother of the bride, was best man. The ushers were Mr. Stanley Curtis, brother of the bride, and Mr. Wayne Kinshella, cousin of the groom.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a pink figured nylon dress with pink and white accessories and a corsage of red and white [illegible]. A dress of mauve nylon jersey with panama and black accessories, and a yellow corsage were worn by the groom's mother.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Rosch sang the "Wedding Prayer" accompanied by the pianist, Miss June Gunderson, cousin of the groom.

At the reception for 75 guests at Greenlawn Hall Rev. Rosch proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom fittingly responded. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake that was decorated by Mrs. V. Dennill, aunt of the bride.

Mrs. I. Gunderson was in charge of the guest book.

The young couple entertained friends and relatives at a wedding dance in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunderson left for a short wedding trip to Banff and Jasper, and returned to make their home in Lloydminster.

Beautiful Double-Ring Ceremony At Holy Name Church

Holy Name Catholic church, Vermilion, was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Saturday, August 10th at 10:00 a.m. when Father Landrigan united in marriage Miss Bernice Marie Bauer, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bauer, to John William (Jack) Barr, youngest son of Mr. Wm. Barr and the late Mrs. Wm. Barr. The double ring ceremony was performed before an altar banked with gladioli and fern.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, wore a beautiful waltz-length gown of bridal satin, styled in Princess line over hooped crinolines. The fitted bodice featured a Sweetheart neckline with lily-point sleeves. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls and earrings, a gift of the groom. Her elbow veil of nylon illusion was held in place by a small satin pillbox cap. She carried a Cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses, white stephanotis and fern.

Miss Eileen Bauer, sister of the bride, and Miss Betty Kastian were the bridesmaids. They wore similar waltz-length gowns of Chiffoline in soft shades of rust and Alpine blue. Each wore small caps of white feathers and bracelet-length white nylon glove, and carried Cascade bouquets of white Shasta daisies and yellow and pink roses.

The groom was attended by his cousin Mr. Robert Barr and Mr. Leonard Joa. Mr. Stewart Barr and Mr. Bud Baddock ushered the guests to their pews.

During Mass and the signing of the register the Junior choir sang "Flowers of the Rarest" and "O Sanctissima", accompanied by Miss Ileen Shattuck.

A wedding dinner was held in the banquet room of the Rio cafe for the bridal party and relatives.

In the afternoon an open reception was held at the home of the bride. For receiving Mrs. Bauer, mother of the bride, wore an embroidered linen sheath style dress of pale blue with white accessories, and pink roses en corsage. Mrs. Nelson Crowell, sister of the groom, chose an afternoon ensemble of grey bengaline with red accessories and corsage of red roses.

The bride's table was laid with white linen and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake embedded in white tulle and pink rosebuds. Small rosebud vases flanked the cake on either side. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. [illegible] and fittingly responded to by the groom.

For her wedding trip to Banff, Waterton Lakes and points in the U.S.A. the bride changed to a brown tweed suit with Panama accessories. Corsage was of yellow roses. Mr. and Mrs. Barr will make their home in Edmonton.

Pipelining through sloughs and muskeg has become almost routine for construction crews building the Trans-Canada Pipe Lines natural gas line from Alberta to Eastern Canada. Here in the vicinity of Carberry, Man., the line-up gang works its way through a marshy spot on section five followed by the welders, and the dope gang. The crews work from a road of tree trunks, planks and sand. Before this job is completed the pipe will be coated and wrapped, the ditch pumped dry and 6,300-pound concrete weights placed over the pipe to hold it in place.

A GLANCE AT THE SUMMER FALLOW SITUATION

Thoughts expressed from time to time that the more general adoption of chemical weed control methods in Western Canada might bring a gradual reduction in summerfallow where rain was not a limiting factor, have not been borne out during the past five years.

Between 1952 and 1957 the total cultivated acreage in Western Canada seeded to the major cereal grains and flax and including that in summerfallow has increased about 1½ million acres; but while the cereal and flax acreage has decreased almost 2 million, that placed in summerfallow has increased about 3½ million, or by some 16%, during the 5 year interval. The largest actual, as well as percentage increase in summerfallow has been in Saskatchewan closely followed by Alberta and with Manitoba showing less of a tendency to increase fallow operations. This greater emphasis on fallow means that fewer crops are being grown on stubble land — a practice which certainly appears to have paid dividends in a season such as 1957, when seasonal rainfall was limited. While this may be true, eleven year records of the Canada Department of Agriculture kept in the brown and dark brown soil regions of west central Saskatchewan show that of the two rotations (1) fallow wheat, (2) fallow-wheat-wheat, the three-year rotation when compared on a cultivated acreage basis gave slightly higher yields ranging from 0.7 bushels to 2.3 bushels per acre. It has been pointed out that the cost of the three year rotation is slightly higher than that of the straight wheat summerfallow rotation. However over a period of time, in the dark brown soil zone at least, there would seem to be a definite advantage in taking off a second crop of wheat after fallow.

In the meantime more wheat and to some extent other grains as well, seem to have been planted on summerfallow land or land that has been cropped only once since summerfallow operations. The effect of this on the maintenance of yields generally cannot be over[illegible]

Faculty of Veterinary Medicine Advocated for Western Canada

Canada is fortunate in having two veterinary colleges of high standing. The one in Quebec meets a particular local need in that instruction is given in French. The school in Ontario has had to shoulder the responsibility for the English speaking sections. This has been cheerfully undertaken and the contributions to Canadian veterinary medicine have been of a Dominion rather than Provincial character. In spite of the excellent school and a staff of capable instructors, there are factors involved which are not in the best interest of the country as a whole.

Canada is a large country from the standpoint of space. Her population is growing and her industrial and other activities are expanding rapidly. Consequently an arrangement on which the country might limp along a few years ago is totally unfitted to meet the needs of today. As a consequence, there has been over several years a chronic shortage of personnel to fill the posts which must function if this country is to show activity in the export field. Gradually it is dawning on the public that enormous losses are occurring which could be prevented if a sufficiency of veterinary effort were put into research and the application of findings in the field.

In a word, if Canada is to live up to the notices of progress which have been so blatantly trumpeted from many sources, she cannot ignore the contributions which veterinary medicine must make in a modern world. Preparations must be made to train more personnel and to so organize our activities that the great help which veterinary medicine is capable of offering will be incorporated in our National growth.

That there exists only two schools to meet this need is an indication of the backward manner in which this whole question has been approached for years. Another teaching centre should be established immediately. This should be situated in Western Canada to give better geographical coverage. It should be a faculty of a university which has medical and agricultural faculties. Much of the basic training is already available in such a university. Consequently the duplication of departments which must be made when a school is a distance from the university can be avoided and economies in building and operating costs maintained. Perhaps the most important advantage is that students in formative years rub shoulders with others who are candidates for other professions. This gives a sense of proportion and value not only to the Veterinary student but to those of other professions who too frequently at present, have little appreciation of Veterinary Medicine, a state of affairs detrimental to the interests of the country.

More and more research is required in the veterinary field. The popular conception of research has not assisted. It is thought too frequently that conducting services and collecting data is research. While these activities are necessary and helpful, they are never-the-less not research, and do not contain the potential of new methods. Research can be multiplied many times and not meet Canada's needs. A new faculty is bound to increase research and would certainly be helpful to Western Canada.

A veterinary teaching institution in Western Canada would create an atmosphere in relationship to the profession which cannot exist when schools are great distances away. Students would therefore be attracted in greater numbers and those who should employ veterinary services become more conscious of the [illegible] to be made. To summarize Canada is a growing country in every respect and our schools that teach veterinary medicine are insufficient in number. Western Canada is the region that requires immediate attention because of geographical reasons. — Canadian Journal of Comparative Medicine and Veterinary Science.

SHOOT FOR THE MOON

There's an old oriental proverb which reads "If you shoot your arrows at the moon, you probably won't hit it but at least they won't go into the bush."

A popular song not so long ago sung by Bing Crosby, asked, "Do you want to swing on a star, and be better off than you are, or would you rather be a fish?"

Trite? I don't think so.

That's why I told my youngsters, the other day, when school began, to shoot for the moon. If you try for top honors you'll be sure to pass. If you try only for a pass you might fail.

I don't want them straining beyond their capacities, but I've no fear, knowing them, that they will go that far. I do want them to experience, just this once at least, a year of extending themselves to the limit, aiming for a goal as high as they can make.

And they've accepted the challenge. I hope it lasts. They're getting a kick out of it now; there'll be tougher self-discipline ahead of them, perhaps, when the winter parties begin.

As I lectured them, I lectured myself, too. Everyone should stretch out to the limit from time to time, test himself to see just how much he can accomplish. Perhaps it makes you something of an oddity in this age of slow downs and feather bedding. But it feels good inside to end a day knowing that you've done your level best.

We have things mighty good in this country. Maybe it has faults but a man can make a living here easier than anywhere else if he really wants to stretch out to his fastest gallop. If we all did it, prosperity would be assured.

Unfortunately, because life has been relatively easy (remember I said 'relatively' because life was never truly easy anywhere) there's a trend towards laziness evident all around us. Laziness is catching, just like measles. And laziness is not really fun.

Fun comes from accepting challenge head on and making accomplishments in the face of difficulties. There's more joy in breaking your own record than in looking for easy breaks.

Okay, then. Let's all limber up the muscles and shoot some arrows at the moon! We might prove the orientals wrong. We might hit it.

The rains came, a little late for many crops but pastures have benefitted greatly.

There seem to be more stooks in fields this year which will mean more threshing and more straw piles.

WILDMERE WINKS

We were pleased to see Mrs. H. Howard of Edmonton at church on Sunday evening. She was here visiting her son Lloyd and family for a few days. Nice to chat with her once more.

Here is an item we should have mentioned before. A bee was held at Mrs. Fred Haines one afternoon to pick raspberries for Mrs. H. Sweeney of Thorncliffe. Many hands soon picked about five water pails for her. Mrs. Haines was very generous with her raspberries and many homes around will be serving fruit from her bountiful garden this winter. All thank you very much Mrs. Haines for your kindness.

Remember folks Rev. Mackay of Vermilion will hold communion and baptismal service at Wildmere next Sunday, Sept. 1st at 7 30 p.m. Plan to attend.

Maureen Cruthers is spending a few days with brother George and his family in town this week.

Laurence Graham of Wainwright is visiting at the Wallington home for a few days.

Mr. McCann and Mr. McKeague from north of town were Sunday visitors to the Wallington home.

plays of flowers. It rained but that didn't seem to make any difference as everyone really enjoyed the show.

The writer chatted with Mr. Playne, Mr. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Buckingham, Rev. Parry and cousin Doris were there from Lloydminster. The writer expected to see more Vermilion folks but they will probably be at the Vermilion flower show on Wed[illegible] of this week.

We are very sorry we missed seeing Mr. and Mrs. Herman Eyben of Cloverdale, B.C. when they were in Vermilion. Laurence gave me your message Jennie. Thanks a lot for thinking of us.

All this rain has truly held up haying and harvesting. New growth is coming up around the swathed grain preventing it from drying.

Mrs. Jessie Alexander and son Andrew of Rimbey, Alberta, has been visiting relatives and friends in Battleview. They also attended the party for the Cosh family. It was nice chatting with her as it's been some time since she was here. Her daughter Heather will be attending University this fall. Heather received some of her early education at Wildmere before moving to Rimbey. All her friends wish her every success.

Peggy Graham, who spent ten days at her home has gone to visit her grandmother at Ponoka, and then on to Didsbury and Calgary for a few days holiday. At Didsbury she will be bridesmaid for a chum of her nurses' training class. On Saturday of last week she attended the wedding of Marvis Valentine at Elk Point.

If you happen to have some new chili sauce on hand, try this for taste. Combine ¼ cup of your sauce with 2 tablespoons of prepared mustard and 1 tablespoon of prepared horseradish. Use mixture to top 2 pounds of fish fillets then bake fillets until cooked.

Tales of a Traveler

Travel is fun. And because it's so enjoyable, everyone envies those lucky folks whose job consists of working with travelers. Take the cruise director's, for example. Full of pleasure and excitement? Sure – but there's much more that goes with it.

One cruise director – on just one journey – had to rescue a susceptible young playboy from the wiles of a cruising adventuress; play Cupid to a British baronet and an American actress, guard the widow of an Australian pearl magnate who carried tin cans full of matched pearls loose in her baggage, quietly settle an attempted murder in Calcutta, protect his charges during a pitched battle in which Hindus and Mohammedans celebrated the Harvest Festival at Agra, and hold the hand of a lonely old lady as she lay dying in a hotel room in Rome.

Another exciting travel occupation is special agent for American Express. When travelers cheques are lost or stolen, American Express will promptly replace them for the owner. This policy has resulted in many fascinating stories.

Take the case of "The Gullible Traveler." It began when two men met in Las Vegas, Nevada. One was driving across the country and invited his new found friend to accompany him. When they arrived in New York City, the "friend" disappeared along with the car owner's wallet and $1200 worth of travelers cheques.

The loss was reported to American Express immediately. The car owner recalled that while they were driving across the country and chatting the "friend" had boasted of his amorous exploits when stationed as a GI in Germany.

American Express cabled their agent in Frankfurt. Files were searched, and the man's record was found, with a picture, and the name of his home town — San Francisco.

Next, American Express' San Francisco agent took over the trail. Several weeks later, when the wanted man stepped up to an Oakland, California, hotel desk to try and cash one of the stolen travelers cheques he was nabbed.

Another odd fact about travelers cheques is that although they were invented primarily to help people safeguard their money while traveling in foreign countries, they now find their greatest use in the United States itself. More cheques are sold and spent in this country than in all other nations put together.

Deport American Missionaries From Dominican Republic

Ten American missionaries were deported to Puerto Rico from the Dominican Republic on Aug 3rd, Mel Warren, presiding minister of the Vermilion congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses announced this week. Fare was paid by the Dominican government and the missionaries were escorted under arrest to the plane.

Action came on the heels of "a wave of persecution equalled only in Communist countries", climaxed by a total ban proscribing the work of Bible education conducted by the Witnesses in the Dominican Republic since 1945.

An ultimatum to the Christian missionaries to renounce all association with the organization and cease communication with their Brooklyn, N.Y., office or leave the country was made last month by Major General Arturo Espaillat, Minister of Security, whom the U.S. government has sought to question in the disappearance of Dr. Jesus de Galindez. Some of the missionaries have been in the country for 11 years.

According to official news sources of the Dominican Republic proscription of the Christian activity of Jehovah's Witnesses was legalized by President Hector Trujillo on July 25th and the law carries penalties of from one to three months imprisonment with fines of from $30 to $100. It was announced that over one million dollars had been appropriated by the Dominican government to enforce the ban.

Mr Warren said a full-scale campaign to restrict the religious freedom of the Witnesses has been underway since July 1. Kingdom Hall meeting places had been ordered closed and about 250 of Jehovah's Witnesses had been brought in for questioning. The Witnesses have been subjected to beatings and violence by police and prison guards in an effort to make them renounce all association with the movement, Mr Warren stated. About fifty are now in prison, some with sentences of two years.

Farewell Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cosh At The Preston School

(From the Wildmere Winks)

A farewell party was held at the Preston school for Mr. and Mrs. R. Cosh and family, who have moved to McLaughlin where Mr. Cosh is principal of the three-roomed school.

There was a very large attendance at the social evening and the crowd was entertained by some tricky contests arranged by Mrs. Harry Symes and Mrs Gilbert Harrison. These contests caused much amusement and musical hats brought forth many laughs. A hat maker present would have gathered up many new ideas for a variety of styles.

Just before lunch time Mr. Lewis Alexander and Mr. Ray Osterberg came in carrying a large box, and in a few suitable words Lewis presented Mr. and Mrs. Cosh with a beautiful lamp on behalf of their many friends in the Preston community.

Mr. Cosh in turn thanked everyone for the kindness tendered to his family and himself during his stay in Wildmere and stated that they had enjoyed life there very much. Even if they were leaving they were not going far away, said Mr. Cosh, and no doubt would come to Vermilion from time to time and meet old friends there.

All present wished the family every success in their new home at McLaughlin, and the evening was fittingly closed with the singing of "They are Jolly Good Fellows".

Mannville Family Is Re-united After Twenty-three Years

When a family hasn't been reunited in 23 years, it seems reasonable to hold two reunions within a month. After the sons and daughters of the late M. and Mrs. C. C. Younge of Mannville met at their family home for a fortnight's reunion a month ago they dispersed for trips through the Rockies, converging in Edmonton for a second re-union at the home of Mrs. B. P. Dickson.

Of the family of eight, four are graduates of the University of Alberta and two were graduates from the old Camrose Normal School. Bringing their children and grandchildren, the brothers and sisters came from as far east as Montreal and Rochester, N. Y. and as far south as Honolulu, Hawaii for the reunion.

Miss Eva Younge of Montreal is associate professor of social work at McGill University. Mr. John Younge of Rochester, N. Y. has become research engineer for Eastman-Kodak Company. Dr. Otto R. Younge has just returned to his position as professor of agronomy at the University of Hawaii after a posting with the American Aid program in Iraq.

The widow and children of the late Dr. Rex Younge of Ponoka attended the re-union. Dr. Younge was a graduate in medicine of the University of Alberta. Mrs. Dickson and Mr. G. Younge of Mannville are Camrose Normal school graduates.

The Younge family arrived in Canada from Denmark in 1911, spending a year at Camrose before homesteading at Mannville.

The early days in the district returned very vividly to the brothers and sisters during a walk through farms bordering the land which Oscar and George farm today.

In an area no larger than the size of a house, they found the bones of a complete herd of buffalo bleached by sun and weather.

"They must have been killed in a storm, or died in the muskeg," Mrs. Dickson says. Over garage doorways from Mannville to Honolulu, buffalo horns will be momentos of the reunion of a distinguished family of scholars.

Health Unit Notes

HOW CAN I HELP MY SHY CHILD?

All children are not of course equally sociable and most of them go through a period of shyness around two years but shyness in the school child which makes it difficult for him to take part in social activities is a problem which needs careful handling and could usually have been avoided.

Stated in a nutshell, the shy child needs to have a better opinion of himself. Somehow he's missed out on one or two "musts" that should have gone into strengthening his personality.

First of these is the all-important one, the lack of which seems to be at the root of so many troubles in child training:

Your child must always feel that you want him and love him, no matter what. He needs to know that he belongs to you; that he can count on you for understanding, come what may. As he is growing up, he needs affectionate help and direction as he begins to take over activities, decisions and responsibilities for himself. The security that comes from knowing that you, his parents are standing by with approval, understanding and interest is the broad firm base from which your child steps confidently forth to meet new people and new situations.

There are many pitfalls for the unwary parent. Telling your child "I won't love you any more" or angrily calling him "a bad boy" can have consequences you would be very anxious to avoid. On the other hand, avoiding unpleasantness for him (and yourself) by failing to help him face the need for self-control and restraint can be a serious matter too. Some parents, anxious to rear a "perfect child" criticize too freely and overwork the "nos" and "don'ts". They find they have raised a child that is always ill at ease, hesitant, drawing back from any kind of action or decision.

Indulging a child one minute and scolding him the next doesn't provide a firm base of security, either. Restrain and control him on the important issues until he learns to control himself. You can do this in such a way that he has no doubt that you love him or that he himself is all right, even though he's got to stop what he's doing.

The second essential the shy child may lack is the feeling that he is able to do many of the things he wants to do, and to be many of the things he wants to be.

The shy child needs to feel more capable, adequate and important. Here again there are many ways in which parents can, almost from the child's birth, weaken his faith in his own abilities to be and do like others. Eight of the more obvious situations for parents to avoid in this regard follow:

1. Limiting his experiences, such as failing to allow early opportunity to sit up, crawl, or stand, failing to make suitable play provisions, failing to let him feed, wash and dress himself before he is able to take over completely or faultlessly.
2. Tying him to your apron strings, keeping such a close check on him that he can't learn anything for himself.
3. Making all decisions for him.
4. Too much "Don't touch", "Stop that noise!", "Can't you do anything at all!", whenever he tries something for himself in his own way.
5. Expecting too much from the child in the way of manners, habits or cleanliness.
6. Making thoughtless remarks or laughing at his childish awkward attempts to learn. Also neglecting to praise and make suitable comments when he achieves something.
7. Overdoing the emphasis on the child's cultural and artistic activities to the neglect of helping him learn handicraft skills, so that he feels unequal among his friends and playmates.
8. Humiliating or embarrassing him with a remark because he's upset a glass at a party, for example, so that afterwards he feels uneasy in social situations. A bright child, interested in new, long words may be driven by adult laughter to limit his speech drastically. Too much emphasis on a child's size — "He's so big" or "He's unusually small" — makes him feel he's "different." Even the choice in naming a child may contribute to shyness in a variety of ways.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

by KEN MASON

Alberta Prepares To Battle Epidemic of Asiatic Influenza

EDMONTON — It became clear last week that there won't be enough vaccine to stop an epidemic of Asiatic influenza from sweeping across Canada and the U.S. in the fall or winter.

Provincial Health Minister Dr. W. W. Cross announced that Alberta had been allotted 120,000 doses of serum being produced by laboratories in Toronto and Montreal, and the first 30,000 shots will be available by the end of September.

Federal officials have drawn up a priority list, which Alberta has adopted, to make the limited supply of anti-flu vaccine do the most good.

First priority will go to persons in health service, hospital and ambulance workers, utility service employees, air and ground crews, persons in the food and milk trade, druggists and workers in communications, such as telephone telegraph and [illegible].

If more vaccine becomes available, it will go to a second priority group which includes clergymen, transportation workers, gas and fuel employees, post office officials, hotel and restaurant [illegible] and educational staffs.

The main idea is to keep the essential services rolling in case the bulk of the population becomes stricken with the disease which is raging across most of the world. It hasn't been identified in Canada yet, but doctors believe it will hit this continent.

The vaccine is being distributed to the provinces on the basis of population, and the cost of producing it is being shared by federal and provincial governments. An estimated 28,000 persons will qualify under the priority list, and medical men say one shot should provide immunity for six months. By that time, they hope, the danger will have passed.

Dr. Cross also had good news for thousands of Albertans. He announced that enough Salk poliomyelitis vaccine has been made available to provide free inoculations for all persons under 40 years of age. Local health units should have further information. Until now, the polio shots have been restricted to the lower age groups and to expectant mothers.

BY ELECTION OCT. 2

The first test of political sentiment in Alberta since the June 10th federal election is slated for Oct. 2. On that date citizens of Calgary will elect a member of the legislature to replace Progressive-Conservative Art Smith.

Mr. Smith resigned his legislature seat this year to run in the federal election under the Tory banner, and is now a member of Parliament.

Your agent's guess is that the Tories will take the Calgary provincial seat again if their candidate is a strong one. For one thing it was a Conservative seat when Mr. Smith held it, and for another the country appears to be leaning toward Conservatism these days. Of course the other parties will hope this corner is wrong.

Conservatives now have two members in the provincial house. They are W. J. C. Kirby of Red Deer and J. Percy Page of Edmonton. They hope to be rejoined by a third when the next session opens about the middle of February.

REMEDY FOR FROST BOILS ON HIGHWAYS

The Alberta Research Council and the university have come up with a chemical which prevents those bothersome frost boils in highways. The only trouble is, it's too expensive for general use.

The chemical costs only 1c per pound, but it takes 30 pounds to treat one cubic yard of sub-grade soil, and the cost of treating a one-yard strip across a 30 foot highway would be $3. Multiply that by the number of yards of highway in the province, and you get some idea of the cost.

In sipte of this, it may be used in small sections of road where frost heaving is particularly bad. Chemicals developed to prevent frost damage have been under test at the university for about ten years.

Churchill-Dodd Wedding Held At Paradise Valley Church

At 2:00 o'clock on Friday afternoon, July 19th, a very pretty summer wedding was solemnized at the Paradise Valley United church when Dora Mae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dodd, became the bride of [illegible] Clyde, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Churchill, all of Paradise Valley.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. D. Smith, minister of Grace United Church, Lloydminster, under an arch of streamers and flowers.

The bride, given away by her father, chose a strapless waltz-length gown of embroidered nylon tulle over bridal satin, with a matching lace jacket featuring lily point sleeves. Her French illusion veil was held in place by a sequin encrusted coronet. Her flowers were a horseshoe-styled bouquet of red roses. Dora's only jewelry was a matching pearl necklace and earring set, a gift of the groom.

The bride was preceded down the aisle by her sister Miss Margaret Dodd who acted as bridesmaid, and Mrs. Edna Szabados, sister of the groom, as matron of honor. Margaret and Edna each chose a similar cocktail-length dress of nylon tulle with matching three-quarter-length gloves and headdress, blue and pink respectively. Each carried a bouquet of carnations. Gifts to the bridesmaid and matron of honor were pearl necklace and earring sets.

Miss Terry Jane Szabados, a niece of the groom, looking very dainty in a pink nylon-flounced dress with flowers in her hair, acted as flower girl. She carried a basket of pink carnations.

The groom was supported by Mr. Don Churchill, his cousin, and his brother-in-law Mr. Zollie Szabados. Mr. James Allan was usher. Gifts to the attendants were matching cuff link and tie pin sets.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. M. Hoskins and during the signing of the register Miss Sharon Walter and Miss Gloria Baxter sang the lovely duet "I Love You Truly".

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Dodd chose a blue-grey taffeta with matching white hat and accessories. Pinned on her shoulder was a corsage of yellow carnations.

Mrs. Churchill, mother of the groom, chose a fitted blue-grey dress with white hat and accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception for sixty-five guests was held at the home of the groom. Against a background of streamers and roses the bride's table was laid with a white cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake made by the groom's mother. The cake was surrounded by flowers and flanked by tall white tapers.

Mr. Montie Hoskins proposed a toast to the Queen, and Donald Churchill followed with one to the bride to which the groom ably responded. A telegram was read which was received from Kinuso, Alberta. Following the reception the young couple entertained their friends at a dance, the first wedding dance in the new Paradise Valley hall.

For a wedding trip to Banff and Jasper the bride donned a navy dress with coral feathered hat and accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Churchill will make their home in the Paradise Valley district.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Stoddart, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Mansfield from Lloydminster, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peake from Kamloops, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. William Peake, Galahad, Alberta; Misses Lois and Grace Stoddart, Red Deer.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM OSINCHUK

Double-Ring Ceremony Held At Vermilion United Church

A very pretty summer wedding took place on Friday, July 12th at the First United church, Vermilion, when Marjorie Christine Amelia, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gregor of Heinsburg, became the bride of William Osinchuk of Clandonald, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Osinchuk of Clandonald.

The double-ring ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Glen Rasch before an altar decorated with peonies.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white tulle and lace-over-satin with lily point sleeves. Her finger-tip veil of French illusion was held in place by a crown of net trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a crescent bouquet of pink roses and wore a triple strand of pearls and earrings, gift of the groom. The bride was attended by Lila Sharkey of Edmonton, as matron of honor and her sister Velda Gregor of Heinsburg as bridesmaid. Lila and Velda chose waltz-length dresses of mauve and yellow tiered net over taffeta with matching head bands and gloves. Each carried a fan of yellow and mauve carnations respectively. Their jewelry consisted of pearl necklaces and earrings, gift of the bride.

The flower girls were Jean Gregor, sister of the bride and Shirley McIntosh, cousin of the bride. They wore identical knee-length dresses of ruffled tiered pink net over taffeta and head bands of pink rosebuds and carried baskets of summer flowers. Each wore a locket, gift of the bride.

Attending the groom were Archie Polesebuk of Clandonald and Allan Gregor of Hinton, a brother of the bride.

Ushering the guests were Allan Gregor and Richard Osinchuk, nephew of the groom.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Glen Rasch sang "Oh Promise Me" accompanied by Miss Shirley Mae Brown of Edmonton.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gregor wore a two-piece navy dress with Panama accessories and pink rose corsage. The groom's mother chose a mauve dress with white accessories and yellow rose corsage.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Heinsburg hall for 150 guests. The bride's table was decorated by a three-tiered wedding cake, baked by Eva Long and decorated by Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Hunt. Rev. G. Rasch gave Grace and Mr. J. Boyd, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom [illegible]. A telegram from Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wildman of Edmonton was read by Mr. J. Boyd.

Following the reception a dance was held in the evening at the Greenlawn hall. The music was supplied by the Heinsburg orchestra. For a trip to Banff and Jasper the bride chose a grey suit with blue and white accessories and pink roses en corsage.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Osinchuk Jr. will make their home in the Landonville district.

"HELLO, HOMEMAKERS"

Buying Childrens' Shoes

If you haven't bought your childrens' "back to school" shoes, here are a few points you might watch for. Since childrens' feet grow so rapidly, it is both practical and economical to buy shoes of medium quality. In this way, the child is likely to wear out a pair of shoes before out-growing them. Never buy shoes of poor quality as they never hold their shape, and give insufficient support for their feet.

Here are six points to check:

1. There should be one-half to three-fourths inch from tip of longest toe to the end of the shoe when the child is standing.
2. The leather should be wide enough across the vamp so that a slight wrinkle of leather can be picked up between the thumb and forefinger.
3. The shoe should be wide at the base of the heel to provide a good foundation for walking.
4. The heel should fit snugly around the top to grip the foot well.
5. The arch should follow the natural arch of the foot.
6. The shoes should permit the child to stand with natural balance: that is, feet parallel, toes straight forward, weight distributed properly.

REMNANT SHOPPING

Here's a tip for home sewers. In buying material, particularly remnants, there's a rule for recognizing the right side. All cotton and synthetic fiber materials are folded with the right side out. All wool materials are folded with the right side in. So if you recognize the fiber used, you can easily tell the right side.

TIP FOR THE WEEK:

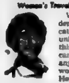
For a dustless duster pour two tablespoons of furniture polish into glass sealer, swish around until the jar is coated. Pour out the remaining liquid. Put a piece of Chamois in the jar, put the lid on and allow it to remain for a few days.

When you are ready to use it the chamois will have absorbed all the polish left in the jar evenly. Use it to dust and see how wonderful it is. When it is soiled wash it and treat it again.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority



Want a wonderful little vacation and reunion in the fall this year? You can have one any time from work or school. Here's how.

Get in touch with those friends you've been wanting to see (but somehow never do) and plan a football week end. You don't have to be a super-loyal alumnus or a cousin of the star half-back to enjoy it. When you're part of a football crowd you find any good game is a show worth seeing.

You—or your friends—reserve rooms for headquarters at the hotel or motel near the game. Visit with your friends through the game, then for dinner and the evening. The next day, after a holiday away from home, you can both start back.

Plan it all for easy going. Pick a game you can get to with a reasonable drive; check a road map and note a couple of spots you've never seen. Then, going to the game and coming home the next day get off the main road long enough to see them.

It's a comfortable combination: leisurely travel, the excitement of the game, plus the pleasure of seeing old friends and some new sights besides.

Best of all, it helps stretch your vacation fun beyond the usual summer season.

Joint Give-Away?

A Canadian give-away program for wheat appears increasingly likely as the only possible answer to the undiminished U. S. surplus disposals, reports The Financial Post.

There will be no gimmicks in any Canadian plan.

Canada would make straight gifts to needy countries, perhaps by an addition to Colombo Plan funds.

But Ottawa would seek co-operative arrangements with the U.S. to prevent a rivalry in give-aways.

This plan, getting growing favor in government circles, may be taken to Washington on October 7, when Canadian ministers go there for their first meeting with members of the Eisenhower cabinet—though the cabinet has not yet taken its decision.

In most recent year of record, of the 3,410,160 Canadians who paid personal income tax, only two per cent were in the $10,000 a year and over income bracket.

PARADISE VALLEY NEWS

The Paradise Valley W.A. met in the church basement on Aug. 6th for their monthly meeting. There were nine members present. Mrs. Nickle led the devotional period. A graduation gift was to be bought for the two girls who have graduated from C.G.I.T. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. C Ball and Mrs. G. Guy, hostesses for the evening. Next meeting will be on Sept. 3 at 8 p.m. in the United church basement with Mrs. G Venney and Mrs. G Henry as hostesses.

Rev and Mrs V A Lindgren of Edmonton were visitors to Paradise Valley for almost a week. Besides assisting with the Sunday and mid-week services at the Church of God, Mr Lindgren was a great help in putting the roof on the new parsonage. He also built the chimney besides supervising other details. Mr. Lindgren is Rev Johnson's uncle. Mrs. Johnson's youngest sister, Esther Witthe, has also been visiting here for the past two weeks. Progress on the new parsonage has been good considering the busy season. The windows and the rest of the wiring should be in this week. The help from many interested friends has been very timely and is much appreciated.

"A Stranger In The Arctic"

by
HARDEN COOPER WAITE
(Fort Good Hope, N.W.T. 1932)

CONCLUSION

Cully's entry in his diary for November 28th continues

"Tonight I placed the wolf in a position facing me but at a distance across the room, about twelve feet away. Almost as soon as I had re-seated myself the semblance of life became noticeable. The head seemed to move and glide forward along floor with a snake-like motion as though to reach me and slash me with those bared fangs. The aura of hate was even more pronounced if that is possible. It startled me somewhat to find that these impressions took some time to dispel from my mind. It was with great effort that I finally compelled the wolf to become again a lifeless rug.

"November 29th. We progress. Tonight the usual phenomena occurred, one following another until the beast seemed to be trying to gain its feet and rise from the floor. These occurrences took nearly three hours in all and I was naturally weary. As last time it required immense effort of my will to cause the dissemination and before the wolf lost all life-semblance I had given it I heard it snarl, clearly and distinctly!

"November 30th. My depression is more pronounced this evening but that seems to be an indication of better response to my experimentation, judging from previous trials. Tonight I feel compelled to write my observations while watching the wolf, thus noting each transformation as it occurs. The rug is in the position I placed it two nights ago — facing me from across the room. Even now as I look at it, the eyes take on a life-like glitter; now they narrow, then widen as they regard me evilly. They become red-rimmed and seem to shoot sparks of green fire. Already I feel the intense hate! The lips curl in a snarl and the mouth opens wider! The gleaming teeth now drip with saliva and the red tongue lolls. The muzzle becomes foam flecked. The ears are laid flat against the head — the neck ruff and hair along the back begin to rise . . . are now standing on end! It seems to pulsate with life. The fur begins to ripple and move as though muscles were flexing beneath the skin. The legs are beginning to twitch; now it seems to be making an attempt to rise to its feet. The hatred that seems to emanate from the beast is almost abominable!

"It has moved toward me! Not much, only a few inches and so slowly; but less than twelve feet separate us. I begin to feel a sort of horror, a despondency; there is a heaviness in my chest as though I have been running. The Thing refuses to respond to my mental command to stop. I will it to become an inanimate rug, but still it moves, slowly inching toward me! This sense of hovering evil, of impending danger becomes overpowering, yet I cannot rise from my chair! I must reach the lamp, turn it off. But can I? I must, I must! I can hear the hoarse breathing of the wolf and occasionally a low growl issues from its throat as it advances inevitably nearer. Nearer! My God! There seems to be a look of triumph in its eyes! Again I see the muscles bunch and tense as though to spring. The powerful, wide-open jaws with fangs ready to slash! The horrible awful menace of its appearance as it slowly, surely closes in. Closer, still closer. I much reach the lamp — get out of here! The experiment is successful in every way but one — I CANNOT STOP IT . . ."

The following is a newspaper item, dated December 10th:

"The body of a man known only as Jess Cully was found in his lonely cabin about forty miles north of Fort Good Hope, North West Territories. The deceased, who lived alone, had apparently been dead several days when his body was discovered on December 8th by a passing native who investigated when he noticed no smoke appearing from the cabin chimney. The cabin door was locked from the inside, but upon looking through the window, the native could see the body upon the floor and hastened to the settlement to report the incident. The R.C.M.P. who are still investigating, report that Cully apparently suffered a heart attack. His throat was also torn, as he apparently fell across a lamp, as the broken chimney of the latter was smeared with blood.

"It is believed that a mystery surrounds the death of the man as the police are holding a diary in which he was evidently writing just before he died, but no details regarding this have been released.

"A disturbingly mystifying note was added to the death of the man when it was discovered that a large wolf-rug which was lying about twelve feet away from the body was curiously stained about the mouth with fresh blood!"

THE END.

AIR LINES EXPANDING

Canadian airline routes are creeping over the earth, says The Financial Post. Canadian Pacific Airlines will add two new foreign cities to its international service next month. Present Canada-Lisbon service will be extended to Madrid, and Santiago, Chile, will be added to the South American service.

FEWER U.S. TOURISTS

Fewer tourists are coming into Alberta from the United States this season, but the tourist industry is still enjoying a banner year. The provincial bureau of statistics notes a 10% drop in the number of U.S. visitors for the first six months of the year. But in the same period the number of visitors to national parks within the province is up 20%.

Stay young by being young is the motto of a former Dewberry lady, Mrs. Anderson, now of Edmonton. While playing in the provincial lawn bowling tournament at Calgary as a member of the Royal Curling club of Edmonton she annexed fourth in one competition. 200 balls were thrown by her in one day in this event. Now in her 71st year she says "who says life begins at 40?"

Up to press time we still have no teacher for grade 12. A lovely school and two teachers short. Rye school pupils will be taken in by the Redman bus to Dewberry.

LEA PARK BRIDGE TO OPEN SOON

Some time in September we hope to see the Lea Park bridge opened. Grades have been built and gravelled from the Lea Park school to north of the river.

FINE CATTLE MARKETED

Good fat cattle continue to leave the Dewberry district weekly. 32 head were recently shipped by Joe Mergle. He obtained 18c per pound in Dewberry.

Wm. Young recently sold a 17 month old calf weighing 1170 pounds after a 13-hour shrink.

Robert Brett, Elmore Elliot, Mrs. Elliot and her sister Mrs. Windish have returned from a motor trip to Nova Scotia. One flat tire in 8400 miles driving a 1950 Plymouth. The last day of the trip saw Mrs. Windish drive the car herself from 300 miles east of Minot, N.D., to Lloydminster, a distance of over 800 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Craige have now returned to B.C.

Miss Ardis Mathison intends to finish her grade 12 at the Alberta College in Edmonton.

Visitors at the Sol Lemp and Philip Lemp homes were their mother Mrs Lemp and Mr and Mrs A F Darnell of Edmonton. Also their sisters Mrs. Walt Cunningham and Mrs. C Gilbert and son of Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. Alan McDonald of Clandonald spent the week end with Mrs. Allen.

Mrs Anderson of Edmonton spent a week end recently at the home of her son John.

Miss Joan Reynolds is spending a few days at the Neal Jones home.

Mrs. Wilkinson and daughters of Winnipeg are staying at her parents' Mr. and Mrs. A. Isert. Mr Wilkinson who is with the CP Air Lines has been transferred to Montreal where Mrs. Wilkinson and family will move when accommodation is ready.

Sympathy is offered to Mrs. Tom Boak of Vancouver on the death of her husband. She was the former Miss Isabel McIver of Dewberry.

Our sympathy is also extended to Mrs P Blomquist of Comox, B.C., on the sudden passing of her husband. She was the former Miss Dorothy King of the Deer Lake district.

We are glad to see Mrs. Elsie Curtis home from the University hospital and to know that the operation was successful.

Congratulation to Mr and Mrs. Tom Gordon (nee Kitty Ryan) who were married in Vermilion on the 24th.

Will the person who took the janitor's wagon from the school please return it and save trouble.

Citizens Rush To Collect Oil and Gas Royalty Dividend

Citizens of Vermilion and district indicated very strongly that the payment of Oil and Gas Citizens Royalty Dividends is a very popular move on the part of Alberta's Social Credit government. The opening day on which the royalties were obtainable, Tuesday, Sept. 3rd, saw an unprecedented rush on the Bank of Commerce and the Treasury Branch, the nature of which has never been witnessed in town before.

A total of 440 citizens collected their royalty cheques, meaning that $8,800.00 of new money was put to work in this town alone that day. As a result of the new wealth merchants and business men reported a real upsurge in business. Many of the shoppers were quite frank in stating that had it not been for the munificent Alberta government in paying out the dividends, they would be unable to buy such-and-such an article, which they were thus able to do. Another lady stated that as a result of their $40.00 her husband was able to obtain some special medical services. Of course all the money was not put to the best of use, but a very large percentage was used for good and useful purposes.

The rush still continued on a more sedate scale on Wednesday, although one bank alone paid out an even one hundred dividends during the morning.

Kinsmen Wading Pool A Popular Place All Summer

The Kinsmen wading pool which has been a more popular spot than ever all through the summer months, was closed for the season on Aug 30th. As a fitting climax to a happy summer the superintendent of the pool had a party for her charges present that day. Ice cream and cookies were served to all the "little swimmers".

The pool, under the watchful eye of Miss Donna Cooper, proved to be a very popular place for the small fry again this year and no doubt was a boon for mothers as well.

The following articles have been left at the paddling pool and owners may obtain them by seeing Donna Cooper, phone 125: white shirt, size about 4, green shirt, also about size 4, boy's jeans, size 4.

Lured Back To Girlhood Home After Many Years

(From Wildmere Winks)

A lady who left here as a girl of 11 years of age, returned to see her old farm home, her little one-room school, and to visit old neighbors whom she still fondly remembered. She was accompanied on the trip by her husband and two children. The little girl was Phyllis Smith, a daughter of Mr and Mrs. Colin Smith. She was born in the house now occupied by Albert Smith, and she attended the Wildmere school which is now a church. When she was 11 years old the family moved to California.

Phyllis is now Mrs. Cristman and she took pictures of her birthplace, her schoolhouse and called on an old school chum, Mrs. Billie Whitlock of Triangle.

Mr and Mrs. Cristman and two children had come to Canada for their vacation and were visiting at Banff. While there studying a map they noticed that Vermilion wasn't too far away and all had to come to see the district in which Mrs. Cristman was born and lived as a child.

Rotary Club Begins Canvass For Community Birthday Calendar

At the Rotary Club meeting on Friday, Cliff McCormick, chairman of the Community Birthday Calendar committee announced that the canvass for listings in the 1958 calendar would begin on September 3rd.

This calendar has been popular with both young and old around this district for the past three years. Some families list everybody, including those in the cradle, in school, and relatives living away from Vermilion.

This year the calendar is an all out effort for more listings than ever. The proceeds will be used only for projects of benefit to the community and especially grants will be made to youth programs in the area.

At the meeting Jim Smith, M.L.A. introduced his guest Mr. Chambers of Mannville.

Reg Mitchell, former president of the Vermilion Rotary Club gave a vocational talk on insurance. He was introduced by Bill Sutherland and thanked by Si Simonson.

240 Pheasants Are Released In The Borradaile District

Pheasants, 240 of them, 12 weeks old, have been released in the hilly wooded area south of Borradaile. It is hoped that the birds will prosper and become quite a common sight in this section of Alberta where not too much success has rewarded efforts along this line.

Bringing the pheasants here from the hatcheries at Brooks in southern Alberta were Jerry Pelichet, superintendent of the hatcheries, and his assistant Albert Jollitz. They were in turn greatly assisted by game officer George Senz of Vermilion.

Everyone is asked to protect the birds as much as possible and to refrain from shooting upland birds if not sure of what they are.

The International Committee of the Vermilion Rotary Club is conducting an essay writing contest open to all Grade 10, 11 and 12 students in the Vermilion School Division. The title of the essay is "Good Will As a Means of Increasing International Understanding". This is a timely topic as the news headlines would indicate.

The rules of the contest are as follows:

1. The essay is to be in the hand writing of the contestant;
2. The essay is to be not less than three foolscap pages in length nor more than six;
3. All entries become the property of the Vermilion Rotary Club.;
4. All entries must be submitted to the office of the Vermilion Standard not later than 6 p. m. Oct. 15, 1957.
5. The decision of the judges will be final.

The essays will be judged for content, style and originality. Three prizes of $15, $10 and $5 will be awarded to the top three contestants.

It is hoped by the Rotary Club that high school students will give this topic some real thought and come up with some worthwhile ideas that would help to increase international understanding through the medium of good will.

Louise Lang Wins Ladies' Championship At Calgary Roadeo

Louise Lang of Vermilion, a Canadian Red Cross driver by profession, won the Calgary ladies' driving championship at the roadeo held in that city. Louise also came within an ace of winning the open city championship as only 1.6 points separated her from J. S. Rayment who obtained close to a perfect score to win. Rayment totalled 374.4 out of a possible 410 points to win the city driving championship and will represent Calgary in the Alberta Provincial driving championships to be held in Edmonton shortly. Louise made 372.8 points to earn the right to represent Calgary in the women's driving finals in Edmonton.

The contestants were given a series of stiff practical driving tests as well as a written exam on road rules and rules of highway safety.

The high standing attained by Louise drew much favorable comment from the judges. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davis of Vermilion.

SERIOUS PROBLEMS FACE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER INDUSTRY

On September 9, 10 and 11 the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association will hold its 38th annual convention in Banff, Alberta.

Representatives of member newspapers from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island will meet to discuss the salient problems facing the industry and to greet old friends, and make new ones, in this unique fraternity of weekly newspaper publishers and editors. As has always been the case, many of the wives and children will also be present for they are a part of "Canada's Biggest Family Party," as the C.W.N.A. convention has come to be known, just as in many instances they are active workers in the family newspaper.

There are serious problems facing the weekly newspaper industry today. High wage levels, constantly rising cost of materials and equipment, and a shortage of experienced workers are placing a very heavy demand on the productive and management skills of publishers, who seek to hold down costs as the alternative to increasing advertising and [illegible] rates. Their problem becomes even more acute when, because of rapid growth of the communities they serve, they must enlarge their plant and equipment, placing a great [illegible].

Such are the problems with which the CWNA conventions and the meetings of the provincial divisions of the association must deal. In forums and general meetings, delegates will attempt to find solutions and reach decisions which it is hoped will work for the good of the entire industry, CWNA members and non-members alike.

Certainly there are the pleasures of the social side of conventions, and the CWNA convention is rated high in this respect. But there is much serious discussion, too, because the member [illegible] of the association are seeking to improve [illegible] not only on the inside, but in the public interest as [illegible]. It is never forgotten that the faithful subscriber is, in the final analysis, the keystone of a newspaper's being.

Salvation Army Plans Preventative Crusade

Salvation Army officials, who are alarmed by continually increasing calls upon their services in prisons, alcoholic rehabilitation centres, in unmarried mothers homes and welfare centres announce that a new and strong emphasis must be laid upon 'preventative work.' While there will be no cut-back in rehabilitation efforts, more stress will be placed upon curbing the various forms of delinquency before they happen.

A Salvation Army spokesman said that the Movement still believes that "the surest way to insure good citizenship is to lead men to God." First expression of this new Salvation Army emphasis, said the spokesman, will be a nation-wide evangelistic crusade designed to link up non-church-going people and get them "from the pavement into the pews."

Fifty thousand Salvationists from Newfoundland to British Columbia will unite in special prayer for the crusade throughout the month of November in thousands of Corps and private homes. Following a training period each man and woman will be sent out as "a living link between Christ and the people" intent on bringing into fellowship with the church all those presently outside its influence. Parents of children who attend Sunday school or other character-building movements but do not attend a place of worship themselves will be called upon. Active participants in the crusade will be readily distinguished by a lapel button bearing the slogan "God Seeks You!"

As the crusade gathers momentum great evangelistic campaigns will be held all across the country. In Toronto the auditorium of the Northern Vocational school has been booked for two weeks in November when the Salvation Army's International Evangelist, Sr. Major Allister Smith, who prior to his Salvation Army officership was a highly respected magistrate, will be conducting nightly meetings.

The crusade will end at Easter 1958, at which time it is hoped results will be seen in increased attendances at Corps and Church, and increased active membership.

Weekly Newspaper Editors To Meet At Banff Sunday

BANFF — An army of weekly newspaper editors and publishers, wives and families, will descend on Banff next Sunday as the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association opens its 38th annual convention.

The three-day meeting will centre around discussions of the problems facing the industry and the study of improvement in printing and publishing standards. Round table discussions on more than a dozen industry subjects will be held with representatives of the Association of Canadian Advertising Agencies and the Audit Bureau of Circulation taking part.

One of the major topics of discussion, both formal and informal, will concern the increasing problems faced by weekly publishers who face the demand for bigger and better newspapers coupled with constantly rising costs of labor, equipment and materials.

According to William Telfer, managing director of the CWNA, the weeklies are fighting hard to hold advertising and subscription rates at their present levels. Because of rising costs, net profits are dangerously low in many cases.

Despite these difficulties, the weekly newspaper is growing in importance according to Mr. Telfer. Combined circulation of Canadian weeklies has passed the 1¼ million mark.

Among guests at the convention are 20 British newspaper publishers who are touring Canada and will attend the convention as representatives of the Newspaper Society of Britain.

"HELLO, HOMEMAKERS"

KEEP WHITE NYLON GARMENTS 'WHITE'

All of us have the problem of yellowing of our white nylon garments. Here are a few tips from the manufacturers of nylon which should prevent discoloration:

Always wash white garments separately. Dyes from coloured fabrics, even pastels can cause grayness.

Be sure to wash your nylon things thoroughly. Because they are so easy to wash many girls tend to short-cut the careful laundering they usually give to other fabrics.

Nylon lingerie with strongly constructed seams can be washed in the washing machine but should be protected by a pillow case or net bag. This is especially important for garments made with delicate lace or other trim.

If you live in a hard water area, always use a synthetic detergent or a water softener, and a water softener in the rinse water too. Regular soap combined with hard water will leave a gray deposit.

Never apply extreme heat to your nylon garments — it will cause them to turn yellow. If you use an automatic dryer, be sure not to set the temperature above 200F. In ironing keep your heat at the lowest setting.

SANDWICH FILLING

School lunch time is [illegible] and the yearly hunt for new ideas begins again. Here's a combination which will provide variety:

Combine a 2¼-ounce can of devilled ham with three chopped [illegible] eggs. Season with three teaspoons prepared mustard and a dash of pepper. Next add enough mayonnaise to make mixture spread easily. Use as a sandwich filler with lettuce or cucumber. Sounds good!

TIPS FOR THE WEEK

Taking a vegetable salad to a party? To keep it from getting sodden when it has to stand, place a saucer upside down in the bottom of the bowl before you fill it with salad greens. The moisture will run underneath, and your salad will stay fresh and crisp.

WILDMERE WINKS

We always seem to be behind in our news. We hear Mrs. Cliff Cruthers has a nice new deep freeze which her son Gary purchased for her. She had it in time to freeze some of the nice berries picked at Mrs. Haines.

Today (Tuesday) sees many children and teen-agers on their way back to school for another term. From out our way Betty and Marie Smith, Mary Gibson, Kenny Graham, Elnora Dondly and Lorne Harrison are attending school in Vermilion.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Leighton of Kitscoty are the teachers at Preston Central this year. We hope they enjoy their stay in our corner. Of last year's teachers, Mr. Cosh is at McLaughlin and Mrs. Hughes is at Thorncliffe this year. Mrs. J. Wilson will be at Illay again.

Gary Cruthers of Wainwright spent Sunday at his home in Wildmere.

Roy Garnett who is now working at Valleyview, also spent the long week end at his home in Basswood.

Several Wildmere-ites attended the wedding dance of Mr. and Mrs. J. Isley held at Woodvale hall Friday evening. A good sized crowd turned out to dance to music supplied by Mr. and Mrs. W. Funnell and Mr. Fortein. Danny Watt was the M.C.

A nice attendance at church on Sunday to hear Rev. MacKay and to take Communion. Mr. MacKay gave a very interesting sermon. We were pleased to have Mr. and Mrs. Hughes Sr. of Edmonton at church; they were visiting their son David and family of Basswood; also noticed Keith Lyons of Tolland. Mrs. MacKay accompanied her husband and they later visited at the Holte home in Wildmere. Only two Sundays left for Mr. Breighaupt and our service will be over for the summer. We are sorry to see him go as we have enjoyed his summer with us very much. Every success is wished Mr. Breighaupt in his future studies at college in Toronto.

Many years of happiness are wished all the newlyweds including Mr. and Mrs. B. Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin, Mr. and Mrs. George Barlow and Mr. and Mrs. John Barr.

The writer chatted with Mrs. W. Clark Sr., Mrs. Dondly, both of Triangle, and Mrs. Morris Cooper of Buffalo Coulee Saturday. We saw our twin Mrs. Farley at a distance. Hope to see you before you leave Mrs. Farley.

It is a beautiful day and we all hope for its continuance so that farmers can save their crops. Certainly have had oodles of rain. Oh well, it will help next year's moisture situation.

Funniest thing seen: On Sunday at church when Mr. Breighaupt was passing the sacrament around at Communion, little Glenys Hughes popped a quarter into the plate ... she had previously put her pennies into the collection plate and had taken this quarter out of her mother's purse!

Calling Mrs. Moore of Deer Lake ... we never see you any more. Hope you are well and that we will see you in town sometime soon.

Of Many Things . .

By AMBROSE HILLS

I HAVEN'T TIME

An acquaintance of mine is an avowed socialist, a doctrine which, as preached politically, has always struck me as immoral, so I was glad to have a go at him in an argument this morning.

On discovering that I write for a living, he said, rather smugly, "I've often intended to write — have quite a flair for it."

"Why don't you?" I asked.

"I've no time," he sighed. "No time at all."

I had just finished reading an article by Margaret Blair Johnstone in Guideposts magazine, in which there was a striking quotation from the famous Leonardo da Vinci, who accomplished so much. Leonardo da Vinci said, "Time stays long enough for those who use it".

Isn't it true that Time is a commodity available to each and every human soul in the same quantity? We are all born with that same inheritance — 24 hours each day. No [illegible], no less. For some, it never [illegible] enough. Others — [illegible] Vinci, or Churchill, or Eisenhower or Diefenbaker, make full use of it and succeed.

Socialists hate such an analogy. It is too apt for their liking. It is a truth we are all familiar with for we all know some fellow who makes an hour pay off while another fritters it away. Fortunately, however, no law on earth can make us share the hours according to our need ... or a Lazy Susan I know would have 28 hours for his day while busy folk like you and I would be cut to 12.

My avowed socialist friend is a simple fellow. He thinks he embraced socialism because of charity. I tell him that there is not a thing in the world to stop him practising socialism now — all he needs to do is share what he has with others. But this does not appeal to him. He apparently wishes, through a process of law, to have the sharing out done only by those who are two or three thousand dollars a year more productive than he is. I suppose what he really wants is to force others to practice socialism while he reaps the benefits but does none of the contributing. Also, he expects that when socialism becomes the vogue, he will be among the rulers.

In all this he sees nothing immoral — because he does not wish [illegible].

From there they went to the CNR station where they saw the outside of the Museum train. Borden park was the next stop and everyone enjoyed the animals. The weary members returned to Mannville about 11 p.m. after a bus breakdown at Vegreville and a wait for another bus to finish the last lap of an enjoyable outing.

Pretty August Wedding At Vermilion United Church

LAIRD—HILLCOX

A wedding of interest was solemnized on August 10th in the First United Church, Vermilion, when Miss Beatrice Irene Hillcox, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hillcox of Vermilion became the bride of Mr. Lyle Hubert Laird, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. David Laird of Fort Saskatchewan.

Baskets of summer blossoms decorated the church for the attractive double-ring ceremony, officiated by Rev. C. W. MacKay.

The slim bodice was cut with a Sweetheart neckline and stand up lace collar and had long sleeves tapering to lily points. Emily Samorsky Becomes The Bride Of George Farkash

A very pretty midsummer wedding was solemnized in the First United Church, Vermilion, when Emily Samorsky became the bride of George Farkash. The wedding took place on July 11, the birthday of the bride, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. Ian Holter of Mannville officiated. Mrs. A. M. West played the wedding music.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Samorsky of Myrnam, and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Farkash of Vermilion.

For the occasion the church was beautifully decorated in glads [illegible].

The bride, given in marriage by her brother Mr. [illegible] Samorsky, was lovely in a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and net over satin. The fitted bodice featured the new sequin trimmed square neckline and lily point sleeves. The bouffant skirt was encircled with lace which dipped to the hemline at the back. The veil of fine illusion net and French lace was held in place by a semi halo headcrown of brocaded satin. The bridal bouquet was of [illegible].

The three bridesmaids, [illegible] Sywenky, Joyce Webb and [illegible] McEwen were dressed in gowns of pink and carried bouquets of gladioli.

The groom was attended by his cusin Mr. Matt Farkash, Mr. Robert Kornase and Mr. Bob McIntyre. Ushering the guests to the pews were Mr. Nick Samorsky and Mr. Gordon Nelson.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the United church hall when over one hundred and twenty - five guests signed the guest book which was in charge of Mrs. George Korolyk, sister of the bride.

For receiving the guests the bride's mother wore a becoming dress of royal blue with pink and white accessories. Mrs. Farkash, mother of the groom, wore a dress of navy and white.

Mr. George Doherty proposed the toast to the newlyweds which was responded to by both the bride and the groom.

Friends of the newlyweds were entertained at a wedding dance that evening in the Elks hall in Vermilion. The orchestra supplying the music was composed of friends of the groom.

The happy couple left the next day for a two weeks' honeymoon to the coast following which they are now at home on the groom's farm, north of Vermilion.

New Fire Bombing Method Tested in Canada

Aerial Demonstration Featured at National Forest Fire Meet

CHARLO, N.B.—A new aerial forest fire bombing technique, using a sodium calcium borate and water mixture, was demonstrated here for the first time in Canada as part of a two-day forest fire research conference sponsored by the Woodlands Section of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association. The spectacular display was viewed by some 150 fire control experts from Canada and the United States.

Two Stearman biplanes "bombed" the flames with 100 gallon loads of the borate-water mixture, as they streaked about fifty feet over a specially built brush fire. Dropped as a blanket rather than a spray, the mixture coated the brush to retard burning. Thus, its principal use would be to control small fires and keep them from spreading.

Great hopes are placed on the mixture as a fire retardant, rather than as a fire extinguisher. When dropped around, or in advance of a fire, it will effectively insulate the brush and trees against the flames thereby "holding" the blaze until ground crews can put the fire under control.

Despite the chemical's promise, ground fire fighting with hand tools, bulldozers, and portable pumping equipment will still be necessary in combatting forest fires, it was revealed.

In addition to the borate demonstration, other forms of water-bombing from the sky were shown the delegates. The programme also featured extensive discussions on all aspects of forest fire suppression, particularly the need for an expanded research program. F. K. Harrison, general chairman of the meeting, and vice-president i/c woodlands, Canadian International Paper Company, called on the delegates to suggest new avenues of research into fire suppression that Canadian agencies could follow.

Commenting on the conference, R. F. Avery, chairman of CPPA's executive board, and himself a graduate forester who has spent forty years in forestry work, stated: "We must do everything in our power to put a stop to the wasteful destruction by fire of Canada's forests."

"Every year, mostly through their own neglect, Canadians kindle the biggest bonfire in the world, destroying well over 1,000,000 cords of merchantable timber," he added. "In terms of finished products, this national catastrophe is costing Canada hundreds of millions of dollars. The wood that Canadians thus commit to the flames annually would form a solid cord, 4' x 4', stretching from Ottawa to Calgary."

"This wood, he stated, would keep an average pulp and paper mill going for up to five years. The pulp and paper industry, Canada's leading exporter and industrial producer, spends millions annually to protect the woodlands against fire, insects and disease, he stated. After all, the forests we own belong to the Canadian public. All we ask in return is that those who use the woods for recreation help us preserve this valuable asset.

Here, for the first time in Canada, with the use of a Stearman biplane, sodium calcium borate is tested as a means of retarding forest fires. The chemical mixture insulates the brush and holds the fire in check until ground crews arrive with hoses and other fire fighting equipment. Featured on the programme of a forest fire research conference sponsored by the Woodlands Section of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, Stearmans streaked over the flames at fifty foot levels to "bomb" the blaze. (lower photo) Two fire fighters, carrying portable hose packs, prepare to relocate their hose lines.

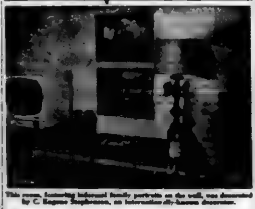
the Snapshot Guild



This room, featuring informal family portraits on the wall, was decorated by C. Eugene Stephenson, an internationally-known decorator.

Take Your Family Portraits Out of Hiding

Every family has a certain number of professionally-made portraits, commemorating the important events in the lives of its various members. There certainly are baby pictures, graduation photos, wedding and anniversary portraits.

It used to be that these pictures, in cardboard folders or easel-type frames, graced the top of the upright piano. Then this custom more or less went out of the style, at least as far as the interior decorators were concerned, and the portraits went into hiding in drawers and boxes.

Today, however, the decorators have found ways to put these cherished portraits on exhibit again — and not as an extra. These days they play an important part in the decorative scheme.

Large portraits are often used singly or in pairs. Smaller ones go into interesting little frames to form unusual groupings that are bound to be a conversation piece.

Frames are available in so many different styles that it isn't difficult to find a color and design that is complimentary to the decorative scheme of any room in the house — and that includes the breakfast nook which is a good place for less informal portraits or enlargements of some of your own family snapshots.

The picture we've chosen to illustrate this column shows an interesting use of family pictures in a room decorated by C. Eugene Stephenson, National Chairman of the Board, the American Institute of Decorators. Mr. Stephenson points out that use of portraits is an ideal way to add warmth and a lived-in feeling to the new house or apartment and to give your home decoration a personal touch that no one else can duplicate.

Modern techniques, offering full color and a broad range of tonal prints, have made today's portraits a very definite asset in decoration. Keep this in mind the next time one of the family has a portrait made and you won't have any trouble deciding what you want to do with it.

A lovely summer wedding took place at Creston, B.C. on Saturday August 17th uniting in marriage Georgina Pearl Ronaghan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ronaghan and Robert Hugh Cameron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Cameron, all of Creston.

Rev. R. P. Knipe officiated at the ceremony solemnized in the Trinity United Church, decorated for the special occasion with gladiola and fern.

Mrs. Edna Fraser of Creston played the wedding music. During the signing of the register Mrs. Harry Johnson sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because" very beautifully.

The bride's waltz-length afternoon dress was fashioned of brocade taffeta in off-white, with a scalloped bateau neck-line. She wore matching elbow length gloves, a seed pearl tiara and a finger tip length veil. Her bouquet was composed of red roses, lily of the valley and fern. Her only ornament was a cultured pearl choker, a gift from the groom.

Miss Velma Cameron, sister of the groom was bridesmaid, and wore a waltz-length gown of chrome-spun ice blue, fitted to the waist and flared on a princess line with V-neckline and cap sleeves. Her yellow rose-bud bandeau matched her colonial bouquet of yellow rosebuds.

Mr. Donald Cameron of Edgewater was best man and the guests were ushered by Mr. Tom Ross of Creston and Mr. Frank Turner of Nelson.

The wedding reception was held in the K. P. Hall where the bride's table was decorated with sweet peas, roses, snapdragons and fern, and green candles.

The cake was surmounted in pink and white and topped with wedding bells. The hall was tastefully decorated with glads and sweet peas.

For receiving the guests Mrs. Ronaghan, mother of the bride chose an afternoon dress of crepe de chene with navy and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds. The groom's mother, Mrs. Cameron, wore a gold threaded green afternoon dress of soft bengaline with white accessories, and corsage of pink rose-buds.

The reception was catered to by the bride's mother, the bride and the bride's sister-in-law Wanda assisted by Miss Velma Cameron and Mrs. Dorothy Braden, Mrs. Charles Montgomery and Mrs. N. Marinchak. Serviteurs were Miss Patsy Baden of Creston, Miss Barbara Morris of Spokane, Wash., and Miss Edith Morris of Copeland, Idaho.

The old English fruit cake which was served had been baked by the bride's mother and decorated by the bride and sister-in-law.

Rev. R. B. Knipe was master of ceremonies. As a special request from the bride, Mr. Mike Nickel sang at the reception while the cake was being cut, "I Love You Truly" and "Through the Years".

Mr. Don Cameron toasted the bridesmaid and Mrs. Bud Ronaghan was in charge of the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron left on a wedding trip to Kalispell, Mont. and points in Alberta and British Columbia, the bride travelling in her wedding ensemble with which she wore a matching brocade duster, red accessories and a red rosebud corsage.

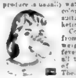
SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Milk That Never Was

American dairymen are robbed of milk worth $225 million every year — milk that never even reached the farmer's pail. The thief is mastitis, a disease which drastically cuts down the milk output of dairy herds.

The sickness, caused by several different types of germs, can be spread by flies and milkers, and cows have become infected just by lying in a yard germ-filled barnyard. What little milk diseased herds do produce is usually watery or straw-colored and unsuitable for marketing.



Cows suffering from mastitis lose weight, become feverish and show all the symptoms of depression. Their udders often are inflamed. Luckily the germs that cause mastitis are no match for powerful antibiotics like Terramycin, which clears the infection in a few days.

To keep the disease under control, farmers take special care to clean and disinfect all milk machines. Cows with infected udders are separated from the herd to avoid the spread of germs.

Sick cows need constant care and farmers often spend many hours of the day and night applying compresses to mastitis-stricken animals to prevent glands from swelling. It's hard work, but it pays off in contented cows on the farm and brimming milk glasses on the table.

Oddity of Nature

Several people noticed the very peculiar red northern lights in the southern sky on Wednesday evening about 9.15. The lights were vivid, beautiful, but mystifying. Northern lights have never been satisfactorily explained, and those on Wednesday night were decidedly in the south.

Doug Cooper won the Labor Day tennis tournament at Lloydminster. Other players taking part were Sid Millward, Don Taylor, Bob Clarke, Charlie Heckbert and Chap Cooper. Keen competition was supplied by four British airmen who were visiting Lloydminster over the week end.

Gravelling was due to start on the new Vermilion to Wainwright provincial highway.

The oil field was being extended by the drilling of a well one mile south of Turkey Hill school.

The new Hughes school located on the Manson Barr farm west of town, was rapidly nearing completion. The school site is comprised of three acres of land and was donated by Mr Barr.

32 Years Ago

SEPT 1, 1925

The I O D E War Memorial Bursary for 1925 was awarded to Margaret Roseborough of Vermilion. The bursary is of the value of $1200 a year tenable for four years. Margaret will enter the U of A. this fall.

Twenty-six carloads of cattle were shipped from the Vermilion stockyards this week bound for Winnipeg.

First delivery of new oats was reported at Borradaile on Aug. 29th and was marketed by C. E. Cox. The oats graded 2 CW.

Flower Show Great Success

With 543 exhibits in the bench show held last Wednesday the Vermilion Horticultural Society has added another [illegible] flower and vegetable show to a long list in years gone by.

The gladioli show was outstanding. Mrs S. D. Simonson won the Pilkie & Son trophy for the best collection of 'glads' in the show. A single gladiolus exhibited by E. H. Buckingham was named champion of the show.

The dahlia exhibit was put on a good show. Frank W. Hall was awarded the Ed Curley cup for the best collection of dahlias.

The Long's Drug store cup for the best pansies went to Wm. Boulton.

Mrs. Simonson obtained the highest score for sweet pea bouquet and received the Craig trophy.

The Northern Hardware trophy went to Mrs. Winnifred Preston for the best collection of garden vegetables.

Percy Willis was awarded the Stephens' trophy for an outstanding collection of garden fruits.

The Geo Capatos trophy for best stocks also went to Mrs. S. D. Simonson.

The flowers were judged by Rene Delalande of Lloydminster and Peter McCalla of Edmonton placed the vegetables and fruit class winners. Both judges were loud in their praise of the number and quality of the exhibits on display.

A basket of garden flowers was presented to the Society by Mrs. [illegible]. It was won by Mrs. Raymond Taylor on a lucky draw.

A very pleasant part of the program was an afternoon tea put on by the Happy Hour group of the Anglican church.

In the evening an auction sale was held to dispose of the large number of flowers and vegetables donated to the Society for that purpose. Chester Gamble, auctioneer from Mannville, wielded the hammer and did his usual good job of selling the exhibits.

President Wm. Baranyk expressed himself as being highly pleased with the success of the day's activities and wishes to thank everybody who so willingly helped out in every way.

WOO APPETITES WITH SOUP, SALADS

Lunching under sunny skies, by the shade of a lacy willow tree. From such happy times come the fond memories of June, so dear to us all.

Spread the table with simple fare. Summer appetites are wooed by appetizing plain "vittles"—like hot savory soup; and makings for cool, green salads.

When you eat out on the porch or in the yard, you're eager to keep it easy. What could be easier than a pot of soup? Next to it a tray of sliced tomatoes and cucumbers, green onions, radishes, cottage cheese and/or ham strips. Then it's every man for himself; fix and mix your salad any way you like. And there's oil and vinegar to dress it. Take some potato chips to crunch with soup and salad.

The pitcher is brimful of clinking ice cubes and amber-clear tea. Just a reach-away is dessert; the glass dish heaped with sliced peaches and strawberries. Around it, chewy nut brownies.

Stir up a memorable soup to match the memorable day. Start with the good, ever-faithful soups from cans. Add one to another—for extra specials like these:

GARDEN GUMBO

1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of asparagus soup
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed chicken gumbo soup
1 soup-can water

Pour asparagus soup into pan, stir in gumbo soup and water. Blend and heat well. Pour into 2 or 3 bowls.

[illegible]

1 can (1¼ cups) condensed chicken gumbo soup
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed chicken with rice soup
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed chicken noodle soup
1 soup-cans water

Pour soups into pan; stir to blend. (For extra flavor, you may like to sprinkle in some sweet marjoram or basil). Simmer till good and hot. Ladle into 4 or 5 bowls.

SOUP SCOOPS

[illegible]

Many Dads like fishing trips or similar outings. Please them by having picnic foods handy. Like this lucky trio of canned foods—spaghetti in tomato sauce, meat sauce for spaghetti, and whole kernel corn. Round up the three into a one-pan supper. Just pour spaghetti, meat sauce, and corn into the frying pan over your campfire. Let it simmer a bit. The gang will gather round to plea, "Let's eat. We're starving". Round out their plates with devilled eggs, pickles and radishes, bread and butter sandwiches. Then "divvy up" a watermelon. Pass fig cookies.

Constant Speed

Automakers are showing interest in a gadget that lets a car cruise automatically at any preset speed, reports The Financial Post. It keeps within 2% until either the brake or accelerator is touched. Would be of value on turnpikes, or where radar traps catch the unwary.

There are more than 5000 CNR stations in Canada.

F.U.A. Welcomes Announcement By Premier Diefenbaker

EDMONTON. — The Farmers' Union of Alberta welcomes Mr. Diefenbaker's announcement that loans will be available to farmers under the Interim Finance Act on Sept. 1. Mr. A.W. Platt, President, said that the delivery situation this fall is, and will continue to be, very slow. The farmers must have access to cash to harvest this year's crop. The loans are no solution to the grain growers' problem but they will help to keep the farmer in business until solutions can be implemented, Mr. Platt emphasized.

We have no idea what the Prime Minister has in mind in regard to cash advances, Mr. Platt continued. Our ideas on these have been given to the Government some months ago. It must, however, be pointed out that the primary problem of the grain producer is not deliveries, but continually falling prices and continually rising costs.

It seems there is little hope for a rise in prices until the world surplus stocks are disposed of. We therefore especially welcome the announcement that a committee of Cabinet is studying this question. If this committee can evolve plans, and we think they can, for surplus disposal in co-operation with other exporting nations, and put these plans into effect, we will be beginning to get at the root of the problem, Mr. Platt concluded.

Limited Release Of Lacombe Boars

OTTAWA, August 29th — The Canada Department of Agriculture announces that approximately 50 boars of the new Lacombe breed will be sold this fall for commercial swine production in Canada. Applications for these boars must be made on special forms available from the Experimental Farm, Lacombe, Alberta. At the present time there will be no distribution of Lacombe females.

The method of a chance draw has been chosen as the fairest way for distributing the limited number of boars available. Application forms and details of the regulations governing this draw will be available on request from the Experimental Farm, Lacombe on or after September 3, 1957. Only those applications submitted on the official form and according to the specified conditions will be considered in this draw. Interested swine producers are urged to apply for these forms immediately and to note carefully the conditions and requirements stated therein.

The deadline date for receipt of completed applications at Lacombe is Monday, September 30, 1957 and the final draw will take place at 2:00 p.m. on Monday, October 7. This will be a public draw.

Dr. W. W. Cross To Retire As Provincial Minister of Health

RETIRING

HON. DR. W. W. CROSS

DR. J. DONOVAN ROSS

Premier E. C. Manning this week announced the retirement of the Hon. W. W. Cross, Minister of Public Health, and Deputy Premier, and the appointment of Dr. J. Donovan Ross, Edmonton, as Dr. Cross's successor. Dr. Ross is a Social Credit member for Edmonton.

Retirement of the senior member of the Alberta cabinet will become effective about the middle of September. Dr. Cross will retain his Legislative seat representing the Hand Hills constituency until the next general election.

Dr. Ross was born in Waldo, British Columbia, in 19?1. At the age of 15 he moved with his parents to Edmonton, completing his high school education there. He entered the University of Alberta and was graduated with a degree in Arts and Medicine in 1937. A year later he married the former Lillian Peterson, an RN, whose home was at Luseland, Sask. The Ross's have seven children, four boys and three girls.

Dr Ross has practised in Edmonton since 1938 with the exception of four and one-half years service with the Royal Canadian Navy during World War II. Following his discharge he took post graduate studies at the University of Toronto and Old Victoria Hospital at Montreal. He returned to his Edmonton practise in 1946.

An Elder of Knox United Church in Edmonton, Dr. Ross was to come among those instrumental in organizing the Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta and was president since its incorporation in 1953 until this year. He is now Chairman of the board. He is also a Chief of Medical staff at the Misericordia hospital, and a charter member of the College of General Practise. He has been active on the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce's Civic Development Committee.

The new Health Minister was first elected to the Alberta Legislature in 1952 and was re-elected in 1955, representing Edmonton.

Dr. Ross's grandmother, Dr. Charlotte Whitehead Ross, was one of the pioneer women doctors in Canada, while his great grandfather, Joseph Whitehead, was a member of Confederation Parliament being elected a Liberal member for Huronia.

Dr. Cross's retirement brings to an end 22 years service as a cabinet minister. He was first elected to the Legislature in the 1935 election and became Minister of Health and Public Welfare the same year. When these two portfolios were divided in 1953, he retained the Public Health post. He has been Deputy Premier since 1948.

Dr. Cross was born at Barrie in 1885. He obtained his medical degree at University of Toronto in 1914 and came west to Youngstown the same year. He practised at Youngstown until 1917 when he joined the Canadian Army Medical Corps. Dr. Cross was discharged with the rank of Captain in 1921 and returned to continue his practise at Youngstown. In 1926 he moved to Hanna where he was a medical practitioner until 1935.

HOW MANY BONES ARE THERE IN A HUMAN BODY?

Nimrods Should Observe Courtesies

The situation regarding migratory ducks, geese and upland birds is considerably better than last year, according to the Fish and Game Branch, Department of Lands and Forest. This year the season for ducks and geese opens September 7th. Upland birds such as pheasants, sharp tail grouse, ruffed grouse, bush partridge and Hungarian partridge, will be hunted beginning Oct. 12. The hunting season has been advanced with the idea of giving the farmers added protection against crop eating ducks. In case the farmer's crop suffers under duck damage prior to the opening of the season, he may obtain a special permit and with the assistance of any number of hunters protect his crop.

The daily bag limit this year is 10 ducks and 5 geese. Possession limit is 40 ducks of which not more than 20 may be of species other than Mallards. The possession limit on geese is 15. Game bird licenses are still $2.50 obtainable at most Sporting Goods stores. For non-resident visitors from British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, an Alberta license may be had for $2.50 upon showing their own.

When a farmer grants a hunter permission to hunt on his land it's a privilege which should be respected. Naturally there'll be no car driving over swathed grain or any empty bottles left lying around. Bottles can cause expensive damage if caught up in a combine. All gates should be closed when entering or leaving to prevent animals from escaping. Don't shoot around cattle. Aside from a serious accident, cattle can be frightened into loosing weight. An added considerate gesture is picking up empty shotgun shells.

Never point a loaded gun at anyone nor carry a loaded gun in a car. Did you know that the maximum fine for firing from a vehicle is $300? The time of year when hunters are in their seventh heaven, the farmer is in his sweat box. If you have bagged your limit, perhaps you would care to leave a few birds behind for him.

Hubbard Family Re-union, Mannville

Oilmen To Hold Prairie Bonspiel

A group of oilmen in Regina has now completed plans for the First Annual Prairie Oilmen's bonspiel. Date of the bonspiel has been set for Nov. 1 to 4 1957 in Regina. The committee in charge has planned for 128 rinks to be competing in four events. Entries will be limited to personnel from exploration, producing, drilling, pipeline, service, supply and affiliated companies engaged in oil operations. It is expected that rinks from the four western provinces and northern U.S. will be entering the spiel.

The entry deadline is Oct. 20th and entries should be sent to Mr. Bob Currie, Imperial Oil Ltd., Derrick Building, Regina, Sask. The entry fee is $30 per rink.

Oilmen's bonspiels have been held in Calgary and Edmonton for several years. The Prairie Oilmen's Spiel will now provide a similar event in Saskatchewan.

Creighton Couple to Live in Mannville

MANNVILLE. — On Friday evening of last week about 65 friends of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Arnold of the Creighton district gathered to honor them before they leave to take up residence in town. The evening was spent in community singing and reminiscences of old timers. Mrs. Maron presented Mrs. Arnold with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, while Mr. Gus Maron presented, on behalf of the district, a trilight lamp to both Mr. and Mrs. Arnold, and added the wishes of the community for the welfare of the Arnolds. Mr. Arnold replied most fittingly and with a touch of humor suggested that anyone seeking his whereabouts might try the 'rail seat' on Main street, in future. Lunch which was much enjoyed, was served by the ladies of the community and the happy evening came to a close.

Dept. of Health Providing New Buildings For Hospitals, Institutes

New and enlarged facilities are being provided in the current building program of the Department of Health. Construction represents an investment of about $4,130,000 on buildings just completed and others on which work is starting in the immediate future.

Some of the twelve new structures in the current program will provide new facilities for the division of Mental Health. They will provide new facilities for the complete separation of chronic patients and mental defectives from the patients of active treatment mental hospitals. Others will replace outgrown structures.

The twelve buildings are in addition to the new reception wing at the Oliver Mental Institute. Construction of this recently occupied wing was completed last year. In addition to reception quarters for new patients, this building provides a new dental clinic, a library, a reading room and a nurses' lecture room.

Work will be started in the near future on a new laundry building for the Oliver Mental Institute. The new structure will provide modern laundry services for a hospital population of about 1,800 persons at an investment of about $1,000,000.

At Ponoka Provincial Mental Hospital a $150,000 extension to the Nurses' Residence is to be built.

Work is being completed on a new $200,000 infirmary at the Provincial Training School at Red Deer. Hitherto, room for infirmary cases had to be found in other quarters of the school. The new pleasant, well lighted and air conditioned infirmary will have an accommodation for ill patients.

Another new building scheduled for the Red Deer Training School is the Vocational Training building, to replace the present vocational quarters. The latter are to be altered to provide additional dormitory space. This new $80,000 structure will provide needed areas for weaving, sewing and knitting and ceramic work. Space for domestic science training with modern kitchen will be provided, as will space for a well equipped carpentry shop, painting shop and shoe shop.

A new $80,000 clinic building is just being completed at Red Deer Training School. The two story building includes a nursing office quarters for medical first aid and minor surgery, a small operating room and a four-bed dormitory for pre and post operative cases, a small laboratory, pharmacy, dental office, X-ray area, waiting room and physio-therapy room. Planned future construction at Red Deer will be $30,000 unit to provide space for the "sense training" program. Special equipment will provide facilities for training in co-ordination of muscles with hearing and optical senses.

Two buildings are completed and two more dormitories will be finished this fall in an important new development of the Division of Mental Health, the Deerhome Institution for adult mental defectives. This institution will eventually provide accommodation for 1,200 persons who are at present housed in the active treatment hospitals and at the training school. The first two dormitories are to be opened Oct. 1. In this development each residential dormitory will provide space for between 180 and 200 occupants.

The $330,000 service building including a laundry and power house has been completed, as has the $340,000 kitchen and bakery.

The dormitories, Ward 1 and Ward 2, will be completed this fall at a cost of $300,000 each. Work on Ward 3 should be completed by spring.

In addition to the adult mental defectives who are now in mental hospitals, there are many aging mental defectives living in their own communities. Some of these are living with parents or other members of families who are unable to give them care and protection. The Deerhome development will provide accommodation for them.

The Provincial Auxiliary Mental Hospital at Claresholm is to be replaced there by a new single story $200,000 building which will be completed this fall. The present building was remodelled in the "thirties" from an old Agricultural School and is a three storey frame and concrete basement structure difficult to operate. The new building will provide accommodation at ground floor level for the whole population. The patients are the elderly mentally ill and many of them persons reuiring prolonged treatment.

Another new asset of the Division of Mental Health is the new home for the Lethbridge Guidance Clinic, provided by the remodelling of a leased building in Lethbridge. The new quarters will provide space for the growing activities of the Guidance Clinic which serves the surrounding area and Medicine Hat as well as Lethbridge.

The old Garneau School in Edmonton has been acquired by the Department of Public Health and being remodelled to provide quarters for a School For Nursing Aides. In Calgary about 250 girls Aides in Calgary About 250 girls are graduating every year to meet the needs of Alberta hospitals. The Department expects that when the Edmonton School is in operation 400 graduates will be provided each year from the two schools.

Women's Travel Authority

You played on your summer vacation, but the chances are your car worked real hard. Now is the time to give it a post-vacation check-up to ensure its continued efficient operation.

You've probably driven it harder and longer than usual. Have it lubricated and the oil drained and replaced. (This is especially important if you've been forced to use several different brands of oil in your motoring).

Have the air cleaner checked. Driving near the sandy shore or on dusty roads can clog it up.

If you've been at the seashore, chances are salt has covered the car's finish. Have it thoroughly washed, then given a complete re-waxing job.

Have the radiator checked. Insects picked up during summer driving can clog air passages around the radiator, force it to boil over.

Have the car's generator and entire electrical system tested, too. A minor adjustment now can save trouble later on.

You've probably put a lot of mileage on the car. Tires may need to be switched. First, have them all checked for cuts and bruises. If you have tubeless tires, see that the sealing fluid is still in good condition. Then have the wheels aligned.

If you've used the car's emergency flashlight very often it is time to throw out the old batteries and get new ones.

WE SPECIALIZE IN SERVICE!

NEWS from DEWBERRY

All are pleased to see Mr. and Mrs. W. Porter back on the farm until harvesting is completed.

Mrs. Evans of Lindberg is spending a vacation at the home of her son, daughter-in-law and family in Dewberry.

To celebrate the birthdays of their daughters Verna and Violet Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Keast held a barn dance on the 28th. From all accounts a very pleasant evening was enjoyed.

Eugene Maltais who is with the R.C.N. is expected back in Edmonton on Sept. 2nd by plane. He has been in Norway and Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lemp of Edmonton spent the long week end with Roger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lemp.

George Machone of Cold Lake visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Machone.

Tom Jarret and a friend from Edmonton were at the Munro home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tulloch and family were home for the week end but have returned to Edmonton.

At the tea sponsored by the Ladies' Aid on the 28th, a talk by Miss Joyce Schon of the Home Service Dept., Edmonton, was very much enjoyed. She gave several very interesting ideas for articles suitable for bazaars. An idea for having a bazaar in the evening so that more men could attend was received with favor (after all, who handles the pocketbook?) A bountiful lunch was served by the ladies belonging to the Aid. A number of ladies from [illegible] dale, Clandonald and [illegible] attended, among them our Allandale scribe. It was nice to see them there.

Several of our grade ten, eleven and twelve students are going to school at Kitscoty, Clandonald and Vermilion owing to the shortage of teachers here.

On Thursday we enjoyed a chat with Mrs. W. Barnett, Mrs. Purvis and Mrs. George Purvis of Islay who were in Dewberry. Hope you have those knitting needles handy, Mrs. Purvis.

A correction on last news. It was Mrs. Wilena Lively, not Mrs. Elliott who went with Mrs. Windish on the trip to Nova Scotia. It was Mr. Elmer Elliott's first trip in over forty years to his home town.

Services will be held every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the United church during September.

Miss Margaret Keast has accepted a position in the McLaughlin store Vermilion.

Miss Joyce Parker is home until time to go the University in Edmonton.

A card received from Mrs. Woolett stated that Deidre had passed grade twelve with high marks and will be going to the University in Vancouver. Mrs. Woolett has undergone a successful ophthalmic operation.

Still no word of the janitor's little wagon!

Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott and baby son, and Mr. and Mrs. Russel Fleming and girls spent the long week end at the home of Mrs. Elliott's and Mrs. Fleming's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Findlay.

NEEDED:
MORE TRAINED AGRICULTURISTS

The demand for qualified agriculturists, today, greatly exceeds the supply and as the Colleges and Faculties of Agriculture in Western Canada prepare to enroll students for the coming term we are pleased to draw attention to the opportunities that exist in this important field. Many young men, perhaps, are not aware of the wide range of careers and jobs open to graduates in agriculture. With this in mind, the Agricultural Institute of Canada recently prepared a booklet entitled "Careers in Agriculture". a copy of which can be obtained through your agricultural representative or direct from the Faculty of Agriculture at your Provincial University.

Rev. Andrew Potter and Elizabeth Tyler Married At Kitscoty

A wedding of considerable interest was solemnized in St. John's Church, Kitscoty, when Elizabeth Elinor (Beth), daughter of Mr. Edwin Tyler and the late Mrs. Tyler, became the bride of the Rev. Andrew Eldon Potter, of Kitscoty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Potter, of Calgary. The ceremony was performed by the Venerable Archdeacon T. A. Teape. Rev. W. H. Peeling of Lloydminster, officiated at the service of Holy Communion.

The Right Reverend Howard Clark, Bishop of Edmonton, gave the address and blessing to the happy couple.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She was attired in a white tulle and lace dress with matching jacket over satin, and wore a chapel veil surmounted by a wreath of natural stephanotis. She carried a sheaf of red roses.

Bridesmaids were Miss Pat Tyler, sister of the bride, and Miss Isabel Potter, sister of the groom. Miss Tyler chose a dress of primrose tulle over taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of tinted sweetheart roses in mauve, yellow and blue. Miss Potter wore a mauve chiffon dress over taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and blue flowers. Both bridesmaids wore natural-flower headdresses.

The groomsmen were Mr. Alan Potter and Bob Potter. Usher was Mr. Bob Tyler.

Mrs. Grace Patnoe was organist and George Patnoe the server.

After the ceremony the happy couple left the church under a guard of honor of Boy Scouts, who were under the direction of Mr. Jack Swan.

Mrs. Potter, mother of the groom, was becomingly dressed in a rose-pink dress with a picture hat of black velvet and a corsage of cream roses.

Mrs. Leon Apperson, grandmother of the bride wore a Dior blue ensemble with a velvet hat to match and a corsage of pink roses.

A reception was held in the Tracy Memorial Hall, where the Canadian Legion Ladies, Auxiliary were in charge of the catering.

Miss Joanne Wuetherick was in charge of the guest book.

Archdeacon Teape proposed the toast to the bride, which was ably responded to by the groom, who then proposed a toast to the bridesmaids. The best man very aptly replied to this. The Bishop also gave a few humorous remarks.

Mrs. Patsy Bootsman sang several pleasing solos accompanied by Mrs. Elsie Batty.

The happy couple later left for Couer d'Alene, Idaho, Mrs. Potter going away in a beige tweed suit with a dark tangerine hat and bag.

Dog Gone, Don't Worry!

You may call it a dog's life but it can nonetheless be insured, reports The Financial Post. A firm in the U.S. now offers dog life insurance at a premium of $5 per $100 up to a maximum of $500. Dog must be aged six months to nine years, can be insured against any death but poisoning.

Like Russian Roulette

Few people would even consider matching their bulldog against a hippopotamus. But some of them take on even greater odds with their car says The Financial Post which points out:

Out of 548 motor accidents at railway crossings in Canada last year in 208 cases or a little less than half it was the car that ran into the train not the train running into the car. And 50% of these crashes occurred in daylight hours.

How are we going to save people who would plow into trains, asks The Post?

"A few wouldn't, perhaps, if trains, especially freights, carried side lights or reflecting devices. Sometimes it is very difficult to see a freight sliding across the highway at night.

"A few more people could be protected if they would follow the simple rule of slowing down when they approach a railway crossing and lowering a window to listen.

"As for the rest . . . the Russian roulette players who get a thrill out of racing a locomotive — about the only hope is that eventually they will be weeded out by natural process."

Store Sales Gain

Department store sales are still gaining in Canada, says The Financial Post. Sales in the week ended Aug. 17 registered a 3.2% gain over the corresponding week last year. Gains were: Quebec 5.1%; Ontario 3.3; Saskatchewan 4 and Alberta 12.3. These increases were more than enough to offset declines of 2.2 in the Atlantic Provinces, 3.9 in Manitoba and 2.7 in B. C.

Twice As Long

Average life of the muffler on an automobile is reported to be 29.3 months. New aluminum-coated steel developed recently in the U.S., reports The Financial Post, is claimed to make it last 58 months.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Original Cabinet Minister, Dr. Cross To Retire From Alberta Cabinet

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — The Alberta cabinet is running short of old-time Social Crediters in the fundamental, doctrinaire sense of the term.

It was announced last week that Hon. Dr Wallace Warren Cross, Minister of Health for the past 22 years, will be retiring from the cabinet around the middle of September. His successor will be Dr Donovan Ross, MLA for Edmonton.

When he leaves, Premier Manning will be the only remaining member of the original Social Credit cabinet installed in 1935 by the late William Aberhart after the party swept to power in the depths of the depression.

The old originals have gradually drifted away during the passing years. Death has taken its toll, elections and retirements. The veterans have been replaced by younger men, some of whom don't bother to stand up in the Legislature and spin the type of oratory on economic reform which carried Socreds to power.

Dr Cross is a master at discussing Social Credit's principles of monetary reform although he doesn't speak in the Legislature any more often than he has to, and gives the impression that it is a bothersome chore to stand up and outline the operations of his department.

A couple of years ago when fluoridation of water was a burning issue, Dr Cross was expected to make a major policy statement in the House. He rose to take part in debate on the Throne Speech minutes after dealing with a delegation of aroused anti-fluoridationists outside the House. But instead of policy statements, the House heard all about Social Credit.

I can't recall Dr Ross, the health-minister-to-be ever making a major speech on Social Credit, but he has definite ideas about health matters.

Dr Cross, who is 70 years old, says he is retiring for health reasons but will continue to sit in the Legislature as member for Hand Hills riding until the next election.

Born at Barrie Ont., Dr Cross was a medical practitioner in the southeastern town of Hanna in the 1930's when he joined the Social Credit movement. He had read the works of Major C. H. Douglas, founder of Social Credit.

Dr Cross had successfully avoided city life for most of his 47 years, but in 1935 he found himself elected to the legislature and very soon afterward was moved to Edmonton to join the cabinet.

The health minister is one of the best "listeners" in the legislature. He will sit for hours on end, with more lasting power than most members and ministers, listening to dull and repetitious speeches.

Opposition members often lock horns with him. He answers their questions reluctantly, at times almost as if his privacy were being invaded. Some say he's mellowed in recent years. Some people who have had dealings with the health department say he's somewhat autocratic.

Press gallery reporters find him quite approachable. He won't volunteer information or discuss his department freely, but he will answer most questions readily.

Despite what the Opposition says about him at times, he has pioneered some revolutionary developments in the health field, including Alberta's free care for maternity cases and the provincial municipal hospital plan.

The cabinet, and particularly the Premier, will miss him. "The contribution he has made to the good and welfare of the people of Alberta will stand as a permanent memorial to his long years of devoted public service," said Premier Manning in announcing his retirement.

NEW DEAL IN MUNICIPAL FINANCING

The government is getting all ready for definite proposals during the next session of the legislature regarding the 'new deal' in municipal financing.

Social Credit MLA's from 35 ridings attended a special caucus last week to discuss developments. The nature of the discussions wasn't revealed.

The idea is that the MLA's will take the proposals back to their constituencies for discussion and report back at a later caucus. Opposition MLA's won't be given the job of gathering the opinions in their ridings. Social Credit 'key men' will look after that. Some indication of what the government has in mind may come out during municipal conventions in the fall.

Business Looks Good!

Put aside pessimistic views that retail will fall off this year, advises The Financial Post.

It's very likely that 1957 sales will show a healthy increase on record-breaking 1956, probably 4 to 5 per cent.

Recovery from summer slackness is expected to begin next month.

Those are the views of a number of leading retailers as they look carefully at the next few months. They are backing their buoyant opinions with a steady boosting of inventory.

"The worst that is likely to happen is that we will end the year level with last year," is their conclusion.

The fall-off in many lines in the last few weeks is regarded as a normal adjustment. It's seen as a period of consolidation to catch up on debts after the vigorous installment buying of spring and summer 1956.

Cut Grain Deteriorating Rapidly In Both Swath and Stook

Farmers report that condition of cut grain in swath and stook is deteriorating rapidly with the continuous wet weather. It is not the moisture alone that is wreaking havoc but the warm temperatures during the day and night which have prevailed right up to Wednesday. This warmth has caused sprouting, and new growth is showing up through swaths and stooks as well. In the opinion of the majority the standing grain is in the best condition, and damage to it will consist mainly of bleaching, with the possibility of frost.

It is estimated that 50% of the wheat has been cut. Of this 45% is in swath and 5% in stook. Only 30% of the oats are reported cut and 50% of the barley. Only 1 to 2 per cent of the possible grain has been threshed.

The ground is very wet and not only causes the sprouting but makes the operation of harvesting machinery difficult.

Agricultural District No. 10 in which Vermilion district is included, has by far the greatest acreage in the three crops of wheat, oats and barley. Three districts have a greater acreage in wheat but these are very low in the coarse grains, while this district ranks first in both barley and oats.

The acreages seeded are as follows:

Wheat — 612,000 acres, estimated average yield 15 bushels per acre.

Oats — 380,000 acres, estimated yield, 30 bushels per acre.

Barley — 532,000 acres, estimated yield, 19 bushels per acre.

This totals 1,524,000 acres seeded this crop season.

Wesley James Parsons Dies At 92 Years — Pioneer of 1907

A link with the early history of Vermilion and district was severed early Monday September 9th when Wesley James Parsons passed away at the hospital. He was 92 years of age and had come to this district in 1907. Funeral services were held at the Alliance Chapel on Wednesday afternoon Sept. 11th at 2.00 o'clock with interment following in the Vermilion cemetery. The Rev. J. M. Schroeder officiated.

Mr. Parsons was born and grew to manhood in the Compton County of Quebec. In the year 1880 he went to Colorado for five years then returned to his native land. In March 1907, he came west and settled in Vermilion. He followed his trade of building contractor for six years and worked on many of the homes in town, as well as several of the larger buildings which are still prominent including the brick public school and the Anglican church.

In 1913 he moved to his homestead in the Rusylvia district, about twenty miles north of Vermilion where he farmed quite successfully until retiring in the year 1935. He returned to Vermilion to live in 1946 and has since made his home with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson. One other daughter Mrs. J. F. McNaught lives at West Monkton, Ontario.

A reception was held in honor of Mr. Parsons on his 90th birthday when old friends from a wide area called on him, showing their esteem and affection for a true pioneer of the area.

Moyers Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Warning Re: The Threshing Of Out-Of-Condition Grain

The Canadian Wheat Board issued a press release today which stated that if producers thresh out-of-condition grain they must be prepared to store such grain on their farms until it can be delivered under unit and general delivery quotas as established from time to time by the Board.

The reason for the statement is that sufficient elevator space is not available in country and terminal elevators to permit the handling of out-of-condition grain in preference and in volume.

The problem has risen as a result of unfavorable harvesting weather over most of the Prairie Provinces in the past two weeks.

Receive Title, Plan Sale Of Imperial Block, Built in 1912

Built back in 1912 by a group of Old Country capitalists, who also built several houses in the town at that time, and twenty more small residences a few years later, the big brick Imperial Block has finally come to rest as the property of the Town of Vermilion.

The block at the time it was built, boasted some fine business offices as well as some de luxe living suites, with numerous single rooms for light housekeeping. As time wore on it became a straight apartment house as the town business section failed to build out to it as anticipated in 1912.

The company building it was known as the Northern and Vermilion Development Company. It had very ambitious plans for this area both in town and country. They proposed to settle 150 farms, to build 60 houses in the town and to generally promote development. This was in the days of the 10,000 Club.

The brick block, commenced in 1912, was planned at the outset to cost $25,000. The contractor was Mr. Sherwin, a Vermilion man.

Even as an apartment house the block remained quite full until five years ago when it was required to make certain changes to meet fire regulations, modernize the plumbing, wiring, etc. The manager here at that time had no authority nor funds available to make the changes and the only known member of the old company, known as the Count de Topor, was ill in a sanatorium in Central America. He did finally come back to Vermilion and offered the block to the town as a gift. However, no title deed was forthcoming and the town council were dubious as to the value of the building requiring as it did an estimated $10,000 to renovate and modernize it into suitable living quarters. The building was vacated and closed until the requirements were met and as this was not done, has remained vacant since that time.

In the meanwhile, the Count de Topor, last known member of the company which had such rosy dreams for Vermilion, died. There was no income from rentals for the big building and it thus passed into the hands of the Town of Vermilion through the medium of the Tax Recovery Act.

Now the town council have it and at the last meeting decided to advertise it for sale, stressing its possibilities as an apartment block and the fact that at the present time, despite rapid home construction, there is a shortage of living accommodation in Vermilion.

It is to be hoped that some good use can be found for the big brick block, a landmark in Vermilion since 1912 and for the past five years or so strangely [illegible].

New Executive, Club Room, Members Feature Stagette Meeting

A bright new club room, five new members and Sept 10th saw Stagettes off to a good start with another full season ahead.

A new slate of officers was elected, as follows:

Governor - Lena Miller
Dep. Governor - Eileen Young
President - Ann Bristow
Vice-Pres. - Doris Schmidt
Secretary — Lillian Minick
Treasurer — Edna Martin
Lunch Conv. — Adeline Jacobs
Social Conv. — Hazel Barr
Press Reporter — Marie Miller
"Yes Edna, this is for real".

'Sparklers' threatened to cause reluctance in accepting offices, but we roped you in anyway didn't we Doris!

Fun and laughter seem to be in store for future social evenings, as indicated by Hazel's expressions, everything will be under control, although I'm not quite sure what she has up her sleeve?

Due to marriages and business transfers, the Vermilion Stagette club was left with only four old faithfuls and we could foresee only the disbanding of a once large and active organization. However enthusiasm was bubbling over last Tuesday night with five new members in attendance and a large number of favorable enquiries, all of whom we urge to attend the next our second meeting of the season, on Tuesday evening, Sept. 17th at 8 p.m. in the club room below the Bank of Commerce. All interested persons 17 years of age and over will be welcomed. An active year is anticipated.

'Bye for now — see you next week girls.

Are Our Agricultural Schools Obsolete?

(Guest Editorial by Ralph A. Willson, Alternate Director of Dist. No. 7, F.U.A.)

Are our agricultural schools obsolete? It has been drawn to my attention by members of the Vermilion Board of Trade that enrollment in our fine agricultural school at Vermilion was an all time low. The question arises "Are our agricultural schools fulfilling their purpose or should the fine facilities and the staff be used to train youth in some other line?"

Have we in the F.U.A. in our effort to improve the lot of farmers as a whole given too much publicity to our present economic disadvantage? Thinking people everywhere would do well to consider the advantages of our youth of an agricultural career.

Aside from the [illegible] lucre involved, no other occupation offers so much satisfaction. The farmer's days are his own. He is answerable to no man. He takes pride in his great variety of skills. His work is healthful and interesting and he seldom finds need for tranquilizing or sleeping pills. He proudly produces the very necessities of life for a hungry world. The greatest crop of all, his children, who have grown up in an atmosphere most conductive to deep thought, have become leading figures in every phase of public life out of all proportion to their numbers in comparison to other groups. Surely this is no accident.

True many farmers have failed financially, and broken in health and spirit, have sought other employment.

The essentials to successful farming, as to success in any other enterprise are initiative, training and adequate financing.

The F.U.A. policy has always been to urge upon our governments the need for more adequate long term financial assistance to young farmers of proven ability. The initiative a man must supply himself. The proper training for this most satisfying career is to be had at your own agricultural school.

I thank you Mr Editor for your valuable space.

Actions speak louder than words -- but not so often.

Work of John Howard Society

In this week's Standard we report that Mr George Hosking would represent the Vegreville District at the Annual Conference of the John Howard Society of Alberta at Red Deer. During the past week we have gathered further information on the work of the John Howard Society in this District.

The Vegreville District Committee was organized in 1949 under the chairmanship of Mr. H. S. Hurlburt, K.C. During his term of office, Mr Hurlburt interested Mr George Hosking, well-known schoolteacher of the Vegreville district, in the work of the society. Mr Hosking became Chairman of the Local District Committee in 1950 and has been very active ever since. Outside of the three large cities, Vegreville has the largest membership in the John Howard Society in the province.

Although we are unable to mention names, as it would be most unfair to the people concerned, we know that the local John Howard Society has assisted many ex-prisoners to regain their place in society. Mr Hosking recalls one case which amply illustrates the value of the service which the Society offers to the people o this community.

In 1949 Mr Hosking agreed to help a young man who was released on parole and was returning to the district. A job was found for him and he started work. He received a friendly welcome in the district and was given every assistance to rehabilitate himself. Unfortunately, the employment was of seasonal nature and when the work was completed the Society found a job elsewhere for the man. Now eight years after release on parole, the man is completely rehabilitated, married and the owner of his own business. The initial help which he received in the Vegreville district is given credit by the man for his successful recovery. He is now a useful, happy and productive citizen of [illegible].

Sportsmen's Associations Assure Wildlife Supply

Canadian sportsmen across the nation help assure their hunting and fishing resources and facilities through membership in fish and game associations.

According to the new Encyclopedia Canadiana, such associations operate on a Province-wide basis everywhere except in Newfoundland.

In every Province the sportsmen's organizations have achieved successes, especially in establishing mutually helpful co-operation between sportsmen and government conservation agencies and in bringing sportsmen's views before the public.

Associations of Canadian sportsmen interested in improving hunting and fishing began as early as the 1850's. Their membership has increased greatly in the past 25 years.

Although attempts to unite the provincial and other organizations in a national sportsmen's federation have failed, two regional organizations have appeared. The Western Canada-Yukon Fish and Game Council, formed in 1944, is maintained by the sportsmen's associations of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia and Yukon Territory. The Wildlife Federation, formed in 1951, links the sportsmen's associations of Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick.

The largest provincial body is the Quebec Federation of Fish and Game Associations, which includes 200 organizations with a membership exceeding 35,000.

Newfoundland had a sportsmen's association for the entire island in 1946-49, but now only four local associations are reported to be active there.

"When wisely led," states the encyclopedia "these organizations are effective and beneficial." "In some Provinces they have played an essential part in increasing the number of uniformed game officers and in establishing sanctuaries, such as Tobeatic Big Game Sanctuary in Nova Scotia.

Garden Club Achievement Day Day Is Held At Islay

On Wednesday night Sept. 4th the Garden Club held their Achievement Day. It was an interesting evening and seemed to be highly enjoyed by all including th girls in the club. It was opened by the singing of "O Canada" with Elaine Hanna at the organ. The program was varied, all the girls taking part. Lynne Davidson read a poem, and as she is secretary she gave a report of their work. Shirley McGuigan and Denise Dodsworth, accompanied by Elaine Hanna on the guitar, sang very nicely; Frances Sherwood played an organ solo. Several girls took their turn at being M.C. As Elaine Sweet was not present, being away at high school, her report of the week at the Agriculture college in Vermilion (as winner of an efficiency award of the sewing club) was read by Elaine Hanna.

Linda Redmond, efficiency winner of the Garden club also had a week at the college and gave her report. The girls enjoyed their week which was a full one, and gained some worthwhile knowledge. Shirley McGuigan reported on the 4-H rally, July 3rd, at the V.S.A. and the program which was followed.

Lynne Davidson and Grace Simmons showed us how to transplant parsley to grow in the house during the winter. Sharon Redmond gave a talk on herbs showed us chives which are similar to onions in flavor but milder and more easily digested fore some folk. Frances Sherwood and Margaret Robinson showed how to prepare vegetables for exhibit. The treasurer's report was given by Denise Dodsworth and their balance was presented to the United Church W. A. in appreciation.

A new innovation was the talk given by Mrs. A. H. Sweet "A mother's point of view of 4-H Club work". We hope to have this printed shortly.

Miss Craig then spoke and gave the girls constructive criticism on displays. Mr. Fleming got in the last word this time. I believe, and then showed a film on 4-H Clubs of Alberta, all very interesting and informative. More parents and children should have seen these and perhaps get intrested in the very worthwhile activities of these clubs. Many were heard to remark that if there had been such clubs in their day they could make a dress now. In the spring the girls had a nice [illegible] of dresses, housecoats etc. which they had made. Mrs. Merlin Moncrieff is the leader assisted by Mrs. Charlie Redmond.

Prize winners in the Achievement Day will appear next week.

Rex Beake Weds Betty Bentley In Pretty Double-Ring Ceremony

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized in the First United Church, Vermilion, on Saturday afternoon Aug. 24th, when Elizabeth Anne Margaret Bentley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newcombe N. Bentley, became the bride of Mr. Rex Clark Beake, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ross Beake, all of Vermilion. The happy event was the culmination of a high school romance.

Bouquets of gladioli in summer shades were arranged at the altar and baskets of summer blossoms decorated the church for the attractive double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. J. E. Hawker played the traditional organ music as the bride was escorted up the aisle by her father to repeat vows before Rev. C. W. MacKay on the occasion of her parents' wedding anniversary.

For her wedding, the bride chose a classic summer gown of white pure silk organza. The slim bodice was inset at the waistline with hand-cliped Chantilly lace and fashioned with long sleeves tapering to lily points. Mother of pearl sequins and seed pearls outlined the scalloped sabrina neckline. The [illegible] bouffant over crinoline, ended in a chapel train.

A Juliet cap, encrusted with seed pearls and sequins, held her fingertip veil of sheer illusion, sprinkled with diamente. Her cascade bouquet was of pink Sweetheart roses and white stephanotis.

Completing the bridal picture were a trio of attendants in identical cocktail-length frocks of ice blue crystal charm. Their bouffant gowns were designed with scooped necklines ending in bows at the back. In their hair were white velvet bands [illegible]. They carried cascade bouquets [illegible].

Mrs. Keith McKenzie of Edmonton was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Joan Maxwell, Edmonton, and Miss Barbara Fisher, cousin of the bride.

Mr William Harley of Wainwright was best man and ushering the guests were Mr. John Stewart, and Mr. Patrick Bentlye, brother of the bride.

Following the church ceremony a reception was held at the Vermilion School of Agriculture where the bride and groom were assisted by their parents in receiving two hundred guests. The beautifully laid bridal table centred the reception room. Pouring tea were Mrs. R. W. Fisher, Mrs. R. Gordon Bentley, Mrs. E. W. Stutchbury and Mrs. W. [illegible]. The three-tiered wedding cake was cut by the bride and groom and served by them to each of the guests.

The toast to the bride, proposed by Mr. E. M. Stewart, a lifelong friend of both families, brought forth a very able reply by the groom. Telegrams from friends across Canada were read by Mr. Arthur Wilson of Edmonton. Mr. Wilson also congratulated the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Bentley, as the day was their wedding anniversary and Mr. Bentley's birthday. A very large number of out-of-town guests were present at the wedding and reception.

For a honeymoon trip to Great Falls, Montana, and Banff, the bride changed to a blue jacket dress [illegible] in navy and featuring a navy taffeta [illegible]. She wore a navy [illegible] hat and matching accessories. At her shoulder was a corsage of Talisman roses.

Mr and Mrs Beake will reside in Edmonton where the groom is a medical student at the University of Alberta and the bride is a member of the Edmonton teaching staff.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

Weather — most disagreeable for days. The harvest has been at a standstill for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Strome Sr. from Sask. visited their sons and families part of August.

Aug. 31 — Mrs. Stella Mayers motored to Chipman where she will be at the Neville Calvert home. Mrs. Calvert will be teaching. She is a niece of Stella's sister Nora Ronaghan.

Aug. 26 - Mrs. Della Walsh, Mrs. Spice, daughter Helene returned to the city. The next day Della and Jimmy returned to their family, all going home to the city on Aug. 31st.

Aug. 28 - A few of the ladies from Allandale attended the lecture on 'Bazaars' by the Utilities from Lloydminster. It was very interesting and one would get some new ideas which would be very helpful. Thanks to Dewberry W.A. for their hospitality and a delicious tea and all the goodies. It was a pleasure to meet so many friends amongst them the Dewberry scribe who was at one time Deer Lake correspondent. Good to see the Dewberry news again too.

Left at the Omness home the Sunday of the Earl Nelson gathering is a boy's light colored cap. Perhaps the owner could phone if not able to come, or we could leave it in a suitable place.

Mrs. Mildred Baldock accompanied her son Glen and Evelyn, and Ronnie Klashinsky to Saskatoon to visit sister Georgina, Mr and Mrs. Broadfoot for the long Labor Day week end.

Mr and Mrs. Earl Kepke and family Keith, Norma, Donna and Garry from the city and Earl's [illegible] Mrs. Gertie Swanson from Elk Point [illegible] relatives in the district. The previous day they visited Earl's [illegible] and [illegible] Hammond at Lashburn.

Our best wishes to the teachers, students and beginners for a most successful year. Beginners in Allandale are Leslie Nelson, Gloria Butler and Irene Strome. Mr Frank Chupka of Clandonald is in charge of the Allandale bus.

Miss Myrna McPhee has entered high school and is attending at Vermilion, staying with Aunt [illegible] and Uncle John at the David home.

Church attendance hasn't been at all good. Sept. 8th service was at the school where we have the lights. A most interesting sermon on "Symbols of the Sacraments" by Mr Rector. Singing of the old Gospel songs was enjoyed very much after the service.

Sept. 15th 3.00 p.m. at the church Baptism and Holy Communion by Rev. Mr MacKay. Some misunderstanding about last Sunday, sorry.

Sept. 22nd 7.30 p.m. at the school service by Mr Ernest Schurman.

Sept. 29th 11.30 a.m. at the church Mr. Rector's final service. Let's go to church on Sunday.

On Sept. 1st Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Armstrong had their daughter Myrtle and Norman and family (the Andersons) from Lloydminster visiting. The next Sunday May and Warren Edwards and family from town.

On Sept. 8th Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer [illegible] of Camrose were Sunday evening visitors at their [illegible] Wilfred's, the Baldock home.

The [illegible] have six grandchildren going to school. Commencing this year was Marlene [illegible] of Vermilion and Wayne Walsh of Edmonton. Donna Will [illegible] alone at home on school days, spent last week end with her grandparents.

Some gardens are really wonderful this year. Due to early frost and drought this spring the gardens seemed doomed to failure, but when the moisture came what grand improvements! We have the best and largest tomatoes we've ever seen, some measuring 13 inches around, and around 200 pounds off 40 plants. A lot ripened on the vines. Onions grown from seed are large, and other vegetables are good, for which we are very grateful.

Mrs. Wm. Armstrong just received a letter from her sister, Stella Mayers at Chipman. She is getting on very well at her new position. The ducks around that area are playing havoc with the crops.

Mrs. Frank Schmidt and family (Susan, David, Bruce and Wayne) are holidaying with her parents at the Nelson home until her husband can find living quarters at Lloydminster.

Noticed: Three nice new granaries at the Steve Gordey farm. Here's hoping the weather will soon clear and harvest can be on its way.

Mr and Mrs. Alvin Throndson have been busy painting their house. What a grand improvement to the farm — cream and green with white and red trim.

The house from the original O'Fee farm, now rented by McCormick's, was moved by Mix's to the Rock Burns' farm, north [illegible].

A lovely large propane cook stove, with an extra large oven was installed at the D. McCormick Sr. home by Mr Little. Happy baking Mother McCormick.

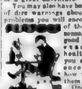
Closing Thought: Each nonsense we hear of our southern friends concerning the darker race. "Revive us again, fill each heart with Thy love, may each soul be rekindled with fire from above."

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Going Abroad?

If you're planning to spend your vacation this year in a foreign country — or several of them — the chances are good that you are the envy of your non traveling friends. And they're right, for going abroad can be a great adventure.

You may also have been the target of dire warnings about the health problems you will encounter. Some of these are nonsense, but it's a good idea to know exactly what health problems you are likely to encounter, and how to deal with them.



One authoritative source is Henry Milo's The Traveler's Health Handbook, an attractive, illustrated 16 page booklet that covers everything from sea sickness to shots. Among other things Mr. Milo discusses proper wardrobe, drinking [illegible], a large tired feet, how to cope with hot weather and insect bites. It is quick and easy reading, and it takes up so little space that you can keep it handy for ready reference no matter where you go.

The booklet can't be bought, but you can have it for the price of a post card. It is distributed as a public service by a large pharmaceutical company. Just write to Dept. C, Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., 630 Flushing Avenue, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Radio Farm Forum To Open Nov. 14th

"National Farm Policy" has been selected as the topic to open the 18th season of National Farm Radio Forum on Nov. 4. With a new Federal Government the Forum opinions on this topic will take on a new significance. Farm organizations will also be concerned with the conclusions reached.

Should farm machinery be more versatile? is the type of question to be asked when the topic, "A New Look in Farm Machinery", comes up for discussion later by some 15,000 rural people meeting in neighborhood groups across the country each Monday evening. A special feature, "Modern Marketing" during January will be a series of three discussions dealing with present-day production, pricing and selling problems. These will be dealt with under the headings 'Production Restrictions', 'Price and Income Supports' and 'Producer Marketing'. Two dates have been left open for discussion of current issues in the farm field. Other topics during the winter are 'Farm Credit', 'Import Controls — are they necessary?', 'Let's Make it Legal', 'The Low Income Farmer', and 'Canada's Role in World Affairs'.

Broadcasts will be carried over the Trans-Canada network of the CBC from 8:30-9:00 p.m. in all provinces (except Newfoundland) every Monday night from November through March. Newfoundland broadcasts will be heard from 9-9:30 p.m.

Medical Milestones

When is a Discovery Useful?

When a scientist discovers something new, people are inclined to ask: What is this discovery good for? What is its practical value? More often than not, these questions cannot be answered or, at least, not right away. For many discoveries are of no immediate use whatever until — sometimes due to a lucky accident — they become important in a way which nobody could foresee. This is particularly true in medicine. Isoniazid, for instance, today one of the most useful drugs in the treatment of tuberculosis, was first produced in 1912. But only a few years ago, it was found that this chemical could fight one of man's worst plagues. Penicillin, the first of the antibiotics, which opened an entirely new era in medicine, was known for over ten years before any attempt was made to exploit its tremendous germ-killing ability.

Something similar happened in the case of the recently developed oral anti-diabetic drugs, the most effective of which is called Orinase. It was in 1942 that a French physician, Dr. Marcel Janbon, in treating patients suffering from typhoid fever with a new sulfa drug, observed unusual reactions in some cases. He consulted his colleague, Prof. Auguste Loubatières, a pathologist, and his research established beyond doubt that certain sulfa drugs were capable of lowering the blood sugar in diabetics.

However, for ten years the scientific world paid little attention to Loubatières' work and only in 1952 was the first attempt made to exploit the anti-diabetic effect of sulfa drugs. Fortunately, for the many diabetics who would like to do away with their inconvenient and often painful insulin injections, progress in this field was quite fast from there on. In 1954 a compound was developed in Germany which was closely related to the sulfa drugs but did not have their germ-killing power. On the other hand, the same drug — now called Orinase — proved in trials on thousands of patients that it would safely and effectively help the majority of diabetics to control their disease with only very minor side effects.

Prof. Auguste Loubatières

Today, only a few years later, Orinase is available in many countries, including Canada, where it is produced by Hoechst Pharmaceuticals of Montreal. Before being placed on the market, Orinase was tested by 1700 Canadian and U.S. physicians on about 20,000 patients for periods up to 1½ years. This makes it one of the most carefully evaluated drugs in the history of modern medical research.

200 Greet Party From Vermilion

A party of nine people including Mr and Mrs. C. Neis and son Lewis, Mrs. Laura Leahy and daughter Betty, Mrs. Evelyn Maier and son Neil and daughter Karen and Mr. Leo McGinnis of Innisfail, Alberta, motored to Regina, Sask., Minot, N.D. and east to Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., Farmington, Faribault, Montgomery and on to the homestead farm of William McGinnis at Shieldsville, Minn., where a family re-union was held and 200 relatives and friends gathered to greet the Vermilion group. Among those attending was Mr. John Leahy of Duluth, Minn.

The return trip was made via Minot, N.D. and Williston, N.D. where a few hours were spent visiting Mrs. R. J. Brown, a sister of Mrs. Wm. McGinnis. The party then journeyed west into Montana and crossed into Canada at Regway, on to Regina and home. The two weeks holiday was greatly enjoyed by all.

Announce Alberta Antelope Season

There is an antelope season in Alberta this year outside of the Eastern Irrigation District and the British Block at Suffield. The season is Nov. 1 to Nov. 9.

Only 2500 special antelope licenses will be offered for sale. Residents only are eligible for licenses. The cost is $5 each.

These licenses will be sold only at Fish and Game offices at Edmonton, Calgary, Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Cardston, Drumheller, Castor.

Licenses will go on sale Oct. 1st at all points mentioned. Persons wishing to obtain licenses by mail should write to the Fish and Game Commissioner, Department of Lands and Forests, Natural Resources Building, Edmonton. Applicants should give their name, address and occupation and enclose $5 payable to The Provincial Treasurer. Applications by mail will be accepted only at Edmonton and must be postmarked Sept. 30th or later. Those postmarked earlier will not be considered.

The above arrangement has been made to give equal opportunity to all hunters to obtain special antelope licenses.

Socreds Nominate For By-Election

Social Credit is making a strong bid to capture the Calgary legislature seat at stake in a by-election slated for Oct 2nd. The vacancy is caused by resignation of Conservative Art Smith who is now a member of parliament.

The Social Credit candidate is Samuel J Helman, prominent Calgary lawyer, and Premier Manning indicated at the nominating convention that he will become attorney-general if he is elected. Socred ranks in the House have been without a lawyer since the defeat of Lucien Maynard in 1955, and Premier Manning has been carrying the portfolio. Mr [illegible] acted for government departments during the 1955-56 royal commission probe into charges of maladministration levelled against the government by some opposition members.

Bowtell Bulletin

Rain and more rain! Thus the writer was unable to get this column in for the past two weeks.

A number of farmers in our district have been forced to restook their cut grain due to so much rain and warm weather.

We are pleased to have Mr and Mrs. Dedeily back with us, but are sorry to report they plan to dispose of their goods then return to B.C. to make their permanent home.

Eleven attended church Sunday at Pleasant Valley. Folks please note our Thanksgiving service is planned for Sept. 29.

Beverly Sherwood celebrated her 8th birthday Sept 4th.

Tips on Touring

— By Carol Lane —
Women's Travel Authority

If you think you are an expert driver, you need not read this. But if you are just learning — or thinking about brushing up — you may get some tips from this report. It's from a friend who just finished a driving course taught by professionals.

On the first day, there's a two-and-a-half-class session. Students see a movie depicting right and wrong driver attitudes, and attend an instruction period on the mechanics of driving utilizing a scale model car. Students are then given psycho-physical tests to determine field of vision, night and glare vision, brake reaction time, and depth perception. Results of these tests are given to the instructor who accompanies the student for the rest of the course.

After this, there are ten two-hour periods of instruction in the automobile. The student spends one hour of each period driving and one hour observing from the back seat while another student drives. The observer wears a safety belt. The instructor sits next to the driver in the dual-control automobile.

(My friend was most impressed with the 'observation' idea. She learned a great deal by watching the other student's mistakes, and was grateful for the safety belt more than once.)

Between the 9th and 10th lesson, the student must practice driving a minimum of ten hours at home. Naturally, she must be accompanied by a licensed driver.

The final lesson consists of a comprehensive review of all instruction and a qualifying driving test. If the student wishes, a written driving analysis will be provided by the instructor. It tells the student what her weak points are so she can concentrate on improving them prior to the official test.

Garry Fairbairne spent a few days in Lloydminster with Mary who is working in the Co-op grocery department. Mary was home over the week end. Donna and Judy Robbie have each spent a few days in Lloyd with their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. M. Graham. Mr. and Mrs. Les. Hale were in Edmonton last week bringing home Mrs. Elves with them who also called at the Darlington home. Mr. Elves came down for the week end renewing acquaintances with old timers. Mr. and Mrs. W. Shaw were Saskatoon over the week end attending a wedding. Mrs. Doull and John Doull Jr. are home from a three weeks' visit with Mrs. Jno. Boyce (Vivian) at Mayo, N.W.T.

The scales of justice might well be called the final balance.

Mother takes a picture right on the front steps to capture on film the memory of that important first day.

Picture the Return to School

It's at this time every year, that Johnny or Susie points out that there are "so-and-so" number of days and "so-and-so" number of hours to go until school is out again.

Getting back again into the routine of school days is bound to effect changes in the household. At your house, the smallest member of the family may be entering the wonderful world of First Grade, the teenager facing the new challenge of high school and a full program of extra-curricular activities. Maybe a son or daughter is setting off to college and the adventures of campus life. Or if you have a teacher in the family, there'll be all the preparations that go into opening up a classroom for the new term.

Regardless of the type of back-to-schooler your household includes, the reopening of school [illegible] with it all sorts of adjustments in your pattern of living. [illegible] the annual switch from sneakers and blue jeans to crisply starched pinafores—which marks the early demise of summer salads, screen doors and slipcovers, too — many [illegible] forget about their cameras or pack them away because vacation time is over.

This is most unfortunate, we feel, for the school year ushers in so many wonderful days that just teem with picture possibilities. In years to come, some of the most treasured pictures in your collection may turn out to be the ones you snapped of the children waving goodbye as they board the school bus or coming to grips with a thorny homework assignment. And special activities — pageants, class plays, assemblies, etc.—make a memorable chapter all their own in any school picture record.

Back-to-school days bring cameras to the fore in another important way, too. It's a time when junior members of the family really would like having a camera of their own. Taking pictures of classmates and school events — recording their own experiences as they see them — will put their impressions in a permanent form that they can refer to and enjoy in the years ahead.

McLAUGHLIN'S SELF-SERVE

One of the features attracting attention at the CNE's "Carousel of Rooms" this year is this 'sleep or lounge' chesterfield suite by Kroehler. It's upholstered in black and burnished antique white "Fabrilite", the versatile vinyl-coated fabric that is rapidly making itself at home in every room of the home - as wall coverings, furniture upholstery material, cushion covering and bedspread.

Dandy Plums

Percy Willes has had considerable success with his crop of home grown plums this season, growing a variety called "Dandy" which fully lived up to the name. According to Percy this has been a good year for fruit but the hornets, which were more than numerous this year developed a liking for the ripe plums, apples and raspberries and provided a lot of opposition when it came time to pick the crop. Hornets apparently settled on the ripe fruit and sucked the juice therefrom. This was the first year in Mr Willes' experience that such a thing had happened.

Harry Mazeypa Foils Break-In

An attempted break-in at Harry's Tailor shop was foiled by the proprietor Harry Mazeypa early Thursday morning. It so happens that Harry has sleeping quarters at the back of his shop and was awakened by sounds coming from a window. The would-be burglars were apparently trying to force the window to gain entrance to the premises. Harry shone a flashlight on the window and the breakers-in scampered away.

Change Name Of Local Business

Notice of change of name of the Vermilion Bakery and Coffee shop is being carried in the advertising columns of the Standard this issue. The new name is "Elite Eats".

Vermilion Airman Champion Driver At Truck Roadeo

Leading Aircraftsman D. J. Plouffe who lived in Bonnyville prior to enlisting in the RCAF and whose parents now reside in Vermilion, won several trophies last week at the annual Alberta Motor Transport Association's Truck roadeo. It was held in Edmonton on the parade square at Tactical Air Command. It was a three-day competition for the service personnel.

Plouffe won the RCAF Safe and Skilled Driving competition for which most RCAF units in Alberta plus Whitehorse, Y.T. competed. This trophy remains at the mobile equipment section of TAC support unit in Edmonton for one year. The miniature of the trophy becomes LAC Plouffe's personal property, also the Truck Roadeo Championship Armed Services Div. trophy competed for by the Canadian Army's Western Command and Alberta's RCAF units. The winner plus two runners-up will represent Alberta armed service stations in competition for interprovincial honors and then national honors in Toronto Nov 23 and 24. This year all three Alberta representatives will be RCAF personnel. They are LAC Plouffe and Cpl. J. H. Perrett, both of Tactical Air Command Edmonton, and LAC Naegli, RCAF Cold Lake.

Since 1949 when the trophy was first competed for, the RCAF has won six times, the Canadian Army twice. During this competition Plouffe obtained 385 of a possible 400 points.

Utilities Staff Picnics At Beach

The annual Canadian Utilities picnic for employees and their families for this area was held on Sunday, Sept. 8th at the Vermilion park. A gathering of about sixty enjoyed hot dogs, ice cream and soft drinks. Swimming was not included in the fun this year as the weather was not conducive to that sport. That same weather accounted for the comparatively small gathering but a good time was had by all.

The children enjoyed the races, not to mention the ladies. In the latter Alice Stoffert came in first with Loretta McKernan second by a hand.

TOO MUCH CREDIT

Mankind may never have to go back to living in trees, but a good many are already out on a limb.

Canadians Win $2,250,000 Annually

Some 200 people win a total of $2,250,000 illegally each year in Canada, reports Robert Walker in this month's issue of Liberty magazine. "More than $2,000,000 comes from the familiar 'Irish Sweep'" says Walker.

Sweepstake gambling in Canada is a paradox. In this country "the whole business is illegal," says Liberty. By practise, it appears so only for one member of the transaction, the salesman.

One Mimico, Ont., church treasurer was "fined $10" and sternly reprimanded by the magistrate for selling tickets. "In the meantime, a gleeful winner appears, waving his ticket in a front-page photo, half a foot high." The winner, it appears, is judged solely by public opinion, which is unanimous in its verdict of "not guilty". It is illegal to buy or sell a sweepstake ticket in Canada, but quite lawful to win more than $100,000 with one.

In the story behind this rags-to-riches fairy tale of Canada's sweepstake winners, Walker tells how people dispose of their money. Initially, the winner of a sweepstake bundle finds himself very much in demand. He is immediately besieged by a troupe of newspaper reporters, salesmen peddling anything from life insurance to love, "old friends" and racketeers.

One Toronto winner of $[illegible] Alfons Zaborek, a former $[illegible]-a-week immigrant, had this to say on the subject: "People go after the poor man who wins more than the rich man. They think the poor man doesn't know what he's doing. I put my money in mortgages because they have the best security."

School in Full Swing At Buffalo Coulee

School is again in full swing with our new teacher Mr. G. Juskow teaching grades 5, 6 and 7. Mr. and Mrs. Juskow are living in the house formerly occupied by the Spak family. They have one son Bill who will be attending University of Alberta this fall.

There are nine beginners this year, keeping the attendance at a fairly constant level. Of the grade 10s who left this year Lorene Everett is at Wainwright, Barbara Hinton and Carolyn Renspies at Mannville, Pearl Kocowski, Bernard Kyben and Wayne Green at Vermilion. All are taking their grade 11 at these respective schools.

FAREWELL PARTY

The young people held a farewell party recently for Clara Green and Herb Breigthaupt. This took the form of a weiner roast at the river. Clara has now gone to Edmonton to complete her high school, grade 12. Mr Breigthaupt will be leaving for the east next Sunday evening.

BAPTISM SERVICE HELD

At the Communion and Baptism service held at the Auburndale church by Rev. MacKay, four children were baptised, including Janice, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Melvin Arthur; Freda, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Chris Boier; Leslie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cleland, and Reginald, son of Mr and Mrs. Bud Staden. There was a fairly good attendance at this service in spite of muddy roads.

FAREWELL SERVICE

This Sunday, the 15th, will be Mr. Breighaupt's last service so everyone should plan to attend to let him know how much we have appreciated the fine work which he has done on the field this summer. Best wishes of all go with him as he returns to Toronto to continue his course in Theology.

RETURNS FROM EUROPE

Miss Rita Everett returned recently from a three-months' tour of Europe and reports a wonderful time. She is spending a month at home before resuming her nursing career.

COMPLETES NURSE COURSE

Miss Betty Barlow returned home last Friday night following the completion of her nursing course at the University hospital. She plans on joining the staff of the Vermilion Municipal hospital.

VISITORS FROM CALGARY

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mayhew and family of Calgary visited last week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Woodruff. Mr. Mayhew is a nephew of Mrs. Woodruff.

MOURN PASSING OF MRS. HAROLD BARLOW

The sad news has just been received at time of writing of the death of Mrs. Harold Barlow. The sympathy of the community is extended to the family in their hour of sorrow. Besides being a loving wife and mother, Amy, as she was so familiarly known to all, will be sorely missed in our community. She had lived here all her life and was a very willing helper in all district activities. Her generous aid and hospitality, her happy personality made her a friend of all. That she should be called away at such an early age is hard for us to understand but God's ways are not our ways and maybe He will comfort and sustain the family with the knowledge that she has departed to be with Christ.

Brother Officiates At Wedding

HELTEN—GOUTIER

Saint Francis Xavier's Roman Catholic church at Camrose was the setting on August 31st of a touching ceremony when Miss Cecile P. Goutier, R.N., became the bride of Gerald V. Helten and received the nuptial blessing from the hand of Rev. Father Maurice Goutier, O.M.I., brother of the bride.

Offered in marriage by her father, the bride had chosen a floor-length gown of white picot nylon net over satin, with lily point sleeves and a large bell skirt. From her shining head dress fell a fingertip veil, while in her hands an orchid stood among stephanotis.

Maureen Helten and Gertrude Dewald, the bridesmaids, were decked in flowing gowns of nylon and chiffon in yellow and blue respectively, matching nylon halos and a bouquet of baby [illegible].

Michael Marcial and Patrick Helten served as best men, while Joseph Goutier and Alex Forsyth ushered in the guests.

In the parish hall a three-tiered wedding cake topped by two white doves, welcomed the newlyweds to an informal reception where Father P. F. Harrington blessed the table and Father Goutier proposed the toast to the bride.

The next morning the happy couple boarded a plane from Edmonton to Paris where they will spend a joyful two-week honeymoon, before returning to Camrose where the groom is employed by the C.N.R.

The very best wishes for their future happiness is wished the bride and groom by their many friends.

PREPARING YOUR CHILD FOR HOSPITAL

The experience of going to hospital often leaves emotional scars on a child which may persist long after physical health has been restored. He becomes frightened when a man in a white coat tries to cut his hair, or give him an injection. He often clings unduly to his mother and is terrified when she leaves him alone even for a short time, he gets frightened in a closed room or has night terrors. Of course, many a child does come through hospitalization without such apparent ill effects but the hazard is always present. The danger is that in one devastating event his whole feeling of security can be undermined. It's not only that he's uncomfortable and in pain in a strange place, but if—when he needs them most—his parents seem to have deserted him, or deceived him, serious damage may be done to his personality.

You can guide your child past this danger. Tell him, simply and matter-of-factly, why he's going to hospital so he won't feel afterwards that the hospital was a mean trick played on him, or a punishment for his own wrongdoing. Also, fear of the unknown is far more terrifying than anxiety about the known. The amount of detail you give depends on the age. The eight-year-old might need to be reassured about surgical masks lest they suggest faceless monsters from the comic books. Let him know about the anaesthetic that will make him sleep comfortably so he won't feel a thing. And tell him he'll wake up right after the operation is over. Present a rounded picture of the hospital—it's more than the operating room.

Some experts advise giving this information only a few hours before, to prevent prolonged brooding about it. Perhaps this is wise for the school-age child, particularly if he's a worrier. Its disadvantage lies in your own difficulty in being as calm and matter-of-fact as you might have been a week before. Also it gives you little time to deal with whatever worry or fear the child may express.

For the pre-school youngster repeat the explanation until he understands and his confidence is built up. A week before might be best, giving him ample time to ask questions and get used to the idea. Then drop the subject until the night or morning before the operation. (If your child has to go to the hospital without warning, he knows, of course, that he's in trouble. Reassure him that at the hospital he will be helped out of this trouble.)

HONESTY IS KEYNOTE

Be completely frank about coming pain, how much you can visit, how long he'll be there. Tell him that when he wakes up after the operation it will hurt, assuring him that he will be able to stand it and that it will go away after a while. Find out from the hospital exact details about visiting regulations so you don't make promises about being with him and have to break them. It's just as harmful to deceive him innocently as it is to mislead him willfully — in either case you have betrayed his trust in you. Let him know he can expect you so he won't be waiting tensely and in vain for you to show up.

HE NEEDS YOUR PRESENCE

Take the child to the hospital yourself and if possible be with him before and after the operation. Visiting wisely handled, brings to your child the affectionate support he needs. Be prepared for some emotional disturbance when you come. Your presence may set off a storm of tears and pleading to be taken home. Let him cry it out and, when the worst is over, help him regain his calmness with toys and games. Screams and sobs may accompany your departure but this doesn't necessarily mean he's unhappy when you're gone. Try and smooth over this farewell. For example, "Wave till I'm out of sight," or "Here's a surprise for you to play with now that I must go." Be sure he has his favorite toy with him.

The child appreciates surprises, too, but also needs the familiar doll or teddy to confide in and cuddle. Supply toys which can be used in a variety of ways and aren't easily damaged. Modelling clay, paper and crayons, balloons that can be tied to the bed — all these are better than expensive, elaborate mechanical toys which are quickly tired of.

AVOID THESE ERRORS

Don't bribe him. He may decide the reward isn't worth it and he'll just stay home, thank you.

Don't lie about his destination. The circus was never like this.

Don't tell him it won't hurt a bit — if you want him to believe you again.

Don't let him see your own concern and anxiety.

Don't discuss the operation with another adult in his presence.

Don't expect hospital rules to be suspended for you.

WOODVALE NOTES

Heavy showers fell the last few weeks over this part of the country delaying once again haying and harvesting. Some of the earlier cut grain is reported growing in the stocks and swaths. Crocuses made their appearance just as if it were spring again. Let us hope we'll have a prolonged Indian summer, everyone could use it to good advantage.

But there are a few happy events we can relate. On Aug. 28 Rev. and Mrs. Anderson of Chauvin showed some very interesting slides about Africa in the Ganton community centre. A bit of community singing was enjoyed and afterwards a bountiful lunch.

The wedding dance of Mr. and Mrs. J. Isley held in the Woodvale community centre on Aug. 30th was attended by a happy crowd, which not only enjoyed the dancing but also songs rendered by Mr. John Martin and by Mr. and Mrs. Wes Funnell who also furnished the music.

On Aug. 31st a Woodvale girl, Cecile Goutier was married in Camrose to Mr. Gerald Helton with her parents and several other members of the Goutier family going to Camrose for the wedding. Her brother, the Rev. Father Maurice Goutier performed the ceremony. The young couple will live in Camrose after a honeymoon spent in France.

Another wedding took place on Friday, Sept. 6th when Elsie Teasman became the bride of John Thompson. Her friends and neighbors of the Hindville district where she grew up, gave her a shower in the Watson community centre on Monday, Sept. 2nd. After an evening of games arranged by Mr. Douglas Young and Miss Rita Young in which everyone happily participated, Mr. Douglas Young made the presentation of a large basket filled with presents for which Elsie thanked all present very much. Lunch and the singing of "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" and best wishes brought an end to a very pleasant evening.

A Red Cross meeting and quilting bee was held at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Seitz on Sept. 4th with nine members present and one visitor Mrs. Bernard Portsmith. They all worked hard as always, enjoying their get together and admiring the beautiful flower beds and something extremely unusual at this time of the year, a crabapple tree in blossom! All relaxed and enjoyed a delicious lunch. Next meeting will be on Oct. 2 at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Portsmith.

The 4-H Garden club gathered at the Ganton community centre in the evening of September 5th for their achievement day bringing their choicest vegetables and most beautiful flowers. Judges were Miss Craig and Mr. M. Fleming. The latter made the presentation of a hand-carved and painted wooden sandwich tray to Eleanor McGrath for the best garden. The award for proficiency will be made later when all points are counted. The girls entertained their guests, among them the Isley 4-H club members, with a program of songs and recitations, and talks about flower arrangements, the growing of an annual flower garden, the making of a winter bouquet, gardening in general and a salad making demonstration. Miss Craig gave a lecture on proper and improper etiquette and Mr. Fleming spoke on 4-H club work. The girls afterwards served a delicious lunch and they and their supervisors Mrs. Flo McQuid and Mrs. Gladys Wolters can be complimented for their excellent work and successful achievement.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Bissonette and young son are spending part of their holiday at Mrs. M. Watson's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Portsmith left for Ottawa after spending a month's holiday with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry Portsmith.

Dorothy McLean is staying with Mr. and Mrs. G. Jack and will attend Kinnaird school. Besides Don Kalynuk, two young sisters, Patsy and Jean Romanufa have come to live with Mr. and Mrs. Roger Watt. All three are going to Woodvale school where Mrs. M. Roberts and Mr. W. Anderson will teach 62 pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Wageningen spent the week end at Elk Island park with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Van Tyen of Red Deer.

COMPULSORY EGG LAYING

See where Albertans are going to vote on compulsory egg marketing. Why the farmers want to have still another middleman between them and us egg-eaters, I can't imagine, but while they're about it, why not do it up brown?

Why not pass a compulsory egg-laying law? The feather-bedding some hens have been doing lately ought to be checked. If I were leading the farmers, I'd suggest an Egg Laying Board, making it compulsory for every adult hen to lay two eggs a day on half the feed. This would be a real blessing, whereas the marketing board may turn out to be something far less agreeable than a blessing.

Another much more useful device for the farmer would be an Egg Eating Board, which would make it compulsory for us consumers to eat more eggs at higher prices. Not long ago I bought a dozen eggs from a farm woman at a roadside stand. She looked like a fine, honest woman. I asked her, "would the yolks be a nice light yellow?" She assured me they would be, so I paid her a rather high price. The yolks were a fiery red and I threw out all the eggs and I'll not patronize that farm again. Stubborn consumers like me could be brought into line by a good stiff penalty for refusing to eat them and like them.

Presumably the Egg Marketing Board, if it comes, will force us to pay more for eggs. If the price goes up, the Egg Marketing Board will quickly take the credit. If the prices go down, will the Egg Marketing Board take the responsibility? I doubt it.

I think the farmers are entitled to form Egg Marketing Boards if they want them but not compulsory Boards. There must be a few farmers who'd prefer to remain independent. They'd provide some competition, which could benefit us consumers. Are the farmers against competition? Certainly they set up a holler and I don't blame them when industry attempts a monopoly. Yet some of the farm leaders seem to be advocates of compulsory monopoly themselves!

At our home, we've had the same egg-man for a long time. He brings us good, fresh eggs, and we pay him a good price. There's no middle_man at all in this deal. I suppose an Egg Marketing Board will either turn him into an egg bootlegger or he'll be forced to conform. He's a pretty independent man, and I'm eager to know his decision. I'm pretty independent myself, and if the price of eggs gets too high I'll switch to flapjacks for breakfast!

RUST

How much metal rusts away each year through corrosion? In Canada, $300 million worth, says a group of U.K. scientists, reports Financial Post. You'll hear more about this subject, it declares. An international study of anti-corrosion methods is being held in the United Kingdom next month.

THOSE WERE THE DAYS

by

[illegible]

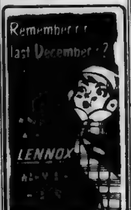
The tremendous changes that have taken place in Agriculture during the past 20 years, and particularly during the past decade, have brought with them a demand for more trained agriculturists than ever before. But although there is a growing need today, tomorrow's need will be even greater.

Quite apart from the long recognized fields of service such as teaching, research and extension work, in all of which there continues to be a steady call for trained personnel, new opportunities that have opened up in various agricultural industries and related enterprise which require an ever increasing share of today's graduates, and there are many other areas of service as well. Thus Agriculture offers a wide variety of careers to suit almost every taste.

Unfortunately, in recent years, there has been a steady decline in the enrollment at our agriculture faculties and colleges throughout Western Canada. This situation, unless corrected, will most certainly work to the detriment of the industry as a whole. Recognizing the need for more young men and women to enter the profession, the Agricultural Institute of Canada has taken the lead by publishing a very timely booklet entitled "Careers in Agriculture" a copy of which may be obtained by writing to the Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture at the provincial universities located at Edmonton, Saskatoon and Winnipeg respectively. Those who are interested in Agriculture as a career, therefore, but who would like to know more about its opportunities as well as about the courses offered and the various bursaries and scholarships which are available should write to their university for this information.

Lost Art?

The typical male Canadian is obviously forgetting how to use what was once the country's most universal tool -- the axe, declares The Financial Post, adding "Ten years ago reports the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, factory shipments of axes and hatchets in Canada totalled well over one and a quarter millions, or about one new one for every second family. Today our consumption is away less than half that figure."



Don't wait till next December reminds you how bone-chilling an improperly heated home can be. Make certain of winter comfort now with Lennox Warm Air Heating. It's the automatic comfort system that warms, freshens, cleans, humidifies and distributes air to every corner of every room.

New Covering for Kitchen Chairs

Kitchen chairs are given a new life when seat and back cushions are recovered with a colorful plastic-coated fabric called 'Fabrilite'. It is long wearing and wipes clean with a damp cloth. Remove the cushions from the chairs and use the old covers as patterns to cut the new ones. Fasten the fabric firmly with closely-spaced tacks. If chairs have wooden frames, freshen them up with a coat of enamel.

WILDMERE WINKS

Who says it can't rain in Alberta, in our corner anyway! Certainly makes it difficult trying to harvest, more so on the growers of rape. Green growth coming up makes the swathed rape and grain too very hard to dry. It is hoped it soon settles down to real harvest weather to enable everyone to gather in the season's work.

Mrs. C. Cruthers, Janet Cruthers and Ken Sheppard were Edmonton visitors Saturday.

Bill and Adam Smith were recent visitors to Edmonton to help their brother Dr. Alex Smith and family move to their new home in the Highlands. They now have a beautiful home and lovely grounds surrounding it.

A nice attendance at church on Sunday evening. Mr. Breighaupt gave a very interesting sermon. We were pleased to have Rev. and Mrs. MacKay present. Only one more Sunday left folks. Please remember church will be held next Sunday at 2:30 in the afternoon. Plan to attend. It's a long time until next spring when church starts again. Maybe Mr. Breighaupt will be back with us again at that time, at least we are hoping so.

After church Mrs. Holte invited a few to her home. We were sorry Rev. and Mrs. MacKay were unable to stay owing to lack of a baby sitter. Mr and Mrs. J. Wilson, the writer and husband enjoyed a very pleasant evening at the Holte home. Mr. Breighaupt played his tape recorder and we all heard Rev. Dawe sing. The writer had a recitation recorded and played back to hear. Mrs. Holte served a tasty lunch to bring the enjoyable evening to a close. Thanks again, Mr. and Mrs. Holte and Bettie.

On Sunday a birthday supper was held at the Gibson home in Basswood when Ernest Gibson and Adam Smith celebrated their birthdays together with a delicious supper. May you both enjoy many more such happy birthdays.

Another birthday party was held at the Chas. Sweeney home when their son Ernest had a few young boys in. Ernest's birth date is Sept. 4th but owing to it being a school day he celebrated on Sunday. Hope you had a nice time and may you have many more Ernest.

Another set of twin heifer calves arrived at the Wallington farm the other day. We now have two sets of twin heifers on the farm. Something that does not happen very often.

Noticed one of Wildmere's young ladies wearing a diamond and we hear wedding bells will be ringing in the not too distant future!

We chatted with Mrs. Funnell, Mrs. R. Repp, Mrs. Sturt, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Rudyk Sr. and Mrs. Rudyk Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cruthers, Mr. and Mrs. Fred West and Jean and had lunch with Mrs. R. Steele. Where were you these Saturdays, Mrs. Haverslew Sr.? Haven't chatted with you for some time.

Farewell Dinner Honors Mrs. Wyllie

MANNVILLE. — On Tuesday evening of last week twelve guests sat down to a turkey dinner with all the trimmings at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson with Mrs. Merle Johnson and Mrs. Ken Scoggins as co-hostesses.

The dinner party was held in honor of Mrs. Mae Wyllie, physio-therapist, of Vancouver, who used to reside at Mannville. She has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ken Scoggins for some time. A social evening followed the dinner.

Marwayne FWUA August Meeting

The August meeting of the F.W.U.A. was held one very rainy night recently at the home of Alice Milne with Lillian and Doris Tupper as co-hostesses. There were 11 members and one visitor present. Roll call was answered by "What the public health nurse meant to each of us".

It was decided to help the F.U.A. with their float for the parade on 'Bridge Opening Day' and our own banner to be carried by two horseback riders.

Betty Hale requested that we make known to the Handicraft committee at the next meeting what article we are making for the Convention Handicraft exhibit.

All members present were in favor of sponsoring a demonstration of the new electronic stove by the Canadian Utilities sometime in October and to serve lunch.

The Horticulture show was reported as a decided success and plans were discussed for more improvements next year.

Big Enough For Big Jobs

This summer Canada's labor force topped the six million mark which is almost 175,000 above the previous peak recorded a year ago by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Many people still working complain. The Financial Post, can recall when the total population of Canada was less than six million. We only passed that figure a few years before the official census of 1911.

It is this greatly expanded labor force that is permitting us to tackle national jobs which the previous generations only dreamed about — projects like the St. Lawrence Seaway, the Trans-Canada highway, the big pipe lines, development of new mining fields and so on.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Liberals Worry Over Popularity Of Oil Royalty Dividend Plan

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — "The final and irrevocable act of folly" is the way Opposition Leader J. H. Prowse described the oil and gas royalty dividend plan when the provincial government announced it in the Legislature last March.

Well, the dividend plan went into effect last week and Mr Prowse admitted he will be lining up with thousands of other Albertans sometime within the net four months to collect his $20 share of the province's oil and gas development.

"I still think it's wrong in principle and everything I said against it still goes," he said. "My attitude is the same as that of most citizens. If the money is going to be squandered anyway, I may as well get my share."

Mr Prowse said he'll probably wait until around Christmas. December 31st is the deadline. Actually he'll be carrying out a promise he made in the Legislature.

After a particularly strong speech by Mr. Prowse against the dividend scheme Social Creditor John Landeryou said it would be fine if the Liberal leader didn't collect his bonus, because it would mean that much more in the pot for next year's payoff.

"The honorable member is crazy if he thinks I'm going to leave my $20 so he can get his hands on it," Prowse replied.

[illegible] are most of the notable opponents of the plan will be picking up their dividends, so will Premier Manning and members of his cabinet.

Queues of citizens formed outside all banks and treasury branches here in Edmonton before opening time on the day payments started. Officials were unprepared for the rush and applicants stood in line for hours while harrassed clerks checked identification, distributed forms and issued cheques.

An estimated 5,000 cheques were issued on the first day and around the same number on the second. Most of the applicants looked like people who could use the money but there were also a number of prosperous-looking individuals taking their share of the loot.

It didn't take the sharpies long to spot a good thing. City police reported abuse of the payoff by assorted shady characters who were making the rounds of banks and collecting as many $20 bills as they could.

Detectives say they'll have to make a long and drawn out investigation and it may be some time before fraudulent claims can be detected by processing application forms through electronic sorting machines.

"It's going to cost the government about twice as much as anticipated," said a police spokesman. In addition to characters known to police, there are apparently some citizens who don't meet the residence requirements but are picking up cheques anyway.

Unless the defrauders take too much officials expected there will be money left in the fund for next year's distribution. Combined with an expected increase in royalties this year it could mean a boost to around $25 for next year's payment.

An increase in the payment might not hurt the government in the next election, which can be expected in 1959 or 1960. That's assuming of course, that once it gets a smell of money the public will turn wholeheartedly in favor of the idea.

Mr Prowse says he's sure the majority of Albertans agree with him that it's a waste of money ... however, he wouldn't say whether he'll advocate abolishing it when campaigning in the next election.

Provincial Treasurer Ted Hin[illegible] he doesn't think any political party will dare to promise to abolish the scheme once the public gets used to it and accepts a few payments.

The question is, should the money go to everyone or go to other essential services? It's bound to be an issue and only an election will provide the answer. The number of applications for payment is no indication of public attitude, because as Mr Hinman admits "even our severest critics will be collecting their dividends."

DEWBERRY NEWS

Mother Nature plays some queer pranks at times. The writer has white and yellow dahlias on the same bush. Mrs. A. Wood informs us that she too has two different colors on one bush.

Modern Furniture in New Covering

Dainty ruffles are just as practical as overalls when little girls' dresses are made of 'Terylene'. This one, in a buttercup yellow satin stripe, washes easily, dries quickly and needs little or no ironing. The full skirt and the little puffed sleeves seem to be getting an approving glance from friend doggie.

NEWS from DEWBERRY

Best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Conlon (nee Ardis Mathison) who were married recently in Edmonton.

Congratulations to [illegible] Mrs. Steve Trach on the birth of a son; to Mr. and Mrs. L. Romanchuk (nee Yvonne Maltais) of Edmonton on the birth of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs McDonald of Edmonton and formerly of Dewberry and Clandonald are spending some time visiting in these parts. At time of writing they are staying with Mr. and Mrs. John Maltais. Later they intend visiting at Lloydminster and also spending some time with their son Alan and family in Clandonald. They travelled down with Mr and Mrs. John Maltais who had been in Edmonton seeing their new granddaughter; also visiting with their son Eugene recently arrived in Edmonton from the R.C.N.

Miss Annette Garnier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Garnier and her cousin Miss Lorraine Garnier daughter of Mr and Mrs. Erven Garnier spent about two weeks in Edmonton during the school holidays with their grandparents Mr and Mrs. Wade. While in the city they spoke over the radio and even though they only said 'hello to all at Dewberry', they got quite a thrill out of it.

Mrs. Elliott Lively and family have moved to Edmonton where Mr. Lively is working. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Isert and family are living in the Porter house formerly occupied by Mrs. Lively.

Rain and more rain seems to be the order of the day. It is bad indeed for the farmers as swathed grain is now lying amongst second growth.

There are eight lady teachers in the school now. Miss M. Whiteside has grade one, Mrs. C. Haskell grade 2, Miss D Young grade 3, Mrs. McMullen 4 and part of 5, Mrs Durnin 5 and 6, Miss Beirman of Mannville grade 7, Miss P. Knoen of Marwayne part grade 7 and 8 and Mrs. Witzaney grade 9. Mrs. Durnin is acting principal. [illegible] are quite thrilled with the novelty of having running water in the school.

Mr. Powell, former grade 10 teacher here is now teaching at Viking.

We have been asked to mention that the hotel cafe is now open for business, run by Violet and Ed.

Richard Sweet who was working for Mr Bob Braithwaite, had the misfortune to hurt his foot in a tractor accident. He was taken to the Islay hospital for attention.

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY

A United Church Sunday school rally will be held in the Dewberry hall at 3 p.m. Sunday Sept. 15th. All members of the Sunday school and the congregation are urged to attend. A large turn-out will be appreciated. All are welcome.

Remember folks to keep Nov 6th open as that is the date of the L.A. chicken supper.

Rev. Father Scriven who has been curate for some years in St. Columbas church, Clandonald, and St. Anthony's, Dewberry, is leaving soon to take up duties in Drayton Valley.

"The Brownie Book of Picture-Taking"

As our regular readers know, we don't very often discuss books or booklets in this column. But we recently ran across a remarkably comprehensive little booklet that we thought you might want to look into. Entitled "The Brownie Book of Picture-Taking," its pages are packed with dozens of helpful tips and suggestions on how to get the best results from your box camera.

The "Brownie Book" is intended for all those who are just venturing into the great big wonderful world of picture taking. And that doesn't mean it's aimed only at the junior members of the family. For it should have particular appeal for the young marrieds who have just bought their first camera and are about to shoot pictures of their children.

Easy instructions, illustrated with photos and cartoons, make it a snap to get acquainted—or reacquainted — with your camera. And you'll enjoy learning all kinds of simple tricks for good close-ups, action shots, color pictures, indoor snapshots, outdoor shooting with flash, as well as ideas for your vacation picture taking and a reminder about photographic greetings.

Don't be misled by its compact size or its small price of thirty-five cents—"The Brownie Book of Picture-Taking" can serve as both an introduction and a refresher course for all box-camera owners. Why not pick up a copy at your dealer's next time you're there?

Increased Enrolment Forecast For School of Agriculture

Applications presently on hand for the forthcoming regular winter courses at the [illegible] School of Agriculture indicate that the number of new students will be considerably larger than last year, reports Principal N.N Bentley.

Current employment conditions are not so attractive as they have been in recent years and farm young people who are interested in securing a job in construction or industrial fields are finding that employers are giving preference to those with greater training and experience. Mr. Bentley believes that many farm boys and girls are recognizing the advantages of a further investment in education. For those who have completed or discontinued high school training, the courses at the School of Agriculture are particularly attractive.

In most cases older boys, and frequently the girls too, are needed at home during harvest season. Courses at the School of Agriculture are specially adapted to meet this situation and do not open until the end of October. Applications for enrolment are acceptable right up to registration day, Oct. 29th.

Any young people who will not be fully employed would be well advised to consider taking advantage of the opportunities offered to make profitable use of the winter months by enrolling in one of the courses at the School of Agriculture and Home [illegible].

Rotary Entertains Junior Ball Team

Nine members of the Rotary-sponsored Little League baseball team attended the regular club meeting last Friday. This team was runner-up for the Vermilion Little League championship last summer.

Gordon Park who was coach of the team introduced the boys: Ross Risdale, Ken Frissell, John MacLean, Louie Poole, Neil MacLean, Bill Surby, Garry Young, David Tidsbury and Ken Herbert. Terry Cooper and Wesley Hollenbeck, also members, were absent.

Special films entitled "Gymnasium Baseball", and "King of Swat" by Ted Williams were shown by Bill Novak.

Jim Robson created a lot of amusement when he announced a football team made up of Rotary members. This team ought to really go places especially if they ever got the ball.

It was announced by Chairman Cliff McCormick of the community calendar canvass that the dead line for listing is now passed. Anyone still desiring to list birthdays could see one of the committee by Saturday. The committee consists of Cliff McCormick, Walter Duncan, Jack Kneale and Jim Robson. It was reported at the meeting that one Rotarian has listed 246 birthdays. This is your last chance folks to support this great community project.

Mitch Taylor on behalf of the club presented a gift to Ernie Buckingham who, with Mrs. Buckingham is leaving for a tour of Britain. As Mr. Buckingham is landing in Scotland it was thought appropriate that he should arrive there wearing a Scottish plaid cap of the Cameron Clan.

Rennie Hayward of Kamloops, B.C., was the only visiting Rotarian.

Ernie Buckingham introduced Hugh McPhail of Olds who is relieving him at the D.A. office for the next two months.

Scout and Guide Association To Hold Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Vermilion Boy Scout and Girl Guide [illegible]tion will be [illegible] in the Scout hall on Monday, Sept. 23rd at 8:00 p.m. All the parents and any others interested in the welfare of the boys and girls of the community are urged to attend.

Last [illegible] the Scout-Guide movement involved nearly 300 boys and girls of the community in Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies. Plans are now being made for the coming season, but it is only possible to carry on the activities of the group if parents and others interested give freely of their assistance and co-operation. The leaders of all the groups attend at least one meeting every week, and are busy with their boys and girls usually at least one other night a week, so it is felt that parents of the boys and girls who reap the benefit of this training should be able to attend one meeting a year.

At the present time there is urgent need for leaders and assistants of the groups. Anyone interested in youth work is urged to attend this coming meeting, or to contact any member of the executive to offer their services.

Please make a note of this meeting date and plan to attend. Your attendance and assistance will be greatly appreciated by your children and by [illegible] and executive of the Association.

AL[illegible] NEWS

It was a beautiful sight. This and other memories connected with the Arabians will long be remembered at the Omness farm.

Mixed Chorus Organize For New Season; Concerts Planned

An organization meeting of the Vermilion Mixed chorus was held last Monday night at the high school with president Tom Watts in the chair.

Mr Jack Brown has once again offered his valuable assistance in conducting this chorus with Dr Stephens as pianist.

Plans are already being made for the carol concert which will be held in December and also the spring concert. A selection committee was appointed as follows: Dr Stephens, Jack Brown, Maxine Rowe and Mrs. Minchin. An entirely new selection of music is anticipated for this season ... maybe we will even be fortunate enough to be honored with a selection by Jack Brown ... calypso style.

More members are urgently needed. We solicit the support of anyone who is interested in this sort of entertainment. A change made was that all practices would start at 7.30 p.m. prompt, every Monday and end at 9 p.m. in the High school. So come on all you music lovers, let's have fun and sing at the High school next Monday night.

Tame Magpie Is Fearless

MANNVILLE — A lesson on bravery or call it sheer nerve if you will, may be learned from a magpie owned by Jackie Hughes on first street west. He is safe from neighboring cats and dogs because he scolds them unmercifully when they go near him, and they are dumfounded at his attack. In order that he would not fly away, his wings were clipped, so he has little chance of escape should a large animal pounce on him, however that day has yet to come. People have watched while cats have gone so far as to hold him down, only to release him, while he flew to the safety of a short perch and scold them fiercely. It was truly interesting to perceive the look of consternation on the cats face. Neighbors have named this bird "Maggie" to which it answers, as he visits around the block, where these [illegible] taken place. His familiar scolding precedes his visit, as he hops along the road scorning all traffic.

TERRIFIC TRAFFIC INCREASE ON HIGHWAY 16—

Possibly one of the most baffling positions a man can occupy in this age of increasing and fast moving traffic is that of Minister of Highways. The narrow portions of highway 16 will serve as an example. From Vegreville to the outskirts of Edmonton we have an old highway which presents a good surface but is too narrow for the volume of present day traffic. the same is true from Stony Creek just east of Mannville to Lloydminster through Vermilion. This is an excellent roadway but again is too narrow for the number of cars and huge freight trucks using it at today's speed of travel. Yet to meet the ever growing volume of traffic it will be necessary to discard or tear up these good portions of roadway.

Even though the tourist season is looked upon as over now, on Sunday evening a party of Vermilion motorists who spent the afternoon at Elk Island park met exactly 204 cars from the park gate to Vegreville, a distance of less than 40 miles. From Vegreville to Vermilion an additional [illegible] vehicles were met meaning that there were 302 cars on the roads though the height of the motoring time of year is well past. At times in the summer the narrow highway between Elk Island and Edmonton is a solid line of moving cars. Thus the widening of the narrow portions of 16 will have to be included in the highway program in the very near future even right now it ranks as the second most used trans-Alberta highway.

UNIVERSITY ATTENDANCE UP FOR NEW TERM

Over 88,000 students are expected to enroll in Canadian universities this fall — a whopping 10,000 increase on last year's 78,100 reports The Financial Post.

Here's what some of our universities expect (the 1956 enrollment in brackets): N.B. 1,450 (1,240), Laval 7,800 (6,579), Ottawa 2,080 (1,712); Queen's 2,650 (2,454); Toronto 12,300 (12,300), McMaster 1,280 (1,122), Western Ontario 3,380 (3,297), Manitoba 5,300 (4,422); Saskatchewan 3,400 (3,070). This totals 39,100, an 11.3% increase on the 36,105 enrolled last year.

Dear Mr. Editor:

I agree with your guest editorial by Mr. Ralph A. Wilson, Alternate Director of District No. 7 F.U.A. on farming as a way of life and V.S.A. as a means of preparation and training for a life on the farm, but may I give an opinion as a farm housewife and V.S.A. grad? The headline "Are Our Agricultural Schools Obsolete?" caught my eye. Yes, they are, as far as equipment and training facilities are concerned. These buildings were the finest for their purpose when they were built, and like many well established farms of the same age they can't be expected to conform to every change of style and to install each new model of modern equipment as it comes on the market, better though it may be. The job of modernizing a farm home or a farm college is a long, slow, costly one. Yet now it must be done, and soon, if the farm college system is to stay alive.

New and very modern high schools all over the country are providing the latest word in Home Ec. labs and shop and mechanic labs for the boys, that put equipment offered at V.S.A. to shame. These new facilities teach hundreds more students than V.S.A. could ever hope to do but once a student has had the high school course she will feel that an Agricultural college has nothing more to offer. The few hours a week spent on the school course cannot compare with what a student learns in a winter at V.S.A. The school may be old but the teachers are up-to-date with their material, and the students can take home a wonderful store of knowledge in their head even if their own homes are more efficient than the V.S.A. cooking lab or cattle barn.

Most girls nowadays finish high school, then work for a period of up to five years before settling down to another 30 or 40 years in the home kitchen. The all-round homemakers course offered to the girls at V.S.A. won't make them very rich while they are spending those few years in a job or profession (although a business course is now included in the girls course of studies) but once these young women take over their own home and family they will realize the value of what they have learned. The days of daughter following mother's housekeeping footsteps are over. Now mother [illegible] can learn a great deal from the Home Economists who make a living by keeping up on the latest developments in cooking appliances, fabrics and freezing.

The Agricultural schools are NOT obsolete! They still have a great deal of knowledge to offer the student who wants to be a good farmer or a good housekeeper in the next few years. And these schools will be modernized as fast as possible to encourage more students who wish to remain on the farm and in the home.

Let's not kill them yet!

Yours sincerely,
(Mrs.) Ruby H. Bauer

Vermilion Board of Trade Officials To Attend Conference in Victoria

Community leaders and businessmen who attend the 28th Annual Meeting of The Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Victoria, B.C., September 30th - October 1, 2 and 3 will get profitable background information on how all Canadians can increase still further their standard of living. That objective is threaded through a four-day interest packed program themed "Productivity Key to Prosperity."

Business and community leaders from all 10 provinces, and delegates from many of the Canadian Chamber's some 750 member Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce across the nation will be in attendance.

Resolutions on many topics of national interest, submitted by member Boards and Chambers will be considered and voted upon. Each Board and Chamber has a vote of equal weight, irrespective of size. The policies adopted by the Annual Meeting will be presented to the new government in Ottawa shortly after the Victoria meeting.

At the Annual Meeting, outstanding speakers from the world of commerce and industry, education, labour and government will take part in panel discussions on such subjects as productivity, responsibilities of freedom, taxation, inflation and government spending. In addition, concurrent panel sessions on "Education" and "Citizenship and Immigration" will discuss what is being done and what will be done at the local level, (a) to help raise standards of education and thus ensure greater productivity, (b) to encourage more immigration and to prepare new citizens for a useful role in our community life.

The Vermilion Board of Trade will be represented at the annual convention by the president, Mr. I. Miller, and the secretary, Mr. F. J. Richardson.

4-H Clubs Grain Plot Competitions

For the past nine years 4-H'ers have vied with one another to see who could grow the cleanest, most uniform and well isolated three acres of grain. Usually choosing land that has lain fallow, they prepare it and drill their registered seed making sure that the margins are straight. Around the perimeter of the plot they leave an isolation strip about the width of an implement to avoid cross-pollination. The members try to keep their plots free from weeds by rougeing or spraying or both and free from disease and insect injury. Neatness, apparent yield, earliness for district, vigor and uniformity are all taken into consideration says C. L. Usher, Supervisor of 4-H Clubs in Alberta who did the judging this year. Each plot bears a poster with name of the member, club and crop.

This year's provincial plot champions are:

Wheat — Ross J. Clovechok, [illegible].
Oats — Garry Evashevich, Hythe.
Barley — Victor Gross, Clive.

Runners up are: Wheat — Jeanette Lyczewski, Bow Island; Oats — Wm. Golby, Pembridge; Barley — Wayne La[illegible], Ther[illegible].

It is interesting to note that 14-year-old Ross J. Clovechok was at the bottom of his class for the first year. But that did not stop him from trying again next year to win top placing for his district and still higher to provincial championship the succeeding year.

The winner in each section will receive a silver tray from the Department of Agriculture and a very handsome wrist watch from one of the sponsoring organizations, The Alberta Wheat Pool, The United Grain Growers or the Line Elevators Farm Service.

COUSINS MEET FOR FIRST TIME

Mr. and Mrs. L. Witzaney got a pleasant surprise on Sunday Sept. 8th when Mrs. Witzaney's brother Dan Claypool and some friends from Edmonton arrived unexpectedly. With them was Mrs. Witzaney's cousin Bob Claypool from Anchorage, Alaska. That was the first time that the cousins had met as each time Bob visited at her folks home Mrs. Witzaney, then Miss Claypool, was absent from home. Bob owns and flies his own airplane. He freights goods all over Alaska, also teaches students to fly. His talk on Alaska was most interesting as he was able to impart interesting information about Alaska, about which Mrs. Witzaney is teaching grade nine.

No man has ever been able to prove the excellence of his talents by shooting his critics.

This FALL for your GRASSLANDS and STUBBLE
BUY AND APPLY NITROGEN
. . . the plant food your crop uses most for bigger, better yields in 1958!

Your crops use more Nitrogen than any other plant food — 40 bushels of wheat take 47 lbs. of Nitrogen from your soil, two tons of brome hay take 80 lbs. away. Without Nitrogen, your crops would starve!

Spread Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizers* on your stubble or pasture now! Next spring, even before you can get on your land, fertilized grasslands are growing . . . Nitrogen is decomposing crop residue on stubble land, providing more valuable plant food.

Here are three ways of applying Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizer: (1) with a Universal Fertilizer attachment, by [illegible] the bottom ends of the attachment [illegible] from the top of the grain [illegible] (2) with a worn-out grain drill with the furrow openers removed (3) with a regular broadcast spreader.

FOR GRASSLANDS
Nitrogen applied in the Fall means more money for you . . . you can put twice as many head on every acre, get them on the land from 3 to 4 weeks earlier and keep them there longer.

Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizers* produce more better tasting forage, richer in essential proteins and minerals - you'll see the difference in fatter steers and heifers, and more milk production.

FOR STUBBLE
Nitrogen on stubble speeds up decomposition of valuable crop residues. In Spring plant food from both the crop residue and the Nitrogen fertilizer is available to the new crop. The young plants benefit immediately from the readily available food in Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizers*

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Clarke Boake, the former Miss Elizabeth Anne Margaret Bentley, are here shown cutting the cake at the reception following their wedding on Saturday, August 24. Shown also is the groomsman, Mr. William Harley of Wainwright. Following a honeymoon to Banff and Great Falls the young couple are now at home in Edmonton where the groom is a medical student at the University of Alberta, and the bride a member of the teaching staff at the Park-Allan school.

Kitscoty United Church Scene Of Martin-Venance Nuptials

The altar of the United Church of Kitscoty was gaily decorated with gladioli and sweet peas on the afternoon of August 23rd for the beautiful double-ring wedding ceremony, when Alberta May only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Venance, Kitscoty, became the bride of Mr. Frank Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin of Vermilion, Alta.

Reverend James Shortt performed the ceremony.

The bride given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a floor length handkerchief gown of snowy-white strapless nylon net edged in Chantilly lace, over satin, and wore a fitted lace bolero with semi-Queen Anne collar and lily point sleeves. A coronet of sequins and seed pearls held her finger tip veil of French imported net edged with Chantilly lace. She carried a horse-shoe cascade bouquet of red roses and fern. Her only jewelry was a pair of black diamond pearl ear rings, a gift of the groom.

Her trio of attendants were Miss Edna Martin, sister of the groom, Miss Enid Lee and Miss Eileen Schaffler, both cousins of the bride. Miss Martin chose a yellow three quarter length gown of nylon net over satin with a matching stole and head piece. Miss Lee chose a mauve three quarter length gown of nylon net over satin and wore a matching bolero and head piece. Miss Schaffler also chose a three-quarter length dress of nile green over satin and matching bolero and head piece. They all carried cascades of white carnations and red roses.

For the wedding the bride's mother chose a pink nylon dress with blue and white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The groom's mother chose a navy dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The groom's attendants were Mr. Lorne Venance, brother of the bride, Mr. Keith Maxwell and Mr. George Martin, brother of the groom. Mrs. Elsie Batty played the wedding music. Mrs. Patsy Bootsman sang "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register. Following the ceremony an open reception was held in the Tracy Memorial hall, Kitscoty, where the bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a bouquet of white and yellow roses and miniature swans. The cake was decorated by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Orval Garton.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Lorence Venance to which the groom suitably responded. A telegram of congratulations and best wishes was received from Miss Joan Lee of Calgary. Miss Olive Unger of Edmonton was in charge of the guest book. In the evening a wedding dance was held in the town hall and was well attended.

For travelling the bride changed to a nile green box-style suit with orange and white accessories accented with a corsage of white and [illegible] roses. After a honeymoon to Banff and other points, Mr. and Mrs. Martin will reside in Kitscoty.

Champion's Shoe Store

"Why are more and more people buying their footwear at Champion's?"
"The fit's the thing"

"My foot is a medium width in front, but my heel is so NARROW. I shop at Champion's because they have a good range of shoes in narrow heel combination fittings, that suit me just fine!"

"I work outside even in winter, and I have a real wide foot. I shop at Champion's because they have the widest fitting work boot I can buy. And what's more I can get the same fit in four different dress shoes too!"

"My three children all wear shoes in different widths. Sometimes you wouldn't think they belonged to the same family. I shop at Champion's because they have a big assortment of children's shoes in four widths. It saves me a lot of running around looking for sizes."

"Honestly, my foot is just like a sliver. I take a 4AAAA. I shop at Champion's because they have a choice even for women with my shoe size. And just in case they don't have what I want, they're quick to get it, without my being under any obligation."

"We think a properly fitted shoe is not only more comfortable but lasts much longer. That way you are dollars ahead of the game. After all "The Fit's the Thing." Next time you need shoes, we suggest you too shop at . . . .

New Officers Conduct Opening Meeting Marwayne Home & School

MARWAYNE. The first meeting of the 1957-58 season of the Marwayne Home and School Association was held Tuesday Sept. 10th under the leadership of the new officers, Mrs. J. Culford, president, and Mr Jim Hale, secretary. The attendance was very good for such a busy season of the year, and quite a number of new members joined. Nine of the ten teachers were present. The teachers were introduced to the members, and the members to the teachers.

Miss Baldwin and Mrs. E. Gray were added to the entertainment committee, making it a committee of five. Mrs. H. Hutchinson was appointed press reporter.

It was decided to serve cake as well as sandwiches for lunch; all other lunch arrangements remained the same. Mrs. Rushus volunteered to buy the supplies, such as coffee, sugar, napkins.

The practise of giving a book to the school room having the largest number of parents present at the meetings will be continued, and Mr Gardiner's room got the book for this meeting. So come on, parents, and make some real competition in this book giving.

The playground is very short of equipment, so the objective set this year is a large piece of equipment for the smaller children. The Divisional Board will pay half the cost to a maximum of $150.00.

Allen Midgely gave a very full and interesting account of the Boy Scout Camp held at Lake Whitney this summer. The Association sponsors the Marwayne Troop of which Allen is a member.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday October 8th, when the Home and School $25 Award will be presented to the Grade 9 honor student, Gary Gardiner. The arrangements have been left to the entertainment committee. Not only parents are welcome, but anyone interested in children is welcome at the Home & School. Meetings are held the second Tuesday in the month.

WILDMERE WINKS

Harvesting has again been delayed by rain. It's wonderful how farmers keep up their spirits, remarking that it will turn out fine yet. It shows what good material farmers are made of to have that attitude in trying times like these.

Our community was deeply saddened when word came that Mrs Barlow (Amy as she was known to all) had passed away. She was always cheerful and happy even when she knew her days on earth were numbered. She was one who helped wherever help was needed. Truly a wonderful neighbor and friend. Heartfelt sympathy of our community and the writer goes out to the sorrowing husband and her family in their loss of such a loving wife and mother, also to her sisters and brother. She trod this earth but a short while, but her cheery and thoughtful deeds will live on as a monument to her having been with us. Rev. Minchin gave a comforting sermon to an overflow congregation on Saturday. She was laid to rest in Mount Auburn cemetery at Auburndale.

Another friend in the person of Bob Middlemiss passed away last week. He lived for some time in the Triangle and Tolland districts. He was laid to rest in the Soliders' plot in Vermilion cemetery.

Peggy Graham of Elk Point spent Saturday evening and Sunday at her home in Wildmere. She returned to Elk Point Sunday night. She reports a wonderful holiday spent at Calgary, Turner Valley and Didsbury.

Our last church service for the season was held Sunday afternoon with a nice attendance. Mr Breighaupt left this thought with us "God is always with us if we but seek Him". We are sorry he had to leave, but summer goes by so quickly. We only really begin to know our student when he has to leave. We sincerely believe the theme and thought he put into his sermons will remain with us a good while. After church a social hour was enjoyed. We were pleased to have Miss G Craig and Mrs H Bathe of Vermilion at church, also Mrs Haines and children of Basswood. Mr. Breighaupt left Sunday evening for Edmonton where he sold his car and continued to Toronto from there by [illegible].

Monday we had the pleasure of going with Mrs Holte to Vermilion, then we both went with Mrs. Schoonmaker and Mrs. H. Cooper from Clandonald, to a United Church committee meeting at Minburn. It was held in the church there with 19 ladies attending. Mrs. H. J. Graham of Lloydminster, president of the St. Paul presbytery, was very sorry no one got there from St. Paul, Irma or Buffalo Coulee. It was an enjoyable meeting and plans were made for a joint rally to be held at Irma Saturday Oct. 12th, registration from 11 to 12 o'clock, then lunch and the meeting which is to start at 1:00 p.m. sharp. She urged as many as possible to attend. Mrs Rose Friends and relatives please accept this as an invitation.

Mr. Stewart planned to spend a few days in Edmonton.

Mr and Mrs. Jim Smith visited Mr. and Mrs. Andy McGladrie at Alder Flats on Sunday. They found the former Kitscoty couple well settled in their home in the new town where Mr McGladrie is principal of the six roomed school and Mrs McGladrie is a member of the teaching staff. APPRECIATION

To the Greenlawn ladies and all who contributed to a purse at my shower I express my sincere thanks.

Kitty Gordon.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank Dr. Stephens, Dr Evans, Miss McPhee and all the nurses for the good care they gave me during my stay in the Vermilion hospital. I also thank those who sent cards and gifts, and the many who inquired about me. Thank you all.

Margaret Wilson.

CARD OF THANKS

I feel how futile anything I may say to fully express my appreciation of the kindness extended to me Saturday night by the splendid men and women of Vermilion and district when my aged husband had wandered away. At a time like this the simplest words are perhaps the best. So from a grateful thankful heart I say "Thank you one and all." "The brotherhood of man makes the whole world kin".

Mrs. M. Fraser.

Drive The Insects Out Of Hideaways

Just because insects are sometimes out of sight does not mean they're out of the house.

In the interest of its insecticide, Raid, the Johnson's Wax company has made a study of the habits of insects and has found that the little pests breed most happily in spots that are actually out of sight. For instance areas under heavy chests and cabinets make perfect hideouts for all sorts of bugs, especially when the furniture "sits" directly on the floor. Sheer weight is no insurance against insect invasion, so the furniture should be moved periodically and the areas checked carefully. Clean thoroughly, then wet the crevices with an ant and roach killer (like Raid) before putting the furniture back in position. The residual insecticide will keep the areas free of bugs for a long time.

Storage pieces and bookcases that are not attached to the wall are other hazards according to Johnson's. Space behind these units, even though merely a fraction of an inch, should be cleaned and sprayed frequently to eliminate such insects as roaches, carpet beetles, waterbugs, moths, silverfish, spiders and centipedes.

Value of Insulation Discovered

Up until a decade or so ago, it was a rare homebuilder or buyer who thought it mattered very much whether his home was insulated or not. At that time, insulation was considered almost a "luxury" and probably not worth the money it cost.

Within the past ten years, however, the situation is completely reversed so that now most homeowners feel they cannot afford to be without insulation. Far from being a luxury, insulation is now being definitely known to be an economy measure that will pay off in real dollars and cents savings in fuel bills. The research department of one large manufacturer made tests over a period of several years on two houses which were built identically but one was insulated and one was not. It was found that the amount of fuel necessary to heat the insulated home was almost one-third less than that needed for the uninsulated home. The insulated house was also found to be considerably cooler during the hot summer months.

Let us say that insulation costs $100 to install and effects a saving of $35 a year in fuel bills. In three years, you have completely recovered the cost of the original installation and the fuel savings after that are the same as an increase in your salary. In many cases, too, it is possible to install a smaller and less expensive furnace in the home.

Insulation means other benefits of importance to the homeowner. It can save money in redecorating costs because dust and dirt are less attracted to warm surfaces than to cold ones. Of course, re-sale value of the home is also increased if it is well-insulated.

An important feature to keep in mind when choosing an insulation is its fire-resistance. It is essential that it be fireproof and a non-conductor of electricity.

Most insulation manufacturers recommend a thickness of 4 inches of insulation in the attic and 3 inches in sidewalls. This depth is considered to be the desireable amount for fuel savings to pay off.

Another feature to watch when buying insulation is its settling qualities. Some insulations do sag or shrink and their value decreases as they do. Granular insulations such as vermiculite will not settle or sag and will remain at the installed level for the life time of your home.

If you are planning to do your own installation and thus save applicator costs, make sure that the insulation you choose is light and easy to handle and that it will not irritate the skin.

In the crop year just completed Canada had a quota of 99,700,000 bushels under the International Wheat Agreement, but sold only 38,000,000 bushels to IWA countries.

Pink in Poultry

Poultry meat that turns pink during roasting even when thoroughly cooked is still safe to eat and is not changed in flavor or quality says Mrs V. Macdonald, Supervisor Home Economics Extension Service.

Research at the U.S. Department of Agriculture has shown that certain substances in the atmosphere of a heated oven or outdoor fire may react chemically with substances in poultry meat to give it a pink tinge. These are the same substances that give a reddish color to smoked hams and other cured meats.

It is [illegible] the meat of younger birds that shows the most pink because their thinner skins allow [illegible] gases to get through to the flesh underneath. The amount of [illegible] in the skin also affects [illegible] cooking.

Chicken bones that darken and redden after freezing and thawing are another worry for homemakers. Again this is harmless and does not affect flavor. It is caused by the breakdown of [illegible] [illegible] frozen [illegible].

[illegible] freezing [illegible] fruits and vegetables write to the Home Economics Extension Service, Department of Agriculture, Legislative Building, Edmonton, or to your [illegible] Home Economist.

[illegible] average weekly wage [illegible] manufacturing has [illegible] nearly [illegible] of inflation [illegible] in terms of purchasing power has been less than [illegible] per cent.

is to be guest speaker. Mrs. Anderson of Minburn, Secretary of the Presbytery, was also at the meeting. Following the meeting the Minburn ladies served a beautiful lunch in the church basement. Many thanks Minburn for all the kindness and the welcome extended to us. Also thanks to Mrs. Schoonmaker for phoning Mrs. Holte and offering the use of her car.

Congrats to Mr. and Mrs. Smythe of Vermilion (nee Evelyn Nelson) on the birth of twin boys at the Vermilion hospital.

Mrs. J. Marfleet and children of Vermilion visited on Sunday at the Cliff Cruthers' home in Wildmere.

On Wednesday evening the Wildmere W.A. met at Preston Central school with a fair attendance. Owing to our secretary not being there no minutes were on hand. It was the annual meeting but it was decided the president and staff would remain in office until June, the end of the W.A. year. Rev. Powell of Home Missions had been in Wildmere and had stayed at the Holte home also calling at the Wallington home. President Mrs. Holte said the theme for 1957 and 1958 is studying mission. Mrs. Holte had the devotional. Next month Mrs. Haines has the devotional. Watch the Standard for members of the lunch committee in a later issue.

The writer and husband called for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. T. Wilson of town on Sunday evening when we took Ken Graham in for school.

The writer and husband celebrated our 44th wedding anniversary on Sept. 17th. We were married by the Rev. Allan in the manse in Vermilion (now the house right west of the present United church). It was a beautiful sunny day but how well we remember it rained for three days steady afterwards.

Anyone wishing raspberry canes can get them from Mrs. Fred Haines of Wildmere. We can vouch they grow good berries because we picked lovely ones at Mrs. Haines' this summer.

THE STAGETTES

Business sessions seem to be in the running just now, but bear with us please. You know that line "Act wisely and promote action", well I think our discussions have come to an end because 'much' action is forecast for next Tuesday, Sept. 24. Wear your jeans girls. I do hope no one gets buried under all the pens, ink, paper and card tables. It's going to be a tight squeeze for Adeline and Grace unless we can persuade them to come out of the closet. Do you suppose the lunch committee is keeping something from us? By the way — thanks for the candies, Lena. Stagettes seems to be getting the best of me — I think I've had the 'chair' too long. Oh my creaking bones!

Our membership is climbing by leaps and bounds, jumping from nine to twelve last Tuesday. We're sure glad to see so much enthusiasm and hope our club will continue to expand in this way—the more the merrier!

We appreciate very much the liberty given us in using the Bank of Commerce lounge as a club room and for the convenience of having our files at our fingertips, taking up space therein. Thank you Mr. McPherson.

'Till next week then, Stagettfully yours.

It's a safe bet that people who sleep like a baby don't have one.

"HELLO, HOMEMAKERS"

HELLO HOMEMAKERS

Do you find breakfast a dull uninteresting meal? Breakfast should be one of the most delightful meals of the day. Don't fall into a coffee and toast routine. Look for new and interesting ideas which only take a few minutes longer to prepare.

An Adequate Breakfast

An adequate breakfast should include at least the following: fruit juice, an egg or other protein, toast and milk for the children, and tea, coffee or milk for you. Vary your breakfast menus, sometimes using hot cereal or cold cereal as well as the other foods suggested above.

Why Eat a Good Breakfast?

Tests have been carried out on adults and school children which indicate that mental alertness is related to the breakfast intake. Breakfast should provide ⅓ of the daily food supply so should be given equal importance as the other meals.

Menu Suggestions

Here are two suggested menu outlines which are easy to prepare and give adequate intake.

—Sliced tomatoes, poached egg on toast, beverage.

—Cantaloupe, eggs sprinkled with grated cheese, toasted rolls, beverage.

Cereal Treats

Berries and sliced fruit mixed with ready to eat cereals and served with milk and sugar are a delicious treat. Use milk, however, rather than cream, as it contains more nutrients.

Review Your Breakfast Habits

Now that the children have returned to school and colder weather is in the offering, its a good time to review breakfast habits. If you find that you're guilty of "Breakfast skimping" make an effort to change your ways. It will help to keep you in better health and a brighter start to your day.

540 Pupils Begin Classes In Elk Point Schools

ELK POINT.— On September 3rd, 540 pupils registered for classes in Elk Point. This number is slightly less than the number attending last year due to the new school built at Lindbergh. The classrooms however are still crowded to capacity with two rooms per grade up to and including grade 9. The school is staffed with 24 teachers under Principal R. E. Beattie. A wide selection of subjects is offered and this year for the first time Home Economics under Mrs. Michaud's guidance and Industrial Arts taught by Mr. Stetako, are being offered students from grade 6 to 12. Pupils from Lindbergh and Heinsburg are bussed in to Elk Point once a week so that they too make take advantage of these two new courses being offered.

28 Traffic Deaths In Alberta Is August Toll

Traffic accidents statistics for August in Alberta as compiled from police reports by the Alberta Safety Council were 1949 accidents, 383 injuries and 28 deaths. This brings the total deaths for 8 months to 147 which is 6 more than for the same period last year. Accidents have increased 11.8%, and injuries 12.9%.

Four months this year have had less deaths than corresponding months last year, and four have had more. July and August both exceeded last year's toll.

Safety Council officials say that great caution is needed on the highways during the next months. The record of September, October and November has been getting worse in recent years.

Flock Inspections Now Under Way

This year Poultry Flock inspections will be carried out by 25 inspectors covering some 1,056 flocks composed of approximately 370,000 birds. The work which got under way September 9th and will continue until Dec. 31 will consist of Pullorum testing and inspection of hatching egg supply flocks.

Be prepared when the inspector calls urges R. H. McMillan, Poultry Commissioner. Have a catching crate ready, plus sufficient help. Two persons are usually adequate for catching and handing birds to the inspector. Youngsters may be recruited to assist. Applications and requirements of approval have already been forwarded to previous hatching egg shippers. Farmers wishing to have premises and flocks approved should write to R. H. McMillan, Poultry Commissioner, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton immediately. All applications should be forwarded at once so that the work may be completed as fast as possible.

Change In Hours At Library

Attention of all interested is directed to the change in hours during which the Vermilion Public library is open. The new times are: Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, open from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.; Saturday, open from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. 10-11

Mrs. John Rayson Laid To Rest

Paradise Valley and district were saddened on Wednesday, August 28th when Mrs. John Rayson passed away in Lloydminster hospital. Although she had been failing in health for some time, this sudden change and death came as a shock to her family and many friends. Mrs. Rayson loved her home deeply and gained much pleasure in beautifying it and its surroundings.

Mrs. Rayson was born Jessie Armstrong on July 12, 1888, at Plumland, Cumberland, England. She came to Canada in 1933 and was married to Mr. John Rayson in Lloydminster. She leaves to mourn their loss, her husband, 3 sisters and one brother in England; two step-children Mrs. H. Fehn of Des Moines, Iowa and Tucker at Paradise Valley; also six grandchildren.

The funeral service was held in the Paradise Valley United church on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 25th with the Rev. Potter, Anglican minister, officiating. Mr. W. Stretz presided at the organ. Interment was made in the Paradise Valley cemetery.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Wm. Davidson, H. Deauville, D. Purser, Laurence Teasdale, E. Sunderland and Chris Oester.

The large number of floral tributes and memorial donations testified to the esteem and respect in which the deceased was held.

Mannville Student Feted on Departure

MANNVILLE.—Guests of honor are not always girls in Mannville, as was the case on Saturday evening of last week, when George Whitson was honored by his friends prior to returning to school at Brantford. The mixed group of young people attended the eight o'clock show, and then journeyed to the R. Whitson home where dancing was the most popular pastime. Lunch served by the hostess, Myrna Whitson concluded a happy evening. On Sunday this popular young man attended another function in his honor at his parents' home, where a family get-together as well as friends of Georgie's was held. Football with male and female players was the main highlight of the day, and much hilarity ensued as a result of this game. It is rumored that a liniment salesman could find an easy market for his product since then. George left for Brantford, Ontario, on Monday of this week.

Cecil Day, centre, of Liverpool, Nova Scotia, new president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, confers at the Banff Springs Hotel with William Telfer of Toronto, at left, managing director of the CWNA and William Draayer of Wetaskiwin, the immediate past president. The trio isn't discussing annual meeting business; they are examining a copy of "Just My Views," a book written by Mrs. Day about last year's CWNA visit to Europe.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

Weather? A few sunny days. Last Sunday morning a rainbow near the horizon was noticed in the west. Sunday evening a few snowflakes. Sunday night or Monday morning a downpour again – equinox weather?

The Allandale W.A. met at the Jimmy Armstrong home Sept 12 with a good attendance. Mr Rector was present and had the devotional. After the meeting the President on behalf of the ladies presented Mr. Rector with a gift, a remembrance from Allandale. A lovely lunch closed a very enjoyable afternoon.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs Ken Bodington of Vancouver who were married on Sept 12. Ken was well known in the neighborhood years ago, his homestead is where the W. Cusack family now live, south east of Clandonald. The bride was Mrs Forest (nee Irene Armstrong)

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Omness were callers at the home of their niece Mr and Mrs. Walsh in the city last week. Their daughter Janice is attending University, going through for a teacher.

On Sept. 14th Mr Stan Calder from the city was a visitor in Clandonald and district. Stan is teaching at Strathcona High. He was our student minister in 1954.

A speedy recovery is wished Lee Nelson who was taken to the Vermilion hospital last Sunday with a troubled back condition.

Sunday last at 3 p.m. Rev MacKay gave a very enlightening service to a large congregation at Allandale United church. Holy Communion was administered and five babies were baptized: Woodrow Alexander, son of Mr and Mrs. W Wilson; Wilbur Ronald, son of Mr and Mrs. R. Strume; Brian William, son of Mr and Mrs. George Mead, Alvin Andrew, son of Mr. and Mrs. W Fry, Dawn Leslie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Armstrong. It was good to see the folks out from town.

HOLIDAY IN EUROPE

Orlene and Paul Whelan went on holidays the middle of August leaving the family at home under very good care. Here is a brief outline of their tour — From home (St. Avold Moselle, France) they motored through Metz, Luxembourg, Liege and Urecht to Amsterdam, Holland, about an eight hour drive. The roads were really lovely, one-way, two lane affairs with all overhead passes. The country is very flat, neat and clean. This town is full of canals and boat houses. Meals are good, inexpensive and most of the people in business speak English. From Amsterdam through Den Gravenhage Rotterdam, Antwerp, Gent, to Ypres, Belgium. This country is much the same as Holland but poorer looking and from the odor was the land of sheep. Accommodation there too was cheap, a good room and breakfast in a hotel for $2.30. French breakfast coffee and buns. In this town is a big British memorial. Inside are rows and rows of names of the brave boys who fell. Every night at 9:00 o'clock the bugler plays "The Last Post". There are a number of cemeteries around Ypres and they noticed quite a number of Canadian graves. They all had a Maple Leaf on the tombstone, some the name, and others just "Unknown Canadian of the Great War". There are two beautiful Canadian memorials, both well looked after, hedges, roses and all kinds of flowers planted around them. Though sad it is a wonderful sight to see. They went home through Lille, St. Quentin, Leon, Reims, Verdun, Metz and finally Moselle. One runs into difficulty with the money situation. In Holland they use guilders, one is 27c. In Belgium francs are used but not of the same value as in France. In Belgium there are 50 francs to $1; in France 420 francs to $10.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lee of town returned home on Sept. 14 from a two weeks' holiday to Hill City, Kansas where they were visiting Uncle Homer, Aunt Emma and relatives.

Closing Thought: "Many a word at random spoken, may soothe or wound a heart that's broken."

FRED JOHNSON

The many friends of the late Fred Johnson were shocked and saddened by his passing in the Daysland Providence hospital on Saturday Aug. 10 after a serious car accident on Tuesday, Aug. 6.

WHEAT NEWS NOT NEWS

At one time official crop estimates were guarded like budget secrets. Now they are hardly noticed. As one grain company letter phrased it, "the large carryovers have detracted from the usual interest in the precise production figures."

They have indeed, declares The Financial Post.

With a carryover sufficient to supply all normal domestic and export requirements for the next two years, it doesn't make much difference, from a market standpoint, whether this year's crop is up or down a few million or even a hundred million bushels. Crop or no crop we are still going to have a lot of wheat to sell, still going to have our storage facilities clogged . . . still going to have a kind of paralysis in a great Canadian industry.

WHAT APPENDICITIS IS

The appendix is a small, and apparently useless, worm-shaped organ from about three to five inches long. It is attached to the large intestine at its beginning, usually located low down on the right side of the abdominal cavity. Appendicitis is an inflammation of this small organ.

This inflammation probably starts in most cases as a result of the blocking of the appendix by foreign matter which may enter it from the large intestine. Blockage of the appendix interferes with its drainage, injures its walls and permits germs constantly present in the intestinal tract to set up an infection.

The children and young adults are usually susceptible to appendicitis, but it may occur at any age.

WHEN TO SUSPECT ACUTE APPENDICITIS

Pain in the abdomen, with nausea or vomiting, is the earliest sign of acute appendicitis. Frequently it starts with generalized pain or pain in the upper part of the abdomen which shortly becomes localized in the lower right side. The pain may be severe and crampslike or it may be a dull ache. Occasionally it may let up, but this does not mean that the attack has passed.

Soon after the pain sets in, nausea or vomiting is likely to begin. The temperature usually rises slightly above normal; and the abdomen, especially over the appendix, becomes increasingly sore.

WHAT TO DO AND WHAT TO AVOID

In case of any unusual or puzzling abdominal pain or 'stomach-ache', with nausea or vomiting, do not take chances; do not delay. Your life may depend on three simple things—

1. Avoid taking a laxative or enema, or other home remedy.

A person who has abdominal pains with nausea or vomiting also may be constipated or have diarrohea and feel that he should take a laxative or enema. It is dangerous to do this. The action of the laxative or enema increases the pressure in the appendix and may cause it to rupture or 'blow out' and spread the infection. This may be followed by the serious condition called peritonitis. The sulfa drugs are now often used successfully in the treatment of peritonitis, but peritonitis may cause death.

2. Call your physician without delay.

If he suspects that you have appendicitis, he is the one to decide what should be done. Appendicitis is sometimes difficult to diagnose and the physician may need to take several blood counts and make other tests to help him in making his diagnosis. Be sure to call him in the first few hours of an attack.

3. Rest while awaiting the doctor.

In the presence of abdominal pain and vomiting do not take any food or drinks except water. Do not apply an ice bag or a hot water bag to the site of the pain. The pain may be deadened by doing this, and the person may think that the attack has passed while he is still in great danger. Do not rub or massage the abdomen. Avoid exercise or unnecessary physical exertion. Lie down, or remain as quiet as possible until the doctor arrives.

WHAT TO REMEMBER

Although no way of preventing appendicitis has been discovered, it is known that serious consequences can nearly always be avoided by the proper early treatment. The patient's use of a laxative or other home remedy before his physician has examined him is responsible for many of the dangerous complications and deaths from appendicitis. Yet the operation to remove an appendix can be performed with great safety when it is done at once, before complications set in.

RECURRENT ATTACKS

Sometimes a person has a severe attack of acute appendicitis in which the inflammation subsides without an operation but never entirely clears up. Mild attacks may recur from time to time, and between attacks the patient may be troubled with spells of indigestion or [illegible] rather constant pain or discomfort soon after eating. If the physician decides that the symptoms are due to appendicitis, he may advise an operation even if the symptoms are mild because it is possible that the next attack may be severe and that the patient may be so situated that he cannot obtain prompt medical care.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Did you drive the last mile home from your vacation with a disheartening thought that it would be another year before the next one? Half of the pleasure you get from a good vacation is in reliving it after you're home. So, don't tuck all the souvenirs away in a deep dark closet. It's a sure way to get the post-vacation blues. You can beat the blues by organizing family projects to make your memories last.

Get the children busy pasting up post cards they collected to hang in their rooms. Encourage them to make a scrap book of matchbook covers, menus, brochures and pictures they accumulated. A map drawn in the front of the scrapbook with all the places visited clearly marked and colored, will add to its attractiveness. That extra shelf in the book case can be used to display the [illegible] pine cones and [illegible] love to bring back. Many schools have "Show and Tell" classes where each youngster relates what he did on vacation. The scrapbook will help your child to become the best travel lecturer in his class.

Telling fish stories will be easier for dad if the big one that didn't get away is mounted and hung on the wall as proof. The movie or slide projector should be kept in an accessible place, so it won't be a chore to show films taken on your vacation.

Your china closet will be the envy of the bridge club if you make part of it a show case for cups, pottery, silver and figurines you purchased. Make labels for your souvenirs by printing on place cards the name of the shop and the city where you purchased each item.

A vacation enjoyed is a vacation worth remembering.

TOLLS ON SEAWAY

Tolls on the St. Lawrence Seaway will probably be set at relatively low levels at the beginning and raised after trade patterns have become established, reports The Financial Post. The tolls will probably not be as low as the users would like to have them nor as high as the railroad and port interests would like them.

A man seldom loses his shirt if he keeps his sleeves rolled up.

PARADISE VALLEY NEWS

The Paradise Valley W.A. held their monthly meeting in the United church basement on Sept. 3 with 12 members present. The W.A. ladies wish to express their appreciation to the men for the work done at the church, also to Hugh McAmmond for the cash donation in lieu of labor. There is quite a bit of painting yet to be done after harvest. Have we any volunteers? The W.A. is truly grateful to all the ladies for cleaning the church and the rooms. They wish to thank all those who turned out that day. Mrs. Venner and Mrs. G Henry served a delicious lunch after the benediction was repeated. The next meeting will be held on Oct. 1st in the United church basement at 8 p.m. Each member is asked to bring a little lunch to our next meeting seeing it's a busy month.

The United Church Sunday school opened on Sunday Sept. 8 with Mrs. David Clarke superintendent of the senior room and Mrs. L. Knutson of the Junior room. Mrs. Parke Dobson is the secretary-treasurer. Farewell parties were held recently for Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Johnson and family and Mr. Wm. Herbert. The Johnson family have taken up residence in Blackfoot while Mr Johnson is employed by the Meyers Construction Co. Mr. Herbert has been made manager of the seed cleaning plant at Beiseker Alta.

Mrs Tucker Rayson, Athena, Ronnie and Mrs. Robert Bleakley returned on Sept 1st from a holiday spent in B.C. and the U.S. Miss Athena Rayson has been transferred from the Commerce in Lashburn to Edmonton.

On Thursday evening Mrs. Glen Henry entertained at her home a number of friends in honor of Mrs. Herb Foxwell.

Miss Lois Stoddart is spending part of her two weeks holiday with friends and relatives here. Lois works in a bank at Red Deer.

Mrs. R. Stewart and Mrs. W.A. Gunn entertained the birthday club at the former's home on Wednesday, Sept. 4th.

A hearty welcome is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Galagher and family from Okotoks, Alberta. Mr Galagher is the new manager of the A.P. elevator at this point.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Uniform Teacher Salary Scale Commission Off To Rousing Start

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — The royal commission investigation into a possible uniform provincial salary scale for school teachers is off to a good rousing start.

On the second day of the hearing in Edmonton last week the counsel for the Alberta Teachers' Association walked out on the investigation and announced that its "power", ATA would be taking no further part.

The reason, according to a letter handed to commission chairman G. M. Blackstock by ATA counsel Peter M. Owen, was grave [illegible] that the hearings will [illegible] be conducted with the impartiality demanded of a royal commission."

No one knows at this point what the upshot will be. It is clear however that the ATA is unalterably opposed to any uniform salary scale so whatever happens it's an out-and-out dispute between the teachers and the Alberta School Trustees Association which favors the idea.

Mr. Owen locked horns with Mr Blackstock on the opening day of the hearing when the ATA turned up without a prepared brief to submit to the commission.

The ATA argued it could see no reason to change the present method of determining salaries by bargaining individually with every school board but could not oppose another scheme until the trustees had outlined their proposals. In other words, they wanted to sit tight while the [illegible] their submission and then open up with a rebuttal.

Mr Blackstock, never one to mince words, found the ATA action neither fair nor proper. He said the ATA was "jockeying for position" and showed a "disgraceful attitude."

No more was heard until the opening of the second day's hearing when the chairman announced the teachers "feel they were badly treated yesterday and are withdrawing from the inquiry."

Mr Owen's letter to the commission said in part. "It is apparent to my principals that the commission has attributed to them ulterior motives in declining to present a written brief at this the first of several hearings. My opening repeated statement that a greater contribution could be made through oral testimony of qualified persons was rejected as being an attempt to jockey for position and as evidence of a disgraceful attitude."

It continued: "Counsel's right to conduct his case in such a manner as he deems proper having regard to the interests of his principals and also to the objects of the inquiry was challenged by the commission and branded as an attempt to run it. The integrity and motives of the teachers were unjustly impugned.

In the circumstances I am instructed to advise you that in my principals' considered opinion no useful purpose can be served in continuing their participation in these proceedings."

At this point it appears doubtful if the teachers will reverse their stand and take part in the hearings again, although ATA officials are keeping mum. Some executives of the Association say the next move is up to the commission.

Meanwhile all the submissions so far are in favor of a province-wide scale of salaries for teachers. Briefs supporting the idea were presented by the school trustees and the Farmers' Union of Alberta.

The trustees argue that a uniform schedule administered by an independent commission, would put an end to the long and drawn out negotiations carried out every year between the teachers and school boards.

In prolonged negotiations the relationship between teachers and school boards becomes strained, the trustees argue with the result that ill feeling develops and the children suffer.

Rudolph Hennig, trustee from Clover Bar presented the ASTA brief. He said the commission administering a salary scale should be absolutely independent from any branch of government.

Mrs. W. C. Taylor of Wainwright, executive member of the FUA, said teachers must keep their right to negotiate salaries, but that a uniform scale should be set up by an "independent non-political board."

Both groups feel such a scale would eliminate the present cut-throat competition for the services of qualified teachers with the [illegible] communities consistently outbidding the smaller and less wealthy. Trustees for several years have asked the province to look into the possibility of a uniform scale.

The royal commission is expected to report its findings to the government in time for the next session of the legislature.

Student Tells Rotarians of United Nations Seminar At Banff

-Photograph by Vermilion Photocraft.

Clifford Cunningham of the Buffalo Coulee district and a graduate of the Vermilion high school, is shown above giving a talk to the Rotary Club on Friday last. Clifford attended the short course on the United Nations, held at the Banff School of Fine Arts for high school students, representing the Vermilion Rotary Club and the Vermilion School Division. He was introduced by Simon Simonson, and following his talk was thanked by Ashley Cooper. Shown in the picture with Cliff on the right is Rotary Club President, Tom McPherson and on the left Ashley Cooper of the International service committee.

Clifford had high praise for the arrangements made for the seminar, stating that due to this the attendance of high school students had increased from 50 to 84 in the five years it had been held.

The seminar itself was divided into three courses: 1, International Law and Peace; 2, Comparative Cultures of Asia with reference to China and Japan, and where two great examples, one of Communism (China), and one of Democracy (India) were being carried on at the present time; 3, Agricultural Problems in south east Asia.

The general assembly proved a highlight in which each student represented a country of the United Nations, and where the debate was carried on formally. The subject for debate was "Should Communist China be admitted to the United Nations." The final vote was 77 against with 5 in favor.

Clifford paid tribute to the director of the seminar, Mr. Wootton, for the excellence of the short courses and for the extremely interesting time enjoyed while attending.

The address was a very interesting account of the session; it contained many thoughts engendered by the important discussions, and was given in an entertaining manner.

Visiting Rotarians on this occasion were Renn Hayward of Kamloops, Art Shortell, Ed Clark, and Mel Lavoid of Lloydminster, while other guests were Si Wyndham of Fort St. John, W. S. Cash, Vermilion, W. A. Gunn, Paradise Valley and Clark Allen, representing the Lord's Day Alliance.

Evangelistic Meetings At Alliance Chapel Commence Oct. 1st

Begining on Tuesday, October 1, the Alliance Chapel will conduct an Evangelistic Campaign with Rev. and Mrs. Paul W. Edwardson as guest speaker and musicians. Mr. and Mrs. Edwardson have recently returned from a world tour that took them to twenty-eight countries, and will be showing lovely movies and colored slides of these countries each night. They will also present many musical selections of unique arrangements of gospel songs on the beautiful King George Marimba, trumpet, saxaphone, orchestra bells, and piano. Mr. Edwardson, a well known preacher in Western Canada, will speak to the congregation each night.

The meetings will be held in Alliance Chapel each evening from October 1 to October 5 at 7:45 p.m. with the Sunday services being at 11:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

To Officiate At Bridge Opening

HON. GORDON TAYLOR
Minister of Highways, Province of Alberta

The new bridge across the Saskatchewan River at Lea Park will be officially opened on Wednesday, October 9th by the Hon. Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways for the province of Alberta. Plans are underway for a pageant and parade. Bands will be in attendance and the entertainment will include Indian dances, old time fiddlers, etc. The program will take place on the stampede grounds just south of the bridge.

The program committee are in need of more old time fiddlers and anyone interested in playing that day should contact Lloyd Berg, Marwayne. All villages, firms and organizations interested in having floats in the parade contact Oscar Peterson at Marwayne. More information will be forthcoming next week.

Community Art Classes

There will be a meeting held in the Junior High school on Wednesday, Oct. 2 at 8 p.m. to discuss the formation of an art class in Vermilion.

If formed the class would work under the direction of Mr Lindsay Evans of Lloydminster, district assistant to Professor Wolfarth of the Department of Extension, University of Alberta.

There are at present 42 community art classes in Alberta. No age limit — all are welcome. If interested and for further information please attend at the Junior High school Oct. 2.

Apprehends Girl Robbery Suspects

MANNVILLE — When Don Upton noticed two girls carrying suitcases along highway 16 on Wednesday afternoon last week he became suspicious as he had heard broadcasts of two girls, answering to their description, missing from Edmonton. Don returned to Mannville and notified the local constable, Mr. Allen, Mayor Bert Williams and the Rev. McPherson. They all went in search of the two. The girls were then found travelling north and were taken in Mr Upton's car and turned over to the R.C.M.P. in Vermilion. Next morning it became apparent that the girls were participants in a robbery as Cpl. Serby searched Mr Upton's car and found two watches and a wallet much to Don's amazement which the girls had slipped down the side of the car seat on the journey to Vermilion.

Plan Membership Drive For Overture Concert Association

It is hoped that Vermilion residents will take an active role in participating in the newly-formed Lloydminster Overture Concert Association. This was reported by Mrs. K. A. Minchin on her return from Lloydminster Monday evening with a party of four Vermilion citizens, including Mrs. Ross Boake, Miss Margaret Stephens, and Miss Margaret Goodwin, after attending the opening banquet of the Concert Association.

Guest speaker at the dinner meeting was George Zukerman of Vancouver, executive director of Overture Concerts, and first bassoonist of the Vancouver Symphony orchestra. He outlined the way in which the Overture Concert Associations are growing throughout Western Canada and expressed that hope that the Lloydminster Association with Vermilion's assistance will attain a membership of at least 450.

Under the team captaincy of Mrs. Minchin the Vermilion group will launch a membership campaign next week in Vermilion in the hope of obtaining as many members as possible for the three or four concerts that will be held during the season to come. The exact number of concerts and the selection of the guest artists will depend on the membership attained. Mrs Betty Shalka and Miss Donna McCauley are also members of the team conducting the campaign.

Outstanding Canadian and U.S. concert artists will be available to the Lloydminster Association and if sufficient members are obtained in Vermilion this year it may be possible for one or more concerts in future seasons to be held in Vermilion.

Membership fees will be $8 for adults and $4 for students, which amount covers concerts for the season. Admission will be by membership only, there will be no single admission.

Anyone interested please contact Mrs. Shalka at phone number 314, Mrs. Minchin at 66 or any other committee member.

The committee feels that this is a unique opportunity for all music lovers and hope that the Vermilion response will be really enthusiastic.

National Immunization Week

Although there is no epidemic at present, the Health League of Canada, sponsoring National Immunization Week warns that only through Immunization of all Canadians can the threat of epidemics be wiped out.

Smallpox, whooping-cough, tetanus, polio, and diphtheria are killer diseases, says the Health League of Canada, sponsor of National Immunization Week. Lasting protection can be achieved against these diseases, and every member of the family should be immunized at once, if not already protected.

The fact that many people are immunized, and there is no epidemic, does not mean that any of the killer diseases of smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, polio, or whooping-cough cannot strike into the heart of a family, warns the Health League of Canada, sponsor of National Immunization Week. Anyone who is not immunized is open to attack from any of these diseases. The only way to be sure of safety is to be immunised.

Everyone must be immunised to be certain of protection against polio, smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping-cough warns the Health League of Canada, sponsors of National Immunization Week. If any member of the family is as yet not immunized, the family doctor or nearest health authority should be contacted immediately.

The only way to make sure that no one in the family will be stricken by polio, small pox, diphtheria, whooping-cough or tetanus, is to make sure that every member is immunized, warns the Health League of Canada, sponsor of National Immunization Week. Contact your doctor or health authority at once is the advice of the League.

Vermilion, Alberta,
Sept. 23, 1957.

The Editor,
Vermilion Standard.

Dear Sir:

I believe the local Horticultural Society is presently sending out cheques to cover prizes won at the recent very excellent flower and vegetable show. I understand that the Society has considerable difficulty in financing and as a means of encouraging the work undertaken by the Society may I suggest that garden lovers endorse their prize cheques back to the Society, thus making the funds available for the promotion of horticulture in and about Vermilion.

The nominal individual sums concerned would hardly be of too great value to the recipients, but the cumulative amount in the hands of the Society would be an encouragement to those who have accepted the responsibility of carrying on this valuable work and would provide means for beautification projects which are so greatly needed.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I am

Yours truly,

"Tractors Are For Men" Subject Of Farm Safety Essay

Plans for next spring's Farm Safety Essay competition for rural schools were formulated recently at a meeting of the Alberta Safety Council Essay committee under Chairman Hon. R. D. Jorgenson, Alberta Minister of Public Welfare.

The new topic will be on the theme that "Tractors are for Men" and will stress the dangers of young boys operating tractors, along with specified precautions needed for safe tractor use by adults. Tractor safety was last used as the essay topic in 1953.

Conducted since 1951 by the Safety Council, with the cooperation of the Departments of Education and Agriculture, the safety essay has been very popular with pupils and teachers alike. Upwards of 30,000 children participate in the two divisions grades 5 and 6 and grades 7 and eight.

With prizes of plaques for school rooms and pins for the two individual winners in each school division, emphasis is placed on local recognition of the winning pupils.

PRIZES INCREASED

In the past the writers of the three best essays in the province have been rewarded by prizes of $50 for first and $25 each for second and third. These winners were chosen from the whole group, grades 5 to 8. Recognizing the need to encourage grades five and six, there will be awards of a first and second prize of $50 and $25 for [illegible] grades 5 and 6 separately from grades 7 and 8. All four winners, together with their teachers will be invited to a luncheon in Edmonton to receive their prizes from His Honour, the Lieutenant Governor.

A man can cash in good resolutions if he keeps them long enough to earn dividends.

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

Rain has been holding up the harvest but now the equinox is past maybe the weather will stay fine for a while.

HONOR NEWLYWEDS

A shower was held in the gym last week for Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Barlow with a good crowd in attendance. The program put on by the committee in charge was very much enjoyed by all. After a glimpse at latest fashions in McCall's magazine, maybe the "old bag" style depicted on the stage was really the new look.

After lunch was served a large pumpkin filled with gifts was carried in by Vernon Eyben and Bobby Haverslew and presented to Helen and George. Many lovely and useful gifts were received for which George fittingly thanked their many friends.

STUDENTS ELECT OFFICERS

The Students' Union of B.C. held their election of officers at their meeting last Friday with the following slate: President—Donald Stone; Vice-President — Katharine Barlow; Secretary—Ellen Boler; Treasurer — Shirley Cooper; Sports Con. — Margy Brook and Eddie Kochan; Point Secretary — Shirley Cooper.

Initiation will be held for the Grade 7's this Friday but the evening party will not be held until later.

JR. RED CROSS ORGANIZES

The Junior Red Cross have also elected their officers as follows: President — Roy McInnes; Vice-Pres — Clara Boler; Sec'y — Helen Pheasey; Treas.—Elsie Pawlow; Magazine Con.—Elaine Renspies.

SCHOOL PAPER REVIVED

After being discontinued for some time the school paper "The Horizon" is again making its appearance with the following staff: Editor — Elaine Everett; Asst. Editor — Grant Haverslew; Sports Ed. — Rex Cunningham; Jokes Ed. — Colin Kennedy. Reporters — Diane Renspies, Ronnie Kennedy, Keith Marfleet, Alayne Stone and Doreen Dicke. Subscription price for the "Horizon" is 25 cents and may be had by contacting any student in the Students' Union.

Grades 9 and 10 are being taken by bus to Mannville on Wednesday mornings for Home Ec. and Shop classes.

W.A. GROUPS MEET

The Central meeting of the Auburndale W.A. groups took place at the church last Wednesday with nearly 30 present. We were pleased to have Mrs. Holte, Mrs. Wallington and Mrs. Haines from the Wildmere W.A. in attendance. Everyone was very disappointed that Mrs. McKay, who was to have been our guest speaker, was ill and not able to come but we hope to have her at a later date. Lunch was served by the Autumn Leaf group. Place and date of next meeting will be announced later. It will likely be early in December.

HOME & SCHOOL PROGRAM

The Home and School executive met at the school on Monday afternoon to draw up a new slate of officers to present to the first meeting of the Association for their approval. October 16 is the tentative date set for this meeting providing harvest is nearing completion.

SPEAKS AT ROTARY

Clifford Cunningham who represented this area as Colombo at the United Nations seminar held at the Banff School of Fine Arts in August gave a report of the week's activities to the Rotary Club in Vermilion last Friday. He had previously given a talk to the Young People's group in Buffalo Coulee. Cliff seems to have derived a great deal from this Seminar and we feel sure he was a very worthy representative.

HOME & SCHOOL TO MEET OCTOBER 15th

The executive of the Home and School Association have decided that due to the lateness of the harvest and also to the bridge opening celebration, to postpone the next meeting from Oct. 8 to Oct. 15 and to postpone the grade nine award program until the November meeting.

Jasper Park Lodge Ends Good Season

JASPER PARK LODGE.—After recording one of its busiest summer tourist seasons, the world-renowned vacation paradise in the Canadian Rockies, Jasper Park Lodge, has closed until next June, with heavy advance bookings already in for 1958.

During the past season visitors from many parts of the world enjoyed brief or lengthy vacations in Jasper National Park, with the Lodge as their centre of activity while golfing, motoring, trailriding, hiking, climbing, fishing, or just loafing. The 27th annual Totem Pole Golf tournament was again booked to its limit, Sept. 1 to 7.

Mighty Big Turnip

The biggest turnip possibly ever seen hereabouts was displayed by Percy Willes last week. He dug one which weighed in at 18 pounds even, a real heavyweight. Lots of turnip but due to its size the texture was a bit coarse for eating.

Another oddity was discovered by Ed Baldwin who found that his potatoes were sprouting in the ground before even being dug up. Many had shoots on them, apparently wishing to get good start for the 1958 growing season.

Mannville High School Initiation "Out Of This World"

Men and women from outer space invaded Earth Thursday, as wierd creatures colored green came from Mars to pay a visit. This would be a stranger's impression. However, what really happened, as citizens were all aware, the High School was holding their initiation day. Teachers and pupils alike who were new to Mannville High or to grade ten dressed as follows: Girls short dresses above knees, rubber boots turned down, a space helmet, cleverly made from a plastic bag which looked like the real thing from a distance, and skin colored green; the boys underwear suits dyed green, bare legs and feet, space helmets and green skin also. Trial by jury was held and some of the penalties were as follows: To Mr Smith who got out the window of an upper floor classroom, (flying without a license) 'speak French [illegible] ring a bell repeatedly, and wear dunce hat for five minutes under the cenotaph. Mr Forsythe and Mr. Toronchuk had to give free wheelbarrow rides from driveway centre to school to all wishing same. Principal Doherty himself took advantage of this new means of transportation. Miss Wisnick for her penalty cleaned the cracks of the cement sidewalks with a toothpick near the school. Others were two boys take doll to hairdresser for wave, two students shone shoes on the bank steps, two jived in the London Cafe and Linda's Coffee Bar, two hitch-hiked from Croft and Laidler's Garage to school. Snakedancing their way through Mannville streets, the group of students had fun, but were orderly. Car doors were opened upon first encircling same, and then passed through by the space people, and stores that were open to the young people, were entered and danced through. The snakedancers looked a bit weary toward the end and at lunchtime we imagine, came reprieve. Good sportsmanship was evidenced by teachers and students in this unusual initiation ceremony.

1000 Missionaries Objective Of Christian and Missionary Alliance

That a total for 1960 of 1000 missionaries in active foreign service is the goal of the Christian and Missionary Alliance was reported in a conference held in Edmonton Sept 17 to 23 and attended by Rev. I. M. Schroeder, pastor of the Vermilion Alliance Chapel.

Mr. Schroeder was a guest delegate at the 31st annual prayer conference of the Western Canadian District of the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

The conference, which convened this year at the Beulah Alliance church in Edmonton, is the governing body of the ninety C & M A churches located in strategic cities and towns of the western provinces.

Reporting on the 1960 goal Rev. W. F. Smalley, Alliance Board of Managers' representative from New York, told the conference total of active missionaries was brought to 880 when 103 new workers were sent to the foreign fields in 1956. Twenty three others are slated to sail before the end of 1957, and the 1958 quota is 70.

Accompanying Pastor Schroeder to Edmonton was the church's second official delegate Mrs. M Fair.

Alliance missionaries are doing extensive literary work in the languages of 22 countries, Mr Smalley said, and are becoming increasingly active in medical work, operating the only leper hospital in Indo-China.

The outstanding feature of the week's program was evening addresses by the well known Welsh conference speaker, Rev W Myrddin Lewis of Birmingham, England.

Mr Schroeder with 167 other Western Canadian pastors and delegates, attended the conference workshop during which Rev. A. H. Orthner of Moose Jaw, organizer of Western Canada's largest vacation Bible school, spoke on Sunday school visitation. The enrollment of children in Mr. Orthner's record-making school this past summer was 980.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. William Clark of Vermilion announce the engagement of their daughter, Alice May, to Mr. John Howard Lumley, son of Mrs. Ada Lumley and the late Mr Lumley. The wedding will take place on Friday, October 4th, 1957 at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon at the First United Church, Vermilion.

GREETINGS FROM THE FAR NORTH

Mrs. Alice Cambridge and daughter Frances send greetings to their relations and friends at Vermilion and district. Mrs. Cambridge is employed as a welfare teacher at Fort McPherson, N.W.T. and Frances is taking grade 10. En route Mrs. Cambridge attended a two weeks summer session at Yellowknife. The trip from Edmonton to Yellowknife was by CPA and from Yellowknife to Fort McPherson in a Wardair Otter. Mrs. Cambridge and Frances are comfortably settled in a lovely apartment which overlooks the Peel River, and the Richardson range of mountains can be seen to the west on clear days.

Israel Miller and F. J. Richardson are leaving on Sunday for Victoria where they will attend the annual conference of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Edward Bryant, director of publicity and advertising for the province of Alberta, was a visitor in Vermilion Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. He was busy recording the voices and tales of old timers who have been in the country from the turn of the century. Among those interviewed in Vermilion were Lance Playne and Hughie Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Richardson of New Westminster were recent visitors at the home of the latter's sister Mrs. K. E. Rowe and Mr Rowe.

An item of interest to many Vermilion people appears in the October Chatelaine where Mrs. Donald A. Clarke (Patricia Clarke) and two sons are shown. Mrs. Clarke has an article on "Kindergarten" in this particular issue. Mrs. Clarke is the wife of Dr. Donald Clarke, who in turn is the son of Dr. and Mrs. [illegible] Clarke of Vermilion. The two cute boys shown in the picture are Donald and Hugh, grandsons of Dr and Mrs. Clarke.

Hardy Swan of Vancouver spent several days last week visiting his brother Vern and family north of Islay. Mr Swan was on a business trip to Winnipeg and stepped off at the farm to see Vern. The journey from Vancouver to Winnipeg was made by air.

"A" Coy. Notes

Three parades have now been held and winter activities are being planned. New recruits are as follows: John Barnes, Al Coulbourn, Tom King, Don Upton and Herb Loureux. Any one interested in joining call at the armories on Thursday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

The [illegible] Club will meet every Friday, at 8 p.m. in the armories. Table tennis and volley ball equipment also available. This is a mixed club so bring your girl friend or wife.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my thanks to the matron and staff of the Vermilion hospital and to Dr Evans and Dr Stephens for their [illegible] while I was a patient there. Also to friends and relatives for the visits, cigarettes, etc., and for acts of kindness shown to my wife, who handled all the farm operations while I was away.

Lorne Wilson.

CARD OF THANKS

C B Skrenkowich wishes to thank the nurses and staff of Elk Point hospital for the kind care he received while a patient there. Sincere thanks also to Dr Jim Miller, Dr F G Miller and Dr Ann Wiegerinck.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere gratitude and appreciation to those who sent floral tributes, memorial donations and sympathy cards, also to our many friends and neighbors who helped in their various thoughtful ways. BORN — To Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Boulton at the Lloydminster hospital on Sunday Sept. 22, a daughter, Elizabeth Anne.

Friends at Claysmore and Vermilion of Mrs. Katherine M. Shand will be interested to learn that she plans to leave on Oct 14th for Detroit and the State of Ohio to visit a brother and sister. She will be away until the end of November. Anyone planning to visit Mrs. Shand should keep her absence in mind.

Mrs. H. G. Bond of Winnipeg, Manitoba spent a few days this week visiting her sister Mrs. S. R. P. Cooper and Mr Cooper. She also renewed acquaintances with the latter's brother Mr. Percy F. Cooper whom she had not seen for upwards of 50 years. Mrs. Bond had been to the coast where she visited the other three sisters of the family, two in Vancouver and one at Langley.

Mr and Mrs. Allan Gannon and little son Monte, of Alder Flats, are spending this week in town visiting their respective parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gannon and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon H. Cooper.

Keith Chalmers of Edmonton spent a few days in town this week and attended the regular Board of Trade luncheon on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs Albert Miller and son Miles returned Friday last after spending two weeks holidaying at Jasper, Banff and in the States at Coeur D'Alene.

Mrs. Wilson Does Big Farming Job

Who says that the women of today have lost the old courageous pioneer spirit? While Mr. L. Wilson was confined to hospital for eight weeks with a serious hand infection that necessitated the amputation of one finger, his wife, Mrs. Nellie Wilson carried on the actual farm operations. She attended to the stock, put the hay up, and got out onto the field with the tractor and summerfallowed over 400 acres. She looked after the numerous other farm chores too such as chopping grain for stock, etc. She used saddle horse, truck or tractor whatever had to be used to do the job.

When Mr Wilson returned from hospital he found the work all done, cattle branded and vaccinated, haying done, fences all fixed and field work in good shape. Mrs. Wilson handled the maintenance of the machinery and equipment as well as the operation. This was by no means a small effort as the Wilsons are extensive farmers, owning and operating 1620 acres of land as well as having a fine herd of cattle.

United Church Couple Club Commence Fall Activities

Friday, Sept. 27th the Couple Club will meet at the church at 8:30 p.m. A lively and enjoyable evening has been planned by the committee in charge. An invitation is extended to all couples interested to join the fellowship of other couples. A special invitation is issued to new families in the district.

Somebody's Wallet

Facts are propaganda weapons. For instance you can say that Canadians are becoming poorer because at the year end there were only 118 (count them) $500 bills in circulation compared with 220 six years earlier.

Facts are propaganda weapons. Canadians are getting richer. For it is a fact that the number of $1000 bills is up from 11 to 13,800 in six years.

Ever see a $25 bill? There seems to be 1,240 of them in somebody's wallet. Source of information: [illegible]

The John Howard Society Looks Into The Future

Delegates from all over the province wil be gathering in Red Deer September 21st and 22nd to attend the First Annual Conference of The John Howard Society of Alberta.

The delegates from this District are G.N. Hosking and Mr. Fred Lang, of Vegreville.

Mr. George Hosking has been chairman for the past nine years and will take to the conference many suggestions based on his wide experience in this work.

The Society has been operating in the province ten years and has built up an enviable record for rehabilitating ex-prisoners. The Society's methods have been studied by similar groups thruout Canada and United States.

This year the Board of Directors has decided to take stock of the Society's work and to make plans for the future. At present this is the only prisoner's aid society in Canada which operates throughout the whole province. This wide coverage is made possible by the large membership. The great distances which the Society workers have to travel to assist these men are considered a challenge rather than a problem. Geographical distances and scattered population must be faced right at the start. The John Howard Society of Alberta offers services to men released from the federal penitentiary and three provincial jails. The federal penitentiary is in Prince Albert 400 miles from Head Office. This institution is visited every two months. The Society's workers remain in the institution one week and interview as many as 130 inmates and plans made with them for their release. The provincial jail at Fort Saskatchewan is visited weekly by the worker from the Edmonton office. The Lethbridge Provincial Jail is also visited weekly by the Lethbridge supervisor. The Bowden Institution for young offenders is visited twice a month and plans for release are discussed with inmates so that these young men can be placed in jobs and put back on the right road as quickly as possible. Distance again comes into the picture when the inmates are released and return to their homes. It is not unusual for a parolee to live 200 miles away from the nearest John Howard office and this man must be visited at least monthly, given guidance and counselling.

In the cities the John Howard Society operates from offices which are situated in Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge. For the rural parts of the province in smaller cities, towns and villages the Society makes use of its members for helping the men. For these people membership in the society is meaningful in as much they are called upon to assist and befriend the offender. This has often taken place in the Vegreville district. The Society is organized on a provincial wide basis with a Board of Directors to develop policy and program, to set standards and to give general oversight to the work. All parts of the province have representation on this Board. Mr. George Hosking, Chairman of the Vegreville District Committee is a member of the Board of Directors. In the three large cities situated in the southern, central and [illegible] parts of the province the Society has District Councils. These groups undertake to provide office facilities and employ professional social workers to carry out the program within the cities and to give guidance and councel to members in the rural areas and the rural District Committees.

In the smaller cities and the larger towns the District Committees operate on a voluntary basis with assistance from the district professional staff nearby. In the still smaller areas and in isolated farm areas the Society makes use of individual members who are called upon should a neighbor return from a prison and need assistance. These rural members do a very worthwhile job in rehabilitation and are often the only persons who are willing to help a man who has served time in prison and paid his debt to society. This wide spread activity undoubtedly raises many problems and the Society is giving constant study to their solution. The Society will need help from people in rural areas. Membership and willingness to help a neighbor who has strayed from the path but who has paid his debt and returned to his home.

Today's genius is the man who has caught up with his Xmas bills before vacation time arrives.

Holy Name Church, Vermilion, Is Scene Of Double-Ring Ceremony

GORDON—RYAN

Holy Name church, Vermilion, was the scene of a beautiful double-ring ceremony on Aug. 24 at 4 p.m. when Fr. Stewart united in marriage Catherine Agnes, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ryan of Greenlawn and Robert Wilfred, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gordon of Edmonton before an altar decked with gladiola and fern.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked beautiful in a strapless floor length gown of nylon net and tulle over taffeta, with mother of pearl sequins: her matching [illegible] featured a Queen Anne collar and lily point sleeves. Her finger tip veil was held in place by a heart shaped tiara of pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of [illegible]

Preceding the bride down the aisle were her sisters Eleanora and Charlotte who were waltz length gowns of pink and aqua with matching head bands. Each carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Gwendolyn Gray, niece of the bride, was flower girl and looked lovely in a floor length dress of pink lace over taffeta and carried [illegible]

The groom's attendant was Mr Gordon Prest. Mr. Jack Landreth and Mr. Herb Bohroski ushered the guests.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Lena Williams sang Ave Maria. She was accompanied by Mrs. Carey.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ryan chose a blue nylon lace over taffeta dress with white accessories. Her corage was of white and yellow carnations. The grooms mother wore a rose suit with pale blue and her corsage of pink and white carnations.

The groom's gift to the bride was an Alaskan black diamond ring, and the bride's gift to the groom was a gold wrist watch.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Legion Hall. The bride's table was set with a lovely crocheted cloth done by the groom's mother and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Omness, embedded in white tulle and tiny blue violets and vases of lovely summer flowers.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Father Stewart and fittingly responded to by the groom.

A telegram of congradulations was received from the groom's Aunt and Uncle, Tom and Hazel Gordon of Calgary. A card of well wishes was also received from the bride's Aunt Kitty in New York.

Out of town guests were: Mr and Mrs. Deb Scott, Mr and Mrs. Harris Boyle, Mr and Mrs Jack Landreth, Mr. and Mrs Roy McClelland, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Frick, Miss [illegible] Herback, Mr Gordon Johnson and Isobel, Mr and Mrs. Stephens of Edmonton, Mr [illegible] Mrs. Don Gibbons and Mr and Mrs. George Landreth, Neilburg Sask., Mr. and Mrs. Norman Scott of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Bartlett of Fort Sask., Mr and Mrs. Tom Foley, Vegreville, Vernie Franklin and Irene, Marwayne, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Foley (sister of the groom) of Glaslyn Sask.

Gourmets Are Gone Says CNR Caterer

WINNIPEG — Do people eat as well today as in the "Good Old Days" that we hear so much about? No, says Reginald Godfray, catering manager at the CNR's Fort Garry hotel, who has just retired after 36 years service.

Why? People don't take the same interest in food today, Mr Godfray explains. Variety is out plain food in.

"People are in too much of a rush to sit down and eat 5 or 8 courses now, so they forego all those extras that made up the old-time meals."

Mr. Godfray ought to know something about the eating habits of the public. During the time he has been at the Fort Garry he has arranged more than a [illegible]

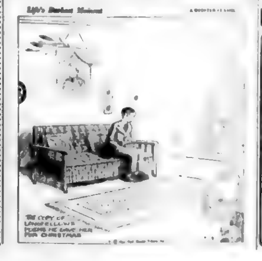
Life's Darkest Moment A WEBSTER CLASSIC



THE COPY OF LONGFELLOW'S POEMS HE GAVE HER FOR CHRISTMAS

Pleasant Valley

The trees are all decked out in lovely September colors, which means the frost has come and left everything in the gardens looking sad. Such a contrast!

Christie Clarke dug up twenty-five bags of potatoes and there are still a lot in the ground. They seem to be large and plentiful this year.

The combines are slow moving these days: let's hope this weather will soon clear away, then the Indian Summer for two months. My what a nice thought folks!

On Tuesday, Mrs. Moore and yours truly enjoyed a drive down south to visit at the Wallington home. We certainly enjoyed seeing the pretty country among the hills and lakes. Mrs. Moore felt quite at home as they lived down there years ago. She showed me the range where she used to ride, herding either buffalo or milk cows. "Will find out." Even now she rides for the cows at night — a real cowhand when it comes to riding a horse.

Hope you arrived home safely Mrs. Moore. Everyone should take a little trip to see the country close to home and see nature at its best. Just do a little poking around Alberta before the snow flies.

The writer enjoyed a visit from old friends on Wednesday when Mrs. G. Connon and Mrs. C. Hollington from Marwayne took a drive down into this part of the country. Mrs. Connon has a wonderful lot of crab apples in her garden.

We hear you are back in Alberta after your nice trip Sylvia and Laura.

Had a nice chat on Saturday with Mrs. Burton, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Morrison. It's been a long time since we met. I do hope you are feeling better Daisy, how about another trip?

Mrs. Shaw has been in the hospital for some time. We do hope you are recovering also, Albert Dupruit is still in the hospital at Islay. Hope to hear that you will soon be out.

Nora, did we hear that it was you who picked up that grass whip to the poor pilgrim? May be he is like the Peace pilgrim.

"I shall remain wandering, and [illegible]
Until I am given shelter and food.

I hope Mrs. Jones, that you won't be disappointed during the weekend. We certainly have got a much better road to travel on when going to town. It certainly was a bad road for cars. The steering wheel felt as if it was going to come off in ones hands. Thanks are due Mr. Wallington and [illegible]

Grain Mission To United Kingdom

OTTAWA. — The Hon. Gordon Churchill, Minister of Trade and Commerce, will head a grain mission to the United Kingdom and Continental Europe having left Ottawa by air on Sept. 16.

During his visit to Europe Mr. Churchill will meet members of the grain trade and milling interests, and discuss the possibilities of increasing sales in the countries concerned.

"This mission to Europe is another evidence of the Government's determination to increase exports of Canadian grain and flour", said Mr. Churchill. "Our aim is to regain our fair share of world trade in wheat and flour. Europe accounts for a very high percentage of that trade. I only regret that I cannot take the time to visit more of our customers in Europe. The members of the Canadian Wheat Board will, however, stay on in Europe for several weeks after my departure for home."

Mannville H. & S. Start New Season With Interesting Meeting

MANNVILLE. — Although a busy season, Thursday saw a goodly number gathered at the Home and School meeting with President John Misik in the chair, Edith Pedersen as secretary, Mrs. Holter as treasurer.

In opening, President Misik welcomed parents and teachers, and called upon Principal Doherty to introduce the teaching staff. Bruce Anderson, a grade 11 student, who attended United Nations Summer School at Banff, courtesy W.I., gave a very interesting report on the week spent there. His speech was well prepared and touched with humor, and Bruce calls the experience one of the most interesting in his life. Following this report a trio, Merle Smith, Kathy Machin and Lorraine Boe, was heard. Due to there being two new subjects taught at Mannville this term, Mr. Misik thought it wise to hear a brief explanation of same by the respective teachers, so Miss Winnick outlined briefly her duties, reporting 120 in classes grades 8 to 11 taking Home Economics; Mr. Toronchuk reported 100 students from Buffalo Coulee grades 9 and 10, Minburn 8 and 9, Innisfree 9 to 11 and Mannville 8 to 11 with two grade 12 students. Pleasure was expressed by both teachers at the well equipped 'shops' and Home Ec. room. Piano selections were pleasingly rendered by Elaine Rae and Edith Gadke. Mrs. Coxford spoke on behalf of the Mobile TB clinic and urged everyone to turn out for their protection. A total of 2400 are to be covered by a canvass of town and country in this area. Films of an educational nature clearly showing just cause for co-operation were presented on this subject. Notice of honor achieved by former grade 12 student Doreen Gerhart, was given by Principal Doherty. An average of 73 per cent was awarded Doreen, who thus became winner of the W.I. scholarship. Following discussion regarding a school band it was decided to place $300 in trust fund for a future band. Upon request from Banff School of Fine Arts for a representative at Home and School annual, Mrs. Syd Jackson was named as a delegate.

"HELLO, HOMEMAKERS"

It's 4-H Time Again

Organization of Clubs for a winter project should begin now. Have you eight girls in your district who will be 12 by Jan. 1 and not over 21 by then?

There's a club project for them and perhaps they'll be interested in the clothing project. Besides learning to sew, they learn groom clothing care, and how to dress becomingly. Who isn't interested in clothes? Besides projects, there are others available.

A Food Project

A food project is designed to teach the girls basic procedures in cooking. Then they go on to learn the frills in cooking. Also included in the project, are the basic rules of good nutrition.

It's interesting to learn to cook when all your friends are learning too. Then there's a Home-Decorating Project. The girls learn the principles of good design, how to apply these principles to practical use. In the first year they re-decorate their rooms; the second they go to work for Mom redecorating the kitchen (if it needs it).

Included with each project is the supplementary project on Etiquette. Besides the practical experience, the girls gain training in citizenship and leadership. Social activities help the girls to develop social graces and lose their shyness.

Wanted — Club Leaders!

It's rewarding to help young girls grow and develop. Why don't you try it?

Particulars available by writing to your District Home Economist at Wainwright, Alberta.

Tip For The Week

Still have lots of green tomatoes to use up? Try them with bacon. Cook 6 slices of bacon till crisp. Cut tomatoes into ¼ inch slices, discarding tops and bottoms. Brown the slices in bacon drippings, 6 to 8 minutes on each side or until tender. Arrange on a serving plate and crumble bacon over top of each slice. Serve immediately.

MANNVILLE. — With [illegible] casserole dishes to choose from, scalloped potatoes, riced potatoes, roast beef, ham and cabbage rolls, salad, pickles, as well as other entrees, pies, cakes, etc., people of the Anglican church enjoyed all they could eat for $1 per family. Attention, Truckers

Hon. L. C. Halmrast, Minister of Agriculture announces that livestock bill of lading forms will now be printed and supplied to Public Service and Commercial Truckers by the Department of Agriculture instead of by the Highway Traffic Board as formerly. Beautiful Gardens Viewed On Trip

(By GLADYS GOULD)

Sunday morning was rather damp and foggy. We did not formulate the trip with much provision. 'If it is a fine day we will go. We went' Mrs Cummings, a skilful driver, at the wheel, met the writer and off we went for a long thought of trip which took us first to Lloydminster. We first visited the Weavers beautiful home and surroundings, one quarter of a mile east of the lights.

The orchard is laden with fruit, apples, plums, sand cherries and also a lovely vegetable garden. Don't miss seeing it before the frost comes, it's really beautiful. One would never believe what can be grown in Alberta. Visitors are always welcome here'.

After dinner we thought we would travel beyond the hills for more scenic attractions.

We arrived at Lone Rock to see the dahlias, such lovely colors and sizes. These were seen at the Anderson home. He told us how to grow these to win the prizes, so watch out next year for some competition' We won't tell the secret will we Daisy" We also learned a whole lot about other flowers. He specializes in Delpheniums and is growing the new shade of black which are superior to any others. The seeds are very expensive.

Time goes very fast in a flower garden. We bade goodbye and journeyed off four miles east of Lone Rock to another place of interest but not a flower garden. It was to see a mineral collection at the home of Mr and Mrs Deip. There are over two hundred and fifty thousand on display. These were colected from such places as Alaska, New Mexico, Montana, California and Arizona. There are real Jade stones, and blue rocks from Mexico from which necklaces were made years ago for the Egyptian royalty. This couple have travelled one hundred and eighty thousand miles to collect these wonderful stones.

The court crystal is just like a small mountain with small long sharp points growing on it. This is solid crystal.

There is also a geode rock. This is hollow and when examined closely, it resembles the mouth of a fish when opened. Other things of interest were breathers from a cypress tree which looks like polished wood, a core of a rock from an oil well which is ten thousand, two hundred feet deep in Arizona, and a round brown stone studded with diamonds. We entered a dark room to examine some radio active rock, and some atomic ore which when looked at through a violet ray light gave off a most wonderful display of color.

It is really worth anyone's while to go and visit this interesting place, and a special invitation goes out to teachers and students.

We returned in time to enjoy a cup of tea with Mr. and Mrs. Jones before retiring.

Monday morning we left again to visit the home and garden of Mr and Mrs. Krause. This is certainly going to be a beautiful spot when finished. In the afternoon we called for Mrs. Dixon and took another trip to Marwayne to see more lovely gardens at the homes of Mr. Rose and Mrs. George Connons. First we visited Mr Rose's garden. It is a lovely spot. He grows the floribunda roses — cream colors with mauve edges. These are about five inches across. He grows almost every kind of flower imaginable. His lawn looks beautiful, circled with lovely spruce trees and the orchard in the background. The apple trees did not bear any fruit as the blossoms were frozen in June. One can learn so much when visiting a good gardener. We said goodbye again, then off to Mrs. Connons.

Why buy apples from B. C. when you can get lovely yellow and red crabs for five cents a pound" It's a picture and unbelievable, the things that can be grown right here in sunny Alberta. Don't miss this display of fruit, it's really grand' It was nice seeing you there Mrs. Hollington, we'll be looking for you both to come down.

We also called in at the home of Mrs. McLauchin, another place hidden away in the spruce with its beautiful lawn and flowers.

One really doesn't know what is beyond the hills and bluffs unless you get into that steam buggy and say "let's go."

Then again we landed into another grand garden. It was Mrs. G Gardiers home, and it was certainly worth getting onto the wrong road just to see this place, even if the road was rather rough in spots. We returned home "all shook up" but feeling happy with a memory that will live all winter in our minds and also wondering if another year will bring us this close to nature again.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Let us look ahead a few weeks. You've got an important date first thing in the morning. As you go to get your car you see the thermometer. It's the first cold day of the season.

Does the motor spin over and start fast? Or does it groan once and quit?

Are the radiator and cooling system ready for the cold? Or are they frozen as tight as the cubes in your ice box?

If you have beaten Jack Frost to the punch everything will be fine. Now's the time to be sure you will.

Here's what your Shell engineers told me to do:

Get the local dealer to check your battery. The cooler the engine, the harder to start. The battery is the first victim of the extra load.

Have the cooling system drained, cleaned and supplied with antifreeze.

Ask him to check the oil and filter. Most cars used for round-town driving in winter never warm up to the best operating temperature. This is hard on the oil, and it should be changed more often to protect the metal surfaces in the engine.

Be sure your tires are in good shape. Worn treads increase driving hazards on ice. In regions with heavy snowfalls, snow tires make driving easier—and prolong the life of your regular tires for clear-road driving. Act fast and first so Jack Frost won't catch you napping.

The ferry MV Bluenose, operated by the CNR between Yarmouth, N.S., and Bar Harbor, Me., reduces the highway distance between Nova Scotia and New England by 600 miles. The ferry trip takes six hours.

Of Canada's $23 billion worth of exports in the first half of 1957, nearly half the total was accounted for by seven commodities - newsprint, wheat, wood pulp, planks and boards, nickel, aluminum and copper.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Citizens Reminded To Use "X" In Alberta Liquor Plebiscite

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — Deputy returning officers for the Oct. 30 liquor plebiscite may talk themselves hoarse before the day is over, but as a result the percentage of spoiled ballots should be sharply reduced.

Government officials in charge of the vote prepared a small recitation which the D.R.O. must read in clear, bell-like tones to every voter who comes into the polling station. It goes like this:

"Place only one X on the straight line which appears on the ballot paper either to the right of the word 'yes' or to the right of the word 'no'."

In addition to this, sample ballots will be posted in every poll. To avoid any suggestion of partiality, one will be marked "yes" and the other "no".

Officials hope this will eliminate most of the mistakes which result in hundreds of ballots being discarded in every election or plebiscite. If the theory is borne out by results, the same system may be used in general elections.

Of course, deputy returning officers might find it's too much for them, but then the government could have recordings made and piped into voting booths. And a word of warning to the voters: Toward the end of the day D.R.O.'s might punch anyone in the nose who says "How is that again?"

For the record, something that hasn't been stressed too much so far is that the liquor plebiscite will be nothing but an expression of public opinion. The results will not be binding, even if an overwhelming majority favors broadening of the liquor laws to permit new types of establishments. On the other hand, a majority of dry votes won't compel the government to keep the laws as they are.

Incidentally, voting this fall will cost Albertans $450,000, or almost as much as a general election. Besides the liquor plebiscite, there's the vote on mixed drinking in Edmonton and Calgary beer parlors, a by-election in Calgary and a ballot by mail among poultrymen to determine their attitude toward a producer-controlled egg marketing board.

FAVORS REVAMPING OF REVENUE SET UP

Alberta's delegation is expected to have plenty to say at the dominion - provincial fiscal conference Prime Minister Diefenbaker has called for Nov 25 and 26 in Ottawa.

Premier Manning said last week he welcomes the invitation and the dates are "quite satisfactory". The premier expects to attend the conference along with Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinman and other government officials.

The premier couldn't give any details, but he said Alberta will have "a number of proposals" to make.

He's made it clear in the past that the Social Credit government is not happy with the existing tax-sharing plan between the dominion and the provinces. Tax rental agreements have been signed reluctantly, and only because there was really no other choice.

Mr Manning has said in the past he would favor a complete revamping of the federal-provincial revenue set-up. He feels the provinces should be given enough revenue to finance for themselves certain services, such as health and welfare, in which Ottawa now plays a part.

HUTTERITE COLONY CAUSES WORRY

Government officials are frankly worried about the current row in southeastern Alberta over a proposed new Hutterite colony.

Briefly, the government passed an order-in-council authorizing the Hutterites to purchase part of a ranch near Wardlow, 90 miles northeast of Medicine Hat. Government men had visited the area first and reported that the residents weren't opposed to the idea, and in addition the land was so poor no one else would attempt to farm it.

However, when the order was passed the roof fell in and complaints came from a hundred-mile radius. Residents threatened court action against the government. Further legal advice was sought and the cabinet found it couldn't over-ride a section of the Communal Properties Act which stipulates that colonies must be at least 40 miles apart. Last week the order permitting the sale was rescinded.

The real concern is that the matter will go to court. If that happens, the act which restricts Hutterite colonies may be declared ultra vires because it discriminates against a minority. At the time of writing an investigating committee has been dispatched to the area and the government was awaiting further word.

Bowtell Busy Bees

The September meeting of the Busy Bees was held at the home of Mrs J Morrison with eleven present. It was nice to have Mrs. McClellan in our midst again.

Two departing gifts were given out as Mrs. Dedelly and Mrs. Maggs are both leaving us the best of luck girls in your new locations.

Sewing at the hospital has been completed. Quite a number of baskets have been given out to sick members. A number of wedding gifts have also been presented.

Miss Craig gave us a wonderful talk on gifts and ideas for Xmas. She also brought along a grand display of articles and many of her ideas have been put to use since receiving the patterns.

A donation of $20 was given to the Bowtell Community hall. Mrs. Carroll won the lucky draw.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Morrison with Mrs. Repp in charge of the lunch.

EPILEPSY

Of all the ailments to which humanity is subject, few have been so widely misunderstood as epilepsy. Superstitions, half-truths and prejudices, accumulated through the centuries, work their damage to this day, despite the fact that medical science has changed the entire outlook for the epileptic from discouragement and resignation to well-founded optimism and hope.

Epilepsy is a fairly common disease—there are over 75,000 cases in Canada. Authorities now state that with proper treatment four in every five can lead relatively normal lives. The emphasis, they point out lies on the words "with proper treatment" because the real tragedy is that so many epileptics are not receiving the proper medical and social care.

Epilepsy is a Greek word for seizure and it is the seizure or fit which is the most characteristic thing about the disease. They have been classified into three main types but there is an infinite variety of ways in which they may occur in respect to their timing, severity and other effects on different individuals.

GRAND MAL

This is the French word for great illness and is the most common type of epilepsy. The patient loses consciousness completely, his arms and legs twitch convulsively and he falls to the ground. There may be some frothing at the mouth accompanied by groans and cries. The attack usually lasts about one minute after which he usually lies relaxed. This looks very unpleasant to a bystander seeing it for the first time, but the patient is not in any pain and it is not necessary to hold him during the jerking stage. Placing some object between his teeth prevents him from biting his tongue and lips and it is wise to move any furniture out of his way. The patient may sleep heavily for a few hours after the attack (and this is the time to move him if necessary) or he may get up and feel dull for a short time. No stimulants should be given.

PETIT MAL

This type is also common and some of the attacks may be so mild that they are overlooked. The patient loses consciousness for only a few seconds and eyelid or eyebrow may twitch rhythmically and he may drop what he has in his hands or stop in the middle of a sentence. He rarely falls. Petit mal attacks in children may disappear without treatment or may develop into grand mal, so prompt medical advice is necessary.

PSYCHOMOTOR SEIZURES

The mental stability of the patient is temporarily affected, he becomes unreasonable, has a tantrum or suddenly behaves oddly such as throwing things to the floor. The patient cannot remember what has happened although he may appear to quite aware of what is hapening during the seizure. They may last from a few minutes to several hours.

JACKSONIAN SEIZURES

Convulsive movements start in a leg or arm and then spread to the rest of the body. The patient usually stays conscious and is aware of the jerking or numbness spreading from his limbs.

All forms of epilepsy are caused by irritation of the brain tissues. This irritation may be caused by one of many factors, some still not fully understood: infections, tumors, brain injury and glandular distrubances in other parts of the body. In the majority of the cases the cause is not known. An emotional upset may be the trigger setting off a seizure. Some patients feel a seizure coming on and have time to prepare for it, withdrawing from whatever activity they are doing. Heredity is not now considered to be a very important factor in epilepsy.

Advice To Liberals Not Like '29

It will be terribly unwise if the Liberals salve their election wounds with the smug theory that "what we did was right but it wasn't appreciated", says The Financial Post. The Liberals should examine more closely the reasons for their decline and fall.

What the Liberals must do is show some courage, some sense of humor, and above all some imagination. They need new ideas and they certainly need new machinery.

CD Day Points To The Need For Public Co-Operation

Geo. Martin, Civil Defence director for Vermilion and Municipal District of Vermilion River, explained today the purpose of National Civil Defence Day and the need for public co-operation support.

"Every Canadian community—the biggest and the smallest—has a part to play in Canada's Civil Defence program. If it doesn't play that part, the community one day might suddenly die.

The prospect of the nuclear war must be faced. And because it must be, Friday, October 4, has been designated as Civil Defence Day nationwide to remind Canadians of this necessity.

The target city can save its inhabitants only by complete dispersal. But the evacuees must have a place to disperse to. That is where the rest of the country comes in—as reception centres, except in remote cases.

The first evacuees would arrive over a period of six hours. They would be billeted on the basis of one for each member of a household in the reception area.

The rest of the evacuees would arrive later, over a shorter period to be billeted at first on a five-to-one basis. Whether a community received the first evacuees would depend on its distance from a target area. The last evacuees would have to be put up by the communities nearest the target area. They wouldn't have time to go farther.

A reception area could expect about two hours warning that a flood of evacuees was coming. Obviously, it would be too late to prepare to accomodate them once the bombs were falling. To lay out the necessary plans in advance is the purpose of the Civil Defence.

It is the government's job—the federal, provincial and municipal government's—to get a Civil Defence plan started appropriate to the area its responsibility covers.

But from that point on, all government effort is a waste of public funds and effort without the essential support of its citizens."

Nurse and father both agree that some things are too important to leave to chance. So, like most Canadians, each uses a chartered bank for planned saving, making regular deposits to accomplish a definite purpose.

Your own savings plan may be a short-term, modest one — maybe a vacation trip, or new drapes for the living room. Or your goal may be long-range, like providing more security, greater comfort and independence for you and your family.

Ed Bryant, Director of Publicity for Province, Addresses Board of Trade

The Board of Trade luncheon meeting on Wednesday Sept. 25th was highlighted by a very interesting talk by Ed Bryant, Director of Publicity for the Province of Alberta. Mr. Bryant was introduced to the gathering by Ashley Cooper. Preceding the talk considerable business was enacted by the board including the following with the President I. Miller in the chair:

The Chairman welcomed Keith Chalmers who said he had arranged to get here on a Wednesday especially to attend the Board of Trade luncheon.

Mr. Don Keene introduced Mr. Jim Kaiser who took Mr. Chalmers' place here in the V.L.A.

In regard to the change in the ownership of the CPA Airlines [illegible] Edmonton to Regina, the [illegible] reported he had en[illegible]ed to interview Mr. Baden Anderson of the Airport Committee but he was in the hospital and would be contacted at a later date.

The President also instructed the secretary to write Mr. Russ Baker, President of Pacific Western Airlines, Vancouver, pointing out airport f[illegible] here and requesting the Company to consider making Vermilion a stopping point.

Mr. Ashley Cooper read a letter dated Sept. 23 from the Hon. Mr. Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways, regarding [illegible] 41. In his letter the Minister advised Mr. Cooper that crews were filling in some of the low spots on Highway 41 in order to permit better maintenance. He also stated the Government was considering the extension of 41 from Wainwright south but he could not give any assurance at this time it would be in the 1958 program. He also stated that he had very strong representations from Mr. Henry Ruste, M.L.A. Wainwright, for this work to be undertaken.

It was moved by Ross Beake, seconded by A.M. West that we spend $60 to have the Highland Pipe band represent Vermilion at the opening of the Lea Park bridge and that the Publicity committee make proper arrangements for suitable publicity at the opening ceremonies.

Mr. Clendenning asked what the Board proposed to do re the Yellowhead route. He mentioned that some centres to the south appeared to be endeavoring to have the road go south of here.

Mr. Urquhart, who is an executive member of the Yellowhead Route Association, reported that a meeting would be called in Edmonton shortly to consider ways and means of furthering the project and that there would be further word in this connection in two or three weeks.

He also stated that in the original constitution of the Association the road was definitely routed to go from Edmonton through Vegreville, Vermilion and Lloydminster, and that to change this there would have to be a [illegible] in the [illegible] as originally constituted.

The Board then listened to a short but very interesting address from Mr. Bryant, Director of Publicity for the Province of Alberta. Mr. Bryant gave a graphic description of the display his Department had put on this year at the Chicago, Illinois Land Fair with the object of inducing visitors to come to Alberta. He stated that $6000 was expended in putting on this display and that it was estimated that at least 500,000 had seen it.

Mr. Bryant mentioned that in connection with the display he and his colleagues had with them an Indian Princess (Princess Crowfoot from Gleichen), who was a great attraction. He said that she was an educated, beautiful and accomplished girl and had made "a great hit" with the American visitors to the Alberta display.

Mr. Bryant said that since this display had been put on he has had a great number of visitors from Illinois call at his office in Edmonton who mentioned they had met him at the Chicago Fair and had come in to his office to tell him what a wonderful holiday they had had in Alberta.

Mr Bryant was in Vermilion he stated as part of a province-wide tour to record for history the voices on tape of [illegible] in Vermilion who were living here at the turn of the century. Each of these old [illegible] gave their impressions of what it was like living in Alberta at that time.

The Chairman thanked Mr. Bryant and stated the Board members appreciated his address very much.

'Talking' Sewer Pipes? We Have 'em

Yes, now it is talking sewer pipes! Mrs. Nafziger of 4661-49 Ave., reports that distinct voices were heard Wednesday evening emanating from the main sewer stack of her residence.

The sounds were first noticed while the good l[illegible]dy was ironing and as no radios were on investigations led to the pipe. To make sure she was hearing right [illegible] Nafziger called her son and a roomer to listen and both corroborated her findings.

It is possible that the freak atmospheric conditions existing during the thunderstorm Wednesday may have had something to do with this receptive pipe. Further checks are being made and if reception is good this evening a STANDARD reporter is going to sit in.

The horseshoe tournament played at the Vermilion lake park grounds on Sunday last came off under ideal weather conditions. Vermilion players did not win any of the coveted prizes.

Enthusiasm Marks Meeting Of Mixed Chorus; 25 Attend

An enthusiastic [illegible] at the weekly practice of the Vermilion Mixed Chorus last Monday evening at the high school, stamped out any fear that this well-worth organization would not be able to function this year, overcoming pessimism aroused by meagre attendance at the organization meeting and at a subsequent practice. Twenty five attended on Monday last, with the promise of others immediately planning to attend, a start was made on numbers for a warm-up. Committee in charge of music and program promised to get under way with the selection of many new numbers for Christmas and spring concerts.

A change is also contemplated in the set-up of Sunday evening concerts, and a move strongly urged to a week night, so that all attending would be granted the same cost of a musical treat and not be giving generously with others only giving a small token. There is still room for any who love to sing and wish to improve their musical knowledge of good songs, so come along for the next practice on Monday night, Oct. 7th at 7:30: stopping time 9 00 p.m. This lets you still take in other activities.

Vermilion Entry Needed To Assure Operation This Winter of Eastern Alberta Hockey League

Addressing the Board of Trade on Wednesday, Russell E. Carroll secretary of the Eastern Alberta Hockey league stated that an entry from Vermilion was definitely needed to assure the operation of the league this winter. The annual meeting had been held at Viking just a few days before.

As it stands now, Lloydminster, St. Paul and Wainwright are definitely interested in operating teams in the league. V[illegible]ville and Viking have withdrawn. Thus Vermilion is needed to make the fourth team.

Mr Carroll further stated that a number of the younger hockey players were of the opinion that Vermilion could ice a team of local players, possibly not a cup-winning aggregation, but one which could give a good account of itself.

It was felt that the Tiger Hockey Club executive should call a meeting immediately and have representatives at the next league meeting which is to be held in Vermilion.

Rev. Father Scriven Is Farewelled At Clandonald

DEWBERRY. A number of Dewberry people attended the social evening on Sept 15th in St. Colomba hall, Clandonald. The occasion was a presentation to the Rev. Fr. Scriven prior to his leaving to take up duties of pastor at Drayton Valley.

The social took the form of a whist drive. This was followed by the Clandonald boys' choir (which Fr Scriven had organized and trained for the last few months) singing several selections which were very much enjoyed. [illegible] Lenore and Leona Michel entertained with a few songs. Community singing completed the bill. Rev Fr. Stewart made a presentation to Fr Scriven of a purse of money from the parishioners of Clandonald, Dewberry, St. Andrews and Marwayne. Fr Stewart said it was the dream of every curate to be made a parish priest of his own parish. This had now come to Fr. Scriven six years after his ordination. Fr. Scriven had been curate for the late Fr McPhee. During Fr McPhee's illness and until Fr. Stewart came to Clandonald to be pastor, Fr Scriven ably took over the position. Then he was four years a curate with Fr. Stewart.

Fr Scriven thanked everyone for the purse, also for their kindness and loyalty during his stay amongst them. He is wished the best in his new parish at Drayton Valley.

After the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and "Auld Lang Syne" a very bountiful lunch was served by the [illegible] of Clandonald parish.

Mr Pat Conroy made a very capable chairman for the evening.

Harvest in Full Swing In Mannville District

MANNVILLE. — Harvesting operations are proceeding at a good pace while the weather is most favorable at time of writing. Yields in some places are reported to be surprisingly good, and vice versa in others. The countryside itself has never appeared so beautiful, the Master Painter having made full use of the green, gold and red colors so attractive in nature's setting this time of year. Truly 'golden days' are with us as the song recalls.

Third Year Student

Last week the Standard erred in stating that Duncan Locke was a second year student in Commerce at the University, as he has already completed his second year and is now well away on his third.

Potato Weighs In At 4 pounds, 10 ozs.

A potato, the largest ever viewed by goggle-eyed Standard employees, weighing 4 pounds 10 ounces, was left at the office this week by Tim Nelson. It was grown on the farm of Willes Brothers at Claysmore. The [illegible] 2½ inches the long way and 15½ inches around the other. It was of the Kennebec variety and was of uniform smooth texture. As expected the big fellow gurgled a bit when shaken.

TO RURAL YOUTH

The months of October to April usually present a slackening-off work period on the farm. How are you going to spend the valuable hours this winter? A profitable and enjoyable way would be to attend the School of Agriculture at Vermilion. The school opens and closes at such a convenient time (end of October to beginning of April) that students are able to help their families on the farm when their services [illegible].

Girls can finish the Home Economics course in one year. Entering at 16 or later they have a storehouse of practical up-to-date knowledge of home management a year later. Most men appreciate marrying a girl who knows how to cook properly, sew, and efficiently run a home [illegible] possessing admirable social traits. Though the course for girls is primarily one to give training in homemaking it includes typewriting and record keeping as well as to prepare them for the business world.

For boys the minimum age limit is 17 at December 31st for the two-year course. Students with Grade XI and 'B' standing may take the accelerated 2 in 1 course which is of one winter's duration. Upon graduating in Agriculture the newly acquired credits may be used for further education at university. Whether a graduate from the Agricultural schools or from university numerous satisfying and well paid positions directly or indirectly connected with agriculture await the person who is qualified.

The time to think of the future is now. Send for informative material about the School and the courses it offers to The Principal, School of Agriculture at Vermilion.

"WE JUST LEFT THEM ALONE FOR A MINUTE"

Do you know that under the Criminal Code of Canada you may go to jail for two years for leaving a child exposed to fire?

There can be no sadder news than the death by fire of children in the home especially when the headline reads: "We just left them alone for a minute . . ." And such a tragedy is one that must shadow a family for a lifetime.

No matter the age, no child should ever be left alone. This is a vital message from the Association of Canadian Fire Marshals and the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs, and while it is stressed during Fire Prevention Week, it holds, like every other rule for good housekeeping, for every week and every day of the year. Parents who have to go out have a duty to their children, to the community and to themselves to see that the youngsters are properly looked after.

The heartening acceptance of this obligation in homes across Canada is reflected by the fact that baby sitting has become more than a casual occupation for many people. It has even developed into a regular profession.

Here, for parent and for the sitter, are standard rules for the work.

1. The sitter selected should have a sense of responsibility and should like children and preferably live in the neighborhood.

2. Instructions should be given in writing as well as orally -

Where you are going and telephone number, or the name and number of someone to call in an emergency.
Your telephone number and location of telephone.
Emergency telephone numbers for Fire, Police, Doctor.
How to call the fire department.
Location of exits.
How to control the furnace or stove.
Leave a flashlight in case of power failure.

3. Guide to the sitter in emergency -

Get the children safely out. Even if it's cold, don't wait to dress them. Wrap them in a blanket.
Even the smell of smoke or gas is enough warning to call the fire department, or summon help. Be sure to say exactly where you are. If you can, turn on the front lights to attract attention. Don't ever re-enter the house. Smoke or gas from a very small fire may be fatal.
If you are trapped inside, remember that the air near the floor is usually better in a smoke-filled room.
Inside don't turn on or off any electric switches. This may create a spark, ignite gas vapors and cause explosion.

Your local fire chief may have a printed guide on the subject of child protection. If you do a fair amount of baby sitting, get a copy. He'll be delighted to hear that you mean business and, like him, are deeply concerned with the welfare of your charges.

Don't knock your church - it may have improved since the last time you were there.

RECREATION

By S. MOORE

This is the first of a series of four articles dealing with the subject of "Recreation" in which an attempt will be made to give an understanding of what is meant by "recreation", how it is organized and who it affects.

We hear people around us, and on radio and TV, speaking of recreation and recreation programs. We all have our own conception of what they are talking about. Often we realize that these people are speaking of a form of recreation. If we look up the definition of recreation in Thorndike and Barnhart we find "play, amusement, gardening, walking, reading are forms of quiet recreation". How many of us considered 'gardening' for instance, as recreation? Some of us would say "to heck with recreation if gardening is recreation". But just a minute, let's consider another definition by Meyer and Brightbill in their book "Recreation Administration". They say this: "Recreation is an activity engaged in during leisure, motivated by the satisfaction derived from it". Now then, 'gardening' could become very much recreational, and in many cases it does. One thing that must be kept in mind is that the 'activity' must be socially acceptable. Recreation may be defined then as: Voluntary participation in enjoyable constructive, socially approved activity during leisure time.

From this we can appreciate the vastness of the field of recreation, and that it exists not only where there are "screaming crowds", laughter, dim lights or other forms of social activity. Probably the reason we interpret recreation in this way is because this is the form of recreation that is most easily recognized. At this point we could fill pages with forms of recreational activities.

Where does 'play', used by Thorndike and Barnhart, fit into this explanation? Is there a difference between play and recreation? Firstly, play is spontaneous and relatively unorganized, whereas recreation is very much organized.

In play, children come to reproduce their concepts of the world about them, and their experiences in that world. As they acquire more and more of the language and knowledge of their society their play becomes more organized, then they add rules and regulations. Their play at this point has [illegible] the borders of recreation.

HOW IMPORTANT IS RECREATION TO SOCIETY?

Society demands that every person learns, adjusts, adopts, and expresses behaviour new to him, proven to be suitable to the culture and society in which he was born. Part of the material in this process of socialization or culture, is factual, objective, informational, or in the form of [illegible]. Some of the material acquired is subjective, made up of feelings, sentiments, attitudes, coupled with appropriate information and technical skills consistent with the culture and society in which he was born, then he is considered a mature person. Thus the final outcome of socialization or culture is citizenship.

The formal part of socialization is education, which is factual, objective, informational and the learning of specific skills.

The informal part of socialization is recreation, which is made up of feelings, sentiments and attitudes. The individual acquires the ideas and ideals of fair play, justice, integrity, industry and responsibility. These are basic to our culture, and lie at the heart of citizenship, and citizenship is a combination of 'Education and Recreation'. We realize the great need for education, so we must realize the great need for recreation.

We hear people say that, recreation is for kids. This is true, but not the entire truth. How do we as adults, supposedly mature people, account for the terrible death toll on our highways, when the greater percentage of people have passed their drivers' tests and acquired drivers' licenses? The reason is not poor driving skills in themselves, but poor driving habits, due entirely to drivers' 'attitudes'. In most cases adults are doing the driving and these adults have not learned that "there is no game without rules", "laws were made for other people, not for me". These people have never graduated from the dependent age of immaturity to the mature age of interdependence. These are important, are they not? It is pretty difficult to teach interdependence to 'kids', if this refers to people from 5 to 12. Independence in adolescence is not as automatic as most of us think. These so-called 'teenagers' will recognize it, but will they always accept it? Again look at our highway death toll due to these people driving. What about the young adult or the adult? Have you ever been on the golf course and have someone 'driving through'? Maybe there are not attitudes, feelings, justice, fair play or ideals, which we mentioned earlier. Finally back to the question — are these 'kids' that we have been speaking about? Do we still feel that recreation is just for 'kids'?

These feelings, sentiments and attitudes are not the responsibility of education but are the responsibility of 'recreation'.

Are the foregoing acquisitions an important part of citizenship? Should we be concerned? If so, recreation will do much. Let not the smaller communities of Alberta or any other province for that matter, overlook the great need for it.

No Room for Gloom

The important point is that present signs in Canada give no ground for the kind of depression talk, or recession talk that can itself help to create hard times, declares the Financial Post. Comparing last July with the same month in 1956, the national labor force was up, unemployment was down, retail trade was up, savings were up, repayment of installment debts was up. If there's any falling-off from 1956, it's only a wrinkle in the highway.

Chemical Brain Wash

Brainwashing may soon be a literal description, says the Financial Post. The washing will be done with chemicals. Current experiments suggest that injecting different chemicals into the brain can change habits, [illegible], even decisions.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Albert Bachon

Lovely Double-Ring Wedding Held At First United Church

A lovely double ring ceremony was solemnized in the First United Church, Vermilion on Saturday, August 10th at 2:00 p.m. when Arlene Jeanette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Glowitski of Clandonald and Eddie Albert Bachon, son of Mrs. Nettie Bachon and the late Tom Bachon of Edmonton, exchanged vows. Rev. C. W. MacKay officiated. Mrs. A. M. West played the organ. Baskets of summer blossoms decorated the church.

Given in marriage by her father the bride looked lovely in a white floor length gown of nylon lace over satin with sequin and pearl trimmings. Her net skirt was gathered with bands of net with pearl trim. The bolero was of nylon lace with a stand up collar and long sleeves tapering to lily points. Her finger tip veil of sheer with wide acetate and nylon lace edging, was held by a pill box style hat with a standing crown, decorated with sequins and rhinestones. She wore a rhinestone necklace with earrings to match. A gift of the groom. Her bouquet was of red roses. Attending the bride were her sister Sonia in blue, her cousin Rosemarie Nettleton in yellow and her two friends, Ruth Demyd in pink and Rose Wasylishen in light yellow. Their gowns were of nylon lace and net over taffeta with matching head-dresses. They carried bouquets of pink and white icebox roses. Matron of honor was Kathleen Mulgrew, sister of the bride. She wore a blue dress with white accessories and her corsage was pink roses. Flower girls, Iris Mulgrew, niece of the bride, and Debbie Maksymuik, cousin of the groom, wore blue dresses with matching head-dresses and veils.

The groom was attended by his brother, Paul Bachon, his cousin Mike Maksymuik. Loyal Krawchuk and Alec Ballas. Ushers were Walter Glowitski and Walter Sribney.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose a coral dress decorated with rhinestones and lace with white accessories, and a white corsage. The groom's mother chose a blue nylon dress with white accessories and carried an American Beauty corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home where 120 guests were welcomed. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. It was decorated by Mrs. W. Jones of Dewberry. Mr. E. Nettleton, uncle of the bride, proposed a toast to the young couple. Kathleen Mulgrew presided at the guest book.

After the wedding supper the guests enjoyed themselves by dancing on an open-air platform. A wedding dance was held in the Greenlawn hall on the 12th where a large crowd was present.

The young couple honeymooned at Jasper, Banff and the Peace River country. They are making their home in the Heinsburg district.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Nettie Bachon, Edmonton, Mrs. P. Lukenchuk, Edmonton, Mr and Mrs. Sid Smith, Vegreville, Mr and Mrs. Fred Glowitski, Mr and Mrs. R. Mathison and family, Mrs. Polly Gregor and family, all of Edmonton, Mrs. Olga Walchuk, Edson, Mr and Mrs. J. Mulgrew, Wainwright, and Paul Bachon, Hay River, N.W.T.

Mannville Wolf Cubs Operate Shoe Shine

MANNVILLE. — Mannville Wolf Cubs are an enterprising group as was evidenced Saturday afternoon when these young boys set up a shoe shine stand in front of the municipal office. Some of Mannville's prominent businessmen were seen patronizing the new project and to all appearances enjoyed their 'shine' as the eager beavers went to work. This stand will operate on Saturday afternoons as long as the weather stays fine, reports Harry Allen, the leader.

Bottles are also being collected by the group, and all having same for the boys please have them ready for collection Oct. 9. Money derived from these two enterprises will be used to procure training equipment . . . so open up your hearts folks and support this cause.

The St. Paul Presbytery W M.S. was held Monday Sept. 30th in Marwayne The weather was fine and the ladies took advantage of this as there was a large attendance The guest speaker, Mrs Watari of Tokyo, Japan, a charming lady, a most interesting speaker, her English perfect, held the audience. After hearing her we felt more sympathetic to the Japanese people who are so persevering and brave in their struggle for a living. Two and one-half acres is a large farm, so every plant, every square foot of land is tenderly cared for A bedspread was presented to Mrs Watari as a souvenir from the Islay W A and W.M.S. It had been designed by Mrs. [illegible] Buchanan. The centre block was a drawing of the Islay Union Church worked in color, all done by Mrs. Buchanan. Other blocks with name and design of blocks with name and design of [illegible] flowers, bird, or animal were designed and worked in colors by various other artists. Mrs Watari was really surprised and pleased, said she would have to take it to the school in Japan where she teaches and show it to her girls, and to her church

Mrs. Sweet conducted the devotional part of the program. Mrs Rorbuck of Islay and Vermilion was at the piano for the hymn singing in which the congregation joined in very enthusiastically Mrs. Hill exhibited the literature display Mrs. C. C. A new hospital is being built at Cold Lake It is already under construction and though the lawns and hedges of the old hospital are gone and the nurses have to go down an embankment to their residence, no one minds as they are pleased to see a new and modern building going up, one of 25 bed-capacity. Anyone may donate to the building.

More Children Die Of Fire Than Poliomyelitis

Canada's annual fire waste reached a new peak of destruction during 1956. More than 600 people lost their lives, property loss was over $115 million, and timber reserves of more than $14 million were destroyed.

In these days of technological development and general education it is appalling that these losses continue to increase . Last year more children lost their lives by fire than those lost by poliomyelitis in some of the peak years, yet our national conscience does not rise to greater efforts. The astronomically high property loss figures are not at all. The indirect loss of business and interruption to essential services has been estimated as some ten times this total. This gives positive indication of the seriousness of this sheer waste and its obstruction to the economic progress of our country.

The waste is more appalling because most fires originate or develop through personal carelessness, which appears to be a national illness. Statistics from most other countries show their losses to be far less per capita than ours. Let us get together and make a concentrated effort to stop this continual bleeding of [illegible]

Fire Prevention Week activities have the full support of the Government of Canada. The Proclamation by the Governor-General requires that all citizens make a new start in fire prevention activities this week to act as a springboard for the year. The Government's fire services are playing their part in co-operation with all the fire services in Canada.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Animal Tamer

The next time a veterinarian is confronted with a dog made snarling and vicious by its illness, he may pop a tranquilizer into the animal's mouth, and the snarls will vanish into cooperative friendliness.

Sick dogs – even those which are not naturally bad tempered – can turn vicious toward strangers. Not only do they resist examination and treatment by the veterinarian, but they may tear off bandages, or rip open surgical stitches.

Many animals, however, respond to the new tranquilizing drugs, giving the veterinarian a new advantage. Atarazoid, for instance, seems to work as well with pets as it does with their masters. It's a combination of a mild tranquilizer used to treat everyday tensions in humans, with the latest hormone for relief of arthritis, rheumatism, and skin diseases.

The tranquilizing drugs open many other possibilities, too. They may be employed to soothe nervous horses so that they can be trained better, and to treat cattle before shipping so that they won't lose weight through loss of appetite. Zoo and circus vets hope that the drugs can be used to calm animals during long trips, so that exhaustion will not make them easy marks for disease. The drugs may be used to tranquilize flighty birds, too.

They may even help make a watchdog out of the pet who runs and hides under the bed when it thunders!

Bursaries For Agricultural School Students

In a few weeks time Alberta's Schools of Agriculture will be opening their doors for another term. Again the Alberta Wheat Pool, through its Henry Wise Wood Memorial Bursaries, will help six farm young people to attend.

These bursaries are awarded annually in memory of Alberta's great farm leader Dr. Henry Wise Wood who for many years was chairman of the Alberta Wheat Pool and president of the United Farmers of Alberta.

They are worth $125 each and go to one boy and one girl registering at each of Alberta's Schools of Agriculture. Members and former members of any 4-H clubs are eligible. Applications may be made through local district agriculturists or home economists.

Any farm boy or girl with a good club record who plans on attending an agricultural school this autumn would be well advised to enquire about these Alberta Wheat Pool bursaries.

Pleasant Valley News

Just as this writer said before — we will be having Indian summer before too long. It's beautiful day, the combines are running day and night, the high winds are drying out the grain too.

Thelma decorated the Paradise Valley church in a very lovely way for the Thanksgiving service on Sunday but there were only a few in the congregation. Everyone forgot to stop their harvest work for one hour to give thanks for harvest they are reaping. Years ago there was hardly standing room in the little church at Thanksgiving. Do you recall those days Mr. Payne and Mr. Evans.

There are two ladies in the district, one with two black eyes and the other with a swollen face. Mrs. Potvin said that she had had teeth pulled and this caused hers, but Annie won't tell how come the black eyes. The writer is going over into the field and ask Christie.

Now is the time to get your bulbs into the pots for winter blooming. There are yellow and pink calla lilies available now. Doreen Gould has yellow ones, they are lovely.

The writer has a large number of dahlia roots in a variety of colors to exchange with someone.

It was nice seeing Mrs. Wells on Saturday, enjoyed a nice chat. Mrs. Wells was a neighbor of ours for a number of years. It was pleasing to hear that Mr. Wells was improving in health.

How did you enjoy your long car ride Mrs. Jones?

Marguerite Gillies is spending a few days [illegible]

Hi Mrs. Fyfe how about a long letter? Do hope you are feeling better again.

Flu is quite prevalent around with bad colds in abundance.

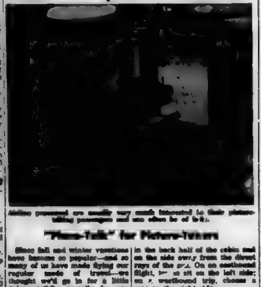
Be thrifty: the man who goes broke is apt to go to pieces.

Money talks—but not half as much as some trying to get it.

the Snapshot Guild



Airline personnel are usually very much interested in their picture-taking passengers and can often be of help.

"Plane-Talk" for Picture-Takers

Since fall and winter vacations have become so popular—and so many of us have made flying our regular mode of travel—we thought we'd go in for a little "plane talk" especially for you picture-takers.

First of all, cameras make ideal traveling companions on any flight. And when we say cameras, we mean any kind. You can take your choice between a simple box camera or a more elaborate one—between a camera that will make snapshots or one that will shoot movies.

Before you start shooting pictures from the air, it might be well to remember two basic points—both of them simple and very much to the point. (1) Always be sure that neither your camera nor your arms come in contact with any part of the plane, or vibration will make your pictures turn out blurred and fuzzy. Your camera should be close to the window, but not touching it. (2) For the best results, use a filter to cut through atmospheric haze.

It's easiest to make good close shots when the plane has reached an altitude of at least 2000 feet, since the ground then doesn't move by so rapidly. The best seats for picture-takers are those in the back half of the cabin and on the side away from the direct rays of the sun. On an eastbound flight, try to sit on the left side; on a westbound trip, choose a seat on the right side.

You'll find that the effect of the plane's speed will be minimized if you shoot "oblique" views—that is, by holding your camera pointed ahead of the plane or to the rear, rather than straight down or straight out the side. In other words, shoot when the plane is approaching or leaving the subject, and not when it is flying parallel to the subject.

Whether you're taking snapshots or movies, start your picture story well before take-off time. A busy airport is a fascinating place—filled with excited passengers, teeming baggage trucks and taxiing planes—bustling with activities that deserve the attention of your camera's eye.

In the air, watch for interesting terrain—a mountain, a [illegible] range, unusually contoured fields, a bridge or a harbor. Get part of the plane wings and engines in some of your shots—and be alert for striking cloud-and-sky effects or for an incredibly beautiful sunrise or sunset above the clouds.

MANITOBA EATS BETTER

I'm forced to admit that I can now get meals in Manitoba that are as good or just as good as I ever enjoyed in Montreal or Toronto.

Two years ago when I moved back west I wrote a column raising heb with the restaurants here. I couldn't understand why, with some of the best beef, pork and vegetables in the world, the restaurant meals were so flat and dull and unappetizing. With few exceptions, the eating was atrocious.

Some of my friends who take a drink spoofed me about the column. They know I'm a non-drinker, so they were quick to assert that things would improve when Manitoba's new liquor laws came into effect. "You'll get better food," they said, "and we drinkers will be paying for it. It's not fair".

Well, I don't know who is paying for it, but my wife and I had one of the best meals of our lives last night in a Winnipeg restaurant. It was a beautiful place, with deep carpets, soft music in the background, and my filet mignon was about two inches thick. My wife who is as [illegible] as the day I married her, had a ham steak with some kind of sauce that made her lyrical. The waiter seemed as attentive as it is possible to be although we ordered no wines, cocktails or liqueurs. The tab totalled $6.50, most of which was for my $3.50 steak. Not too bad for a celebration — much better than four or five dollars for a poor meal in dismal surroundings!

I must confess that I still can't understand why the restaurants need to serve liquor in order to provide such fine meals, but I'm not complaining as long as they don't force the liquor on me — and this restaurant certainly gave us as good service as they could give to royalty. We did see trays of cocktails taken to a few tables, and one handsome-looking old couple had champagne, but all was sedate. If all the 50 outlets licensed so far in Winnipeg are as fine there'll be mighty few complaints.

The other day, Mr. Bernard Halstead, chairman of the liquor commission, bragged that "instead of the boozing spree predicted by some, Manitoba's new liquor outlets have sparked a definite improvement in food and service. Some people expected a revolution, but instead we've had a quiet evolution."

After last night's dinner I'm inclined to agree.

The only pointers some people can give are fingers of scorn.

A 6,400-Mile Adventure Trip

In a used truck which they converted into a comfortable passenger and equipment vehicle, 14 Boy Scouts of the 2nd. Port Hope Ontario Troop this summer enjoyed an adventurous 6,400-mile 30-day trip to Victoria, B.C. and back. Financed by their own efforts though paper salvage and scrap metal drives, the lads enjoyed the adventure so much they are now making plans for a similar trip to eastern Canada next summer, says the Scoutmaster, Douglas Nutter, who supervised the trip.

Former Mannville Man Recovers

MANNVILLE. — Mr. J. B. Burch, former Mannville business man and old timer of this district who now lives in Edmonton, is progressing favorably after a successful operation on his eye to remove a cataract. This is remarkable considering his years. Mr. and Mrs. Burch are relatives of the R. Boe and R. Scott families here and recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Queen's Visit Will Be Seen On Live Coast-to-Coast T-V

OTTAWA. — TV viewers in Vancouver, Victoria, Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Moncton, St. Johns, Halifax, Sidney and Charlottetown will be added to the live Microwave network for CBC coverage of the Royal Visit.

In making the announcement the CBC explained that arrangements with telephone companies in Canada and the United States as well as with the American broadcasting companies in the eastern U.S. would make live coverage available to stations of the west coast and the maritimes. These links, like that of the Trans-Canada telephone system to Calgary, Lethbridge and Edmonton, are being provided especially for the Visit and do not constitute the beginning of regular microwave service to these areas.

This special service beyond the regular microwave facilities will include all events being fed by CBC to its complete TV networks. It will include the arrival ceremonies and the opening of parliament.

Calgary, Edmonton and Lethbridge are expected to be on the regular microwave network in time for the Grey Cup football final.

WILDMERE WINKS

No winks last week owing to the writer being sick with the flu and having to cook for threshers. We are now better and our threshing is all done. It's a great feeling to know that it is housed safely in the granaries. If we could only sell some now, the picture would be complete.

Lawrence Graham of Wainwright used his four days leave by helping to thresh at Wallington's. Jack McFayden, also of Wainwright also came and gave a few hours work every afternoon. Thanks boys, for your wonderful help, it was greatly appreciated. The same goes to our stook teamsters, Bobby Graham and Jimmie Clark.

Combining is going ahead every possible minute. Here's hoping the weather holds until everyone gets their crops saved. The writer was talking to Mrs. Douglas from North of Clandonald last Friday and at that time it was still too wet to do much harvesting because of a heavy rain they had had the Saturday before.

On Wednesday, September 18th Mrs. F. Haines, very kindly took Mrs. A. Holte and the writer over to the Auburndale W.A. meeting held at the Church. Mrs. G. Eyben and Mrs. W. Crabb were in the President's and secretary's chairs. Mrs. H. Wear led the devotional.

After the meeting a delicious lunch was served. Thanks Auburndale for all your kindness in inviting the Wildmere W.A. over to your meeting.

What a nice surprise the writer got on our 44th wedding day when Mrs. Moore and Mrs. B. Gould drove in. They brought some lovely flowers. Sorry you could not have stayed longer folks. You should see the trees now Mrs. Gould, they are beautiful in their fall colors.

We hear you got home before dark Mrs. Moore. Did we also hear that you drove on the black-top?

On Friday evening, September 20th, Mary Gibson held a 'shower' for Janet Cruthers. A nice crowd attended from Wildmere, Basswood, and some from town. Some amusing games were enjoyed. Then a well filled to overflowing basket was carried in for Janet to open. Many and varied were the gifts she received, and Janet heartily thanked everyone for all the kindness to her. A bountiful lunch brought the pleasant evening to a close.

There have been many ill in corner from colds and 'flu. Kenny Graham missed some school from it, and the Cruthers family were all sick. Lloyd Howard had severe headaches with it. Tough going Lloyd when you had to run the combine too.

Mr. and Mrs. LaBine of Vernon B.C. visited last week with Mrs. LaBine's parents Mr. and Mrs. John Isley of Vermilion, also with her many brothers and sisters in and around Vermilion. Their youngest daughter and her husband and baby accompanied them. They returned homeward on Saturday. Mrs. LaBine has three daughters and a son married and living in Edmonton.

Mr. Jack Tuck is visiting his niece Mrs. I. Fadden and family this week.

Wedding bells will ring on Friday October 4th for a Triangle girl Alice Clark, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clark Sr. and Howard Lumley of Dewberry. They are to be married at the First United church in Vermilion. Wishing you many years of happiness, Alice and Howard.

Dry weather from Sept. 21st to Oct. 2nd allowed a good start on threshing and combining operations, but a large percentage remains to be done. Progress was brought to a standstill on Wednesday with a shower of 16 inches. The mercury also slid from midsummer heat of 82 on Tuesday to 35 on Thursday.

An electrical storm lent variety on Tuesday night and again Wednesday evening. No snow fell here, although many Alberta points received their first taste of this harbinger of winter

"K. H. S. Highlights"

The first day of school at Kitscoty was a special day for some 280 students who registered for classes that morning. These students were fortunate to begin their studies in the new school, which was used for the first time this term. The teachers were probably most pleased of all because of their separate home rooms and increased space. The new auditorium, although not yet complete, will indeed supply a great variety of sports and entertainment for school, as well as local activities.

Following the first week of school came the annual initiation. This consisted of two days when all seniors craved gum, as well as any exciting dare. The girls were required to dress as farmers, with straw hats, bib overalls, shirts and big boots. Behind them they pulled a toy truck which provided entertainment during their leisure time (if any!) The boys were dressed as ladies with big hats, bedroom slippers and housedresses. All carried shopping bags filled with empty cans. As usual, there was no shortage of penalties, which were handed out at the party on the last night of initiation.

On Thursday, Sept. 19, grades 9 to 12 gathered in the Kitscoty town hall to elect the Students' Council of 1957-58. The following were the elected officers:

- President — Henry Kohn
- Vice-President — Don Martin
- Sec.-Treas. — Judy Sheppard
- Social Conv. — Carol Richardson
- Sports Conv. — Willard Stewart
- Publicity Convener — Marilyn Owen

Because of increased sporting facilities in the new auditorium, it was decided to appoint three additional members to the sports committee. These were namely: Brian Sheppard, Joan Stewart and Dewey Fleming. Miss Dunsmore was re-elected as the staff representative.

All in all, the first month of K.H.S. has indeed proved to be most successful.

Dual Role of Civil Defence In Peace and War Explained

Civil Defence director Gen Martin of M. D. 71 and the Town of Vermilion today explained the dual role of his organization in peace and war.

"Created by the modern need to protect whole nations from war's destruction, Civil Defence has a valuable place in peace as well. It can reduce loss of life and property in any form of disaster, which can strike anywhere and anytime.

This year for the first time, a day — Friday, October 4 — has been designated as National Civil Defence Day. This is what comprises Civil Defence:

To meet the threat of war, essentially the same services are required as to offset the threat of destruction from fire, flood, earthquake, tornado, explosion or any other form of sudden and unexpected disaster.

The advantage of Civil Defence in any disaster is that it provides a co-ordination of these services. It enables them, once trained and adequately prepared to move quickly and smoothly into united action. Efforts are not duplicated. The most is made of every service. Even a little bit, carefully planned in advance, will go a long way.

Services co-ordination for action under a Civil Defence director and his staff, acting under advice from planning committees, include:

Police, with volunteer auxiliaries, to maintain law and order.

Firemen, with pre-trained volunteers, to meet additional fire hazards in disaster, peace or war.

Wardens to provide aid, information and leadership directly to the people, on a door-to-door, and street-by-street basis.

Health services- doctors, nurses, first-aid specialists and others trained for help—for the treatment of injuries and maintenance of community health.

Rescue workers trained to rescue persons trapped in buildings damaged by blast, fire, earthquake, whatever.

Information services to minimize fear and shock reaction by keeping people informed of what is being done to help them.

Welfare services to provide food, shelter and other similar help to the homeless.

Engineering service to help restore public utilities- electricity, gas, water, sewer— to normal.

Radiation monitoring service, in event of atomic war, to let the public know when areas are safe from radiation hazards.

All of these services, already in existence, are the basis for a sound Civil Defence organization. Once the preliminary is completed, any community with Civil Defence is ready to meet disaster, man-made or natural.

Airman Bobby King To Resolute Bay

Bobby King, one of our local boys, who has been stationed at the Namao air base for the past two years, has now left for Resolute Bay where he will be stationed for the next six months. Resolute Bay is some 1000 miles north of Montreal. Incidentally this will be Bob's first plane ride since he joined the air force.

This young man has been achieving some outstanding results in his examinations, being highest in his class of 35, several of them returned veterans. Bob has been presented with a diploma to prove his good work. On his return from Resolute Bay next April he will spend a month's holiday at his home here before being posted to a new air base. Bob is hoping that his posting will be to England as he is anxious to meet some relatives whom he has never seen.

Before leaving for the far north Bob is spending three days in Montreal sight-seeing.

Highway 41 Now Being Repaired

Government road crews are now working on Highway 41, building up several low spots that were under water during the spring break up. Word to this effect was received by Ashley Cooper from the Hon. Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways, and in turn relayed to the Board of Trade meeting on Wednesday last.

Mr Taylor further stated that while an extension of Highway 41 from Wainwright to Czar was contemplated, he wouldn't definitely promise that it would be done in 1958.

Of Canada's 15 leading manufacturing industries, four are based on agricultural production: meat packing, butter and cheese, bread and bakery products; miscellaneous foods. Depending primarily on domestic demands, their post-war growth has been at a slower rate than most other manufacturing.

Criticism seldom pleases people, but it's a lot nearer the truth than flattery.

Per capita consumption of cotton, synthetic and wool fabrics in Canada today is about 42.5 yards per year — about three times the world average.

Manitoba Minister Of Public Works Hunting Here

Tom Watts received quite a surprise when selling a game licence this week. On asking the name and occupation of his customer he learned that his name was Mr. Robertson and his occupation that of Minister of Public Works for the Province of Manitoba.

Power from H-Bomb

Don't be surprised, says the Financial Post, if Britain's atomic energy researchers soon announce a new break-through in efforts to control the H-bomb reaction for generating power. There's still a long way to go. But since the reaction is based solely on heavy forms of hydrogen, it could eventually mean atomic energy without uranium.

"HELLO, HOMEMAKERS"

It is a well known fact that the calcium requirements of the body are partly filled by drinking plenty of milk. In order that your children have strong teeth and bones; you feel that it is important that your child drinks lots of milk. However, in an attempt to persuade the children to drink milk, don't disguise it with chocolate.

Certain ingredients in chocolate and cocoa form insoluble salts with calcium. The result is that the calcium can not be absorbed into the blood stream and is not utilized. This fact is not too commonly known. It has only been recently discovered to be so. Try to encourage your children to like and drink milk. It helps if Mum and Dad like and drink it, too.

SOAP VERSUS DETERGENTS

Are you puzzled by the many varieties of soaps and detergents on the market? Detergents are in no sense soap. Their properties and reactions in water are quite different.

Detergents completely dissolve in water regardless of how hard it may be. If your water is hard you will have greater success washing with detergents. Soap does not completely dissolve, but combines with minerals in the water to form an insoluble scum which is particularly so in hard water.

If you have soft water you can use soap with excellent results and it has more cleaning powers than synthetic detergents.

TIP FOR THE WEEK

In washing elasticized garments such as foundation garments, wash in soft or softened water with soap. Synthetic detergents cause deterioration of the elastic.

The man who knows when to keep still should be given a prize for having a fine command of language.

The next District meeting will be held in Bonnyville on Nov. 27th.

The Elk Point High school football team the 'Cougars' lost out to Derwent High in their first football game of the season by a score of 6 to 0. A return game is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 2 at 4:30. Coach David Eskdale assures us of a victory this time!

DUCK HUNT ENDS IN TRAGEDY

A duck hunting party ended in tragedy last week when 19-year-old Charles Emery was drowned in a small lake near Rife, north of here, when he waded in after a duck he had shot. The boy's father drowned last winter in the same area when the ice gave way on a lake.

National Civil Defence Day Is Set For Friday, Oct. 4th

Friday, October 4th, 1957 has been set aside by Civil Defence organizations in all parts of Canada as National Civil Defence Day.

Primarily, the objective of National Civil Defence Day is to focus the attention of every citizen in Canada on Civil Defence, and to emphasize the importance of Civil Defence in the defence of Canada under emergency conditions.

The observance of National Civil Defence Day is being organized by provincial and municipal Civil Defence bodies, with the advice and assistance of the federal organization. Displays, demonstrations and other public presentations will be featured on the programmes being planned across the country by individual units.

No Civil Defence organization can work effectively without public support, and National Civil Defence Day is designed to encourage such support.

Scholarships Are Presented At Dewberry H. and S. Meeting

The first meeting of the season was held in the new gym with an attendance of about 60. It was a pleasure to have Mr. and Mrs. Angus Smith as guests.

The first order of business was election of a secretary treasurer. Mrs Oxton was elected to this position. After reading of the minutes and adoption of same, Chairman Mr. Whiteside asked Mr. Smith to come forward to present the Home and School $50 scholarship to Jimmy Jones who had obtained the highest standing in grade 12. Congratulations and best wishes go to Jimmy who obtained the very fine average of 77 per cent.

Next Mrs. Witzaney was asked to come forward to present the $25 scholarship to Beverly Porter who had obtained the highest standing in grade 9. Congratulations and best wishes also to Beverly.

Mrs. E. Durnin, our new principal was then asked to introduce the teachers who are as follows: Miss Whiteside, grade 1; Mrs. Haskell grade 2, Miss Young, grade 3; Mrs. McMullen grades 4 and part grade 5, Mrs. E. Durnin part of grade 5 and part of grade 6, Miss Bierman, part of grade 6 and part grade 7; Miss Kneen, part grade 7 and grade 8; Mrs. Witzaney, grade 9. Mrs. Durnin regretted very much that she could go no higher than grade 9 — but like the farmer there is always next year to look forward to!

Following this, the meeting was thrown open for nominations for an executive, one representative from each bus route being chosen. The following were elected: Mrs. Goad, Mrs. Romanchok, Mrs. Davies, Mrs. Poitras, Mrs. Holmen. Auditors are Mrs. McKay and Mrs. Neal Jones.

Resolutions committee: Mrs. McKay, Mrs. Witzaney.

The Banff delegate is to be chosen next meeting so if you want to go to Banff whisper to one on the executive and maybe you will be nominated.

After much discussion about the skating rink it was decided to nominate a committee of three Messrs Jones, Whiteside and Williscroft to get into touch with other organizations and bring all available information to the October meeting. So 'fathers', if you are interested in your sons playing hockey, please attend this very important meeting.

Meeting adjourned and Neil Jones showed some movie films which were taken at the last graduation, some of the Sunday School picnic and of the Jones' trip to the States, etc. These were much enjoyed by all.

As usual the meeting was completed by a chat over a cup of coffee and lunch.

Despite having no high school the Dewberry Home and School is off to a good start.

Next meeting will be held on Thursday evening Oct. 10. Everyone interested in school affairs is cordially invited to attend.

Anniversary Of Red Cross Blood Donor Service

More than 4,650 blood donations were represented by 370 donors who attended a ceremony in the Calgary Jubilee Auditorium September 24th to mark the 10th anniversary of inauguration of the free Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service in Alberta.

In recognition of their service to Red Cross, donors who attended the inaugural clinic in 1947 and have given 20 or more blood donations received illuminated scrolls presented by Calgary's mayor D. H. MacKay.

The event was unique in that it was the first held in Canada to mark ten years of preparation by the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service.

Among those in attendance was Dr. E. Ross, Minister of Health for Alberta. Mr. W. C. Bruce, Edmonton, Provincial President of the Red Cross was also present. Congratulations to the BTS were extended by representatives of medical groups and hospital associations and greetings read from Dr. W. S. PARADISE VALLEY NEWS

On Friday afternoon September 13th the catering committee of the P.V.W.A. held its first meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Nickle. Plans were made for the chicken supper which is to be held on October 25th. Donations toward the supper will be gratefully received. The members find it hard to contact each individual. Will you ladies of the district please accept this as an invitation to offer your chicken to Mrs. C. Elliott, Mrs. A. Nickle, Mrs. G. Venner or Mrs. J. Gordon. The ladies were not prepared for such a large crowd last year. They hope to be this year so come along one and all. By the way, convener Mrs. A. Nickle would appreciate some help (male or female) at the dish pan.

The regular meeting of the P.V. Ladies Hall Club was held in the P.V. Hall with a total of fifteen members present. The L.H. Club will sponsor a Cash Bingo, Bake Sale, Home Produce Sale and dance on October 18th. Loys orchestra will supply the music for the dance and the Bingo will start at 8 p.m. Watch for posters for details. Any donations of baking or home produce will be greatly appreciated. The next meeting will be held in the P.V. Hall on October 14th at 8:30 p.m.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McLeod, who were married recently. This young couple will make their home on the McLeod farm in the Oxville district. On Tuesday evening September 17th, neighbors and friends gathered at their home for a surprise party in their honor. Mrs. Fred Sirett on behalf of the large crowd, presented good wishes and the many and useful gifts. Harvey and Mavis both thanked everyone.

Word has been received of the death of two former residents of this district, in the persons of Mr. Steve Kindack and Mr. Harvey Arnold. Mr. Kindack passed away at Sudbury, Ontario and Mr. Arnold at Haney, B.C. on September 7th. Mr. Arnold was 82 years of age and was a veteran of the Boer War. He leaves three sons, two daughters, and fourteen grandchildren.

In our own district we have to record the death of Mrs. Arthur Clarke and Mrs. L. R. Larson. Both had been ailing for some time. Mrs. Larson suffered a stroke over three years ago and never recovered. She was at Edmonton at the time of her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Coleman and family left for their new home at Fort Assiniboine, Alberta where Mr. Coleman has secured employment.

On Friday evening, September 27th, a pleasant evening was spent in the Church of God when friends of Mrs. G. Somner, nee Bernice Fulgham, met to honor her with a miscellaneous shower. The new bride won the Trousseau Contest. Mrs. Johnson gave a humorous recitation.

The many gifts were presented by Miss Alice Doty and Eleanor Fulgham, who dressed as nurses, carried in a stretcher piled high with the many interesting looking parcels. Mrs. Sunderland gave the good wishes and recorded the gifts. Mrs. O. Fulgham and Joyce Adams assisted with opening the gifts. Bernice gave a short speech of thanks. Lunch was served by the young girls.

W. A. Gunn, our postmaster, returned from an enjoyable holiday of over two weeks spent at the West Coast, Edmonton and Vermilion. While at North Vancouver he visited his cousin Mrs. Margaret Gall who taught school at Waverly many years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald (Corky) McCorkindale at South Burnaby, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fair at Matsqui.

WHAT NATURE COULD DO

If the polar ice-caps were to melt, the world's mean sea level would rise by more than 100 ft., writes Leonard Bertin in the Financial Post. Low-lying cities like Montreal, New York and London would be flooded.

If another meteorite as big as some that have hit the earth in bygone ages were to land in Southern Ontario, Toronto, Windsor and Hamilton would be pulverized in a single blow more effectively than by any man-made hydrogen bomb.

If the Gulf Stream were to change its routing to any major extent Canada's climate would change with it. Fish populations would move to new feeding grounds and some of the best existing fisheries would cease to be economic.

These are speculations that sound like the wild ideas of science fiction, in fact, they are based on the views of eminent scientists of 22 nations who have been attending in Toronto the 11th general assembly of the International Union of Geodesy and Geophysics.

Most of Canada's 9,500 Eskimos live north of the tree-line on the coasts of the mainland or the islands of the Arctic Archipelago. — Quick Canadian Facts.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

A.T.A. Local Presidents Support Provincial Executive in Walk-Out

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — The Alberta Teachers' Association has all but closed the door completely on the possibility of it ever returning to the royal commission on a uniform salary scale.

Presidents of 66 of the 69 ATA locals gathered here for an emergency meeting backed the decision of the executive to withdraw from the commission hearings, and issued a statement which made it clear the teachers will have nothing to do with the investigation.

The meeting agreed "that in order to protect the objects of the ATA, the dignity and independence of its members, and the interests of education, the teachers were bound to withdraw from the present inquiry."

The statement said teachers "continue to meet courageously all attempts to deprive them of their fundamental rights as citizens and all threats to destroy their professional association."

This is the clearest indication yet of the attitude the teachers have toward the commission probe which is headed by G. M. Blackstock. And it leaves little doubt that so far as the teachers are concerned any province-wide salary schedule is just out of the question.

The row started on the first day of hearings when the ATA declined to present a written brief until it had heard arguments of the Alberta School Trustees' Association in favor of a uniform scale. Chairman Blackstock accused the teachers of "jockeying for position," and found their attitude "disgraceful." The next day the teachers withdrew. A short time later the commission invited them to return, but the invitation was rejected.

The teachers see in the investigation an attempt to deprive them of the right to hammer out the best salary deal they can with individual school boards. As one ATA official put it, a uniform scale would turn teachers into "just another group of civil servants."

They are so strongly opposed to the idea that some observers say a province-wide teachers' strike is inevitable if any attempt is made to introduce a uniform scale.

ASIATIC FLU ARRIVES

Asiatic flu has arrived in Alberta, but from all indications the epidemic isn't causing any severe hardship. It's been most noticeable in schools, where the ranks of teachers and pupils have been thinned considerably.

The people who find it most bothersome are officials of the provincial health department who are wishing the outbreak hadn't been given such widespread publicity and advance billing.

Hon. Dr. J. Donovan Ross, the new minister of health, says many Albertans will contract the disease, recover from it and never know for certain if they had the Asiatic strain. The symptoms are identical to other types of flu, and positive identification can be made only by sending throat washings to laboratories at Ottawa.

Naturally it's impossible to check every case of flu that breaks out, and in addition it's of little value to know two weeks or more after a case has been found that it was in fact Asiatic flu.

"After all, it's only one of about thirty different types of flu, said Dr. A. Somerville, the deputy minister of health, who pointed out that experience has proven predictions that the disease is mild.

In a prepared statement, Dr. Somerville said "the present enormous publicity regarding Asiatic influenza seems to ignore the point that this form is very mild and seems to have little tendency to induce pneumonia." It was pneumonia as a complication which made a killer of the world-wide outbreak of 1918.

"Alberta is now well seeded with this virus," said Dr. Somerville. "There seems little doubt that the hundreds of influenza-like cases which have appeared recently are of the Asian type. Certainly they have all been a mild disease . . . most of these cases in Alberta and elsewhere have been no more severe than an attack of the common cold.

"By the time a school or other group of people has a number of cases evident, the population has already been thoroughly infected and there is no public health advantage to closing the institution."

He added that since flu is spread by direct personal contact, the best procedure is to reduce possible exposure as much as possible. If symptoms appear, he said, go to bed and stay there until they disappear. This is the best treatment, and in addition it keeps you from spreading the disease to others.

More Students

The Canadian universities this month will bulge with all-time high enrolments, The Financial Post predicts.

An FP spot check of university officials (FP, Sept. 14) showed that 9 major institutions which last year enrolled 25,105 students, this year expect 30,100.

Among some of the other important topics included are exposures, ordering of prints and enlargements, and listings of valuable booklets on all phases of picture-taking.

Wilfred Little and Miss Eleanor Jones Married At Cranbrook

One of Cranbrook's prettiest summer weddings took place at 7:00 p.m., Saturday, August 31st in the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, Cranbrook, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Earl Swanson of Calgary. The bride was Eleanor Doreen Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond O. Jones, 214-17th Ave., Cranbrook, and the groom Wilfred Lynn Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Little of Vermilion, Alberta.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful gown of hand-clipped Chantilly lace and tulle. The Sabrina neckline sparkled with sequin embroidery. A dainty crown, also sequin embroidered, held her elbow length veil in place. The bride's bouquet was composed of red roses, lily-of-the-valley and stephanotis.

The maid of honor, Miss Lois Jones, a sister of the bride wore a gown of white embroidered chiffon over yellow taffeta, waltz-length, fashioned with a floating back panel.

The two bridesmaids, Miss Betty Little, sister of the groom, and Miss Irene Bellows, were identically attired in pale green taffeta with overskirts of net, and floating back panels of matching taffeta. The dresses were waltz-length. All three senior attendants carried bouquets of yellow carnations and baby 'mums.

The little flower girl, Ronda Speers of Regina, was sweet in yellow chiffon over taffeta. Tiny bows and ruffles adorned the skirt. She carried a basket of white and yellow 'mums.

Best man was Marvin Little of Vermilion, and the ushers were Neil Foster of Kamloops and Jerry Jones of Cranbrook.

The bride's mother wore a blue chromspun jacket dress with white accessories and red carnation corsage while the groom's mother wore a blue figured silk dress with white accessories and corsage of red carnations.

Organist was Miss Alvina Harder and Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Raine of Marysville sang duets. The first, sung at the beginning of the ceremony while the bride and groom knelt at the altar was "Together With Jesus" and the second, sung during the signing of the register was "I Know Who Holds To-morrow."

A reception was held at the Guide hall when one hundred and ten sat down to a sumptuous turkey dinner. Tables were centred with lovely arrangements of flowers. The four-tiered wedding cake was embedded in pink tulle and flanked by white tapers in crystal holders. The hall was decorated with pink and white streamers.

The bride's travelling costume was a tweed effect below knitted suit. Her accessories were chocolate brown and jewelry of copper and her corsage was of blue carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Little will reside at 217-9th Ave. until their departure for Seattle Pacific College where the groom will enrol. He is at present employed at the laboratory at Kimberley Fertilizer plant. The groom is a graduate of the Canadian Bible Institute, Regina.

The bride who is on the B.C. telephone staff, was honored prior to her wedding at a shower, a tea given by the telephone office staff, and a presentation by the Christian Alliance Sunday School staff and Young People's Group was made at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Rempel.

Master of ceremonies at the wedding reception was Rev. L. Raine of Marysville. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Ray Wood, and the groom responded. There was also a short musical program which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Telegrams of good wishes from Illinois, Chilliwack and Vermilion were read.

Serving at the wedding dinner were Sharon Brennan, Creston; Millie Thompson, Myrna Pelkey, Cranbrook; Earl Jenstad, Canyon; Patricia Wilson, Kimberley; Melvin Pelkey, Cranbrook; Millie Stevenson, Kimberley and Stanley Jenstad, Canyon.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Little, Mr. Marvin Little, Mr. Herb Little and Miss Betty Little all of Vermilion, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Jones, Rosedale, B.C.; Miss Donna Hall, Mr. David Hall and Mr. Wayne, of Vancouver; Neil Foster, Kamloops, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jones and family, Vulcan, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Beckner, Arrowhead, Alta.; Miss Sharon Beckner, Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Speers and family, Regina; Mr. and Mrs. E. G. A Live Economy

Canadian businessmen have to deal with situations that are never static as they can be in a very old society but always in flux, points out The Financial Post. The only factor that approaches stability is the existence of huge known resources still to be developed. Our labor force is mobile and as immigration continues it varies in skills and adaptability. Flow of investment capital is subject to change. Demand fluctuates in the markets that Canada supplies.

Given these variables it's a mistake to look for progress at an unchanged rate on every sector of the economic front. The community like the individual must make frequent new assessments of the outlook and adjustments cannot always be immediate or automatic. If there has been a pause in 1957 the next advance is already in sight.

ONE MAN REACTOR

For fifty five thousand dollars you can buy a small scale nuclear reactor that one man can work. Intended for laboratories and schools, it is 6 ft. in diameter. Protection is by lead shielding in water.

Elected Director of International Utilities

The President and General Manager of Canadian Utilities Limited, J. C. Dale, has been elected a director of the parent company, International Utilities Corporation. This announcement was made in New York last Wednesday by the President of International, Howard Butcher III.

Mr. Dale, a native Albertan, joined Canadian Utilities, Ltd., in 1935, served overseas with the Canadian Army during World War II and held the rank of Major when discharged in 1945. Returning to Canadian Utilities, Limited, he resumed duties as assistant construction engineer. This FALL for your GRASSLANDS and STUBBLE

. . . the plant food your crop uses most for bigger, better yields in 1958!

Your crops use more Nitrogen than any other plant food - for example, 40 bushels of wheat take away 47 lbs. of Nitrogen from your soil; 2 tons of brome hay take away over 60 lbs. of Nitrogen. This plant food must be replaced or your crops will be starved.

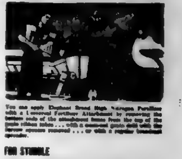
Spread Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizers* on stubble or pasture NOW! Next Spring, even before you can get on your land, grasslands are growing with fall-applied Nitrogen. Nitrogen put on stubble land this Fall speeds decomposition and is available as vital plant food when you need in the Spring.

FOR GRASSLANDS

Nitrogen applied in the Fall means better forage growth. It means pasture is ready for grazing earlier, feeds more livestock and regrows faster. When you can put twice as many head on every acre, get them on the land from 2 to 4 weeks sooner in the Spring and keep them there longer, you make more money.

What's more, forage grown with Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizers* tastes better and is richer in essential proteins and minerals - you'll see the difference in fatter steers and heifers or increased milk production!

Melting snows carry Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizer to the root zone.



You can apply Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizer with a Universal Fertilizer Attachment by removing the bottom ends of the attachment boxes from the top of the grain ribbon tubes . . . with a combined grain drill with the [illegible] removed . . . or with a regular broadcast spreader.

FOR STUBBLE

Nitrogen on stubble speeds up decomposition of valuable crop residues. In Spring plant food from both crop residue and Nitrogen Fertilizer is available to the new crop. Young plants benefit immediately from the readily available food in Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizers*.

When you choose your High Nitrogen Fertilizer* from the Elephant Brand line, you add these benefits to your Fall-Fertilizing program.

HIGH ANALYSIS — more plant food in each bag, best value for your fertilizer dollar.

HIGH AVAILABILITY — all Elephant Brand's plant food content can be used by the growing plant.

HIGH WATER SOLUBILITY — dissolve readily in soil moisture to give quick-acting, easily absorbed plant food.

ASIATIC INFLUENZA

In recent weeks much publicity has been given to Asiatic influenza and the possibility of it occurring in epidemic proportions in Alberta. This has resulted in the mild epidemic of influenza here now attracting more attention and causing more alarm than is really necessary.

So far Asiatic [illegible] has not been definitely diagnosed in this area though it is possible that a few cases have occurred. It would appear that at present there are a moderate number of people suffering from epidemic or 48-hour influenza and that perhaps there may be a few cases of the Asiatic type.

Asiatic influenza is one of over twenty different types of influenza, and is probably no more or no less serious than most of the other varieties. It is impossible to distinguish the different types of influenza clinically and throat washings from cases have to be sent to Ottawa for virus identification.

The symptoms of most types of influenza follow a similar pattern, namely, headache, muscular pains, fever, malaise, cough and perhaps sore throat. Anyone having these symptoms should stay in bed until they feel well again and should take aspirins, hot drinks and plenty of fluids. The illness usually runs a course of three to four days. Returning to school or work before the symptoms subside increases the risk of complications and also spreads the disease more widely among the population.

If these elementary precautions are taken, there is very little danger from Asiatic or epidemic influenza. Any danger that there is comes from the possible complications and not from influenza itself. Elderly people with chronic chest or heart conditions need extra care and attention if they fall victim to influenza. In all cases if the illness seems unusually severe or lasts longer than expected, contact your family doctor.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

by W. G. MALAHER, Director, Research Department, [illegible] GRAIN COMPANY, LIMITED

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

Interesting not only because it shows the pattern of cereal grain shipments from the Pacific Coast but also because it indicates that record total movement was reached during the 1956-57 season, is a year-end report issued by the Vancouver Merchants' Exchange.

It is noted that by far the largest quantity of grain, some 104 million bushels or 75% of the total 138.2 million leaving west coast ports went to three of Canada's major customers. Japan taking 48.8 million bushels, the United Kingdom, 28.7 million and Germany, 26.8 million bushels. Smaller quantities went to some twenty other countries as well. No less than four-fifths of the shipments were wheat and the rest mainly barley plus a somewhat smaller though not unimportant quantity of flax. Of the special crops, which have been grown more extensively in Western Canada in recent years, a total of 1,179,570 bushels of mustard and over 2 million bushels of rapeseed moved from Pacific Coast ports last season to Japan and the continent.

If as appears likely, the far eastern market for cereals increases in importance there would seem to be a bright future indeed for the Pacific Coast ports. It is clear however that the present movement in this direction does not depend upon eastern markets alone. In fact apart from Japan, the major portion of this year's exports have been destined to Continental Europe, as well as to Central and South America.

Speeds Car Warm-up

Soon to be announced in Canada is an auxiliary combustion-type heater designed to help auto 160 degrees F., cuts in again if engines reach running temperature, reports The Financial Post. It switches off automatically when the cooling system reaches it drops. One advantage is that it reduces the time taken by the car's own equipment to heat the passenger compartment. Unit consists of an atomizing type of burner, stainless steel heat exchanger, fuel valve, spark plug and thermostat. It uses gasoline. John Stanley McKay Loses Life In House Fire At Dewberry

John Stanley McKay, well known business man of the village of Dewberry, died from suffocation early Sunday morning, October 6th from a fire which caused considerable damage to the interior of his fine home. Mrs. McKay was visiting friends in Edmonton at the time of the tragedy.

Indications are that the fire started either in the rug on the living room floor in front of the chesterfield, or in the chesterfield itself. The floor is burned through at that point. The fire is thought to have begun smoldering after Mr. McKay had gone to bed, filling the house with smoke and fumes. He had apparently awakened and attempted to grope his way out of the dark, smoke-filled house. Unfortunately he opened and entered the bathroom, the door of which is located right beside the door leading outside. His body was found on the bathroom floor.

[illegible] was first noticed by neighbors about 7:30 Sunday morning and the alarm was given. Several members of the fire brigade tried to enter the home but were driven back by the intense smoke. When this cleared a little the body of Mr. McKay was found on the bathroom floor where he had been overcome by the smoke. Coming from his bedroom he [illegible] the bathroom door for the kitchen door as they are close together.

John Stanley McKay had lived in Dewberry since the village started in 1928, the year the railroad arrived in the town. He had opened a large and well stocked hardware and operated a thriving I.H.C. agency ever since that year.

Left to mourn his loss is his loving wife. He was predeceased by one son Allan, who died in 1953 from a heart seizure, on the eve of his graduation with his B.Sc. in Architecture from the University of Manitoba. Two sisters of Mr. McKay live at Victoria and two brothers in Prince Edward Island.

Deceased was born in Prince Edward Island on December 19, 1890.

Funeral services were held in the Dewberry community hall on Wednesday morning, Oct. 9th at 10:30 o'clock. The Rev. Mr. Shortt officiated. Interment was made in the Evergreen Memorial Gardens, Edmonton at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Moyers' were in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Principal School of Agriculture Will Spend A Year in Egypt

Mr. and Mrs. N.N. Bentley will be leaving Vermilion shortly to spend a year in Egypt where Mr. Bentley has accepted the post of adviser on Agricultural education, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

UNESCO is one of the principal Branches established in the United Nations organization. Its particular purpose is to provide encouragement and assistance on an international basis towards the improvement of education, science and culture in all parts of the world. Its Headquarters are in Paris and from that point it arranges for the study of basic problems and needs relating to education, science and culture in all member countries participating in United Nations activities.

In this instance the government of Egypt placed a request with UNESCO for a specialist to study agricultural education in that country and to advise on the establishment of schools for agricultural workers. The scope of this work includes planning a course of studies and the training of an instruction staff with emphasis on practical vocational education.

In due course Egypt's request for a Specialist in Agricultural Education reached the office of the Technical Co-operation Service in the Department of Trade and Commerce at Ottawa and in searching for such a person, inquiries were made to the Schools of Agriculture in Alberta, which are widely recognized for the practical nature of their courses in [illegible] agriculture. Mr. Bentley was chosen as Canada's nominee for the post and eventually was selected by the Egyptian government.

The Technical Assistance programme has already achieved notable success in numerous projects and it is hoped that Mr. Bentley can make a real contribution to the development of improved agricultural education methods in Egypt. His wide experience and thorough acquaintance with this type of education in Alberta will be a valuable asset toward this objective.

N. N. BENTLEY

In addition to the benefits that Mr. Bentley's assistance can give the Egyptian project, he will undoubtedly have opportunities to make observations and to gain a wide variety of information that could be of value to his work in this country when he returns.

The appointment is for one year and leave-of-absence for this purpose has been granted to him by the Alberta Government.

During Mr. Bentley's absence Mr. J. A. R. Palin, who has been a member of the instruction staff for the past five years, will be Acting Principal of the School of Agriculture.

Tag Day for Blind October 19th

The Frog Lake Chapter of the I.O.D.E. is sponsoring the annual campaign for funds for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind in Vermilion. A canvass will be made in a limited area of the town and permission for a Tag Day on October 19th has been obtained from the town of Vermilion.

Close your eyes for a moment and think what it would be if you could never open them again. You were condemned to live in perpetual darkness. Open your eyes again! And be thankful for the gift of sight.

In a world where night is permanent the blind do not ask for your sympathy. Whether the vision is 20-20 or a complete blank, a person asks for one thing only. A chance to be independent and make his own way.

Through the facilities and services provided by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, more than 1250 Albertans who dwell in darkness are learning to make the most of their own particular and limited world.

Your donation will greatly assist in maintaining and expanding the program of services which the Canadian National Institute for the Blind extends to our fellow citizens.

Vermilion Back in E.A.H.L.; Bonnyville and Lashburn Invited

Chances appear bright that the Eastern Alberta Hockey league will operate this winter as a four or five team loop. TO SAVE YOUR HEAD - USE IT —

Many lives can be saved from fire simply by keeping cool and using your head. So say experts of the Association of Canadian Fire Marshals and the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs who, during Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 6 to 12, are doing their best to emphasize the dangers of fire in the home.

The average householder may conquer a small fire but the best thing to do in case of fire is to notify the fire department. If you have a telephone and can't remember the number (you should post the number near your telephone) tell the operator, being sure you give her the correct address. Stay near a door or a window so any sudden burst of flame cannot trap you. If you are fighting a fire with a hose or any type of water stream, always aim at the burning object, never at the smoke [redacted]. If the fire is spread out over the floor or ground start at the end nearest you and sweep it out completely as you advance. If the fire is travelling up a wall, put out the fire at the bottom first and then follow it up.

In fighting a fire caused by electricity first turn off the power. You should know the location of the main house switch. This prevents the fire from being re-ignited and also avoids the possibility of giving yourself a severe electrical shock.

For most boys, "being a fireman" is the height of ambition. It's easy for parents to teach children simple good fire-fighting practice by making a game of it. Who in the family does what, where and when in fire emergency can be a fascinating topic for family discussion.

It's true according to the experts, that more people are killed by smoke and poisonous fumes given off by fire than by actual flames. Many fires occur at night and by the time you waken they will have gained a [redacted]. Don't rush out into it. Feel the door first. If it is hot don't try to open it as the hall is probably full of fire that will burst in. Brace the door if possible. If you can, throw water on it to keep it cool. Open your window and attempt to attract outside attention. Never jump unless it is absolutely necessary. Wait for the firemen to take you down with ladders. The wait may seem long, but the average fire department is on the job within minutes of an alarm.

Deadly smoke and gases as well as actual flames tend to rise. Open stairways and open [redacted] assist their progress. As a result, upper floors are usually the most dangerous. Investigation has shown that people are overcome much more quickly while sleeping on upper floors than those sleeping on ground floors.

Don't give fire a place to start. But if one does come, use your head and you'll probably save it.

It's age-old advice — and it's worth repeating.

Details of Egg Marketing Vote Are Announced

Details of the forthcoming egg marketing plebiscite were announced last week with the passing of an order-in-council setting the dates for balloting.

Ballots will be mailed to poultrymen around Nov. 8, and must be filled out and mailed to the returning office in Edmonton not later than Dec. 6. Enumeration is going on now among producers with 30 or more hens and those with between 20 and 30 can register voluntarily for the vote.

Government officials estimate some 40,000 poultrymen will be eligible. About half of these own 30 or more hens.

It will be an important plebiscite for poultry farmers. If a majority votes in favor and a board is set up it will be compulsory for all producers to market their commercial eggs through the board, whether they like it or not. Excluded are eggs shipped to hatcheries and those sold by the producer directly to the consumer.

Before a board can be set up, there must be an affirmative vote from at least 51 per cent of those eligible to cast ballots.

"RECREATION"

By SID [redacted]

This is the second in a series of articles on 'Recreation'.

This week we are going to delve into the relationship that the leader and director have with recreation. Why do we need play leaders after saying that play especially in children is spontaneous? This question is asked by people daily. Often the kind of answers they get are:

To keep the kids on the play lot and off the streets.

Supply love and affection to those who seem to lack it at [redacted].

Keep the kids out of juvenile [redacted].

No wonder the taxpayer is reluctant to approve a raise in mill rate if this is what he is paying for. Anybody, but anybody could be a play leader if the above reasons were entirely true.

Let's look at the real role of such a leader in play and recreation. We know that it is good citizenship that our country strives to develop. Reviewing last week's article we understand that this is primarily obtained through education and recreation. In education, regardless of how many beautiful buildings we erect, if these same facilities are not properly staffed, little will be gained. The result of learning, in education, is no better than the training and quality of the teachers. In recreation the same circumstance prevails. Firstly these leaders must be qualified. They must go into their groups, classes and lots, motivated by a proper understanding of what they are really there to do, an attitude toward the activity, that will be caught by those participating. Social psychologists tell us that, what a man will accept as factual information, how he will perceive a situation and use his education in it, will depend on his attitudes, emotions, feelings and sentiments. From this, then, it is clear what the leaders' role is. To organize a game, or activity is one thing, to develop attitudes, [redacted] feelings from it is another. It is important that these feelings, attitudes, sentiments and emotions are consistent with the culture and society in which he lives. A very simple example would be, that men always come before women in India, whereas this is not always the case here in Canada. This would have a terrific bearing on an activity in both countries, but be very different in each. The leader must consider very definitely the age with which he is working. He must be very conscious of the fact that leadership in [redacted] is a human affair.

The fundamental role of the leader is:

1. To initiate activity which people will enjoy, voluntarily. He must understand human motivation, otherwise play will not be spontaneous in children, or enjoyable for adults.

2. To maintain the activity long enough for the participants to catch new ideas, ideals and attitudes from it. A chance to express themselves in that activity. It stands then that the leader must insure continuity of activity.

3. To set standards for the activity. These standards must be such that attitudes, ideals will be concerned with the development of good citizenship.

4. To constantly evaluate activity in terms of human quality. The leaders' success cannot be judged in terms of badges, championships, number of participants but in the change of behavior of the participants, with [redacted] to [redacted] attitudes and feelings.

It is quite evident that the reasons given at the beginning of this article are certainly not complete, and in some cases are not even relative.

In choosing leaders then, much must be considered. Is the person in the activity for the activity profession, is he wishing to become a 'professional babysitter', is he acquainted with activity which he will be in contact? Usually in organizing leader staff, where recreation is new, active people become automatic choices. These people are sent to "Activity School" and their first step toward organized recreation. In the case of voluntary leaders, again the activity is specific, and the person has a specified ability common to the activity.

In all cases the director, commission or organization sponsoring the activity, must evaluate its leaders, as to whether the leaders focal point is on Championships or Citizenship.

In recreation leadership is a very important factor. Where recreation is organized, councils must continually keep an eye toward good paid and voluntary leaders. It is important enough to predict success or failure in any program.

The leader's job in recreation is an important one, good leadership is worth many taxation dollars.

Bowtell Bulletin

Since writing our last news winter has overtaken us with much harvesting to be done yet.

Thanks to the section men Bernard Riedale, Frank Robinson and Tommy King for their kind help with threshing making the Sherwood's one of the lucky ones to be all done harvesting before the snow came.

All were sorry to see their old friends and neighbors for so many years, leave our midst on Oct. [redacted] their 33rd wedding anniversary. A farewell party was held at the Sherwood home in the form of a Leader Lodge meeting prior to their departure. 21 were present. They were each presented with a gift from the club by Mrs. Williams. Vic and Rose thanked each one and extended an invitation to all to visit them in their new home in Langley, B.C.

A farewell was also held at the community hall in the form of a card party to which the whole district was invited. Mr Jim Miller presented Mr and Mrs. Dedelly with a purse of money and good wishes from their many friends and neighbors. We all hope you arrived safely folks and that Vic's health will improve with the change in climate.

Quite a number in our district have the flu, fortunately it only lasts for a few days.

We extend our own and the district's deepest sympathy to the Isley family on the loss of a loving wife and mother. She was a real old timer.

Enjoyed your visit on Saturday Mrs. Wellington — the peanuts were good!

Six men worked on the telephone line Monday and it is hoped to have the line divided in the near future. Mr Bob Mullin and family are now enjoying the phone.

The Kostium family enjoyed a day Tuesday at Lloydminster. They are enjoying too a new [illegible] refrigerator and deep freeze.

WOODVALE

We have not been able to collect much news lately, partly because we have been extra busy and partly due to telephone line troubles which hampers gathering of local happenings.

Let us begin by offering our sincere sympathy to Mr. John Isley and family in their recent bereavement. The loss of a loving wife and mother is always hard to bear. The eldest daughter from B.C. had come to see her a week before and had left a day or two before her mother's death. While here, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Labine, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Frederic and baby also visited Wes Isley and family and Mr. and Mrs. Kottmeier in our district.

We used to fear the equinoxal storms but this time they brought a change to lovely Indian summer weather and now only two weeks later winter weather and thunderstorms with hail, rain, sleet and snow. Now we will have to wait once again patiently, to see if it will clear in time for farmers to complete harvesting. Quite a number have all their threshing and combining done, while others are barely started.

We are a week late with congratulations for Mrs. Belle McGrath, who celebrated her 85th birthday on October 3rd at the family home.

Chris Thomson underwent an operation on his hand a few weeks ago in Edmonton, which was going numb caused by an injury many years ago, apparently.

Ducks have done quite a lot of damage in the fields. We have not seen such large flocks in [redacted].

Frankie Wolters, while hunting one day, met a tame duck which followed him, and feels quite at home on the farm. It probably was very glad after its long walk over the prairie to arrive at "Birds' Haven."

There will be a church service this coming Sunday, October 13 at Ganton hall.

The ladies of the Red Cross Auxiliary held their monthly meeting and quilting bee on Oct. 2nd at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Portsmith, with eight members present. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Gladys Wolters on Nov. 6th.

Varsity Graduates Wed At First United Church

The bride, who holds a B.Sc degree in Nursing from the University of Alberta, and a member of Delta Delta Delta fraternity, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sutherland.

The groom, a graduate in dental surgery from the same university, and a member of Phi Kappa Pi, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Lemiski, Vernon, B.C.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a princess style floor-length gown of white French chiffon velvet. The rounded neckline and bodice was trimmed with opalescent sequins and seed pearls, and fashioned with long lily point sleeves.

The head crown which held the full-length embroidered veil in place, was trimmed with seed pearls and sequins, and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and purple heather.

BRIDESMAIDS IN RED VELVET

Bridal attendants were Miss Shirley Slotzer, maid of honor, Miss Hildegard Lange and Miss Ileen Shattuck were bridesmaids. They wore identical cocktail length gowns of red velvet, fashioned on princess lines with full skirts posed over crinolines. Head pieces of white feather bandeaux, and long white gloves [redacted] their costumes. Each carried a trailing bouquet of white Fugi chrysanthemums.

Mr. Frank Lemiski, brother of the groom, was best man, and ushers were Dr. Harvey Bridges and Mr. Melvin Garbutt.

Mrs. A. M. West played the wedding music and Mr. Erland Krefting sang The Lord's Prayer during the ceremony, and The Wedding Prayer during the signing of the register.

At a reception in the Masonic hall, Mr. J R. Boake proposed a toast to the bride, and the best man proposed a toast to the bridesmaids. Telegrams of congratulations and best wishes to the happy couple were [redacted] read.

Mrs. A. Sutherland, grandmother of the bride, poured tea, while Mrs. M. H. C. Ford and Mrs. I. K. Sutherland, aunts of the bride, poured coffee.

Mrs. A. Mead was in charge of the guest book.

For travelling, the bride changed to a teal blue wool sheath dress, and a Normink Borgana jacket. She wore a black velvet picture hat and black accessories. A corsage of pink carnations and heather completed her ensemble.

After a honeymoon to California, Dr and Mrs. Lemiski will make their home in Vernon, B.C.

Guests attending the wedding from out of town were: Mr and Mrs. M Lemiski, Frank and Michael, Mr and Mrs M Garbutt, all of Vernon, B.C.; Dr Harvey Bridges, South Burnaby, B.C.; Cpl. and Mrs. J Nazimek and Donald, Lethbridge; Mr and Mrs. M. Happy Hour W. A. Meets At Mannville

MANNVILLE — Considering the elements and illness of some members, a good crowd was present at the monthly meeting of the Mannville Happy Hour W.A. on Thursday of last week, there being 13 members in attendance, in the church basement. Plans for a wedding reception were adopted for the October project. Introduced by Mrs. Forsythe, a new idea for raising funds was accepted. Two visitors were present, Mrs. Sweeney, a newcomer to Mannville, and daughter Muriel (Mrs. [redacted]).

Poliomyelitis Diminished Through Use of Vaccine

The recent National Immunization Week was given emphasis by an article entitled "Victory Over Polio" written especially for the current issue of Health Magazine, official publication of the Health League of Canada, by Dr E. H Loosing, and Mrs. F. Whitridge. Dr Loosing is Chief Epidemiology Division, National Health and Welfare, and Mrs. Whitridge is Technical Information Officer Epidemiology Division, Department of National Health and Welfare.

No case of paralytic poliomyelitis has occurred in any child in Canada where the vaccine was considered to be responsible" the article states. "Because it contains all three types of poliomyelitis virus the Salk vaccine is known as a trivalent vaccine. In order to be effective, it must contain all three types of virus since infection with one type does not necessarily provide immunity against attack by one of the other types."

"The first two injections are given with an interval of approximately four weeks. In order to ensure maximum effect, a third booster dose of the vaccine is given after a period of at least seven months. This third dose enables the individual to activate a "booster mechanism" so that when exposed to the disease, his body is able to quickly produce antibodies in sufficient quantity to prevent the poliomyelitis virus from reaching the central nervous system, thus causing paralysis."

The article points out that poliomyelitis is no longer a disease confined to young. "More and more cases are occurring in the adult population, and it is now not unusual for young adults to be severely stricken. In recent years approximately one third of all paralytic cases are occurred in those aged twenty and over.

"Up to the present time approaching four million Canadian children have been vaccinated, although with the exception of pregnant women and certain hazardous occupational groups, few vaccinations will have been given to persons over twenty years of age.

"As results indicate that the vaccine is both safe and effective, it is hoped that the program will be extended in the near future to include every person in Canada under the age of forty. Within a few years poliomyelitis may become a disease as rare as smallpox, which has competely disappeared in Canada since the use of [illegible] vaccinations," the article concludes.

WILDMERE WINKS

Our community was deeply saddened when word came that an old neighbor of many years, Mrs. John Isley, had passed away. She and her husband have made their home for several years in Vermilion. Settling on a homestead in what is now the Triangle district in the spring of 1912 and where some of her family were born, she was always a grand neighbor and gave help where needed, ever willingly. Being the mother of twelve children all of them alive was something to be very proud of. Her friendly greeting and happy smile one always got will be greatly missed. Deepest sympathy to Mr. Isley who has lost a loving wife and constant companion for over 60 years. To her sorrowing sons and daughters, grandchildren and great grandchildren, also goes our sympathy in the loss of a wonderful mother and grandmother. The well-filled church bespoke the high esteem the deceased and her family hold in town and surrounding communities. Rev MacKay and Rev. Shroeder gave a very comforting service to the bereaved ones. Hymns sung were "What a friend we have in Jesus" and "Rock of Ages", favorites of Mr. and Mrs Isley. Mr Thos. Watts sang "In the Garden". It can be truly said, "Well done good and faithful servant, take now thy well-earned rest".

A nice attendance at the wedding on Saturday at the United church of Alice Clark and Howard Lumley. A reception was held later at the Rio Cafe.

Mr and Mrs. John Wilson moved to Vermilion over the week end. They will be greatly missed in our district, however they still own their farm and we will no doubt see them out in the country come next spring. John is one of Wildmere's pioneer residents, coming in 1906 with his parents from Scotland. He has resided here ever since except for a year in Vermilion and in Heatherbell now known as Buffalo Coulee. He has been secretary for the telephone company and for the power company and served as trouble man on the telephone for many years. Mrs Wilson taught at the old Preston school for several years and is now teaching at Islay. Mr and Mrs Wilson were the originators of curling in our district. John made wooden rocks and many a happy hour was enjoyed throwing them down the ice sheet before regular rocks were bought. All the neighbors wish this fine couple every happiness in their new home. It is hoped John's health will improve now he is away from the farm. Don't forget your Wildmere friends folks. 686 is their phone number in Vermilion.

Mrs. Frank Mergl lost her wrist watch in town on Sept. 14. Mr. P. McGuigan of Islay picked it up at Craig's corner the same evening. Those Islay men are sure honest Mrs. Mergl, as it was Mr W. McLean of Islay who found and returned the writer's watch to her.

Mrs. J. M. Smith of Vancouver is here visiting her family, Bill, Adam and Albert and Mrs. C. Cruthers. She spent a few days in Edmonton visiting her sons Alex and Norman and families. Bill, Adam and Mrs. Cruthers went to the city on Monday by car to get their mother.

Mr Chris Thomsen of Tolland has at present Mr Henry Ferguson visiting him from near Kamloops, B.C. Henry lived for many years in Wildmere before moving to B.C.

Messrs. Wm. Gillman and W.A. Kibblewhite are now burning gas in their stoves, having connected to the gas line some six weeks ago. We are sure they will enjoy it.

We had a nice chat over a cup of tea with Mrs. Moore on Friday and with Mrs. Sherwood on Saturday; later sat and visited with the Sherwoods in their car. Lars Knutson also dropped in for a chat. Have you got the peanuts and weiners eaten folks?

Remember that the Preston Central Home and School will hold their first meeting of the season at the school on Tuesday, Oct. 15. Come out and support your Home and School. Amusement as well as business is being planned for this meeting. Mrs. Gilbert Harrison is president and Mrs. Wallington is the secretary. Each one is requested to bring some lunch for this meeting. Coffee will be served. Don't forget the date, Oct. 15th.

Snow and rain have put a stop to harvesting in a hurry. However we were lucky compared to what other folks got. Just think two feet of snow in the Peace River and our ground only barely covered. Edmonton had several inches of snow too. It's something we ought to be thankful for. Lots of people have potatoes still in the ground. An old pioneer Miss Wilson, once told the writer potatoes should be dug in September, which certainly appears to be good advice.

Miss Anne Garnett is at present visiting at her home in Basswood.

Mr R. Gilholme of Edmonton also visited and helped thresh at the Garnett home. He returned to Edmonton on Friday evening. He has sold his home at Vancouver and bought one in Edmonton where he, his daughter Elsie and son Richard will reside.

Pampering poodles is a lucrative business in New York, reports The Financial Post. Recent fashion show featured these items of poodlewear: Yellow beach robe and matching mitts (7.50), cocktail collar and matching apron for owner ($17); mink coats ($200-plus).

NEWS from DEWBERRY

The community was deeply shocked on Sunday morning to hear of the untimely death by suffocation of one of its best known and respected business men, Mr J. S. McKay. The sincere sympathy of the people of Dewberry and surrounding districts is extended to Mrs. McKay in her sad and sudden bereavement.

Real winter weather has hit the district. One evening we had quite a mixture, rain, hail, thunder and lightning, then one afternoon it was rain snow and a thunderstorm. The first storm put the power off in the east end of the village for two hours. The west end power was not affected.

The bad roads owing to snow, rain and freezing temperatures have caused a lot of skidding and many cars and trucks have ended up in the ditches.

Mrs. Elmer Elliott is still in the Vermilion hospital. Her condition is still about the same, showing very little improvement.

Joe Philbin is a patient in the Islay hospital. Mrs. Allen spent two days in Islay hospital where she had a small cyst removed from her hand. It is improving.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs. Howard Lumley on their recent marriage.

Congratulations also to Mr and Mrs David Munro on their 40th wedding anniversary, Oct. 6th. Sorry we could not get to the reception folks but the best of luck to you both.

The C.W.L. bingo scheduled for Oct 9th has been postponed until Tuesday evening Oct. 15th. All ladies of the St. Anthony's parish are asked to bring six bags of lunch.

Remember the date folks for the Ladies Aid chicken supper is Nov. 6th. Admission, adults $1; 12 and under 50 cents and pre-school age 25c.

Remember also that Oct. 15th is the date for voting on the electric by-law and franchise. If you wish your electric bill to be lower come out and vote.

Information On Marketing Boards

With the present keen interest in producer marketing boards, a bulletin now available from the Department of Extension, University of Alberta, will be welcomed. 'The development of Producer Marketing Boards in Canadian Agriculture,' will be its title. Prepared by Dr. Wm. Mackenzie, Associate Professor of Political Economy, and by L.E. Poetschke, the publication provides a valuable source of information.

As well as an outline and history of legislation on producer marketing boards in Canada the report contains charts that show clearly the delegation of powers under marketing legislation of the various provinces. The evolution and operation of marketin boards in B.C. and Ontario are discussed and similiar information is presented for other regions.

The object of the publication is well stated in the introduction. 'It is not the purpose here to debate whether or not farmers shoud be allowed to have the powers to bring about compulsory marketing,' the authors say. 'The powers have been granted, and, in what follows, it is the nature and extent of those powers which is examined. The use made of them by boards formed in the various provinces of Canada is also considered. The purpose is to put together an account of the development and use of legislation on marketing boards so that some assessment can be made of the degree to which the powers granted have led to more efficient marketing.'

Those desiring more than superficial knowledge of the subject will find much to interest them in 'The Development of Producer Marketing Boards in Canadian Agriculture.' Copies may be had on request from the Department of Extension, University of Alberta, Edmonton.

Gardening Tips For Fall

Wondering whether to transplant and prune shrubs this fall? It's better to do it in the early spring before the sap starts running, says P. D. McCalla, Supervisor of Horticulture in Alberta.

Clean up your garden through the use of a compost heap. All healthy plant matter may be added, including fallen leaves. Diseased refuse should be destroyed. Some gardeners apply fertilizer and a thin layer of soil between the organic matter for added richness. Fallen leaves may also be worked directly into the soil.

When lifting garden vegetables use the same gentle care eggs deserve as a precaution against bruising. Store most vegetables in a relatively high humidity with the temperature 30 to 40 degrees. A thermometer hung from the centre of the ceiling will register the overall temperature best.

Mr McCalla closes with a word about lawns. Continue giving them the same care they received during the growing season. Don't cut the grass too short or leave it too long before winter arrives. A height of about 3 ins. is fine. Continue watering the lawn in the fall as a prevention against winter kill. It is not necessary to apply commercial fertilizer at this time of year.

LOCAL NEWS

An item in the Fairview Post tells of a farewell party held in honor of Miss Edna Allen who was leaving that town to reside in Edmonton. Edna received a gift of a Bulova watch. It will be remembered that Miss Allen was a beauty parlor operator in Vermilion for several years prior to her departure for Fairview.

Friends here of Mr. and Mrs. John Knight and family will be interested to learn that they have recently moved to Fairview where Mr. Knight has been appointed accountant at the School of Agriculture. Mr. and Mrs. Knight lived in Vermilion for several years, moving to Edmonton in 1955 when he joined the staff of the audit department of the provincial government.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jones of the Canadian National returned home recently from a holiday spent at Mission, B.C. where they visited two of Ray's brothers.

Mrs. A. Cameron arrived home on Monday following an enjoyable holiday spent visiting her daughter Jean (Mrs. King), husband and family at Haney, B.C. She report the weather as being very lovely at Haney but lots of snow was in evidence all the way home. She was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Johnson of Mannville.

Geese Catching It This Week

The geese are catching it hot and heavy this week as several parties of Vermilion hunters moved in on the goose feeding grounds. Leaving last Saturday were Messrs Elmer Stewart, Gordon Ross, Carman Long and Dr D. Stewart of Edmonton. On Sunday a group of four with deluxe trailer accommodation was seen headed for the hunting grounds, the members being Tom McPherson, Bill Sutherland, Reg Mitchell and Gordon Park. On Monday this week a threesome of Jim Ferguson, Dr Bob Anderson and J. H. Tellefson pulled out. No doubt there are other parties who have slipped away without the Standard knowing it.

Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Hutchinson will be at home to their friends and neighbors on Sunday, October 13th from 2 to 5 p.m., the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Rhodes who have been visiting at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. J. V. Kneale and Mr. Kneale, have now left for Niagara and New York on the return trip to their home in London, Eng. They will sail on board the Queen Mary. Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes have been in Canada since June, most of the time being spent with Mr. and Mrs. Kneale.

APPRECIATION

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the very pleasant holiday spent in your lovely town, and for the wonderful hospitality received while here. It was a pleasure to meet so many charming people during our stay. We hope that some day we will meet you all again. Our best wishes to each and everyone.

Anne and Cecil Rhodes

Attending the annual meeting of District No. 10 A.F. & A.M. at the Masonic Temple in Edmonton on Wednesday afternoon were S. C. Heckbert, Wm. Fooks, Jos Hart, Wm Dixon, Roy Walker and Geo. Webb.

Mr and Mrs. Arnold Maggs and family have now taken up residence at Wainwright, where Arnold is employed at the army camp.

Mrs. Elder returned last week end from Vancouver where she spent a three weeks holiday visiting at the home of her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Elder and baby of Calgary are holidaying in Vermilion, guests of Bill's sister Mrs. Frank Welsh and mother Mrs. Elder.

The hotter the fire, the cooler your head should be.

A note from Hugh Rose from Vancouver states the weather is very good there and that there has been a heavy crop of vegetables and fruit. B.C. also has the largest hay crop for some years and in Hugh's opinion it will be only a matter of time before B.C. will be able to produce all the beef and pork they require. He also notes that U.S. buyers are buying all the feeder cattle they can. Bill Peachey, formerly of the Claysmore district was just in for a visit with Hugh.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to express my sincere appreciation and thanks to the friends and neighbors who brought their mowers, rakes, tractors and horses and helped hay for two days. Such kindness will never be forgotten.

Mrs. T. Sweeney

Campus Families Farewell Bentleys

Members of the campus families at the Vermilion School of Agriculture gathered together on Monday evening to farewell Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Bentley who are shortly leaving to spend a year in Egypt. During the course of the evening Mrs. Ken Stone presented Mrs. Bentley with a beautiful corsage, and Mr. Alex Palin on behalf of the campus families gave Mr. Bentley a very fine set of binoculars. These were presented with the admonition, "Have a good look and tell us all about it when you come home."

Mr. and Mrs. Bentley have a year's leave of absence and will work with UNESCO in Egypt for that length of time.

Visitors to Vermilion Travel by Plane

Robert J. McGinnis and Wayne L. Wright, both from Fort Vermilion, landed their Cessna plane at the Vermilion airport on Saturday, Oct. 5th en route from Le Pas, Manitoba to Fort Vermilion. Mr Wright owns a farm at Le Pas and at Fort Vermilion where he grows registered and certified forage crops. He spends the winter at his home in Phoenix, Arizona. Bob is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm McGinnis of Vermilion.

On Sunday morning the McGinnis families gathered at the airport and twenty were taken up for rides, five at a time. Later a delicious chicken dinner was served to thirty relatives and friends at the home of Bob's sister, Mr and Mrs R. W. Mullen.

On Sunday afternoon Mr Wright flew a party composed of Roger Rowe, Clarence Neis and Norman McGinnis down to the Youngstown area, spotting a goose shoot for the following Tuesday. The trip down and back took two hours and forty minutes.

Due to a 16-inch snowfall at Fort Vermilion, Bob and Wayne were forced to stay in Vermilion until Monday noon. While here the boys were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm McGinnis.

Bob plans to motor out from Fort Vermilion for a two weeks vacation with his wife and family very soon.

Mystery of Talking Sewer Pipe Solved

The mystery of the sounds emanating from the main sewer stack at the residence of Mrs. Nafziger has been solved. The source of the sounds was a ham radio operated from the house next door. Quite a lot of interest was aroused by the sound of voices being transmitted via the sewer stack.

LOST DOG NOT WANTED

Mrs. Fred Luchyk has a German pointer hunting dog at her farm 14 miles south of Vermilion and wants the owner to claim him immediately. The dog figures that the barnyard fowl, hens and turkeys are fair game and he must be kept tied up all the time. It has apparently become lost from its owner, who could possibly be from distant points.

MARWAYNE

Some of the local football fans attended the game between Edmonton and Winnipeg on Saturday night. During the fifth quarter at the Airlines hotel Mrs. Martha Hutchinson, being the lady from the farthest distance, was declared Miss Eskimo for this week and presented with a beautiful chrysanthemum corsage.

The Anglican W.A. will serve coffee and have a bake sale on Saturday evening Oct. 19th in Mr. Elliott's office. The Anglican Thanksgiving church service will be on Oct. 20th at 11 a.m. On Friday, Nov. 22 the W.A. will hold their bazaar.

The Home and School meeting will be held on Tuesday Oct. 15 at 8 p.m.

A bake sale and baking contest sponsored by the Searle Grain Co. will be held in the community hall on Friday Nov. 8. See posters and full details later.

There will not be a chicken supper so donations for a produce table will be gratefully received.

Church service and Sunday school will be held together at [illegible] p.m. next Sunday, Thanksgiving. Church service for the next three months will be at 3 p.m. Sunday school at 2 p.m.

PROUD OF BASEBALL

Billy Surby, young son of Cpl. and Mrs. S. Surby, is the proud possessor of a baseball autographed by the 28 members of the Chicago White Sox American league ball club. Apparently Billy expressed a wish for such a keepsake in the hearing of a relative who lives in Chicago — and the wish came true. Billy is an ardent ball player in the Little League, as well as a big league fan.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere gratitude and appreciation to those who gave floral tributes and sympathy cards, also to those many friends and neighbors who helped in various ways during our bereavement. Many thanks to Dr Rose and the staff of Elk Point hospital for their kindly care and attention.

The book-lined shelves form a natural background to enhance this picture story of two small fry playing boss-and secretary roles.

Choose Background With Care

One of the most important questions you picture-takers can ask yourselves is "What's behind it all?" No, we're not suggesting you turn into a Sherlock Holmes or a psychoanalyst—we're just recommending that you get into the habit of looking behind your subject as well as at it before you shoot a picture.

In many instances—where exposure, distance, viewpoint and the subject are all the same—it's the choice of background that determines the success of the finished print. What are the best backgrounds? Well, first of all, simple ones—those that complement rather than clutter your picture story, while at the same time offering some contrast in color or brightness.

Next, according to the total effect you want to create, decide whether a neutral background or a natural one is the more appropriate. A sweep of blue sky or green lawn, a painted wall or an unpatterned drapery would be considered a neutral background—one that adds nothing to the actual story value of your picture, but serves merely as a plain backdrop.

A natural background, on the other hand, provides something more. It's a setting for the action being performed by the person you're snapping — and as such adds its own story-telling elements to the picture. A shot of a little girl playing with a toy baking set will be twice as effective taken right in the kitchen—the natural setting for such "homemaking" tasks—than if she were pictured holding her rolling pin and cake pans on the front porch.

Choosing your backgrounds with care—and an eye on the simple and uncluttered—will give you a better picture every time. So be sure to look behind your subject before you click your shutter!

Fire Prevention Week October 6th to 12th Decreed By Governor-General Massey

Proclaiming Oct. 6 to 12 as Fire Prevention Week, Governor-General Vincent Massey has drawn urgent attention to the national importance of the protection of life, property and natural resources from fire.

In the last ten years, His Excellency states, fires in Canada [illegible] have [illegible] a tragic toll of [illegible] lives and have burned and disfigured at least 16,000 persons. The direct financial loss [illegible] fires in the decade was $975 million. In 1956 alone, the death toll in 83,000 fires was 601 and the cost of these fires in the communities and countryside of Canada's ten provinces was $115 million. The figures include the Yukon and the North West Territories. They do not include forest fire loss, approaching another $15 million.

As the Association of Canadian Fire Marshals and the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs jointly point out, one single fire in which 601 persons perished and $115 million of property destroyed would constitute one of Canada's greatest national disasters. And such a conflagration would rate as one of the worst in all world history. Only six lives, for example, were lost in the Great Fire of London in 1666.

Because human carelessness and neglect is the cause of most fires, a program of public education was deemed to be the most effective way of meeting the shocking situation in Canada. And for the past three years, the two Associations, representative of the army of Canada's 27,000 firemen — professional and volunteer — have energetically pursued their jointly-sponsored crusade.

The appeal especially is directed to the home. It is in the home that most fires and most deaths occur — more tragic because many of the victims are children, women and folk of senior years.

But while the appeal is highlighted each year during Fire Prevention Week in October — the start of the long winter period of cold weather and hot fires — the appeal by the men who must always be ready to answer the call of "fire" is maintained throughout the entire year, particularly in the encouragement of free and voluntary inspections of the home's hazards whether such hazards be "built in" or the result of indifferent housekeeping.

That the effort seems to be achieving some result, the fire-fighters are hopeful.

Releasing comparative 1956 and 1955 provincial [illegible] property loss figures, the Joint Fire Prevention committee of the two associations reported a slight reduction in the total for the year, per head of population.

	1956	1955
Per capita loss, excluding forest waste	$7.21	$7.26
Deaths	601	[illegible]

While the achievement may be short-run, it is a step in the right direction. Less optimistic, despite last year's 400,000 population increase, is the fact that deaths increased to 601, from [illegible] in 1955.

That this battle of public education — surely one of the great [illegible] of peacetime — can surely if slowly prevail, is the belief of the fire services and the many agencies which contribute wholeheartedly to the cause — the Vermilion Standard among them.

Last Thursday the W. A. of Knox United Church was held at the home of the Misses Stone. Plans were laid for a chicken supper on October 23. It was also decided to lay linoleum on the floor of the Church Hall, and to purchase a gas unit to convert a cook stove, which is being donated by the Anderson's.

Farm Forum Committee Plans Fall Rally November 4th

LAVOY — November 4th sees the beginning of the 18th season of National Farm Radio Forum on CBC with the topic being "National Farm Policy." Farm Radio Forum has been rated the fourth best participated program on the CBC and as farmers we are indeed fortunate in having such a program which deals with so many vital topics in which we are interested. Farm Forum is a weekly meeting of members to exchange ideas, by discussion groups whose motto is "Read, Listen, Discuss, Act!" It is essentially an educational program, badly needed because of the complexities of agriculture and the age in which we live. Properly organized it can do much to further develop rural citizenship in Canada.

Five members of the Northern Alberta Farm Forum committee met on Saturday at the D. A.'s office in Vegreville, to lay plans for the annual Fall Rally, scheduled to be held November 4th at 8:15 p.m., place to be announced later. It is hoped to have National Secretary Floyd Griesbach and Alberta Secretary Jim McFall attend. Each group attending is requested to bring along a radio, an extension cord, and to be responsible for one item on the program, be it a song, stunt or game.

The Fall Workshop is planned to take place in Banff, October 31st, November 1st and 2nd, and all interested are asked to contact Dan Giebelhaus, Vegreville.

Many Vermilion People Join Overture Concert Association

A highly successful campaign for membership in the Lloydminster Overture Concert Association has been run in Vermilion. This is reported by the local committee composed of Mrs. Minchin, Mrs. Boake, Miss Stephens, Mrs. Shalka, Miss Margaret Goodwin and Miss Donna McCauley. In Lloydminster itself and its surrounding district the membership will exceed the original goal of 450 members, without counting Vermilion, which has also exceeded its suggested total of 50. With a few people still to be heard from on the subject, over that number has been reached now. It is hoped that more students from the high school will be able to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity before the end of the week too. Any other latecomers who wish to participate may do so by getting in touch with Mrs. Minchin, phone number 66, or with any of the other members of the committee."

The success of the campaign here and in Lloydminster ensures the success of the concert series. The more members, the more funds there will be to devote to bringing in the finest available artists to entertain. At least four excellent programmes can now be counted on at the very least. Details of these will be made known later.

It has been suggested that any members who may require transportation to Lloydminster for any of the concerts should give their names to Mrs Minchin and also any members who have extra room in their cars and could take additional passengers.

George Martin Guest Speaker At Rotary Noon Luncheon

George Martin, co-ordinator of civil defence for the M.D. of Vermilion River and the Town of Vermilion was the guest speaker at the Rotary meeting on Friday, Oct 4th. This proved a very appropriate program as it was national civil defence day. Mr Martin dwelt on the need for civil defence and what would be expected of the citizens of this area in case of an H-bomb attack. He also stated that people in Vermilion were decidedly not civil defence minded. He himself was of the opinion that sometime we would be able to make use of our civil defence knowledge.

George was introduced by Newcombe Bentley and thanked for his talk by president Tom McPherson.

A second feature of last Friday's program was a vocational talk by Ed Corley. Ed traced the development of the measurement of time from the very beginning and an enlightening and interesting talk was the result. George Webb introduced Ed giving a bit of his history while thanks of the club were voiced by Gordon Park.

In appreciation for the very fine steak barbecue held at the home of Mr and Mrs. Bill Cross on the previous Sunday, Hilda was presented with a gift via husband Bill.

Curtis Wilson saw a Norway rat Friday on the road north of town. He tried to run over the animal as it crossed the road but missed. Curtis, who spent some time in Ontario, is quite familiar with the undesirable rat.

Paul Hareuther and Herb La mouraux enjoyed a very successful goose shoot in the New Brigden area early this week. They brought home their quota of geese and a few big ducks.

Snow and rain of the past week brought all harvesting operations to a standstill. Even at that only a light fall of snow was experienced here while other parts of Alberta received from five to 18 inches. Heavier snow falls commenced just west of Mannville and got progressively heavier from there on. Last Friday .30 of an inch of precipitation was received in the form of snow and another .10 on Saturday. This week has been dry with only Wednesday and Thursday showing a tendency to moderation.

Showers Fete Bride-Elect of Oct. 12th

Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Douglas Cooper, Mrs. Frank Welsh and Mrs. Kenneth Urquhart were co-hostesses at a [illegible] shower on Friday evening, Oct 4th at the home of Mrs. Smith in honor of Miss Donna Cooper, whose marriage to Mr Victor Kuzek takes place on Saturday, October 12th. Twenty-seven ladies were in attendance.

Gifts were presented in a novel manner being pulled into the room on a toboggan which bore the sign "Whitehorse, here I come." As Donna unwrapped each gift the donor was called on to enact what it was with the other ladies guessing the contents of the gaily bedecked packages. Many and wierd were the acts performed adding much gaiety to the evening.

A sumptuous lunch was served by the hostesses. Donna expressed her deep appreciation for the many wonderful gifts and multitude of good wishes.

TEEN AGERS SHOWER DONNA COOPER

On Wednesday evening, October 9th, eighteen 'teen-agers gathered at the home of Mrs. Agnes Goodwin when Miss Donna Cooper was showered with kitchen utensils of every variety. Hostesses on this occasion were Mrs. Goodwin, Misses Margaret and Carol Goodwin and Mrs. Ruth Barr.

Quite a wonderful variety of gifts were found, Donna being directed to the hiding place of each by a telegram in code, carrying her back to her days as C.N.R. telegraph delivery girl.

As to be expected when eighteen 'teen-age girls gather together fun and hilarity prevailed all evening. The bride-elect thanked her host of young friends for the gifts, good wishes and enjoyable evening, saying that all the fine presents made her more anxious than ever to set up housekeeping.

The first supper meeting of the new season was held by the Anglican Men's Club on Monday evening in St. Saviour's Parish Hall. The committee of chefs was comprised of Ken Urquhart, Syd Burdett, Walter Coulter and Don Keene. They served up a delicious menu of roast beef and Yorkshire pudding.

Vice-president Gib Stephen was in the chair for the business session. The guest speaker was Mr Karl Balzum who has come to live in Vermilion from the Union of South Africa, a British dominion since 1910. Mr Balzum gave an intensely interesting talk, touching on the history of the country, its geography, language of the people and their characteristics, industries and living conditions. He also spoke of the political situation, and segregation question now prominent in that country.

The next meeting of the Men's club will be on Monday, Nov. 4 at 6.30 p.m.

"HELLO, HOMEMAKERS"

Does It Matter If Food Discolors A Utensil?

It is not necessary to be concerned about the effect that foods sometimes have on the appearance of a pan or the way the material used in the pan, may effect the color or flavor of the food. An exception, though, is the greenish or bluish deposit sometimes found on copper, which is toxic.

Acid foods such as tomatoes and rhubarb lighten aluminum. Alkaline foods such as water, potatoes and eggs, darken aluminum. Coffee allowed to stand in a metal pot sometimes tastes metallic. Creamed sauces and custards may become grayish when stirred with metal spoons or cooked in aluminum or iron pans. These changes may make the pan unattractive or the food unappetizing: but they are not harmful.

What Do You Look For In Buying Towels?

When you buy bath towels, look for a guarantee of colorfastness on colored towels or white towels with colored borders. Avoid towels which require laundering with "lukewarm water and a natural soap."

Hold the towel up to the bright light. In a well woven towel, the light comes through in even pin points. If the light comes through in uneven patches the cloth is unevenly woven and the towel cannot be expected to wear well.

Good towels should have a selvedge on both sides. The hem on the ends of the towels should be clearly stitched and fastened securely at the corners. The raw edges should be turned-under at least a quarter of an inch.

The heavier a towel the more absorbent it it likely to be. The most absorbent towels have loops on both sides. Embossed patterns are made by alternating a looped portion with a flat portion. The flat portions on one side are looped on the other. The result is a towel which is less absorbent.

Tip For the Week

Mothers of school children may be wondering how to remove the ink stains which seem inevitable. Remove ink spots from colored washables by soaking them in sweet milk. If the ink is dry, you may have to soak it for a day. The ink can be removed from white washables with a mixture of salt and lemon juice. Hang in the sun to dry.

Alberta Govt. To Help Farmers In Vaccination Costs

Farmers are to be helped with their vaccination costs. Beginning with the fall Brucellosis Vaccination Program, The Government of Alberta will pay 50 cents towards each calf vaccinated. Forty cents will go to the veterinarian and ten cents to the Municipality. The assistance will apply in the 23 Brucellosis Restricted Areas, announces Hon. L. C. Halmrast, Minister of Agriculture.

[illegible] In addition to these grants the Department of Agriculture stores and ships the vaccine, provides ear tags and certificates and publishes bulletins on the control of Brucellosis.

The assistance by the Department will be provided for two years after the Federal Department of Agriculture begins testing in Municipalities which convert from a Provincial Brucellosis Restricted Area to a Federal Control Area.

Mannville United Church Hold Tea

MANNVILLE — The W. A. of Mannville United church were sponsors Saturday at their annual Calendar or Jingle Tea held in the Legion hall. A fair crowd attended this function despite inclement weather. More calendars are expected to be turned in at a later date. This will add to the amount realized.

The Provincial Government has nearly completed the building of a new bridge over the creek west of Elk Point on the road to the cemetery and golf course. This will be a great improvement as the old bridge was nearly impassable. There is rumor also that a dam may be built west of the new bridge on the creek and that a small lake and park are to be created on the creek.

WHERE DOES NEW ROAD LEAD TO?

Residents of Linbergh and the salt plant wonder just what the idea of the new highway out east of Elk Point is. So far the road branches off at Isert's and rambles off over the sand plains, ending exactly nowhere near civilization. However, next year we may actually find out just where the road is going — if we wait long enough!

New Position For Former Vermilion Man

Former Camrose resident, Dick Clements has been named Publicity Supervisor for Canadian Utilities Limited, with headquarters in Edmonton. The appointment was announced last week by J. C. Dale, President and General Manager of Canadian Utilities Limited.

Mr Clements, a graduate of the Vermilion School of Agriculture, was previously farm broadcast director for radio station CFCW in Camrose. Prior to entering the broadcast field at the inception of the Camrose Station in 1954, he was engaged in agricultural service board work in the municipalities of Vermilion and Wetaskiwin.

In Camrose Mr. Clements was an Executive Member of the Toastmaster's Club and President of the Camrose and district Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Car Sales Gain

A new optimism is creeping hesitantly into the new car sales picture, says Jack McArthur in The Financial Post. Reason: Estimates suggest that Canadians in August bought 33,000 new cars probable worth around $93 million. In August [illegible] cars and $93.[illegible] million.

This would represent a heartening gain compared with other recent months.

New car sales in May ran 17% behind a year ago. June was down 23%. July was down 17%.

These depressing figures caused some consternation in the industry, contrasting as they did with a tremendous first quarter when sales were 19% higher.

Pessimists wondered whether the sharp sales sag would carry through 1957.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

The weather? Discouraging! But we are still hoping for warmer days so the harvest may be completed and the remainder of the garden taken in.

At noon on Wednesday, Oct. 2 it was a perfect summer's day, around 70 above, by evening a cold wind, hail, rain and a thunderstorm. Even on Friday with the ground covered with snow thunder was heard roaring and rumbling above. It was at least warm in places, but too high for us to enjoy. To date our thermometer has reached the 10 above mark.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hogaboam from Camrose were visitors at their niece Mildred's (the Baldock home) the first of this month.

Our best wishes and congratulations to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Nelson, who were married on Sept 24th. May the sea of life be clear sailing and best wishes for happiness and [illegible].

We are pleased Mrs. Herb McPhee was able to return home on Oct. 3rd feeling much better. Mrs. McPhee is our faithful organist at the church and was truly missed at our last two church Sundays.

The sympathy of the community goes to Mrs. MacKay of Dewberry in her sorrow, the loss of her husband. Never a moment do we know what lies ahead.

Mr. and Mrs. Idelore Nelson and Leslie spent last week end with their daughter Helen, Frank and family at Lloydminster.

A reminder to all you square dancers — the Clandonald Promenaders are having a free square dance on Oct. 16th in the Columbus hall commencing at 8:30 p.m. Mr. Robert Peck will do the calling. Any non-square dancer may attend and look on for the evening and if interested let our President Mr. Fred Goddard know. If enough are interested, lessons will be given this [illegible].

Grand weather for the men to listen to the World Series baseball. What thrilling moments! In the city the Walsh's are enjoying it on T.V.

What grand news you and your friends have been having Pleasant Valley. So kind of you to share it with others. The tour of the gardens would be most interesting to you — a great lover of flowers. Down south too with Mrs. Moore, the country so well known to her, to the Wallington home. May we add our belated congratulations also on your 44th wedding anniversary Mr. and Mrs. Wallington.

Heard over the radio this Tuesday morning that the Lea Park bridge opening had been postponed due to the weather.

Closing Thought: "Friendship is steady and peaceful, it strengthens with time, and warms our lives with a steady flame."

Money Available For Veterans' Housing Under The V.L.A.

Veterans eligible for assistance under the Veterans' Land Act are today in an enviable position because they are not confronted with the present shortage of mortgage money, if they need assistance for housing purposes.

The Director, Veterans' Land Act, can grant assistance to veterans to build homes on either small acreages out of the heavy taxation areas and where the veterans can supplement their present revenues, or on city lots with a long term C.M.H.C. mortgage, where the monthly payments are less than current rentals.

There are many advantages to the veterans building under either scheme. Repayment can be extended over a period of 25 years with low monthly payments. Veterans are given free legal services, they can act as their own contractors and save a considerable amount of money on overhead charges and contribute much of their own labour. Construction schools are arranged to educate veterans in handling their contracts and dealing with suppliers and sub trades. The Director advances interest free money while the houses are under construction and competent Construction Supervisors are available at all times to direct and assist veterans with plans, specifications and actual construction work.

The veterans are required to find and select their own land. However, financial assistance can be given to veterans to purchase an acreage for a small holding, but veterans building in a town or city have to purchase their own lots.

The Veterans' Land Act offers splendid opportunities to veterans of World War II who today are perplexed with a housing problem and are unable to compete in the open market against those in the higher income brackets, or obtain loans under the present tight mortgage money situation. In fact the Veterans' Land Act is the answer to those veterans on lower incomes, who for years have wanted to improve home conditions for their families.

It is unfortunate that so many veterans are not aware of the real assistance that can be given to them under the Act, and in their own interest they should immediately contact the nearest Regional Supervisor or Settlement Officer, Veterans' Land Act who will be pleased to give them full information and particulars.

V.L.A. Regional Offices are located in Edmonton, Calgary, Red Deer and Grande Prairie.

Any veteran who needs a home today should lose no time in finding out the facts by a thorough discussion with a V.L.A. official, or pay a visit to anyone of the many hundreds of veterans who are now experiencing contentment and security in their new V.L.A. homes.

An 'early bird' to watch: the man who opens wide the stove drafts before he goes to work, leaving the family in bed.

SIMPLE AND INEXPENSIVE—

Surprisingly simple and inexpensive can be fire protection of your home. Suggested steps:

1. Think about fire prevention and what YOU can do to stop a fire before it happens. Don't hesitate to ask your fire chief for advice. It costs you nothing and he will be delighted to advise you.

2. A garden hose connection, a handy bucket or two of sand, even a tin of baking soda around the kitchen and you're in busines . . . take it from there.

Fire prevention and protection, like everything else for safety in living, is helped by acceptance of responsibility.

Surprising, too, may be your greater peace of mind in having the gumption to think about fire protection for your loved ones.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Conservatives Hold Calgary Seat; Liberals Run Poor Fourth

by [illegible]

EDMONTON. — Social Credit tried hard to crack the Conservative stronghold in Calgary in Calgary last week. Premier Manning even promising that the Social Credit candidate, Lawyer Samuel Helman would become the new attorney-general. This seat has long been held by the Conservatives, both provincally and federally. But the Calgary voters, a perverse lot if there ever was one, voted in favor of Ernest Watkins, the Prog-Con candidate, giving him a majority of a little over 2000 votes over Mr. Helman, who ran second. The Liberal candidate finished far out of the race.

Actually, the results should not be too surprising for a number of reasons. Reason No. 1 is that the seat was Conservative before. The vacancy was created by the resignation of Tory Art Smith, who is now a member of parliament. As a rule, a party doesn't lose a seat in a byelection.

The Premier's promise of a cabinet portfolio for Mr. Helman could well be another reason. It may well have brought out all the orneriness in the voters, a sort of feeling of resentment over such an inducement being held out. Certainly it gave the opposition candidates a beautiful opportunity to tell the electors they were being bribed by Social Credit.

J. Percy Page, House leader of the Conservatives in the Legislature, feels the promise of the attorney-generalship for Mr Helman was Social Credit's major mistake. He said Premier Manning had done "exactly what he criticized the Liberals for doing in the federal election."

Liberal Leader J. H. Prowse consoled himself with the fact that he saw in the results from Calgary a continuation of the trend away from Social Credit, first evidenced in the 1955 general election when the Socred strength in the House dropped to 37 from 51. The Liberal candidate ran far far in the rear in the by-election, polling a mere 3000 or so votes.

Social Credit heads must also be wondering whether the oil and gas royalty dividend plan is going over with the voters. The byelection is the first vote since the plan went into effect and it's obvious that the $20 cheques did not exactly send the electors out in throngs to cast their ballots for the Socred candidate.

Perhaps it's unfortunate Mr. Helman didn't win. If he had taken the seat, the government would have a lawyer in the attorney-general's post. Since Lucien Maynard lost out in the last election there hasn't been a barrister in Socred ranks, and Mr. Manning has held the portfolio along with that of premier and minister of mines and minerals.

A question yet to be answered is whether the government will arrange for someone to resign and open another seat for Mr. Helman. Premier Manning is on vacation in the U.S. and can't answer the question. Of course, there is nothing to stop the government from appointing Mr. Helman attorney-general anyway. Anyone can be named a member of the cabinet, but only elected members can sit in the Legislature.

Incidentally as previously observed, the by-election shouldn't cause too much rejoicing among the Liberals. Their candidate, Reg McColough trailed fourth with 3,024 votes. A Labor candidate, Frank Bodie was third with 3,993. Watkins received 17,450 and Helman 15,087.

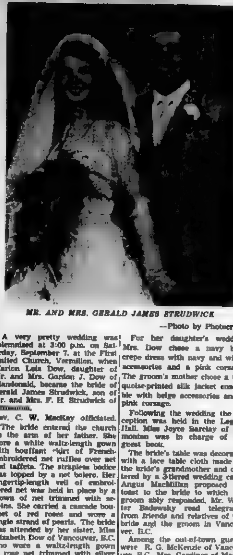
Pretty Wedding Solemnized At First United Church



MR. AND MRS. GERALD JAMES STRUDWICK

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at 3:00 p.m. on Saturday, September 7, at the First United Church, Vermilion, when Marion Lois Dow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon J. Dow of Clandonald, became the bride of Gerald James Strudwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Strudwick of Edmonton. Rev. C. W. MacKay officiated.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She wore a white waltz-length gown with bouffant skirt of French-embroidered net ruffles over net and taffeta. The strapless bodice was topped by a net bolero. Her fingertip-length veil of embroidered net was held in place by a crown of net trimmed with sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and wore a single strand of pearls. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Dow of Vancouver, B.C. who wore a waltz-length gown of rose net trimmed with silver bows over taffeta with net bolero matching headband and gloves. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and wore a necklace of blue-grey pearls, a gift of the bride.

Attending the groom was Walter Badowsky of Edmonton.

Ushering the guests were Stuart Dow, brother of the bride, and Romeo Grahn, both of Edmonton.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Dow chose a navy blue crepe dress with navy and white accessories and a pink corsage. The groom's mother chose a turquoise-printed silk jacket ensemble with beige accessories and a pink corsage.

Following the wedding the reception was held in the Legion Hall. Miss Joyce Barclay of Edmonton was in charge of the guest book.

The bride's table was decorated with a lace table cloth made by the bride's grandmother and centered by a 3-tiered wedding cake. Angus MacMillan proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom ably responded. Mr. Walter Badowsky read telegrams from friends and relatives of the bride and the groom in Vancouver, B.C.

Among the out-of-town guests were R. G. McKenzie of Vancouver, B.C., Mrs. Gardiner of Mannville, and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Strudwick and Keith, Mr. and Mrs. J. Millan, Miss J. Millan, Mr. and Mrs. R. Chamberland, D. Fontaine, Miss Joyce Barclay, Mr. and Mrs. D. Elliott, Jerry and Chris Cox, Bob Fedorky, F. Badowsky, J. Meigin, Bob Macdonald, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Intwert, Wayne, Garry and Ronnie and Mrs. Josephine Statz, all of Edmonton.

Following the reception the bride changed to a gray princess dres with white accessories for a wedding trip north. Upon their return the happy coupe will reside in Edmonton.

Pensions Not Enough?

A striking fact about the population of Canada, as of all or nearly all advanced countries, is a steady gain in average age, writes J. B. McGeachy in The Financial Post. The proportion of people over 65 is increasing. Among every 1,000 Canadians now living 78 have passed that age. The number was only 55 in 1931.

This aging process is sure to continue as medicine and sanitation make progress. Expectation of life for a newborn Canadian infant is now about 70 years. It may be 80 or 90 before this century ends.

It follows that at least some of the extra income required for a higher standard of living among the "aged"—no longer the right word for the average man of 70 — will have to be either earned or saved in advance. No feasible increase in old age pensions will suffice. Any realistic approach to the problem must recognize this. Forced retirement from work at age 65 is, as I see it, sure to become as obsolete as the sacrifice of maidens to the fertility god.

Sound Advice On the Common Cold

Is there anyone who hasn't caught cold at one time or another? The common cold is common indeed! Besides making you feel miserable, colds steal your time and your money. They fool you, too, because the early signs are often the same as those of more serious illnesses. And long continued colds may pave the way for an attack of pneumonia, tuberculosis, or a chronic infection of the nose, throat, ears or sinuses. So do your best to keep from catching cold. And if you do catch one, take proper care of yourself so you can get rid of your cold promptly and avoid infecting other people.

To Keep From Catching Cold

1. Insofar as you can, stay away from people who cough or sneeze carelessly who seem to have a cold.
2. Use only clean eating and drinking utensils. Don't share the toilet articles, towels, spoons, or drinking cups with anyone else.
3. Always wash your hands with warm water and soap before eating or handling food.
4. Eat properly. In your daily diet include milk and cheese, potatoes and at least two other vegetables; a citrus fruit and tomatoes and one other fruit, fish, meat, or poultry; eggs, cereals, bread and butter; and a moderate amount of sweets.
5. Take a cod liver oil preparation to increase your resistance to respiratory infections.
6. Guard against chilling especially when overheated. Avoid drafts, wet feet and wet clothing. Wear clothes suitable to weather conditions, and live and work in well ventilated rooms.
7. Get enough sleep, rest, recreation, and outdoor exercise. Most of us need at least eight hours of sleep every night to give our bodies a chance to make up for the day's wear and tear.
8. Have medical check-up regularly, and consult the doctor promtly in acute illness or for chronic difficulty.

When you have a cold —

1. Get as much rest as possible. Stay in bed or indoors for the first day or so if you can.
2. Keep warm and dry. If you must go to work, wear clothes that will protect you adequately when you go outdoors, and avoid drafts and sudden chilling when overheated.
3. Drink plenty of water, citrus fruit juices, and other liquids. Eat simple foods which agree with you.
4. Protect other people as much as possible. Cover your mouth and nose when you cough or sneeze. Use paper handkerchiefs or paper napkins that can be burned. Wash your hands frequently with soap and water.
5. Blow your nose gently. If you don't you may force infected material from your nose into your sinuses or middle ear and develop sinus trouble or serious ear infection.
6. If a cold starts with chills, fever or aching, or seems more severe, or lasts longer than usual, consult a physician without delay.

Alberta Govt. Assists Farmers In Livestock Feeding Projects

Provincial government financial guarantees assist Alberta farmers in livestock feeding projects. Under the Feeder Associations Guarantee Act, co-operatively organized groups of feeders may borrow up to $100,000 for buying unfinished cattle and lambs to finish or fatten.

The program has a two-pronged effect. Surplus grain and roughage are profitably utilized; secondly, additional markets are created for feeder stock thus bolstering local market prices for these classes.

Loans under the Act are made through chartered banks and Treasury Branches, with the provincial government guaranteeing 25 per cent of the amount. All loans must be repaid by the end of each feeding season, usually in mid-summer. The association is then eligible for further government guarantee, which must be renewed each year.

Operations under the Feeder Associations Guarantee Act began in 1938. Most marked growth has been over the past few years. Up to the end of the current feeding season, association members had utilized an approximate $20,719,000 in credit capital. With this cumulative total they finish-marketed 213,155 cattle and 436,083 lambs.

During the 1956-57 feeding season just ended, 834 members in 29 associations fed 23,124 cat[illegible] [illegible] lambs. Loans to [illegible] operations totalled well over two million dollars.

In addition to the co-operatively organized feeder associations operating through government guaranteed loans, four associations in the province now operate independently. Three of these originally operated under the act.

The fourth is an amalgamation of smaller associations which at one time also functioned under the act.

Administration of the Feeder Associations Guarantee Act comes under the Livestock Branch of the Department of Agriculture. Government assistance is confined to areas where a long-range feeding program is most practicable.

measured in bushels gasoline costs less

If a typical western wheat farmer could exchange bushels of wheat for gallons of gasoline—how many gallons would he get per bushel?

About six gallons? Well, that was true if you compared the average price of [illegible] Northern wheat with the price of gasoline back in 1930. Over 8 gallons? You're right if you're thinking about prices in 1946.

Nearly 7 gallons? Correct. According to government figures for 1956, the year 'round average price that a western wheat farmer received for a bushel of wheat is sufficient to buy nearly 7 gallons of gasoline for his tractor.

On the score of performance, today's gasolines are an even bigger bargain. Modern refining techniques produce gasolines that are far superior to those sold only ten years ago.

There are still spuds and carrots in the ground, and we hope that they are not frozen.

We hear Mr Inman and gang had good luck on their hunting trip. "How many geese?"

The ducks are going south in clouds, where they will meet more snow. Only a few days ago the robins were singing.

A number of neighbors have been sick with the flu. Christie had to be nursemaid, cook and baby-tender. Annie Clark was in bed three days, and also Doreen Gould and Bruce. One seems to be quickly stricken with aching bones and a high fever. Stay in bed folks it's the best place these days.

Maybe it was the effects of the 'flu that caused your black eyes Annie? Mrs. Potvin says that maybe yours truly will have black eyes too, when we meet. "Arf!"

Glad your face is better Sylvia.

On Wednesday, the writer gathered up Mr and Mrs Hollington and Mrs Gillies and off we went to Irwinville to visit Mrs Dora Hollington. We certainly had an enjoyable afternoon, and that chocolate cake, yum' yum' I thought we would end up in the river with the wheels up on the way home though, as it had rained and the roads were awfully slippery. We had a terrific storm here just when we arrived at Christie's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Sauder of Edmonton have been visiting during the past week with their relatives Mr. and Mrs. Colin Ball. While here Mr. Sauder was helping with the harvest and had the misfortune to get his foot tangled with the grain auger. It crushed his big toe badly and later it had to be amputated in the Lloydminster hospital.

These may be given to Mrs. Gunn. The W.A. would like to give Mr McLean Sr. a hearty vote of thanks for cutting the hedge and grass and clearing up the church yard. Some of the members of the W.A. will be decorating the church for the Thanksgiving service. There will also be the choir that evening. After the benediction was repeated Mrs. R. Bleasley served lunch. The next meeting will be held on Nov. 5th at the home of Mrs. Harold Fair with Mrs. F Brassington as co-hostess.

WEDDING BELLS

SOMMERT — FULGHAM

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday, Sept. 21 in the Paradise Valley Church of God, when Bernice Maybelle Fulgham, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs. O. Fulgham of Paradise Valley, and [illegible] Karl Sommert, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. K. Sommert of Edmonton exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white floor length gown of peau de soie and Italian lace. A pretty bandeau of Italian lace held her full-length veil in place. She carried a white bible, surmounted with rose buds and garlanded with streamers, and a white hankie, the gift of her grandfather to her grandmother.

The church was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves. The autumn theme of the wedding was carried through in the tones of the frocks chosen by the bride's attendants. Miss Annetta Fulgham, sister of the bride wore a floor length gown of yellow with matching headdress and gloves and carried a bouquet of burnt orange chrysanthemums. Miss Marion Fulgham, cousin of the bride wore a similarly styled gown of turquoise, also with matching headdress and gloves and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

The bride's mother was attired in a dusty rose, and the groom's mother in alice blue, both with navy accessories. Both mothers wore corsages. The groom's attendants were classmates from Bible school, Messrs. Melvin Johnson and John Dormer.

The tiny flower girl, niece of the groom, wore a rose floor length gown: and ring-bearer was David Adams, cousin of the bride. During the ceremony, performed by Rev. H. Johnson, the groom sang "Together."

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Paradise Valley school auditorium, after which Mr. and Mrs. Sommert left for a short honeymoon to Jasper and other points. Mr. and Mrs Sommert are taking over the supervision of the Chilliwack Church of God.

EASIER MONEY?

Is Ottawa right now laying the foundations for easier money? Is a turn-around now getting underway, asks Dalton Robertson in the Financial Post. He points out:

Since August, the Bank of Canada has been pumping new cash into the banking system. At first bankers and business men thought this was just paving the way for more government bond issue.

But government and business well know that economic activity has been leveling out since spring and, on the latest figures, is still leveling.

There is now speculation that the new easier money policies might last longer than was first believed.

Oxygen plus fuel plus heat equals fire. More people die by smoke and fumes (and lack of oxygen removed by the fire) than by the actual flames. A classic example of this was the Cocoanut Grove fire in Boston in 1942 when many of the night club's 492 victims were found suffocated, unburned at their tables.

Scholarly Achievement, Athletic Prowess Recognized at Kin Meeting

Scholarly achievement and athletic prowess were both recognized at an interesting meeting of the Vermilion Kinsmen club on Monday evening.

Donald Geake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Geake, was presented with a prize of $25 from the Kinsmen club, awarded annually to the Vermilion high school student who passes the grade 9 June departmental examinations with the highest average. Donald attained this honor. The presentation was made by [illegible] president Keith Inman who encouraged the young man to continue his education to higher and higher levels.

On the athletic side of the picture, the members of the Kinsmen baseball team, champions of the 'Little League' for 1957, were also guests at the turkey banquet. Kinsmen Bob Anderson had words of praise and wisdom for the boys, stating that not only were they learning the fundamentals of baseball, but also good sportsmanship. The latter would stand them in good stead in all phases of life in the years to come. He complimented them on the fact that they came from the bottom of the league to win the play-offs and the championship this year, a notable achievement.

Members of the baseball team present were Billy Porter, Garry and Blake Tidsbury, Brian and Wade Botterill, Ross Marion and Paddy White.

Newly-installed President Jack Wright was chairman of the interesting meeting. Other guests present were Rufus Carl and Lorne Bthune, both of the Wainwright club, and Ashley Cooper of the Vermilion Standard.

Campion Is The Champion

At the horseshoe tournament on Sunday, Oct. 13th at the Vermilion Park lake Chris Campion of Vermilion won first prize by a comfortable margin. Elmer Kreller, who never gives up, pitched himself into second place while a Vermilion old time tournament winner who was well known in the horseshoe pitching fraternity some 20 to 30 years ago, Sid Gurney is still going strong and came in third.

As he outpitched both Elmer Kreller and Len Manz, the first prize winners of the two previous tournaments, Chris Campion of Vermilion may be considered the grand champion horseshoe pitcher for 1957 in this locality. Congratulations Chris!

This was the last tournament scheduled for the season. Next year, with the winter to organize, it is hoped to have a tournament at the lake every other Sunday, weather permitting.

Death of 2-year-old Ada Day of Dewberry

Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service Here Monday, Nov. 4th

The Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service is once again visiting Vermilion and the Vermilion Red Cross branch is asking that everyone co-operate to make this the most successful clinic ever held in Vermilion.

The clinic is being held in the Legion hall on Monday Nov 4th between the hours of 6 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Every fifteen minutes, night and day, someone in Alberta is receiving a blood transfusion. An army of donors is needed to maintain this supply.

When the last clinic was held in Vermilion in 1955 there were 137 donors. It is hoped this year to double that number and to reach the objective of 300 donors.

This coming clinic is relying on you and your neighbor to show your concern for the sick by making donations of your blood. This is, without doubt, one of the finest opportunities there is to aid your fellowmen in time of need. 15-16

Whistling Swans on Vermilion Lake

Vermilion Park lake is rapidly becoming known among wildlife as a place of sanctuary. During the past week five whistling swans have been observed on the lake every day. On Wednesday it was thought that the beautiful and rare birds had continued their journey southward as they took to the air with considerable noise that morning and were last observed flying south. Thursday morning however they were observed on a slough a few miles north-west of town by Murray Anderson. Their large size and regal appearance attract much attention and trigger happy shooters are asked to refrain from molesting these birds. Ken Rowe managed to get some pictures of the swans on Tuesday as they were swimming in the vicinity of the beach.

A flock of geese, numbering as many as 300 at times have made their home on the lake all fall while ducks abound on the west half of the game preserve in thousands.

George Senz game guardian, had a good look at the swans and definitely identified them as the Whistling Swan.

Conservatives To Organize Here

A meeting for the purpose of forming a Conservative Association for the Provincial constituency of Vermilion, will be held at George's Lower Deck, Vermilion, on Monday, Oct. 21st at 8 p.m.

An organizer from the Provincial Conservative Association will be present. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

AC1 George Burdett, and Marcel Chalet from the RCAF base at Namao, and Bill Martin of Cold Lake were visitors at the home of Mr and Mrs. Sid Burdett over the Thanksgiving week end.

Death of James William Tremlett

James William Tremlett, well known citizen of Vermilion, passed away at the hospital here on Monday, Oct. 14th. He was 77 years of age. He had been in ill health for the past several months.

Mr Tremlett was born in Ottery, England, but came to Canada and farmed for many years. He retired from farming in 19[illegible] and he and Mrs. Tremlett have lived in Vermilion most of the time since.

He leaves to mourn his passing his loving wife, a sister in England and a brother in Australia.

Funeral services are being held this Thursday afternoon, Oct. 17 at St. Saviours' Anglican church at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in the Vermilion cemetery.

Moyers are in charge of the arrangements.

Agricultural Society To Hold Annual Purebred Livestock Sale

[illegible] the practice of several years past and in an effort to advance the use of high quality breeding stock for cattle and hogs, the Agricultural Society will hold a sale of purebred beef cattle and hogs, on Friday, Nov. 15th. The sale is to be held at the Vermilion Auction Mart, owned by Mr E. S. Wilson and the available facilities should provide for comfort for those in attendance, in addition to making it convenient for buyers and sellers.

As in the past year or two, strict culling of animals offered will be undertaken to insure that only the highest quality stock will be offered for sale under the auspices of the Society whose only aim in staging such sales is to improve the quality of breeding stock.

Entries for the sale will be received by S. C. Heckbert, Secretary-Manager of the Society up to November 2nd, and sale catalogue will be published immediately thereafter and will be available for distribution by Nov. 5th. It is important to note that all health of animals regulations of the Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture will be strictly observed and those entering stock are urged to make sure that only healthy and qualified animals are entered.

Details for entering may be obtained on request to the Fair Board office and prospective buyers are reminded that the new Bull Purchase Policy of the Provincial Department will be in effect in addition to the Boar Policy which permits grants from the Department on the purchase of selected males in both cattle and hogs.

The number of animals acceptable from an individual breeder is necessarily limited so as to provide for reasonable variation in breeding qualifications and pedigree lines.

It is essential that entries be received NOT LATER THAN NOVEMBER 2nd, and all having suitable breeding stock for sale are urged to bear the entry closing date in mind.

A telephone call to No. 206 will bring entry information or catalogues for this popular sale.

Arrangements are being made for the serving of coffee and light lunches at the sales pavilion one mile west of Town and present plans for selling hogs from 10 a.m. to noon, and cattle immediately after noon.

Air Cadets To Fly on Saturday

Arrangements have been completed by F/Lt. Manyluk, C/O of Vermilion Air Cadets, to have a C47 Dakota Transport from 105 Search and Rescue Squadron, based at RCAF Station Namao, to fly the Air Cadets from the Vermilion airport on familiarization flights within this area.

The aircraft is to land at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 19 at which time the cadets are to report at the airport in uniform.

It may be noted that last year the flights had to be cancelled as the aircraft were engaged in a prolonged search in the North West Territories.

This flight is one of the many enjoyable and interesting phases of training that the Air Cadets receive. While on these flights the cadets have the opportunity of going up with the pilot and of watching the pilot navigator and radio operator in actual flying operations.

The Vermilion Cadets will all be wishing for "flying weather" on Saturday.

Pollard, Allen Win Stock Car Races

The initial effort to promote stock car racing in Vermilion proved quite successful as some nine hundred patrons paid their way into the Golden Speedway on Sunday afternoon last. They saw a well run program of races, each producing its own thrills and spills.

The track was claimed by the drivers to be an excellent one and fast times were made in all the races.

The main event of the day, the 30-lap free-for-all, was won by a local driver, Karl Pollard. Very much in the limelight during the afternoon was Gordon Allen, another local driver, who won one race and placed second in another.

Competitors came from Edmonton, Lloydminster and North Battleford, along with four local cars. The other Vermilion entries were Ernie Trocher and Al Robertson.

Couple's Club To Meet on Sunday

The United Church Couples club will meet in the church on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock for an hour of song. It is hoped to have everyone present at this time.

Billy Graham Film "Miracle in Manhattan" Will Be Shown Here October 25th

"Miracle in Manhattan", the unusual documentary film account of Billy Graham's New York Crusade will have a premiere showing at the Armories in Vermilion on Friday, Oct 25 at 8 p.m.

Jinx Falkenburg and Tex McCrary report the 16-week coverage of Mr Graham's largest Crusade for Christianity. This popular "Mr and Mrs. New York" team head their own NBC television program emanating daily from the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

They "set the stage" with a photographic tour of Manhattan, followed by the excitement of the Crusade's opening night in Madison Square Garden. Successive meetings in Brooklyn, Central Park, Forest Hills, Harlem and Wall Street's financial district emphasize Greater New York City's spiritual interest in the Crusade.

In the gigantic sports arena of Madison Square Garden where men like Rocky Graziano and Joe Louis once punched their opponents into unconciousness, the film offers a front row perspective of the Graham team in 'spiritual combat'. The arena becomes a Cathedral and the dynamic preaching of the evangelist is augmented by the singing of George Beverly Shea and the the music of the massive choir under the direction of Cliff Barrows.

High moments in "Miracle in Manhattan" include the overflow crowd that jammed Yankee Stadium, breaking every attendance record in 34 years of the park's colorful history; a brief appearance by Vice-President Richard M. Nixon, a glimpse of Ethel Waters singing with the Crusade Choir; and the final service held at 42nd Street [illegible] Broadway, silhouetted against the glittering lights of Times Square.

Nearly two million persons attended Madison Square Garden during the 16 weeks of Crusade activity, making this spiritual campaign the largest sustained effort for evangelism in the history of the Church.

"Miracle in Manhattan" is released by World Wide Pictures, Hollywood, the organization which produces and distributes all of the Billy Graham Films.

The doors to the armories in Vermilion will be open at 7:15 p.m. All seats are on a first-come basis, with no admission charge. A collection will be taken. 15-16

Cheese Always A Favorite

After the accidental discovery of cheese it didn't take long for this nourishing food to become a favorite part of peoples diet the world over. The early Greeks considered it food for the gods and served their best to them. Greek athletes aware of its unusual sustaining power used it while in training. For Roman soldiers it sometimes turned out to be their paycheck and even during biblical times it was much desired. No wonder such an appetizing food should appeal. In later years it was also discovered to be a powerful teeth, bone and muscle builder.

Cheese has not only retained but increased its popularity throughout the ages. These days it is available in numerous forms and types attractively and conveniently packaged and still providing an unexcelled combination of food constituents.

Cheese made in Alberta has just reached a new high in quality says L. M. Sitcom, Alberta's Supervisor of Dairy Factory Inspection. It is now in top position for all of Canada in percentage of first grade cheese produced. Significant of this progress is the improved quality of milk received and the care exercised in processing and curing.

Celebrate with the rest of Canada and the U.S.A. by making October a real Cheese Festival [illegible] Mr. Sitcom. Place cheese on your table more regularly in whatever form you like best.

Annual Farm Forum Rally Scheduled For November 4th

Calling all Forumites! The annual Fall Rally, sponsored by the Northern Alberta Committee, is scheduled for November 4th, 8 p.m. at the National Hall, Vegreville. Each attending Forum is requested to bring a portable radio plus an extension cord, some lunch, and to be prepared to contribute one item to the program, be it a song, game, or stunt.

Farm Forum, essentially an educational program, is badly needed because of the complexities of agriculture and the age in which we live. Properly organized it can do much to further develop rural citizenship in Canada.

Farm leaders have recognized that educational programs cannot be self-supporting, nor can they be carried on successfully without careful planning and hard work. It is to be hoped that they will do everything possible to revitalize Farm Forums in the provinces. What is even more important is for farm people everywhere to realize the splendid opportunity which exists through Farm Forum to become better informed on a wide variety of of a subject of vital importance to them, and for more of them to take advantage of that opportunity even at the expense of making some personal sacrifices.

At present in the district extending from Vegreville to Vermilion, there are seven active Forums while five failed to re-organize this coming season and enjoy the topics planned. The broadcasts are heard each Monday evening at 8.30 p.m. over CBC network, and the motto is "Read, listen, discuss, act."

Letters to the Editor

The Standard does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents

Vermilion, Alberta,
Oct. 12th 1957

Editor, Vermilion Standard.

Dear Sir:

Since holding the regular school trustees' and ratepayers' meeting in June, many people have mentioned their disappointment that no time was left for the real business of our school division during the afternoon. Personally I was more than disappointed both as to the number of people attending and the little that was accomplished at the meeting. There were about one hundred ratepayers present and there should have been ten times that many.

We complain about our taxation, we complain that we haven't enough teachers for some of our schools, we ask our board members not to increase the mill rate and we hear complaints that they should have raised the salary schedule — yet we stay away from the ratepayers' meetings instead of supporting and giving suggestions as to how all this can be done. It's a sure thing in my mind that we will pay more for education, and unless we (the ratepayers) do something about it and take some interest in our own affairs home owners, land owners and business men are going to pay all the increase.

At the meeting in June I was asked to go to the provincial convention in November. What I would like to know before I go is if you ratepayers are all satisfied to let things go as they are now? If so, I can go and say that we don't want any changes made. We like to pay our taxes and are willing to pay more if we have to, and that we like to build expensive schools and have no teachers to put in them. I am not looking for a holiday at public expense and if I can't express the wishes of the ratepayers I had better stay home and save the expense.

I am trying to arrange a meeting for Nov 2nd at 2 p.m. in the Kitscoty gym. We had hoped that harvesting would be completed before, but that is the last date we could have before the convention. We (the trustees' Association) will see to it that this is your meeting and the ratepayers will be the speakers. I am sure it can be held in a short afternoon if we get down to business.

If you want me to speak for you in this provincial convention then please turn out and vote for or against the resolutions put before the meeting. We need reasonable resolutions backed by a large crowd of ratepayers to have any voice in running our own affairs.

There may be other school divisions in the province just as willing to have changes made and the provincial convention is held for that purpose, so let's fill the hall and try and get fair play for all.

Thanking you Mr. Editor for space in your valuable paper.

Yours truly,
Robert Galloway.

"RECREATION"

By SID MOORE.

This is the third in a series of articles on recreation. This week we will consider the choosing of a leader, and list the provincial plan presently open to him to further his understanding and training in this field.

Firstly, then, let us choose a person whom we think is, or has leadership qualities. In doing this let us reconsider the role he must perform as a good leader.

1. Initiate activity which will be voluntarily accepted, and enjoyable.

2. Maintain the activity for a specified length of time, and to set standards for that activity in terms of attitudes and ideals.

3. Evaluate the activity in terms of human quality.

To comply with role number one he must understand human motivation. If you have an opportunity to observe the person under actual conditions, do so. Do children show enthusiasm to ideas and activities presented by him? A playground is an excellent stage to make such observations. Often, too often the leader defers to the children's program, or the children find playground programs drudgery because activity is being forced on them. Often we see playground gates closed to keep children on specific areas, and are then let play at will, with no help or guidance, as long as they are not breaking up equipment or injuring themselves or their playmates. The leader in this case is no longer the leader: he has become a well paid glorified "baby sitter."

To comply with role number two he must be able to maintain activity long enough for the participants to catch new ideas, attitudes and ideals from it. Can the leader, after initiating an activity, keep the activity interesting enough so those who were taking part have learned that rules are important and that before the activity is worth while these rules had to be followed or following a diagram, and with the help of his mates, discovered that he created something he thought was impossible, or that the people of Switzerland or Austria or France have something in the little folk dances that is pleasant and possibly tricky. We must ask ourselves, has this certain person a good working knowledge of the subject in point: is his attitude toward the activity desirable, and will the activity be maintained so that others will catch some of these ideas, ideals and attitudes.

To comply with role number three he must evaluate the activity in terms of human quality. Is this person striving for personal glory through the leadership of a group to activity? Does he evaluate his success in terms of championship pennants or in having large numbers registered in his activity? These alone certainly do not predict a good leader. Many of us would like to believe this however. What have the people taking part received in our goal toward good citizenship? Let us cite an example for clarification. Our leader is a coach in the Little League. His records are good, he has won the championship and has kept twelve boys busy learning new skills and techniques. The team feel their coach had much to do with their successes and they are probably right. The coach [illegible] do his best to try and squeeze jackets and crests out of the sponsoring organization so that everyone would know they were champions. In the final game of the series the umpire made some awfully bad calls and on many occasions the coach told him about them. He didn't feel too bad though because the umpire didn't see the tag on second base and why should he say anything after all that's up to the base umpire.

This is not just chatter, it happens and it happens often. Just what attitude has been instilled in these boys? Their whole conception of fair play attitude towards officials, sponsors, etc. is terribly warped.

As recreational counsellors, directors and parents we must guard against such activity. A lot of us do not realize what is happening when we organize the Little Leagues. We are considering the leaders, but here is a good opportunity to bring in, briefly, the spectator and the great influence the spectator has in molding attitudes. Most of us do what we do unconsciously as spectators. The games are arranged so the spectators can come out and support the boys in their endeavors. However, do we really support anybody by directing insulting remarks at players? Consider the child at the bat. He is trying to apply a skill, but as a child he takes to heart the boos and insults. In the process he "strikes out" to a resounding cheer. He leaves his position embarrassed, confused, under great emotional stress, and as he shuffles up to the bench where his pals or team-mates greet him unwarmly, he is worst of all — ashamed!

What does he feel toward this game, or possibly any game after this ordeal? We said activity had to be enjoyable, the very basis of recreation has been defeated.

Let's turn out when the boys play, but even if he isn't on our favorite team, encourage him. If you can't do that, don't, at least, strike him out before the ball is pitched.

It is evident the terrific force the leader and spectator have on children especially. We as spectators should understand our part. For the leaders there are training schools, clinics, In Service courses where they can receive very valuable information. For the leader starting in Recreation, the Dept. of Economic Affairs, Community Recreation Branch, have installed a course taken in two summer schools. This is an activity school and [illegible] maintenance of activity. After a certain amount of proven field work the person can then apply for the "In Service" course which takes about three years of study, at the end of which the person has approached the borders of a degree in Recreation. He is then qualified by the Dept. of Economic Affairs as a Superintendent of Recreation.

Our communities are always in dire need of leaders. There just never seems to be enough to fill the need. We must always be alert in discovering leadership qualities, then too we must encourage it. Where people feel the urge to a leader this should be made known especially in Recreation.

It seems that there is overproduction of almost every commodity except good will.
